Section 153. Section 73-1-16 is amended to read:

73-1-16. Petition for hearing to determine validity -- Notice -- Service -- Pleading -- Costs -- Review.

Where any water users' association, irrigation company, canal company, ditch company, reservoir company, or other corporation of like character or purpose, organized under the laws of this state has entered into or proposes to enter into a contract with the United States for the payment by such association or company of the construction and other charges of a federal reclamation project constructed, under construction, or to be constructed within this state, and where funds for the payment of such charges are to be obtained from assessments levied upon the stock of such association or company, or where a lien is created or will be created against any of the land, property, canals, water rights or other assets of such association or company or against the land, property, canals, water rights or other assets of any stockholder of such association or company to secure the payment of construction or other charges of a reclamation project, the water users' association, irrigation company, canal company, ditch company, reservoir company or other corporation of like character or purpose may file in the district court of the county wherein is situated the office of such association or company a petition entitled "..... Water Users' Association" or "..... Company," as the case may be, "against the stockholders of said association or company and the owners and mortgagees of land within the ..... Federal Reclamation Project." No other or more specific description of the defendants shall be required. In the petition it may be stated that the water users' association, irrigation company, canal company, ditch company, reservoir company or other corporation of like character and purpose has entered into or proposes to enter into a contract with the United States, to be set out in full in said petition, with a prayer that the court find said contract to be valid, and a modification of any individual contracts between the United States and the stockholders of such association or company, or between the association or company, and its stockholders, so far as such individual contracts are at variance with the contract or proposed contract between the association or company and the United States.

Thereupon a notice in the nature of a summons shall issue under the hand and seal of the clerk of said court, stating in brief outline the contents of said petition, and showing where a full copy of said contract or proposed contract may be examined, such notice to be directed to the said defendants under the same general designations, which shall be considered sufficient to give the court jurisdiction of all matters involved and parties interested. Service shall be obtained (a) by publication of such notice once a week for three consecutive weeks (three times) in a newspaper published in each county where the irrigable land of such federal reclamation project is situated, (b) as required in Section 45-1-101 for three weeks, (c) by publishing the notice on the Utah Public Notice Website created in Section [~~63F-1-701~~] 63A-12-201, for three weeks prior to the date of the hearing, and (d) by the posting at least three weeks prior to the date of the hearing on said petition of the notice and a complete copy of the said contract or proposed contract in the office of the plaintiff association or company, and at three other public places within the boundaries of such federal reclamation project. Any stockholder in the plaintiff association or company, or owner, or mortgagee of land within said federal reclamation project affected by the contract proposed to be made by such association or company, may demur to or answer said petition before the date set for such hearing or within such further time as may be allowed therefor by the court. The failure of any persons affected by the said contract to answer or demur shall be construed, so far as such persons are concerned as an acknowledgment of the validity of said contract and as a consent to the modification of said individual contracts if any with such association or company or with the United States, to the extent that such modification is required to cause the said individual contracts if any to conform to the terms of the contract or proposed contract between the plaintiff and the United States. All persons filing demurrers or answers shall be entered as defendants in said cause and their defense consolidated for hearing or trial. Upon hearing the court shall examine all matters and things in controversy and shall enter judgment and decree as the case warrants, showing how and to what extent, if any, the said individual contracts of the defendants or under which they claim are modified by the plaintiff's contract or proposed contract with the United States. In reaching his conclusion in such causes, the court shall follow a liberal interpretation of the laws, and shall disregard informalities or omissions not affecting the substantial rights of the parties, unless it is affirmatively shown that such informalities or omissions led to a different result than would have been obtained otherwise. The Code of Civil Procedure shall govern matters of pleading and practice as nearly as may be. Costs may be assessed or apportioned among contesting parties in the discretion of the trial court. Review of the judgment of the district court by the Supreme Court may be had as in other civil causes.

Section 154. Section 73-5-14 is amended to read:

(c) on the Utah Public Notice Website created in Section [~~63F-1-701~~] 63A-12-201, for five weeks.

(4) The state engineer shall fix the date and place of hearing and at the hearing any water user shall be given an opportunity to appear and adduce evidence material to the determination of the question involved.

