(8) The department and an applicant may mutually agree to extend the 90-day time period described in Subsection (7) for the department to determine whether an application is approved for entry into the regulatory sandbox.

(d) for a sandbox participant testing an innovative product or service that would normally require a money transmission license under Section 7-25-201, the department may, on a case by case basis, specify the maximum amount of a single transaction for an individual consumer and the maximum aggregate amount of transactions for an individual consumer.

(3) This section does not restrict a sandbox participant who holds a license or other authorization in another jurisdiction from acting in accordance with that license or other authorization.

(4) A sandbox participant is deemed to possess an appropriate license under the laws of the state for the purposes of any provision of federal law requiring state licensure or authorization.

(5) Except as otherwise provided in this chapter, including in Subsections (6) and (7), a sandbox participant that is testing an innovative product or service is not subject to state laws that regulate financial products or services.

(6) (a) The department may only determine that certain state laws that regulate a financial product or service apply to a sandbox participant if the department, at the department's sole discretion, determines that:

(i) an applicant's plan to protect consumers will not adequately protect consumers from the harm the state law addresses; and

(ii) the benefits to consumers of applying the law outweigh the potential benefits to consumers from increased competition, innovation, and consumer access that waiving the law, in conjunction with the applicant's ability to compensate consumers who may be harmed, would provide.

(b) If the department determines that certain state laws that regulate a financial product or service apply to a sandbox participant, the department shall notify the sandbox participant of the specific regulatory provisions that apply to the sandbox participant.

(7) Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, a sandbox participant does not have immunity related to any criminal offense committed during the sandbox participant's participation in the regulatory sandbox.

(8) By written notice, the department may end a sandbox participant's participation in the regulatory sandbox at any time and for any reason, including if the department determines a sandbox participant is not operating in good faith to bring an innovative product or service to market.

(b) The consultation described in Subsection (2)(a):

- (i) may take place at or before the hearing; and

(9) If a designated examiner is unable to complete an examination on the first attempt because the proposed patient refuses to submit to the examination, the court shall fix a reasonable compensation to be paid to the examiner.

(10) If the local mental health authority, its designee, or a medical examiner determines before the court hearing that the conditions justifying the findings leading to an assisted outpatient treatment hearing no longer exist, the local mental health authority, its designee, or the medical examiner shall immediately report that determination to the court.

(11) The court may terminate the proceedings and dismiss the application at any time, including prior to the hearing, if the designated examiners or the local mental health authority or its designee informs the court that the proposed patient is not mentally ill.

(12) Before the hearing, an opportunity to be represented by counsel shall be afforded to the proposed patient, and if neither the proposed patient nor others provide counsel, the court shall appoint counsel and allow counsel sufficient time to consult with the proposed patient before the hearing. (A) at the time of the hearing; and

(B) at any time prior to the hearing, upon request.

(14) The court shall order a proposed patient to assisted outpatient treatment if, upon completion of the hearing and consideration of the information presented, the court finds by clear and convincing evidence that:

(a) the proposed patient has a mental illness;

(b) there is no appropriate less-restrictive alternative to a court order for assisted outpatient treatment; and

(c) (i) the proposed patient lacks the ability to engage in a rational decision-making process regarding the acceptance of mental health treatment, as demonstrated by evidence of inability to weigh the possible risks of accepting or rejecting treatment; or

(ii) the proposed patient needs assisted outpatient treatment in order to prevent relapse or deterioration that is likely to result in the proposed patient posing a substantial danger to self or others.

(15) The court may order the applicant or a close relative of the patient to be the patient's personal representative, as described in 45 C.F.R. Sec. 164.502(g), for purposes of the patient's mental health treatment.

(16) In the absence of the findings described in Subsection (14), the court, after the hearing, shall dismiss the proceedings.

(17) (a) The assisted outpatient treatment order shall designate the period for which the patient shall be treated, which may not exceed six months without a review hearing.

(b) An individual identified under Subsection (4) may request a review hearing at any time while the assisted outpatient treatment order is in effect.

(c) At a review hearing, the court may extend the duration of an assisted outpatient treatment order by up to six months, if:

(i) the court finds by clear and convincing evidence that the patient meets the conditions described in Subsection (14); or

(ii) (A) the patient does not appear at the review hearing; and

(B) notice of the review hearing was provided to the patient's last known address by the applicant described in Subsection (1) or by a local mental health authority.

(18) Costs of all proceedings under this section shall be paid by the county in which the proposed patient resides or is found.

(19) A court may not hold an individual in contempt for failure to comply with an assisted outpatient treatment order.

(20) As provided in Section 31A-22-650, a health insurance provider may not deny an insured the benefits of the insured's policy solely because the health care that the insured receives is provided under a court order for assisted outpatient treatment.

