Health and Welfare Benefits: What's New for 2025

Health Plan Premiums and Plan Enhancements

As you may know, MIT shares the cost of health plan premiums with you. Each year prior to Open Enrollment, MIT identifies the projected rate increases and changes to our health plans. For the 2025 calendar year, the Blue Cross Blue Shield (BCBS) health plan premiums will increase on average by 6.3%, lower than the medical cost trend of 7.7% or more.

For those in the BCBS High Deductible Health Plan, deductibles will increase from $1,600 individual/$3,200 family to $1,650 individual/$3,300 family, as mandated by the IRS.

The MIT health plans will now provide 24 acupuncture visits (an increase from 20), as well as adult hearing aid coverage. In addition, we will be offering two new programs, outlined below:

NEW! 2nd.MD

Dental Plan Premiums and Plan Enhancements

- There will be no changes to the Basic Dental Plan, and premiums will remain the same.
- Comprehensive Dental Plan premiums will increase by 3.6%. Enhancements to plan coverage include an increase to the annual plan maximum (from $1,750 to $2,500), and the addition of adult orthodontia coverage with a $2,000 lifetime maximum.

Learn more on page 11 →

Flexible Spending Accounts

The Flexible Spending Account (FSA) maximums will remain the same – $3,200 for the Health Care FSA, and $5,000 for the Dependent Care FSA – unless otherwise noted by the IRS. If you wish to remain in the Health Care or Dependent Care Flexible Spending Account(s) for calendar year 2025, you MUST re-enroll in coverage.

Open Enrollment Period:
October 15 – November 1, 2024

MIT expects to continue offering the employee benefits plans noted in this document, but it reserves the right to amend, cancel, or terminate the plans at any time. If there is a discrepancy between this document and the official Plan Document(s), the official Plan Document(s) will govern.

Note: If your employment with MIT is governed by a collective bargaining agreement, the availability of these benefits and the extent of your participation in these plans will be governed by the terms of your collective bargaining agreement.

The Blue Cross Blue Shield PPO+ Plan

The Blue Cross Blue Shield (BCBS) PPO+ Plan offers providers and services at MIT Health, across New England, and nationally.

You will receive the most cost-effective level of benefits if you choose MIT Health or BCBS PPO+ in-network providers. With this plan, you do not need to designate a Primary Care Provider (PCP), although it is always encouraged; additionally, provider referrals are no longer required. This plan also offers out-of-network benefits for those who choose to seek care outside of the BCBS PPO+ network.

What to Know

- You may enroll a spouse, domestic partner, and/or dependents in coverage. Dependent children are covered up to age 26; no age limit applies for dependent(s) with disabilities that have been approved by BCBS and enrolled before age 26.
- You (and those you cover) may have a copay for office visits based on the location of your provider. There is a:
 - $0 copay for office visits at MIT Health;
 - $10 copay for MIT Health specialist office visits;
 - $15 copay for office visits and a $30 copay for specialist office visits with providers in the BCBS PPO+ network; and
- In-network deductibles will apply ($150 employee only; $300 employee + spouse/domestic partner, employee + child(ren), and family) to higher-cost services such as inpatient hospitalization, outpatient surgery, emergency room, diagnostic testing, non-preventive lab work, and imaging.
- For services rendered by an out-of-network provider, a deductible and co-insurance will apply.

The BCBS High Deductible Health Plan (HDHP) offers qualified medical services, including covering preventive services in full – and you don't need to select a PCP.

Learn more about the HDHP:
hr.mit.edu/benefits/health/hdhp →

Deductibles and Co-Insurance

While your HDHP premium will be lower than the PPO+ Plan premium, you are responsible for paying for non-preventive services and non-preventive prescriptions until you reach a deductible.

- For an employee only, the deductible is $1,650.
- For an employee + spouse/domestic partner, employee + child(ren), or family, the deductible is $3,300.