(5) (a) The state engineer shall publish the result of the determination as provided in Subsections (3)(a) and (b), and the notice of the decision of the state engineer shall notify the public that any person aggrieved by the decision may appeal the decision as provided by Section 73-3-14.

(b) The notice under Subsection (5)(a) shall be considered to have been given so as to start the time for appeal upon completion of the publication of notice.

Section 155. Section 75-1-401 is amended to read:

75-1-401. Notice -- Method and time of giving.

(1) If notice of a hearing on any petition is required and except for specific notice requirements as otherwise provided, the petitioner shall cause notice of the time and place of hearing of any petition to be given to any interested person or the person's attorney if the person has appeared by attorney or requested that notice be sent to the person's attorney. (ii) on the Utah Public Notice Website created in Section [~~63F-1-701~~] 63A-12-201, for three weeks.

(2) The court for good cause shown may provide for a different method or time of giving notice for any hearing.

(b) a felony committed while on probation or parole, or while free on bail awaiting trial on a previous felony charge, when the court finds there is substantial evidence to support the current felony charge;

(B) detaining the defendant until after the motion is heard is in the interests of justice and public safety.

(d) Victim testimony is not required at a hearing on a motion to detain if an appearance by the victim would present an undue burden upon the victim.

(e) Notwithstanding any other provisions of this section, there is a rebuttable presumption that an individual is a substantial danger to the community:

(5) In making a determination under Subsection (3), the court may rely on the following:

(a) any form of pretrial services assessment;

(b) the nature and circumstances of the offense or offenses charged, including whether the charges include a violent offense and the vulnerability of witnesses or alleged victims;

(c) The individual who is the subject of the detention hearing has the right to be represented by counsel at the pretrial detention hearing and, if a court finds the individual is indigent under Section 78B-22-202, the court shall appoint counsel to represent the individual in accordance with Section 78B-22-203.

(d) The court shall give both parties the opportunity to make arguments and to present relevant evidence at the detention hearing.

(7) After hearing evidence on a motion for pretrial detention, the court may detain the individual if:

(a) the individual is accused of committing an offense that qualifies the individual for detention under Subsection (2) or Utah Constitution, Article I, Section 8;

(b) the prosecution demonstrates substantial evidence to support the charge, and meets all additional evidentiary burdens required under Subsection (2) or Utah Constitution, Article I, Section 8; and

(c) the court finds that no conditions that may be imposed upon granting the individual pretrial release will reasonably ensure compliance with Subsection (3)(b).

(8) (a) If an individual is charged with a criminal offense described in Subsection (8)(b), there is a rebuttable presumption that the individual be detained.

(b) Criminal charges that create a rebuttable presumption of detention under Subsection (8)(a) include:

(11) (a) A motion to modify the initial pretrial status order may be made by a party at any time upon notice to the opposing party sufficient to permit the opposing party to prepare for hearing and to permit each alleged victim to be notified and be present.

(b) Hearing on a motion to modify a pretrial status order may be held in conjunction with a preliminary hearing or any other pretrial hearing.

(c) The court may rely on information as provided in Subsection (5) and may base its ruling on evidence provided at the hearing so long as each party is provided an opportunity to present additional evidence or information relevant to bail.

(12) Subsequent motions to modify a pretrial status order may be made only upon a showing that there has been a material change in circumstances.

(13) An appeal may be taken from an order of a court denying bail to the Utah Court of Appeals pursuant to the Utah Rules of Appellate Procedure, which shall review the determination under Subsection (7).

(14) For purposes of this section, any arrest or charge for a violation of Section 76-5-202, Aggravated murder, is a capital felony unless:

(5) In making a determination under Subsection (3), the court may rely on the following:

(a) any form of pretrial services assessment;

(11) (a) A motion to modify the initial pretrial status order may be made by a party at any time upon notice to the opposing party sufficient to permit the opposing party to prepare for hearing and to permit each alleged victim to be notified and be present.

(b) Hearing on a motion to modify a pretrial status order may be held in conjunction with a preliminary hearing or any other pretrial hearing.