Section 7. Section 62A-15-631 is amended to read:

(b) The consultation described in Subsection (2)(a):

(i) may take place at or before the hearing; and

(ii) is required if the local mental health authority appears at the hearing.

(3) If the court finds from the application, from any other statements under oath, or from any reports from a mental health professional that there is a reasonable basis to believe that the proposed patient has a mental illness that poses a substantial danger to self or others requiring involuntary commitment pending examination and hearing; or, if the proposed patient has refused to submit to an interview with a mental health professional as directed by the court or to go to a treatment facility voluntarily, the court may issue an order, directed to a mental health officer or peace officer, to immediately place the proposed patient in the custody of a local mental health authority or in a temporary emergency facility as provided in Section 62A-15-634 to be detained for the purpose of examination.

(4) Notice of commencement of proceedings for involuntary commitment, setting forth the allegations of the application and any reported facts, together with a copy of any official order of detention, shall be provided by the court to a proposed patient before, or upon, placement in the custody of a local mental health authority or, with respect to any proposed patient presently in the custody of a local mental health authority whose status is being changed from voluntary to involuntary, upon the filing of an application for that purpose with the court. That notice shall advise those persons that a hearing may be held within the time provided by law. If the proposed patient has refused to permit release of information necessary for provisions of notice under this subsection, the extent of notice shall be determined by the court.

(6) Proceedings for commitment of an individual under the age of 18 years to a local mental health authority may be commenced in accordance with Part 7, Commitment of Persons Under Age 18 to Division of Substance Abuse and Mental Health.

(7) The district court may, in its discretion, transfer the case to any other district court within this state, provided that the transfer will not be adverse to the interest of the proposed patient.

(8) Within 24 hours, excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and legal holidays, of the issuance of a judicial order, or after commitment of a proposed patient to a local mental health authority or its designee under court order for detention or examination, the court shall appoint two designated examiners:

(a) who did not sign the civil commitment application nor the civil commitment certification under Subsection (1);

(b) one of whom is a licensed physician; and

(c) one of whom may be designated by the proposed patient or the proposed patient's counsel, if that designated examiner is reasonably available.

(9) The court shall schedule a hearing to be held within 10 calendar days of the day on which the designated examiners are appointed.

(10) The designated examiners shall:

If the designated examiner reports orally, the designated examiner shall immediately send a written report to the clerk of the court.

(11) If a designated examiner is unable to complete an examination on the first attempt because the proposed patient refuses to submit to the examination, the court shall fix a reasonable compensation to be paid to the examiner.

(12) If the local mental health authority, its designee, or a medical examiner determines before the court hearing that the conditions justifying the findings leading to a commitment hearing no longer exist, the local mental health authority, its designee, or the medical examiner shall immediately report that determination to the court.

(13) The court may terminate the proceedings and dismiss the application at any time, including prior to the hearing, if the designated examiners or the local mental health authority or its designee informs the court that the proposed patient:

- (a) is not mentally ill;
- (b) has agreed to voluntary commitment, as described in Section 62A-15-625; or
- (c) has acceptable options for treatment programs that are available without court proceedings.

(14) Before the hearing, an opportunity to be represented by counsel shall be afforded to [every] the proposed patient, and if neither the proposed patient nor others provide counsel, the court shall appoint counsel and allow counsel sufficient time to consult with the proposed patient before the hearing. (15) (a) The proposed patient, the applicant, and all other persons to whom notice is required to be given shall be afforded an opportunity to appear at the hearing, to testify, and to present and cross-examine witnesses. The court may, in its discretion, receive the testimony of any other person. The court may allow a waiver of the proposed patient's right to appear only for good cause shown, and that cause shall be made a matter of court record.

(b) The court is authorized to exclude all persons not necessary for the conduct of the proceedings and may, upon motion of counsel, require the testimony of each examiner to be given out of the presence of any other examiners.

(c) The hearing shall be conducted in as informal a manner as may be consistent with orderly procedure, and in a physical setting that is not likely to have a harmful effect on the mental health of the proposed patient.

(d) The court shall consider all relevant historical and material information that is offered, subject to the rules of evidence, including reliable hearsay under Rule 1102, Utah Rules of Evidence.

(e) (i) A local mental health authority or its designee, or the physician in charge of the proposed patient's care shall, at the time of the hearing, provide the court with the following information:

- (A) the detention order;
- (B) admission notes;
- (C) the diagnosis;
- (D) any doctors' orders;
- (E) progress notes;

(ii) That information shall also be supplied to the proposed patient's counsel at the time of the hearing, and at any time prior to the hearing upon request.