Once you reach your deductible, you then pay 10% of the cost of the non-preventive service (in-network); this percentage is called “co-insurance.” You will pay that percentage for each non-preventive service until you reach an out-of-pocket maximum: $3,000 for an employee only; $6,000 for an employee + spouse/domestic partner, employee + child(ren), or family. These amounts include your deductible and co-insurance. Please note that if you choose to have your services at MIT Health, you will not have to pay any co-insurance.

	Preventive Services	Other Services
Insurance Pays	100%	0%	90%	100%
You Pay	0%	100% until you reach your deductible →	10% after you reach your deductible →	0% after you reach your out-of-pocket maximum

HDHP and a Health Savings Account (HSA)

When you enroll in the HDHP, you are eligible for a Health Savings Account (HSA) – this account holds the money that you can use to pay for your medical services. The HSA offers tax advantages both while you're enrolled in the HDHP as well as in your future.

Both you and MIT contribute to the HSA.* MIT will contribute to your HSA account in one lump sum, annually: $500 for an employee only and $1,000 for an employee + spouse/domestic partner (if a tax dependent), employee + child(ren), or family.* You may elect to contribute to your HSA account to cover your deductible plus the funds needed to cover your out-of-pocket maximum; your contribution will be deducted from your paycheck, each pay period, pre-tax.

If you enroll in the HDHP and an HSA, you cannot enroll in a Health Care Flexible Spending Account (though you can still have a Dependent Care Flexible Spending Account). The HDHP is the only MIT health plan that includes an HSA.

2025 maximum contributions: $4,300 for employee coverage; $8,550 for employee + spouse or domestic partner (if a tax dependent), employee + child(ren), or family coverage. Additional $1,000 if you are age 55 or older.*

Pro-rated if you are not enrolled during the Open Enrollment period.*

Thanks to Rollover Max from Delta Dental, there's good news if you don't hit your maximum dental benefit limit during the year – you won't lose what you don't use.

Rollover Max Is Easy and Automatic

To qualify for Rollover Max, you must be enrolled in the Comprehensive Dental Plan and receive at least one cleaning or one oral exam in the plan year. If you don't receive a cleaning or exam, you won't be eligible to roll over any of your benefit dollars to the following year.

- In addition, your paid claims must not exceed the maximum “threshold” amount of your current annual plan maximum (see chart).
- Once you qualify, a portion of your unused annual maximum benefit dollars will roll over for use in your next plan year and beyond. This amount varies based on your annual maximum benefit payment (see chart).
- Annual maximum dollars are used first. Rollover Max dollars are used after the annual maximum is met.

The following chart shows how Rollover Max is calculated based on the Comprehensive Dental Plan's annual maximum benefit of $2,500.

Your Comprehensive Dental Plan's annual maximum benefit amount is...	If your total yearly claims don't exceed this threshold amount...	Then you can roll over this amount to use next year and beyond.	Your accumulated rollover total is capped at this amount.
$2,500	$900	$700	$1,500

Here is a four-year example of how Rollover Max works (assuming you have at least one cleaning or one oral exam each year).

	First Year*	Second Year	Third Year	Fourth Year
Your annual maximum amount	$2,500	$2,500	$2,500	$2,500
Rollover amount from previous year	N/A (this is the first qualifying year for Rollover Max)	$700	$700	$700
Your total claims paid (Threshold $900)	$600	$1,000	$3,000	$600
Adjusted Annual Maximum	$2,500	$3,200	$3,200	$2,700
Eligible for Rollover Max	Yes	No	No	Yes
Accumulated Rollover Max total	$700	$700 (the amount you accumulated in your first year)	$200	$900

Learn more: hr.mit.edu/benefits/dental →

*The first year assumes you have enrolled in the Comprehensive Dental Plan prior to October 1.

To be eligible for Rollover Max, your total claims cannot exceed the annual threshold amount of $900, and you must have a cleaning or oral exam in the plan year.

