(B) is sworn to under oath; and

(C) states the facts upon which the application is based.

(2) (a) Subject to Subsection (2)(b), before issuing a judicial order, the court may require the applicant to consult with the appropriate local mental health authority, and the court may direct a mental health professional from that local mental health authority to interview the applicant and the proposed patient to determine the existing facts and report them to the court.

(b) The consultation described in Subsection (2)(a):

- (i) may take place at or before the hearing; and
- (ii) is required if the local mental health authority appears at the hearing.

(3) If the court finds from the application, from any other statements under oath, or from any reports from a mental health professional that there is a reasonable basis to believe that the proposed patient has a mental illness that poses a substantial danger to self or others requiring involuntary commitment pending examination and hearing; or, if the proposed patient has refused to submit to an interview with a mental health professional as directed by the court or to go to a treatment facility voluntarily, the court may issue an order, directed to a mental health officer or peace officer, to immediately place the proposed patient in the custody of a local mental health authority or in a temporary emergency facility as provided in Section 62A-15-634 to be detained for the purpose of examination.

(4) Notice of commencement of proceedings for involuntary commitment, setting forth the allegations of the application and any reported facts, together with a copy of any official order of detention, shall be provided by the court to a proposed patient before, or upon, placement in the custody of a local mental health authority or, with respect to any proposed patient presently in the custody of a local mental health authority whose status is being changed from voluntary to involuntary, upon the filing of an application for that purpose with the court. A copy of that order of detention shall be maintained at the place of detention.

(5) Notice of commencement of those proceedings shall be provided by the court as soon as practicable to the applicant, any legal guardian, any immediate adult family members, legal counsel for the parties involved, the local mental health authority or its designee, and any other persons whom the proposed patient or the court shall designate. That notice shall advise those persons that a hearing may be held within the time provided by law. If the proposed patient has refused to permit release of information necessary for provisions of notice under this subsection, the extent of notice shall be determined by the court.

(6) Proceedings for commitment of an individual under the age of 18 years to a local mental health authority may be commenced in accordance with Part 7, Commitment of Persons Under Age 18 to Division of Substance Abuse and Mental Health.

(7) The district court may, in its discretion, transfer the case to any other district court within this state, provided that the transfer will not be adverse to the interest of the proposed patient.

(8) Within 24 hours, excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and legal holidays, of the issuance of a judicial order, or after commitment of a proposed patient to a local mental health authority or its designee under court order for detention or examination, the court shall appoint two designated examiners:

(a) who did not sign the civil commitment application nor the civil commitment certification under Subsection (1);

(b) one of whom is a licensed physician; and

(c) one of whom may be designated by the proposed patient or the proposed patient's counsel, if that designated examiner is reasonably available.

(9) The court shall schedule a hearing to be held within 10 calendar days of the day on which the designated examiners are appointed.

(10) The designated examiners shall:

(a) conduct their examinations separately;

(b) conduct the examinations at the home of the proposed patient, at a hospital or other medical facility, or at any other suitable place that is not likely to have a harmful effect on the proposed patient's health;

(c) inform the proposed patient, if not represented by an attorney:

(i) that the proposed patient does not have to say anything;

(ii) of the nature and reasons for the examination;

(iii) that the examination was ordered by the court;

(iv) that any information volunteered could form part of the basis for the proposed patient's involuntary commitment; ~~and~~

(v) that findings resulting from the examination will be made available to the court; and

(vi) that the designated examiner may, under court order, obtain the proposed patient's mental health records; and

(d) within 24 hours of examining the proposed patient, report to the court, orally or in writing, whether the proposed patient is mentally ill, has agreed to voluntary commitment, as described in Section 62A-15-625, or has acceptable programs available to the proposed patient without court proceedings. If the designated examiner reports orally, the designated examiner shall immediately send a written report to the clerk of the court.

(11) If a designated examiner is unable to complete an examination on the first attempt because the proposed patient refuses to submit to the examination, the court shall fix a reasonable compensation to be paid to the examiner.