(16) The court shall order commitment of a proposed patient who is 18 years of age or older to a local mental health authority if, upon completion of the hearing and consideration of the information presented in accordance with Subsection (15)(d), the court finds by clear and convincing evidence that:

- (a) the proposed patient has a mental illness;
- (b) because of the proposed patient's mental illness the proposed patient poses a substantial danger to self or others;
- (c) the proposed patient lacks the ability to engage in a rational decision-making process regarding the acceptance of mental treatment as demonstrated by evidence of inability to weigh the possible risks of accepting or rejecting treatment;
- (d) there is no appropriate less-restrictive alternative to a court order of commitment; and
- (e) the local mental health authority can provide the proposed patient with treatment that is adequate and appropriate to the proposed patient's conditions and needs. In the absence of the required findings of the court after the hearing, the court shall dismiss the proceedings.

(17) (a) The order of commitment shall designate the period for which the patient shall be treated. When the patient is not under an order of commitment at the time of the hearing, that period may not exceed six months without benefit of a review hearing. Upon such a review hearing, to be commenced prior to the expiration of the previous order, an order for commitment may be for an indeterminate period, if the court finds by clear and convincing evidence that the required conditions in Subsection (16) will last for an indeterminate period.

(b) The court shall maintain a current list of all patients under its order of commitment. That list shall be reviewed to determine those patients who have been under an order of commitment for the designated period. At least two weeks prior to the expiration of the designated period of any order of commitment still in effect, the court that entered the original order shall inform the appropriate local mental health authority or its designee. The local mental health authority or its designee shall immediately reexamine the reasons upon which the order of commitment was based. If the local mental health authority or its designee determines that the conditions justifying that commitment no longer exist, it shall discharge the patient from involuntary commitment and immediately report the discharge to the court. Otherwise, the court shall immediately appoint two designated examiners and proceed under Subsections (8) through (14).

(c) The local mental health authority or its designee responsible for the care of a patient under an order of commitment for an indeterminate period shall, at six-month intervals, reexamine the reasons upon which the order of indeterminate commitment was based. If the local mental health authority or its designee determines that the conditions justifying that commitment no longer exist, that local mental health authority or its designee shall discharge the patient from its custody and immediately report the discharge to the court. If the local mental health authority or its designee determines that the conditions justifying that commitment continue to exist, the local mental health authority or its designee shall send a written report of those findings to the court. The patient and the patient's counsel of record shall be notified in writing that the involuntary commitment will be continued, the reasons for that decision, and that the patient has the right to a review hearing by making a request to the court. Upon receiving the request, the court shall immediately appoint two designated examiners and proceed under Subsections (8) through (14).

(18) Any patient committed as a result of an original hearing or a patient's legally designated representative who is aggrieved by the findings, conclusions, and order of the court entered in the original hearing has the right to a new hearing upon a petition filed with the court within 30 days of the entry of the court order. The petition must allege error or mistake in the findings, in which case the court shall appoint three impartial designated examiners previously unrelated to the case to conduct an additional examination of the patient. The new hearing shall, in all other respects, be conducted in the manner otherwise permitted.

(19) Costs of all proceedings under this section shall be paid by the county in which the proposed patient resides or is found.

Section 8. Section 62A-15-703 is amended to read:

62A-15-703. Residential and inpatient settings -- Commitment proceeding -- Child in physical custody of local mental health authority.

(1) A child may receive services from a local mental health authority in an inpatient or residential setting only after a commitment proceeding, for the purpose of transferring physical custody, has been conducted in accordance with the requirements of this section.

(2) That commitment proceeding shall be initiated by a petition for commitment, and shall be a careful, diagnostic inquiry, conducted by a neutral and detached fact finder, pursuant to the procedures and requirements of this section. If the findings described in Subsection (4) exist, the proceeding shall result in the transfer of physical custody to the appropriate local mental health authority, and the child may be placed in an inpatient or residential setting.

(3) The neutral and detached fact finder who conducts the inquiry:

(a) shall be a designated examiner, as defined in Section 62A-15-602; and

(b) may not profit, financially or otherwise, from the commitment or physical placement of the child in that setting.

(4) Upon determination by a fact finder that the following circumstances clearly exist, the fact finder may order that the child be committed to the physical custody of a local mental health authority:

(a) the child has a mental illness, as defined in ~~Subsection~~ Section 62A-15-602~~(13)~~;

(b) the child demonstrates a reasonable fear of the risk of substantial danger to self or others;

(c) the child will benefit from care and treatment by the local mental health authority; and

(d) there is no appropriate less-restrictive alternative.

(5) (a) The commitment proceeding before the neutral and detached fact finder shall be conducted in as informal manner as possible and in a physical setting that is not likely to have a harmful effect on the child.

(b) The child, the child's parent or legal guardian, the petitioner, and a representative of the appropriate local mental health authority:

(i) shall receive informal notice of the date and time of the proceeding; and

(ii) may appear and address the petition for commitment.