In this example, while the total claims paid exceeded the annual maximum benefit amount of $2,500, the plan paid an additional $200 in benefits, thanks to Rollover Max.

MIT offers an optional Vision Plan through EyeMed Vision Care that covers the cost of eyeglasses or contact lenses. This coverage is separate from the annual eye exam provided by MIT's health plans.

When you enroll in the Vision Plan, you can obtain services through an independent service provider or the Eye360 program. In addition to the current provider network, members also have access to PLUS providers, which offer $50 on top of the $150 frame allowance. You will generally receive a higher level of reimbursement if you obtain services within the EyeMed network.

Health Care Flexible Spending Account

A Health Care Flexible Spending Account (FSA) is a pre-tax account used to pay for eligible medical, dental, and vision care expenses that aren't covered by your health plan or elsewhere. It's a smart, simple way to save money while keeping you and your family healthy. You must re-enroll in the Health Care FSA each year during Open Enrollment if you want to participate the next calendar year. You are not eligible for this plan if you are enrolled in the BCBS High Deductible Health Plan (HDHP) with a Health Savings Account (HSA).

How the Health Care FSA works

Your MIT medical, dental, and vision plans will cover much of your costs every year, but you will probably need to pay some portion of your expenses out of pocket. A Health Care FSA is a voluntary account that makes it possible for you to set aside money from your pay to cover some of the expenses not covered by your plans, such as copays and deductibles. The money you contribute, up to the annual limits set by federal law, is not taxed as income. You can submit claims for reimbursement until April 30 each year for eligible services received through December 31 of the previous calendar year. Expenses of domestic partners cannot be reimbursed. The Health Care FSA is administered by HealthEquity.

FSA Carryover Feature

Active employees with a Health Care FSA who have unused funds in their account as of December 31 will be able to carry over up to $640 into the next calendar year automatically. However, if you do not re-enroll in a Health Care FSA the following calendar year, your carryover dollars must be used by December 31 following the year in which the Health Care FSA was elected.

Learn more: hr.mit.edu/benefits/fsa/health →

Use it or lose it

Be as accurate as you can when estimating your annual eligible expenses so that you do not contribute more to your FSA(s) than you expect to claim for reimbursement.

Dependent Care Flexible Spending Account

The Dependent Care Flexible Spending Account (FSA) allows you to set aside pre-tax funds for planned dependent care services received for dependent children under the age of 13, while you work or search for work. You must re-enroll in the Dependent Care FSA each year during Open Enrollment if you want to participate during the next calendar year.

How the Dependent Care FSA works

You make contributions to your Dependent Care FSA between January 1 and December 31 and submit bills for services you receive within that same period. You can continue to submit bills for services you received during that calendar year through April 30 of the next year. Each family may contribute up to $5,000 per year. If each spouse contributes to a different FSA, the combined total of their Dependent Care FSA contributions for a calendar year must not exceed $5,000 for a couple filing taxes jointly. You may want to compare possible tax savings with this account to the possible savings under the Federal Child and Dependent Care Tax Credit. Consult your tax advisor if you have questions about your situation. The Dependent Care FSA is administered by HealthEquity.

Portable Child Care Subsidy

To address the high costs of child care, MIT is pleased to offer a Portable Child Care Subsidy (PCCS) program, based on household income, for eligible employees with children under 13 years of age.

Learn more: hr.mit.edu/benefits/child-care-subsidy →

Basic Life Insurance

MIT provides a Basic Life Insurance Plan to all benefits-eligible employees with coverage up to $50,000 (age reductions apply). Enrollment is automatic, and MIT pays the full cost of coverage. In the event of your death, the MIT Basic Life Insurance Plan pays the full amount of your coverage to your designated beneficiary in a single payment.

Accidental Death and Dismemberment Insurance

MIT provides an Accidental Death and Dismemberment Insurance Plan, with coverage up to $100,000 (age reductions apply) in the event of your dismemberment or death in a covered accident (work-related or not). Coverage depends on your age and other limitations. Enrollment is automatic, and MIT pays the full cost of coverage.