(c) The court may rely on information as provided in Subsection (5) and may base its ruling on evidence provided at the hearing so long as each party is provided an opportunity to present additional evidence or information relevant to bail.

(12) Subsequent motions to modify a pretrial status order may be made only upon a showing that there has been a material change in circumstances.

(13) An appeal may be taken from an order of a court denying bail to the Utah Court of Appeals pursuant to the Utah Rules of Appellate Procedure, which shall review the determination under Subsection (7).

(iv) The division is not required to issue a limited driver license to a person under this Subsection (6)(d) if there are other legal grounds for the suspension of the person's driver license.

(v) The division shall make rules, in accordance with Title 63G, Chapter 3, Utah Administrative Rulemaking Act, to implement the provisions of this part.

(7) (a) The division may suspend or revoke the license of any resident of this state upon receiving notice of the conviction of that person in another state of an offense committed there that, if committed in this state, would be grounds for the suspension or revocation of a license.

(b) The division may, upon receiving a record of the conviction in this state of a nonresident driver of a motor vehicle or motorboat of any offense under the motor vehicle laws of this state, forward a certified copy of the record to the motor vehicle administrator in the state where the person convicted is a resident.

(8) (a) The division may suspend or revoke the license of any nonresident to drive a motor vehicle in this state for any cause for which the license of a resident driver may be suspended or revoked.

(b) The procedure upon suspension is the same as under Subsection (5), except that after the hearing the division shall either rescind its order of suspension or cancel the license.

(11) (a) The division, having good cause to believe that a licensed driver is incompetent or otherwise not qualified to be licensed, may upon notice in a manner specified by the division of at least five days to the licensee require him to submit to an examination.

(c) Refusal or neglect of the licensee to submit to an examination is grounds for suspension or revocation of the licensee's license.

(12) (a) Except as provided in Subsection (12)(b), a report authorized by Section 53-3-104 may not contain any evidence of a conviction for speeding on an interstate system in this state if the conviction was for a speed of 10 miles per hour or less, above the posted speed limit and did not result in an accident, unless authorized in a manner specified by the division by the individual whose report is being requested.

(C) states the facts upon which the application is based.

(2) (a) Subject to Subsection (2)(b), before issuing a judicial order, the court may require the applicant to consult with the appropriate local mental health authority, and the court may direct a mental health professional from that local mental health authority to interview the applicant and the proposed patient to determine the existing facts and report them to the court.

(b) The consultation described in Subsection (2)(a):

(i) may take place at or before the hearing; and

(ii) is required if the local mental health authority appears at the hearing.

(3) If the proposed patient refuses to submit to an interview described in Subsection (2)(a) or an examination described in Subsection (8), the court may issue an order, directed to a mental health officer or peace officer, to immediately place the proposed patient into the custody of a local mental health authority or in a temporary emergency facility, as provided in Section 62A-15-634, to be detained for the purpose of examination.

(4) Notice of commencement of proceedings for assisted outpatient treatment, setting forth the allegations of the application and any reported facts, together with a copy of any official order of detention, shall:

(a) be provided by the court to a proposed patient before, or upon, placement into the custody of a local mental health authority or, with respect to any proposed patient presently in the custody of a local mental health authority;

(b) be maintained at the proposed patient's place of detention, if any;

(c) be provided by the court as soon as practicable to the applicant, any legal guardian, any immediate adult family members, legal counsel for the parties involved, the local mental health authority or its designee, and any other person whom the proposed patient or the court shall designate; and

(d) advise that a hearing may be held within the time provided by law.

(5) The district court may, in its discretion, transfer the case to any other district court within this state, provided that the transfer will not be adverse to the interest of the proposed patient.

(6) Within 24 hours, excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and legal holidays, of the issuance of a judicial order, or after commitment of a proposed patient to a local mental health authority or its designee under court order for detention in order to complete an examination, the court shall appoint two designated examiners:

(a) who did not sign the assisted outpatient treatment application nor the certification described in Subsection (1);

(b) one of whom is a licensed physician; and

(c) one of whom may be designated by the proposed patient or the proposed patient's counsel, if that designated examiner is reasonably available.