(12) If the local mental health authority, its designee, or a medical examiner determines before the court hearing that the conditions justifying the findings leading to a commitment hearing no longer exist, the local mental health authority, its designee, or the medical examiner shall immediately report that determination to the court.

(13) The court may terminate the proceedings and dismiss the application at any time, including prior to the hearing, if the designated examiners or the local mental health authority or its designee informs the court that the proposed patient:

(a) is not mentally ill;

(b) has agreed to voluntary commitment, as described in Section 62A-15-625; or

(c) has acceptable options for treatment programs that are available without court proceedings.

(14) Before the hearing, an opportunity to be represented by counsel shall be afforded to every proposed patient, and if neither the proposed patient nor others provide counsel, the court shall appoint counsel and allow counsel sufficient time to consult with the proposed patient before the hearing. In the case of an indigent proposed patient, the payment of reasonable attorney fees for counsel, as determined by the court, shall be made by the county in which the proposed patient resides or is found.

(15) (a) The proposed patient, the applicant, and all other persons to whom notice is required to be given shall be afforded an opportunity to appear at the hearing, to testify, and to present and cross-examine witnesses. The court may, in its discretion, receive the testimony of any other person. The court may allow a waiver of the proposed patient's right to appear only for good cause shown, and that cause shall be made a matter of court record.

(b) The court is authorized to exclude all persons not necessary for the conduct of the proceedings and may, upon motion of counsel, require the testimony of each examiner to be given out of the presence of any other examiners.

(c) The hearing shall be conducted in as informal a manner as may be consistent with orderly procedure, and in a physical setting that is not likely to have a harmful effect on the mental health of the proposed patient.

(d) The court shall consider all relevant historical and material information that is offered, subject to the rules of evidence, including reliable hearsay under Rule 1102, Utah Rules of Evidence.

(e) (i) A local mental health authority or its designee[,] or the physician in charge of the proposed patient's care shall, at the time of the hearing, provide the court with the following information:

(A) the detention order;

(B) admission notes;

(C) the diagnosis;

(D) any doctors' orders;

(E) progress notes;

(F) nursing notes; and

(G) medication records pertaining to the current commitment.

(ii) That information shall also be supplied to the proposed patient's counsel at the time of the hearing, and at any time prior to the hearing upon request.

(16) The court shall order commitment of a proposed patient who is 18 years of age or older to a local mental health authority if, upon completion of the hearing and consideration of the information presented ~~[in accordance with Subsection (15)(d)],~~ the court finds by clear and convincing evidence that:

- (a) the proposed patient has a mental illness;
- (b) because of the proposed patient's mental illness the proposed patient poses a substantial danger to self or others;
- (c) the proposed patient lacks the ability to engage in a rational decision-making process regarding the acceptance of mental treatment as demonstrated by evidence of inability to weigh the possible risks of accepting or rejecting treatment;
- (d) there is no appropriate less-restrictive alternative to a court order of commitment; and
- (e) the local mental health authority can provide the proposed patient with treatment that is adequate and appropriate to the proposed patient's conditions and needs. In the absence of the required findings of the court after the hearing, the court shall dismiss the proceedings.

(17) (a) The order of commitment shall designate the period for which the patient shall be treated. When the patient is not under an order of commitment at the time of the hearing, that period may not exceed six months without benefit of a review hearing. Upon such a review hearing, to be commenced prior to the expiration of the previous order, an order for commitment may be for an indeterminate period, if the court finds by clear and convincing evidence that the required conditions in Subsection (16) will last for an indeterminate period.

(b) The court shall maintain a current list of all patients under its order of commitment. That list shall be reviewed to determine those patients who have been under an order of commitment for the designated period. At least two weeks prior to the expiration of the designated period of any order of commitment still in effect, the court that entered the original order shall inform the appropriate local mental health authority or its designee. The local mental health authority or its designee shall immediately reexamine the reasons upon which the order of commitment was based. If the local mental health authority or its designee determines that the conditions justifying that commitment no longer exist, it shall discharge the patient from involuntary commitment and immediately report the discharge to the court. Otherwise, the court shall immediately appoint two designated examiners and proceed under Subsections (8) through (14).