Optional Life Insurance

The Optional Life Insurance Plan is separate from your MIT Basic Life Insurance Plan. You can choose a coverage level equal to 1–7x your base annual salary (regular pay, not including overtime or other premium pay). The cost of your Optional Life Insurance coverage depends on your age, and the coverage amount is based on the level you choose (age reductions may apply). The maximum Optional Life Insurance coverage amount is $2 million.

You pay the full cost of Optional Life Insurance through deductions each pay period. In the event of your death, the MIT Optional Life Insurance Plan pays the full amount of your coverage to your designated beneficiary in a single payment.

Designate Your Beneficiary

Is your beneficiary designation up to date? It is important to officially designate – and update, as needed – the person you want to receive the benefits from your life insurance plan(s) in the event of your death. Be sure your beneficiary knows about your MIT Life Insurance coverage.

Dependent Life Insurance

You have the option to enroll your eligible dependent(s) in MIT's Dependent Life Insurance Plan.

Who Is Covered?	Coverage Amount
Spouse or domestic partner (even if your spouse or domestic partner purchases dependent coverage for you under this same plan)	$50,000 or $100,000
Unmarried biological or adopted child or stepchild from age 15 days to age 26 (whether or not the child is a student)	$10,000 ($100 from age 15 days to age six months)

You cannot enroll a child who is already enrolled in MIT Dependent Life Insurance coverage through your spouse or domestic partner.

In the event of the death of a dependent covered under this plan, the policy pays the full amount of the coverage in a single payment.

The initial cost of your Dependent Spouse or Domestic Partner Life Insurance depends on your age when you enroll and the coverage option you choose. The cost of your Dependent Child Life Insurance is the same cost per child for all eligible employees. You pay the full cost of Dependent Life Insurance through deductions each pay period.

MIT Pension Plan

MIT is one of a handful of employers that still offers a pension plan. MIT's Pension Plan is designed to provide a lifetime monthly income during retirement.

What to know

- The plan is fully paid by MIT. Eligible staff and faculty who work 50% or more of a regular full-time work schedule will be enrolled automatically after one year of service.
- You are fully vested (i.e., own the benefit) once you have completed three years of service at MIT.

Supplemental 401(k) Plan

Traditional Pre-Tax Contributions and Roth Post-Tax Contributions

MIT's Supplemental 401(k) Plan helps eligible employees save and invest for retirement while receiving certain tax advantages. MIT will match up to 5% of your pay in contributions to the Supplemental 401(k) Plan. You choose how your contributions – and MIT's matching contributions – are invested. Administrative and recordkeeping services are provided by Fidelity Investments.

What to know

- Most employees working at least 50% of a normal full-time position are eligible to participate.
- You need to enroll in your 401(k) account – this does not happen automatically.
- Each pay period, you may contribute 1% to 95% of your pay on a pre- or post-tax basis. Your contributions can be all pre-tax, all post-tax, or any combination of pre- and post-tax amounts.
- MIT matches your combined pre- and post-tax contributions dollar-for-dollar up to 5% of your pay (subject to IRS limits).
- You are vested immediately – that is, you fully own your contributions, MIT's matching contributions, and all your investment earnings.

Making Changes to Your Benefits

All benefits-eligible employees can enroll or change health, dental, vision, and FSA benefits during the annual Benefits Open Enrollment period. If you are a new employee, visit Atlas to enroll within 31 days of your date of hire/appointment, or within 31 days of the date you receive your official Welcome Letter – whichever is later. Employees may also make changes within 31 days of the date of a qualifying life event.

If you or a dependent is no longer eligible under Medicaid or CHIP, or you or a dependent becomes eligible for assistance for Plan coverage under Medicaid or CHIP, you must request enrollment within 60 days of the prior coverage terminating or becoming eligible for assistance.