(7) The court shall schedule a hearing to be held within 10 calendar days of the day on which the designated examiners are appointed.

(8) The designated examiners shall:

(a) conduct their examinations separately;

(b) conduct the examinations at the home of the proposed patient, at a hospital or other medical facility, or at any other suitable place that is not likely to have a harmful effect on the proposed patient's health;

(c) inform the proposed patient, if not represented by an attorney:

(i) that the proposed patient does not have to say anything;

(ii) of the nature and reasons for the examination;

(iii) that the examination was ordered by the court;

(iv) that any information volunteered could form part of the basis for the proposed patient to be ordered to receive assisted outpatient treatment; and

(v) that findings resulting from the examination will be made available to the court; and

(d) within 24 hours of examining the proposed patient, report to the court, orally or in writing, whether the proposed patient is mentally ill. If the designated examiner reports orally, the designated examiner shall immediately send a written report to the clerk of the court.

(9) If a designated examiner is unable to complete an examination on the first attempt because the proposed patient refuses to submit to the examination, the court shall fix a reasonable compensation to be paid to the examiner.

(10) If the local mental health authority, its designee, or a medical examiner determines before the court hearing that the conditions justifying the findings leading to an assisted outpatient treatment hearing no longer exist, the local mental health authority, its designee, or the medical examiner shall immediately report that determination to the court.

(11) The court may terminate the proceedings and dismiss the application at any time, including prior to the hearing, if the designated examiners or the local mental health authority or its designee informs the court that the proposed patient [~~is not mentally ill~~] does not meet the criteria in Subsection (14).

(12) Before the hearing, an opportunity to be represented by counsel shall be afforded to the proposed patient, and if neither the proposed patient nor others provide counsel, the court shall appoint counsel and allow counsel sufficient time to consult with the proposed patient before the hearing. In the case of an indigent proposed patient, the payment of reasonable attorney fees for counsel, as determined by the court, shall be made by the county in which the proposed patient resides or is found.

(13) (a) All persons to whom notice is required to be given shall be afforded an opportunity to appear at the hearing, to testify, and to present and cross-examine witnesses. The court may, in its discretion, receive the testimony of any other individual. The court may allow a waiver of the proposed patient's right to appear [~~only~~] for good cause [~~shown, and that cause shall be made a matter of court record~~], which cause shall be set forth in the record, or an informed waiver by the patient, which shall be included in the record.

(b) The court is authorized to exclude all individuals not necessary for the conduct of the proceedings and may, upon motion of counsel, require the testimony of each examiner to be given out of the presence of any other examiners.

(c) The hearing shall be conducted in as informal a manner as may be consistent with orderly procedure, and in a physical setting that is not likely to have a harmful effect on the mental health of the proposed patient.

(d) The court shall consider all relevant historical and material information that is offered, subject to the rules of evidence, including reliable hearsay under Rule 1102, Utah Rules of Evidence.

(e) (i) A local mental health authority or its designee, or the physician in charge of the proposed patient's care shall, at the time of the hearing, provide the court with the following information:

(E) progress notes, if any;

(G) medication records, if any.

(ii) The information described in Subsection (13)(e)(i) shall also be provided to the proposed patient's counsel:

(A) at the time of the hearing; and

(B) at any time prior to the hearing, upon request.

(14) The court shall order a proposed patient to assisted outpatient treatment if, upon completion of the hearing and consideration of the information presented, the court finds by clear and convincing evidence that:

(a) the proposed patient has a mental illness;

(b) there is no appropriate less-restrictive alternative to a court order for assisted outpatient treatment; and

(c) (i) the proposed patient lacks the ability to engage in a rational decision-making process regarding the acceptance of mental health treatment, as demonstrated by evidence of inability to weigh the possible risks of accepting or rejecting treatment; or

(ii) the proposed patient needs assisted outpatient treatment in order to prevent relapse or deterioration that is likely to result in the proposed patient posing a substantial danger to self or others.