(c) The local mental health authority or its designee responsible for the care of a patient under an order of commitment for an indeterminate period shall, at six-month intervals, reexamine the reasons upon which the order of indeterminate commitment was based. If the local mental health authority or its designee determines that the conditions justifying that commitment no longer exist, that local mental health authority or its designee shall discharge the patient from its custody and immediately report the discharge to the court. If the local mental health authority or its designee determines that the conditions justifying that commitment continue to exist, the local mental health authority or its designee shall send a written report of those findings to the court. The patient and the patient's counsel of record shall be notified in writing that the involuntary commitment will be continued, the reasons for that decision, and that the patient has the right to a review hearing by making a request to the court. Upon receiving the request, the court shall immediately appoint two designated examiners and proceed under Subsections (8) through (14).

(18) Any patient committed as a result of an original hearing or a patient's legally designated representative who is aggrieved by the findings, conclusions, and order of the court entered in the original hearing has the right to a new hearing upon a petition filed with the court within 30 days of the entry of the court order. The petition must allege error or mistake in the findings, in which case the court shall appoint three impartial designated examiners previously unrelated to the case to conduct an additional examination of the patient. The new hearing shall, in all other respects, be conducted in the manner otherwise permitted.

(19) Costs of all proceedings under this section shall be paid by the county in which the proposed patient resides or is found.

Section 5. Section 62A-15-632 is amended to read:

62A-15-632. Circumstances under which conditions justifying initial involuntary commitment shall be considered to continue to exist.

(1) After an individual is involuntarily committed to the custody of a local mental health authority under Subsection 62A-15-631(16), the conditions justifying commitment under that subsection shall be considered to continue to exist, for purposes of continued treatment under Subsection 62A-15-631(17) or conditional release under Section 62A-15-637~~], if the court finds that the patient is still mentally ill, and that absent an order of involuntary commitment and without continued treatment the patient will suffer severe and abnormal mental and emotional distress as indicated by recent past history, and will experience deterioration in the patient's ability to function in the least restrictive environment, thereby making the patient a substantial danger to self or others.],~~ unless:

(a) the court terminates the civil commitment through a review hearing; or

(b) the local mental health authority or a designee of the local mental health authority with custody over the patient discharges the patient and provides notice of the discharge to the court, as described in Subsections 62A-15-631(17)(c) and 62A-15-637(2).

(2) A patient whose treatment is continued or who is conditionally released under ~~[the terms of this section,]~~ Section 62A-15-637 shall be maintained in the least restrictive environment available that can provide the patient with the treatment that is adequate and appropriate.

(3) Except for good cause, a court may not terminate a civil commitment through a review hearing if the patient:

- (a) is under a conditional release agreement; and
- (b) does not appear at the review hearing.

Section 6. Section 62A-15-637 is amended to read:

62A-15-637. Release of patient to receive other treatment -- Placement in more restrictive environment -- Procedures.

(1) A local mental health authority or a designee of a local mental health authority may conditionally release an improved patient to less restrictive treatment when:

- (a) the authority specifies the [less-restrictive] less restrictive treatment; and
- (b) the patient agrees in writing to the less restrictive treatment.

(2) (a) Whenever a local mental health authority or a designee of a local mental health authority determines that the conditions justifying commitment no longer exist, the local mental health authority or the designee shall discharge the patient.

(b) If the discharged patient has been committed through judicial proceedings, the local mental health authority or the designee shall prepare a report describing the determination and shall send the report to the clerk of the court where the proceedings were held.

(3) (a) A local mental health authority or a designee of a local mental health authority is authorized to issue an order for the immediate placement of a current patient into a more restrictive environment, if:

- (i) the local mental health authority or a designee of a local mental health authority has reason to believe that the patient's current environment is aggravating the patient's mental illness; or
- (ii) the patient has failed to comply with the specified treatment plan to which the patient agreed in writing.