(c) The neutral and detached fact finder may, in the fact finder's discretion, receive the testimony of any other person.

(d) The fact finder may allow a child to waive the child's right to be present at the commitment proceeding, for good cause shown. If that right is waived, the purpose of the waiver shall be made a matter of record at the proceeding.

(e) At the time of the commitment proceeding, the appropriate local mental health authority, its designee, or the psychiatrist who has been in charge of the child's care prior to the commitment proceeding, shall provide the neutral and detached fact finder with the following information, as it relates to the period of current admission:

(i) the petition for commitment;

(ii) the admission notes;

(iii) the child's diagnosis;

(iv) physicians' orders;

(v) progress notes;

(vi) nursing notes; and

(vii) medication records.

(f) The information described in Subsection (5)(e) shall also be provided to the child's parent or legal guardian upon written request.

(g) (i) The neutral and detached fact finder's decision of commitment shall state the duration of the commitment. Any commitment to the physical custody of a local mental health authority may not exceed 180 days. Prior to expiration of the commitment, and if further commitment is sought, a hearing shall be conducted in the same manner as the initial commitment proceeding, in accordance with the requirements of this section.

(ii) At the conclusion of the hearing and subsequently in writing, when a decision for commitment is made, the neutral and detached fact finder shall inform the child and the child's parent or legal guardian of that decision and of the reasons for ordering commitment.

(iii) The neutral and detached fact finder shall state in writing the basis of the decision, with specific reference to each of the criteria described in Subsection (4), as a matter of record.

(6) A child may be temporarily committed for a maximum of 72 hours, excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and legal holidays, to the physical custody of a local mental health authority in accordance with the procedures described in Section 62A-15-629 and upon satisfaction of the risk factors described in Subsection (4). A child who is temporarily committed shall be released at the expiration of the 72 hours unless the procedures and findings required by this section for the commitment of a child are satisfied.

(7) A local mental health authority shall have physical custody of each child committed to it under this section. The parent or legal guardian of a child committed to the physical custody of a local mental health authority under this section, retains legal custody of the child, unless legal custody has been otherwise modified by a court of competent jurisdiction. In cases when the Division of Child and Family Services or the Division of Juvenile Justice Services has legal custody of a child, that division shall retain legal custody for purposes of this part.

(8) The cost of caring for and maintaining a child in the physical custody of a local mental health authority shall be assessed to and paid by the child's parents, according to their ability to pay. For purposes of this section, the Division of Child and Family Services or the Division of Juvenile Justice Services shall be financially responsible, in addition to the child's parents, if the child is in the legal custody of either of those divisions at the time the child is committed to the physical custody of a local mental health authority under this section, unless Medicaid regulation or contract provisions specify otherwise. The Office of Recovery Services shall assist those divisions in collecting the costs assessed pursuant to this section.

(9) Whenever application is made for commitment of a minor to a local mental health authority under any provision of this section by a person other than the child's parent or guardian, the local mental health authority or its designee shall notify the child's parent or guardian. The parents shall be provided sufficient time to prepare and appear at any scheduled proceeding.

(10) (a) Each child committed pursuant to this section is entitled to an appeal within 30 days after any order for commitment. The appeal may be brought on the child's own petition or on petition of the child's parent or legal guardian, to the juvenile court in the district where the child resides or is currently physically located. With regard to a child in the custody of the Division of Child and Family Services or the Division of Juvenile Justice Services, the attorney general's office shall handle the appeal, otherwise the appropriate county attorney's office is responsible for appeals brought pursuant to this Subsection (10)(a).

(b) Upon receipt of the petition for appeal, the court shall appoint a designated examiner previously unrelated to the case, to conduct an examination of the child in accordance with the criteria described in Subsection (4), and file a written report with the court. The court shall then conduct an appeal hearing to determine whether the findings described in Subsection (4) exist by clear and convincing evidence.

(c) Prior to the time of the appeal hearing, the appropriate local mental health authority, its designee, or the mental health professional who has been in charge of the child's care prior to commitment, shall provide the court and the designated examiner for the appeal hearing with the following information, as it relates to the period of current admission:

- (i) the original petition for commitment;
- (ii) admission notes;
- (iii) diagnosis;
- (iv) physicians' orders;
- (v) progress notes;
- (vi) nursing notes; and
- (vii) medication records.

(d) Both the neutral and detached fact finder and the designated examiner appointed for the appeal hearing shall be provided with an opportunity to review the most current information described in Subsection (10)(c) prior to the appeal hearing.