(15) The court may order the applicant or a close relative of the patient to be the patient's personal representative, as described in 45 C.F.R. Sec. 164.502(g), for purposes of the patient's mental health treatment.

(16) In the absence of the findings described in Subsection (14), the court, after the hearing, shall dismiss the proceedings.

(17) (a) The assisted outpatient treatment order shall designate the period for which the patient shall be treated, which may not exceed [~~six~~] 12 months without a review hearing.

[~~(b) An individual identified under Subsection (4) may request a review hearing at any time while the assisted outpatient treatment order is in effect.~~]

[~~(c)~~] (b) At a review hearing, the court may extend the duration of an assisted outpatient treatment order by up to [~~six~~] 12 months, if:

(i) the court finds by clear and convincing evidence that the patient meets the conditions described in Subsection (14); or

(ii) (A) the patient does not appear at the review hearing; [~~and~~]

(B) notice of the review hearing was provided to the patient's last known address by the applicant described in Subsection (1) or by a local mental health authority[~~.~~]; and

(C) the patient has appeared in court or signed an informed waiver within the previous 18 months.

[~~(d)~~] (c) The court shall maintain a current list of all patients under its order of assisted outpatient treatment.

[~~(e)~~] (d) At least two weeks prior to the expiration of the designated period of any assisted outpatient treatment order still in effect, the court that entered the original order shall inform the appropriate local mental health authority or its designee.

(18) Costs of all proceedings under this section shall be paid by the county in which the proposed patient resides or is found.

(19) A court may not hold an individual in contempt for failure to comply with an assisted outpatient treatment order.

(20) As provided in Section 31A-22-651, a health insurance provider may not deny an insured the benefits of the insured's policy solely because the health care that the insured receives is provided under a court order for assisted outpatient treatment.

Section 3. Section 62A-15-631 is amended to read:

62A-15-631. Involuntary commitment under court order -- Examination -- Hearing -- Power of court -- Findings required -- Costs.

(1) A responsible individual who has credible knowledge of an adult's mental illness and the condition or circumstances that have led to the adult's need to be involuntarily committed may initiate an involuntary commitment court proceeding by filing, in the district court in the county where the proposed patient resides or is found, a written application that includes:

(a) unless the court finds that the information is not reasonably available, the proposed patient's:

(i) name;

(ii) date of birth; and

(iii) social security number;

(b) (i) a certificate of a licensed physician or a designated examiner stating that within the seven-day period immediately preceding the certification, the physician or designated examiner examined the proposed patient and is of the opinion that the proposed patient has a mental illness and should be involuntarily committed; or

(ii) a written statement by the applicant that:

(A) the proposed patient has been requested to, but has refused to, submit to an examination of mental condition by a licensed physician or designated examiner;

(B) is sworn to under oath; and

(C) states the facts upon which the application is based; and

(c) a statement whether the proposed patient has previously been under an assisted outpatient treatment order, if known by the applicant.

(2) (a) Subject to Subsection (2)(b), before issuing a judicial order, the court may require the applicant to consult with the appropriate local mental health authority, and the court may direct a mental health professional from that local mental health authority to interview the applicant and the proposed patient to determine the existing facts and report them to the court.

(b) The consultation described in Subsection (2)(a):

(i) may take place at or before the hearing; and

(ii) is required if the local mental health authority appears at the hearing.

(3) If the court finds from the application, from any other statements under oath, or from any reports from a mental health professional that there is a reasonable basis to believe that the proposed patient has a mental illness that poses a substantial danger to self or others requiring involuntary commitment pending examination and hearing; or, if the proposed patient has refused to submit to an interview with a mental health professional as directed by the court or to go to a treatment facility voluntarily, the court may issue an order, directed to a mental health officer or peace officer, to immediately place the proposed patient in the custody of a local mental health authority or in a temporary emergency facility as provided in Section 62A-15-634 to be detained for the purpose of examination.

(4) Notice of commencement of proceedings for involuntary commitment, setting forth the allegations of the application and any reported facts, together with a copy of any official order of detention, shall be provided by the court to a proposed patient before, or upon, placement in the custody of a local mental health authority or, with respect to any proposed patient presently in the custody of a local mental health authority whose status is being changed from voluntary to involuntary, upon the filing of an application for that purpose with the court. A copy of that order of detention shall be maintained at the place of detention.