(b) An order for a more restrictive environment shall [include]:

- (i) state the reasons for the order [and shall];
- (ii) authorize any peace officer to take the patient into physical custody and transport the patient to a facility designated by the local mental health authority[-];

(iii) inform the patient of the right to a hearing, the right to appointed counsel, and the other procedures described in Subsection 62A-15-631(14); and

(iv) [Prior] prior to or upon admission to the more restrictive environment, or upon imposition of additional or different requirements as conditions for continued conditional release from inpatient care, copies of the order shall be [personally] delivered to:

- (A) the patient [and sent to];
- (B) the person in whose care the patient is placed[-The order shall also be sent to];
- (C) the patient's counsel of record; and [to]
- (D) the court that entered the original order of commitment. [The order shall inform the patient of the right to a hearing, as prescribed in this section, the right to appointed counsel, and the other procedures prescribed in Subsection 62A-15-631(14).]

(c) If the patient was in a less restrictive environment for more than 30 days and is aggrieved by the change to a more restrictive environment, the patient or the patient's representative may request a hearing within 30 days of the change. Upon receiving the request, the court shall immediately appoint two designated examiners and proceed pursuant to Section 62A-15-631, with the exception of Subsection 62A-15-631(16), unless, by the time set for the hearing, the patient is returned to the less restrictive environment or the patient withdraws the request for a hearing, in writing.

(d) The court shall:

- (i) make findings regarding whether the conditions described in Subsections (3)(a) and (b) were met and whether the patient is in the least restrictive environment that is appropriate for the patient's needs; and
- (ii) designate, by order, the environment for the patient's care and the period for which the patient shall be treated, which may not extend beyond expiration of the original order of commitment.

(4) Nothing contained in this section prevents a local mental health authority or its designee, pursuant to Section 62A-15-636, from discharging a patient from commitment or from placing a patient in an environment that is less restrictive than that ordered by the court.

Section 2. Section 58-37d-2 is amended to read:58-37d-2. Purpose.

The clandestine production of methamphetamine, other amphetamines, phencyclidine, narcotic analgesic analogs, so-called "designer drugs," various hallucinogens, concentrated tetrahydrocannabinols, counterfeit opioids, cocaine and methamphetamine, base "crack" cocaine and methamphetamine "ice" respectively, has increased dramatically throughout the western states and Utah. These highly technical illegal operations create substantial dangers to the general public and environment from fire, explosions, and the release of toxic chemicals. By their very nature these activities often involve a number of persons in a conspiratorial enterprise to bring together all necessary components for clandestine production, to thwart regulation and detection, and to distribute the final product. Therefore, the Legislature enacts the following Utah Clandestine Laboratory Act for prosecution of specific illegal laboratory operations. With regard to the controlled substances specified herein, this act shall control, notwithstanding the prohibitions and penalties in Title 58, Chapter 37, Utah Controlled Substances Act.

Section 3. Section 58-37d-3 is amended to read:58-37d-3. Definitions.

(1) As used in this section, "prosecutor" means the ~~[attorney general, county attorney, district attorney, or municipal attorney]~~ same as that term is defined in Section 77-22-4.5.

(2) (a) In any matter involving the investigation of a crime or malfeasance in office, or any criminal conspiracy or activity, the prosecutor may, upon application and approval of the district court and for good cause shown, conduct a criminal investigation.

(b) The application and statement of good cause shall state whether ~~[or not any other]~~ another investigative order related to the investigation at issue has been filed in another court.

(3) (a) Subject to the conditions established in Subsection (3)(b), the prosecutor may:

(i) subpoena witnesses;

(ii) compel their attendance and testimony under oath to be recorded by a suitable electronic recording device or to be given before any certified court reporter; and

(iii) require the production of books, papers, documents, recordings, and any other items that ~~[constitute]~~ are evidence or may be relevant to the investigation.

(b) The prosecutor shall:

(i) apply to the district court for each subpoena; and

(ii) show that the requested information is reasonably related to the criminal investigation authorized by the court.

(4) (a) The prosecutor shall state in each subpoena:

(i) the time and place of the examination;

(ii) that the subpoena is issued in aid of a criminal investigation; and

(iii) the right of the person subpoenaed to have counsel present.