(e) The child, the child's parent or legal guardian, the person who submitted the original petition for commitment, and a representative of the appropriate local mental health authority shall be notified by the court of the date and time of the appeal hearing. Those persons shall be afforded an opportunity to appear at the hearing. In reaching its decision, the court shall review the record and findings of the neutral and detached fact finder, the report of the designated examiner appointed pursuant to Subsection (10)(b), and may, in its discretion, allow or require the testimony of the neutral and detached fact finder, the designated examiner, the child, the child's parent or legal guardian, the person who brought the initial petition for commitment, or any other person whose testimony the court deems relevant. The court may allow the child to waive the right to appear at the appeal hearing, for good cause shown. If that waiver is granted, the purpose shall be made a part of the court's record.

(11) Each local mental health authority has an affirmative duty to conduct periodic evaluations of the mental health and treatment progress of every child committed to its physical custody under this section, and to release any child who has sufficiently improved so that the criteria justifying commitment no longer exist.

(12) (a) A local mental health authority or its designee, in conjunction with the child's current treating mental health professional may release an improved child to a less restrictive environment, as they determine appropriate. Whenever the local mental health authority or its designee, and the child's current treating mental health professional, determine that the conditions justifying commitment no longer exist, the child shall be discharged and released to the child's parent or legal guardian. With regard to a child who is in the physical custody of the State Hospital, the treating psychiatrist or clinical director of the State Hospital shall be the child's current treating mental health professional.

(b) A local mental health authority or its designee, in conjunction with the child's current treating mental health professional, is authorized to issue a written order for the immediate placement of a child not previously released from an order of commitment into a more restrictive environment, if the local authority or its designee and the child's current treating mental health professional has reason to believe that the less restrictive environment in which the child has been placed is exacerbating the child's mental illness, or increasing the risk of harm to self or others.

(c) The written order described in Subsection (12)(b) shall include the reasons for placement in a more restrictive environment and shall authorize any peace officer to take the child into physical custody and transport the child to a facility designated by the appropriate local mental health authority in conjunction with the child's current treating mental health professional. Prior to admission to the more restrictive environment, copies of the order shall be personally delivered to the child, the child's parent or legal guardian, the administrator of the more restrictive environment, or the administrator's designee, and the child's former treatment provider or facility.

(d) If the child has been in a less restrictive environment for more than 30 days and is aggrieved by the change to a more restrictive environment, the child or the child's representative may request a review within 30 days of the change, by a neutral and detached fact finder as described in Subsection (3). The fact finder shall determine whether:

(i) the less restrictive environment in which the child has been placed is exacerbating the child's mental illness or increasing the risk of harm to self or others; or

(ii) the less restrictive environment in which the child has been placed is not exacerbating the child's mental illness or increasing the risk of harm to self or others, in which case the fact finder shall designate that the child remain in the less restrictive environment.

(e) Nothing in this section prevents a local mental health authority or its designee, in conjunction with the child's current mental health professional, from discharging a child from commitment or from placing a child in an environment that is less restrictive than that designated by the neutral and detached fact finder.

(13) Each local mental health authority or its designee, in conjunction with the child's current treating mental health professional shall discharge any child who, in the opinion of that local authority, or its designee, and the child's current treating mental health professional, no longer meets the criteria specified in Subsection (4), except as provided by Section 78A-6-120. The local authority and the mental health professional shall assure that any further supportive services required to meet the child's needs upon release will be provided.

(14) Even though a child has been committed to the physical custody of a local mental health authority under this section, the child is still entitled to additional due process proceedings, in accordance with Section 62A-15-704, before any treatment that may affect a constitutionally protected liberty or privacy interest is administered. Those treatments include, but are not limited to, antipsychotic medication, electroshock therapy, and psychosurgery.

majority vote of the legislative body, submit for voter approval a measure to create a new school district with boundaries contiguous with that city's boundaries, in accordance with Section 53G-3-301.

(b) (i) The determination of all matters relating to the scope, adequacy, and other aspects of a feasibility study under Subsection (1)(a) is within the exclusive discretion of the city's legislative body.

(ii) An inadequacy of a feasibility study under Subsection (1)(a) may not be the basis of a legal action or other challenge to:

(A) an election for voter approval of the creation of a new school district; or

(B) the creation of the new school district.

(2) (a) By majority vote of the legislative body, a city of any class, a town, or a county, may, together with one or more other cities, towns, or the county enter into an interlocal agreement, in accordance with Title 11, Chapter 13, Interlocal Cooperation Act, for the purpose of submitting for voter approval a measure to create a new school district.

