REVITALIZE YOUR BUILDING OPERATIONS

Once building technologies become obsolete, your costs and risks can add up. Energy waste. Cyber threats. Occupant complaints and maintenance headaches. Yet without the capital budget for upgrades, it can feel like your building is stuck.

That's why we developed the Honeywell Technology Renewal Program: A simpler way to modernize your critical systems and capabilities, now.

LOWER YOUR COSTS, REDUCE YOUR RISKS

The Honeywell Technology Renewal Program covers everything you need from end to end – consultation, upgrades, integration, and ongoing service – all from a single trusted source.

Refresh software, systems, and equipment faster through this service plan with expert support, budgeted as a straightforward operating expense with flexible 2–5 years terms – no upfront capital costs and no waiting for CapEx budget availability.

The end of the term is equally flexible, with options to make further upgrades, take ownership of assets, and renew your service plan.

YOUR BUILDING IS CAPABLE OF MORE

Prepare your facility to meet your goals and adapt to unforeseen challenges using OpEx flexibility to access critical capabilities.

Simplify building operations & safety

- Increase your capabilities, efficiency, and coverage by upgrading to the latest Honeywell software and equipment
- Gain access to the latest best practices for security, life safety, and building automation
- Demonstrate compliance more easily with more efficient management and reporting
- Integrate systems into a single interface for easier use and training, even with new staff
- Get mobile alerts, and remotely manage one or many sites

Achieve strategic goals

- Improve occupant satisfaction with healthier, safer, and more comfortable indoor spaces
- Lower energy costs and support your sustainability goals
- Robust cybersecurity for operational technologies
- Make better-informed decisions with clearer reports and insights from analytics, data visualization, and dashboards

Whatever challenges you face, we work with you to assess your site, then prioritize the needs and opportunities that are most cost-effective.

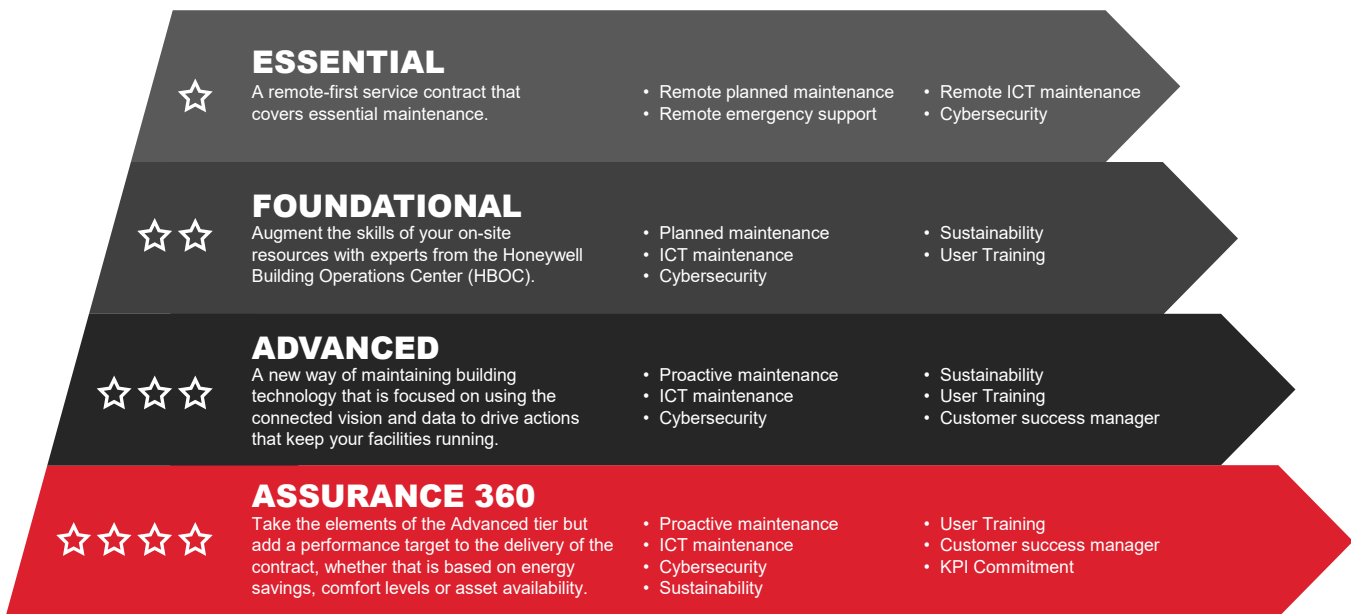

HONEYWELL BUILDING PERFORMANCE SERVICES

As part of the technology renewal program, we protect your investment with a Building Performance Services (BPS) plan to ensure that all upgrades remain effective and well maintained throughout the life of your renewal program.

Our BPS service experts use predictive maintenance and proactive analytics to further reduce your risks, lower your costs, and optimize your uptime. With Honeywell Building Operations Centers located throughout the world, you receive remote service and monitoring around the clock, as well as skilled technicians in your area.

Your BPS Foundational plan gives you access to 24/7/365 monitoring and support from Honeywell experts, with the option to upgrade to the BPS Advanced plan for an even greater range of expert services.