(b) The examination may be conducted anywhere within the jurisdiction of the prosecutor issuing the subpoena.

(c) The subpoena need not disclose the names of possible defendants.

(d) Witness fees and expenses shall be paid as in a civil action.

(5) (a) At the beginning of each compelled interrogation, the prosecutor shall personally inform each witness:

(i) of the general subject matter of the investigation;

(ii) of the privilege to, at any time during the proceeding, refuse to answer any question or produce any evidence of a communicative nature that may result in self-incrimination;

(iii) that any information provided may be used against the witness in a subsequent criminal proceeding; and

(iv) of the right to have counsel present.

(b) If the prosecutor has substantial evidence that the subpoenaed witness has committed a crime that is under investigation, the prosecutor shall:

(i) inform the witness in person before interrogation of that witness's target status; and

(ii) inform the witness of the nature of the charges under consideration against the witness.

(6) (a) (i) The prosecutor may make written application to any district court showing a reasonable likelihood that publicly releasing information about the identity of a witness or the substance of the evidence resulting from a subpoena or interrogation would pose a threat of harm to a person or otherwise impede the investigation.

(ii) Upon a finding of reasonable likelihood, the court may order the:

(A) interrogation of a witness be held in secret;

(B) occurrence of the interrogation and other subpoenaing of evidence, the identity of the person subpoenaed, and the substance of the evidence obtained be kept secret; and

(C) record of testimony and other subpoenaed evidence be kept secret unless the court for good cause otherwise orders.

(b) After application, the court may by order exclude from any investigative hearing or proceeding any persons except:

(iii) the court reporter or operator of the electronic recording device; and

(iv) the attorney for the witness.

(c) This chapter does not prevent attorneys representing the state or members of their staff from disclosing information obtained pursuant to this chapter for the purpose of furthering any official governmental investigation.

(d) (i) If a secrecy order has been granted by the court regarding the interrogation or disclosure of evidence by a witness under this subsection, and if the court finds a further restriction on the witness is appropriate, the court may order the witness not to disclose the substance of the witness's testimony or evidence given by the witness to others.

(ii) Any order to not disclose made under this subsection shall be served with the subpoena.

(iii) In an appropriate circumstance the court may order that the witness not disclose the existence of the investigation to others.

(iv) Any order under this Subsection (6)(d) must be based upon a finding by the court that one or more of the following risks exist:

(A) disclosure by the witness would cause destruction of evidence;

(B) disclosure by the witness would taint the evidence provided by other witnesses;

(C) disclosure by the witness to a target of the investigation would result in flight or other conduct to avoid prosecution;

(D) disclosure by the witness would damage a person's reputation; or

(E) disclosure by the witness would cause a threat of harm to any person.

(e) (i) If the court imposes an order under Subsection (6)(d) authorizing an instruction to a witness not to disclose the substance of testimony or evidence provided and the prosecuting agency proves by a preponderance of the evidence that a witness has violated that order, the court may hold the witness in contempt.

(ii) An order of secrecy imposed on a witness under this Subsection (6)(e) may not infringe on the attorney-client relationship between the witness and the witness's attorney or on ~~any other~~ another legally recognized privileged relationship.

(7) (a) (i) The prosecutor may submit to any district court a separate written request that the application, statement of good cause, and the court's order authorizing the investigation be kept secret.

(ii) The request for secrecy is a public record under Title 63G, Chapter 2, Government Records Access and Management Act, but need not contain any information that would compromise any of the interest listed in Subsection (7)(c).

(b) With the court's permission, the prosecutor may submit to the court, in camera, any additional information to support the request for secrecy if necessary to avoid compromising the interests listed in Subsection (7)(c).

(c) The court shall consider all information in the application and order authorizing the investigation and any information received in camera and shall order that all information be placed in the public file except information that, if disclosed, would pose:

(i) a substantial risk of harm to a person's safety;

(ii) a clearly unwarranted invasion of or harm to a person's reputation or privacy; or

(iii) a serious impediment to the investigation.

(d) Before granting an order keeping secret documents and other information received under this section, the court shall narrow the secrecy order as much as reasonably possible in order to preserve the openness of court records while protecting the interests listed in Subsection (7)(c).