(b) (i) In accordance with Section 53G-3-301, interlocal agreement participants under Subsection (2)(a) may submit a proposal for voter approval if:

(A) the interlocal agreement participants conduct a feasibility study prior to submitting the proposal to the county;

(B) the combined population within the proposed new school district boundaries is at least 50,000;

(C) the new school district boundaries:

(I) are contiguous;

(II) do not completely surround or otherwise completely geographically isolate a portion of an existing school district that is not part of the proposed new school district from the remaining part of that existing school district, except as provided in Subsection (2)(d)(iii);

(III) include the entire boundaries of each participant city or town, except as provided in Subsection (2)(d)(ii); and

(IV) subject to Subsection (2)(b)(ii), do not cross county lines; and

(D) the combined population within the proposed new school district of interlocal agreement participants that have entered into an interlocal agreement proposing to create a new school district is at least 80% of the total population of the proposed new school district.

(ii) The determination of all matters relating to the scope, adequacy, and other aspects of a feasibility study under Subsection (2)(b)(i)(A), including whether to conduct a new feasibility study or revise a previous feasibility study due to a change in the proposed new school district boundaries, is within the exclusive discretion of the legislative bodies of the interlocal agreement participants that enter into an interlocal agreement to submit for voter approval a measure to create a new school district.

(iii) An inadequacy of a feasibility study under Subsection (2)(b)(i)(A) may not be the basis of a legal action or other challenge to:

(A) an election for voter approval of the creation of a new school district; or

(iv) For purposes of determining whether the boundaries of a proposed new school district cross county lines under Subsection (2)(b)(i)(C)(IV):

(A) a municipality located in more than one county and entirely within the boundaries of a single school district is considered to be entirely within the same county as other participants in an interlocal agreement under Subsection (2)(a) if more of the municipality's land area and population is located in that same county than outside the county; and

(B) a municipality located in more than one county that participates in an interlocal agreement under Subsection (2)(a) with respect to some but not all of the area within the municipality's boundaries on the basis of the exception stated in Subsection (2)(d)(ii)(B) may not be considered to cross county lines.

(c) (i) A county may only participate in an interlocal agreement under this Subsection (2) for the unincorporated areas of the county.

(ii) Boundaries of a new school district created under this section may include:

(A) a portion of one or more existing school districts; and

(B) a portion of the unincorporated area of a county, including a portion of a township.

(d) (i) As used in this Subsection (2)(d):

(A) "Isolated area" means an area that:

(I) is entirely within the boundaries of a municipality that, except for that area, is entirely within a school district different than the school district in which the area is located; and

(II) would, because of the creation of a new school district from the existing district in which the area is located, become completely geographically isolated.

(B) "Municipality's school district" means the school district that includes all of the municipality in which the isolated area is located except the isolated area.

(ii) Notwithstanding Subsection (2)(b)(i)(C)(III), a municipality may be a participant in an interlocal agreement under Subsection (2)(a) with respect to some but not all of the area within the municipality's boundaries if:

(A) the portion of the municipality proposed to be included in the new school district would, if not included, become an isolated area upon the creation of the new school district; or

(B) (I) the portion of the municipality proposed to be included in the new school district is within the boundaries of the same school district that includes the other interlocal agreement participants; and

(II) the portion of the municipality proposed to be excluded from the new school district is within the boundaries of a school district other than the school district that includes the other interlocal agreement participants.

(iii) (A) Notwithstanding Subsection (2)(b)(i)(C)(II), a proposal to create a new school district may be submitted for voter approval pursuant to an interlocal agreement under Subsection (2)(a), even though the new school district boundaries would create an isolated area, if:

(I) the potential isolated area is contiguous to one or more of the interlocal agreement participants;

(II) the interlocal participants submit a written request to the municipality in which the potential isolated area is located, requesting the municipality to enter into an interlocal agreement under Subsection (2)(a) that proposes to submit for voter approval a measure to create a new school district that includes the potential isolated area; and

(III) 90 days after a request under Subsection (2)(d)(iii)(A)(II) is submitted, the municipality has not entered into an interlocal agreement as requested in the request.

(B) Each municipality receiving a request under Subsection (2)(d)(iii)(A)(II) shall hold one or more public hearings to allow input from the public and affected school districts regarding whether or not the municipality should enter into an interlocal agreement with respect to the potential isolated area.

(C) (I) This Subsection (2)(d)(iii)(C) applies if:

(Aa) a new school district is created under this section after a measure is submitted to voters based on the authority of Subsection (2)(d)(iii)(A); and

(Bb) the creation of the new school district results in an isolated area.

(II) The isolated area shall, on July 1 of the second calendar year following the local school board general election date described in Subsection (3)(a)(i), become part of the municipality's school district.

(III) Unless the isolated area is the only remaining part of the existing district, the process described in Subsection (4) shall be modified to:

(Aa) include a third transition team, appointed by the local school board of the municipality's school district, to represent that school district; and

(Bb) require allocation of the existing district's assets and liabilities among the new district, the remaining district, and the municipality's school district.

(IV) The existing district shall continue to provide educational services to the isolated area until July 1 of the second calendar year following the local school board general election date described in Subsection (3)(a)(i).

(3) (a) If a proposal under this section is approved by voters:

(i) an election shall be held at the next regular general election to elect:

(A) members to the local school board of the existing school district whose terms are expiring;

(B) all members to the local school board of the new school district; and

(C) all members to the local school board of the remaining district;

(ii) the assets and liabilities of the existing school district shall be divided between the remaining school district and the new school district as provided in Subsection (5) and Section 53G-3-307;

(iii) transferred employees shall be treated in accordance with Sections 53G-3-205 and 53G-3-308;

(iv) (A) an individual residing within the boundaries of a new school district at the time the new school district is created may, for six school years after the creation of the new school district, elect to enroll in a secondary school located outside the boundaries of the new school district if:

(I) the individual resides within the boundaries of that secondary school as of the day before the new school district is created; and

(II) the individual would have been eligible to enroll in that secondary school had the new school district not been created; and

(B) the school district in which the secondary school is located shall provide educational services, including, if provided before the creation of the new school district, busing, to each individual making an election under Subsection (3)(a)(iv)(A) for each school year for which the individual makes the election; and

(v) within one year after the new district begins providing educational services, the superintendent of each remaining district affected and the superintendent of the new district shall meet, together with the ~~[Superintendent of Public Instruction]~~ state superintendent, to determine if further boundary changes should be proposed in accordance with Section 53G-3-501.

(b) (i) The terms of the initial members of the local school board of the new district and remaining district shall be staggered and adjusted by the county legislative body so that approximately half of the local school board is elected every two years.

(ii) The term of a member of the existing local school board, including a member elected under Subsection (3)(a)(i)(A), terminates on July 1 of the second year after the local school board general election date described in Subsection (3)(a)(i), regardless of when the term would otherwise have terminated.

(iii) Notwithstanding the existence of a local school board for the new district and a local school board for the remaining district under Subsection (3)(a)(i), the local school board of the existing district shall continue, until the time specified in Subsection 53G-3-301(9)(b)(ii)(A), to function and exercise authority as a local school board to the extent necessary to continue to provide educational services to the entire existing district.

(iv) An individual may simultaneously serve as or be elected to be a member of the local school board of an existing district and a member of the local school board of:

(A) a new district; or

(B) a remaining district.

(4) (a) Within 45 days after the canvass date for the election at which voters approve the creation of a new district:

(i) a transition team to represent the remaining district shall be appointed by the members of the existing local school board who reside within the area of the remaining district, in consultation with:

(A) the legislative bodies of all municipalities in the area of the remaining district; and

(B) the legislative body of the county in which the remaining district is located, if the remaining district includes one or more unincorporated areas of the county; and

(ii) another transition team to represent the new district shall be appointed by:

(A) for a new district located entirely within the boundaries of a single city, the legislative body of that city; or

(B) for each other new district, the legislative bodies of all interlocal agreement participants.

(b) The local school board of the existing school district shall, within 60 days after the canvass date for the election at which voters approve the creation of a new district:

(i) prepare an inventory of the existing district's:

(A) assets, both tangible and intangible, real and personal; and

(B) liabilities; and

(ii) deliver a copy of the inventory to each of the transition teams.

(c) The transition teams appointed under Subsection (4)(a) shall:

(i) determine the allocation of the existing district's assets and, except for indebtedness under Section 53G-3-307, liabilities between the remaining district and the new district in accordance with Subsection (5);

(ii) prepare a written report detailing how the existing district's assets and, except for indebtedness under Section 53G-3-307, liabilities are to be allocated; and

(iii) deliver a copy of the written report to:

(A) the local school board of the existing district;

(B) the local school board of the remaining district; and

(C) the local school board of the new district.

(d) The transition teams shall determine the allocation under Subsection (4)(c)(i) and deliver the report required under Subsection (4)(c)(ii) before August 1 of the year following the election at which voters approve the creation of a new district, unless that deadline is extended by the mutual agreement of:

(i) the local school board of the existing district; and

(ii) (A) the legislative body of the city in which the new district is located, for a new district located entirely within a single city; or

(B) the legislative bodies of all interlocal agreement participants, for each other new district.

(e) (i) All costs and expenses of the transition team that represents a remaining district shall be borne by the remaining district.

(ii) All costs and expenses of the transition team that represents a new district shall initially be borne by:

(A) the city whose legislative body appoints the transition team, if the transition team is appointed by the legislative body of a single city; or

(B) the interlocal agreement participants, if the transition team is appointed by the legislative bodies of interlocal agreement participants.

(iii) The new district may, to a maximum of $500,000, reimburse the city or interlocal agreement participants for:

(A) transition team costs and expenses; and

(B) startup costs and expenses incurred by the city or interlocal agreement participants on behalf of the new district.