(b) information the petitioner is able to provide to facilitate identification of the respondent, such as social security number, driver license number, date of birth, address, telephone number, and physical description; and

(c) a statement advising the petitioner that:

(i) after two years from the date of issuance of the protective order, a hearing may be held to dismiss the criminal portion of the protective order;

(b) This section does not prohibit any law enforcement agency from providing service of process if that law enforcement agency:

(i) has contact with the respondent and service by that law enforcement agency is possible; or

(ii) determines that under the circumstances, providing service of process on the respondent is in the best interests of the petitioner.

(10) (a) When an order is served on a respondent in a jail or other holding facility, the law enforcement agency managing the facility shall make a reasonable effort to provide notice to the petitioner at the time the respondent is released from incarceration.

(b) Notification of the petitioner shall consist of a good faith reasonable effort to provide notification, including mailing a copy of the notification to the last-known address of the victim.

(11) A court may modify or vacate an order of protection or any provisions in the order after notice and hearing, except that the criminal provisions of a protective order may not be vacated within two years of issuance unless the petitioner:

(a) is personally served with notice of the hearing as provided in Rules 4 and 5, Utah Rules of Civil Procedure, and the petitioner personally appears, in person or through court video conferencing, before the court and gives specific consent to the vacation of the criminal provisions of the protective order; or

(b) submits a verified affidavit, stating agreement to the vacation of the criminal provisions of the protective order.

(12) A protective order may be modified without a showing of substantial and material change in circumstances.

(13) Insofar as the provisions of this chapter are more specific than the Utah Rules of Civil Procedure, regarding protective orders, the provisions of this chapter govern.

(1) (a) Any fiber optic carrier that intends to place a facility across or upon a railroad right-of-way shall submit a request for permission from the railroad prior to placing a facility.

(b) A request under this Subsection (1) shall:

(i) be in the railroad form of a completed crossing application;

(ii) include an engineering design that:

(B) conforms with guidelines published in the most recent edition of the National Electric Safety Code and American Railway Engineering and Maintenance-of-Way Association standards; and

(iii) include the standard crossing fee specified in Section 54-23-105.

(2) Unless the railroad provides written or electronic notice to the fiber optic carrier that the proposed crossing is a serious threat to the safe operations of the railroad or to the current or future use of the railroad right-of-way, would violate any federal law or regulation applicable to a public transit district, or would violate an agreement between a public transit district and the federal government, the railroad shall approve the application within 35 calendar days after the receipt of a completed application for a crossing.

(3) This section applies to:

(a) any crossing in existence before May 14, 2019, if an agreement concerning the crossing has expired or has been terminated; and

(b) any crossing commenced on or after May 14, 2019.

Section 5. Section 54-23-105 is enacted to read:

(b) Except as otherwise provided in this chapter, no other fee or charge related to the crossing may be assessed to the fiber optic carrier by the railroad.

(3) In addition to the standard crossing fee, the fiber optic carrier shall also reimburse the railroad for any reasonable and necessary flagging expense associated with a crossing, based on the railroad traffic at the crossing.

(4) (a) The placement of a single conduit is limited to a single applicant, and the conduit's contents are a single facility.

(2) (a) If the parties make good faith efforts to resolve the objection, and are unable to resolve the objection, either party may petition the commission for assistance via mediation or arbitration of the disputed crossing application.

(b) The petition shall be filed within 60 days of receipt of the objection.

(3) If a petition is filed under Subsection (2), the commission shall issue an order within 120 days of filing of the petition.

(4) An order issued under Subsection (3) may be appealed in accordance with Chapter 7, Hearings, Practice, and Procedure.

(b) The fiber optic carrier shall provide written or electronic notice of the objection and the specific basis for the objection to the railroad.

(2) (a) If the parties make good faith efforts to resolve the objection, and are unable to resolve the objection, either party may petition the commission for resolution or modification of the additional requirements.

(b) The petition shall be filed within 60 days of receipt of the objection.