(5) (a) As used in this Subsection (5):

(ii) apply the intercepted payments to reimburse the state for payments made pursuant to the state's guaranty until all obligations of the local school board to the state arising from those payments, including interest and penalties, are paid in full.

(b) The state has no obligation to the local school board or to any person or entity to replace any money intercepted under authority of Subsection (1)(a).

(2) The local school board that issued bonds for which the state has made all or part of a debt service payment shall:

- (a) reimburse all money drawn by the state treasurer on its behalf;
- (b) pay interest to the state on all money paid by the state from the date the money was drawn to the date they are repaid at a rate not less than the average prime rate for national money center banks plus 1%; and

(c) pay all penalties required by this part.

(3) (a) The state treasurer shall establish the reimbursement interest rate after considering the circumstances of any prior draws by the local school board on the state, market interest and penalty rates, and the cost of funds, if any, that were required to be borrowed by the state to make payment on the bonds.

(b) The state treasurer may, after considering the circumstances giving rise to the failure of the local school board to make payment on its bonds in a timely manner, impose on the local school board a penalty of not more than 5% of the amount paid by the state pursuant to its guaranty for each instance in which a payment by the state is made.

(4) (a) (i) If the state treasurer determines that amounts obtained under this section will not reimburse the state in full within one year from the state's payment of a local school board's scheduled debt service payment, the state treasurer shall pursue any legal action, including mandamus, against the local school board to compel it to:

(A) levy and provide property tax revenues to pay debt service on its bonds when due as required by

Title 11, Chapter 14, Local Government Bonding Act; and

(B) meet its repayment obligations to the state.

(ii) In pursuing its rights under this Subsection (4)(a), the state shall have the same substantive and procedural rights under Title 11, Chapter 14, Local Government Bonding Act, as would a holder of the bonds of a local school board.

(b) The attorney general shall assist the state treasurer in these duties.

(c) The local school board shall pay the attorney's fees, expenses, and costs of the state treasurer and the attorney general.

(5) (a) Except as provided in Subsection (5)(c), any local school board whose operating funds were intercepted under this section may replace those funds from other local school board money or from ad valorem property taxes, subject to the limitations provided in this Subsection (5).

(b) A local school board may use ad valorem property taxes or other money to replace intercepted funds only if the ad valorem property taxes or other money was derived from:

(i) taxes originally levied to make the payment but which were not timely received by the local school board;

(ii) taxes from a special levy made to make the missed payment or to replace the intercepted money;

(iii) money transferred from the capital outlay fund of the local school board or the undistributed reserve, if any, of the local school board; or

(iv) any other source of money on hand and legally available.

(c) Notwithstanding the provisions of Subsections (5)(a) and (b), a local school board may not replace operating funds intercepted by the state with money collected and held to make payments on bonds if that replacement would divert money from the payment of future debt service on the bonds and increase the risk that the state's guaranty would be called upon a second time.

Section 41. Section 53G-4-807 is amended to read:

53G-4-807. Backup liquidity arrangements -- Issuance of notes.

(1) (a) If, at the time the state is required to make a debt service payment under its guaranty on behalf of a local school board, sufficient money of the state is not on hand and available for that purpose, the state treasurer may:

(e) Each series of refunding notes may not mature later than 18 months from the date the refunding notes are issued.

(3) (a) Before issuing or selling any general obligation note to other than a state fund or account, the state treasurer shall:

(b) The plan of financing shall provide for:

(c) In identifying the taxes or revenues to be anticipated and the sources of payment of the notes in the financing plan, the state treasurer may include:

state with financial and other institutions for letters of credit, standby letters of credit, reimbursement agreements, and remarketing, indexing, and tender agent agreements to secure the notes, including payment from any legally available source of fees, charges, or other amounts coming due under the agreements entered into by the state treasurer.

(e) When issuing the notes, the state treasurer shall issue an order setting forth the interest, form, manner of execution, payment, manner of sale, prices at, above, or below face value, and all details of issuance of the notes.

(f) The order and the details set forth in the order shall conform with any applicable plan of financing and with this part.

(g) (i) Each note shall recite that it is a valid obligation of the state and that the full faith, credit, and resources of the state are pledged for the payment of the principal of and interest on the note from the taxes or revenues identified in accordance with its terms and the constitution and laws of Utah.

(ii) These general obligation notes do not constitute debt of the state for the purposes of the 1.5% debt limitation of the Utah Constitution, Article XIV, Section 1.

(h) Immediately upon the completion of any sale of notes, the state treasurer shall:

(i) make a verified return of the sale to the state auditor, specifying the amount of notes sold, the persons to whom the notes were sold, and the price, terms, and conditions of the sale; and