(3) (a) If a petition is filed under Subsection (2), the commission shall determine, after notice and opportunity for hearing, whether special circumstances exist that necessitate additional requirements for the placement of the crossing.

(b) The commission shall issue an order within 120 days of filing of the petition.

(4) An order issued under Subsection (3) may be appealed in accordance with Chapter 7, Hearings, Practice, and Procedure.

(5) The commission shall assess the costs associated with a petition equitably among the parties.

Section 8. Section 54-23-108 is enacted to read:

54-23-108. Existing agreements.

Nothing in this chapter prevents a railroad and a fiber optic carrier from continuing under an existing agreement, or from otherwise negotiating the terms and conditions applicable to a crossing or the resolution of any disputes relating to the crossing.

(1) Except as provided in Subsection (3), the basis for computing the gross proceeds, prior to those deductions or adjustments specified in this chapter, in determining the taxable value of the metals or metalliferous minerals sold or otherwise disposed of, in the order of priority, is as follows:

(a) If the metals or metalliferous mineral products are actually sold, the value of those metals or metalliferous mineral products shall be the gross amount the producer receives from that sale, provided that the metals or metalliferous mineral products are sold under a bona fide contract of sale between unaffiliated parties. In the case of a sale of uranium concentrates, gross proceeds shall be the gross amount the producer receives from the sale of processed uranium concentrate or "yellowcake," provided that the uranium concentrate is sold under a bona fide contract of sale between unaffiliated parties.

(b) If the metals or metalliferous mineral products are not actually sold but are shipped, transported, or delivered out of state, the gross proceeds shall be the multiple of the recoverable units of finished metals, or of the finished metals contained in the metalliferous minerals shipped, and the average daily price per unit of contained metals as quoted by an established authority for market prices of metals for the period during which the tax imposed by this chapter is due. The established authority or authorities shall be designated by the commission by rule adopted in accordance with Title 63G, Chapter 3, Utah Administrative Rulemaking Act.

(c) In the case of metals or metalliferous minerals not sold, but otherwise disposed of, for which there is no established authority for market prices of metals for the period during which the tax imposed by this chapter is due, gross proceeds is determined by allocating to the state the same proportion of the producer's total sales of metals or metalliferous minerals sold or otherwise disposed of as the producer's total Utah costs bear to the total costs associated with sale or disposal of the metal or metalliferous mineral.

(d) In the event of a sale of metals or metalliferous minerals between affiliated companies which is not a bona fide sale because the value received is not proportionate to the fair market value of the metals or metalliferous minerals or in the event that Subsection (1)(a), (b), or (c) are not applicable, the commission shall determine the value of such metals or metalliferous minerals in an equitable manner by reference to an objective standard as specified in a rule adopted in accordance with the provisions of Title 63G, Chapter 3, Utah Administrative Rulemaking Act.

(2) For all metals except beryllium, the taxable value of the metalliferous mineral sold or otherwise disposed of is 30% of the gross proceeds received for the metals sold or otherwise disposed of by the producer of the metal.

~~[(3) (a) Beginning on January 1, 1990, through December 31, 2004, for beryllium sold or otherwise disposed of, the taxable value is 20% of the gross proceeds received for the beryllium sold or otherwise disposed of by the producer.]~~

~~[(b) (i)]~~ (3) Notwithstanding Subsection (1) or (4) ~~[and subject to Subsection (3)(b)(ii), beginning on January 1, 2005]~~, the taxable value of beryllium sold or otherwise disposed of by the producer of the beryllium is equal to 125% of the direct mining costs incurred in mining the beryllium.

~~[(ii) For an action or proceeding filed on or after January 1, 2005, if the taxable value of beryllium is calculated under Subsection (3)(a) for purposes of imposing a tax on beryllium under this part, the taxable value of beryllium calculated under Subsection (3)(a) may not exceed the taxable value of beryllium calculated under Subsection (3)(b)(i).]~~

(4) Except as provided in Subsection (3), if the metalliferous mineral sold or otherwise disposed of is sold or shipped out of state in the form of ore, then the taxable value is 80% of the gross proceeds.