(5) Notice of commencement of those proceedings shall be provided by the court as soon as practicable to the applicant, any legal guardian, any immediate adult family members, legal counsel for the parties involved, the local mental health authority or its designee, and any other persons whom the proposed patient or the court shall designate. That notice shall advise those persons that a hearing may be held within the time provided by law. If the proposed patient has refused to permit release of information necessary for provisions of notice under this subsection, the extent of notice shall be determined by the court.

(6) Proceedings for commitment of an individual under the age of 18 years to a local mental health authority may be commenced in accordance with Part 7, Commitment of Persons Under Age 18 to Division of Substance Abuse and Mental Health.

(7) The district court may, in its discretion, transfer the case to any other district court within this state, provided that the transfer will not be adverse to the interest of the proposed patient.

(8) Within 24 hours, excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and legal holidays, of the issuance of a judicial order, or after commitment of a proposed patient to a local mental health authority or its designee under court order for detention or examination, the court shall appoint two designated examiners:

(a) who did not sign the civil commitment application nor the civil commitment certification under Subsection (1);

(b) one of whom is a licensed physician; and

(c) one of whom may be designated by the proposed patient or the proposed patient's counsel, if that designated examiner is reasonably available.

(9) The court shall schedule a hearing to be held within 10 calendar days of the day on which the designated examiners are appointed.

(10) The designated examiners shall:

(a) conduct their examinations separately;

(b) conduct the examinations at the home of the proposed patient, at a hospital or other medical facility, or at any other suitable place that is not likely to have a harmful effect on the proposed patient's health;

(c) inform the proposed patient, if not represented by an attorney:

(i) that the proposed patient does not have to say anything;

(ii) of the nature and reasons for the examination;

(iii) that the examination was ordered by the court;

(iv) that any information volunteered could form part of the basis for the proposed patient's involuntary commitment;

(v) that findings resulting from the examination will be made available to the court; and

(vi) that the designated examiner may, under court order, obtain the proposed patient's mental health records; and

(d) within 24 hours of examining the proposed patient, report to the court, orally or in writing, whether the proposed patient is mentally ill, has agreed to voluntary commitment, as described in Section 62A-15-625, or has acceptable programs available to the proposed patient without court proceedings. If the designated examiner reports orally, the designated examiner shall immediately send a written report to the clerk of the court.

(11) If a designated examiner is unable to complete an examination on the first attempt because the proposed patient refuses to submit to the examination, the court shall fix a reasonable compensation to be paid to the examiner.

(12) If the local mental health authority, its designee, or a medical examiner determines before the court hearing that the conditions justifying the findings leading to a commitment hearing no longer exist, the local mental health authority, its designee, or the medical examiner shall immediately report that determination to the court.

(13) The court may terminate the proceedings and dismiss the application at any time, including prior to the hearing, if the designated examiners or the local mental health authority or its designee informs the court that the proposed patient:

(a) [~~is not mentally ill~~] does not meet the criteria in Subsection (16);

(b) has agreed to voluntary commitment, as described in Section 62A-15-625; or

(c) has acceptable options for treatment programs that are available without court proceedings.

(14) Before the hearing, an opportunity to be represented by counsel shall be afforded to the proposed patient, and if neither the proposed patient nor others provide counsel, the court shall appoint counsel and allow counsel sufficient time to consult with the proposed patient before the hearing. In the case of an indigent proposed patient, the payment of reasonable attorney fees for counsel, as determined by the court, shall be made by the county in which the proposed patient resides or is found.

(15) (a) The proposed patient, the applicant, and all other persons to whom notice is required to be given shall be afforded an opportunity to appear at the hearing, to testify, and to present and cross-examine witnesses. The court may, in its discretion, receive the testimony of any other person. The court may allow a waiver of the proposed patient's right to appear [~~only~~] for good cause [~~shown, and that cause shall be made a matter of court record~~], which cause shall be set forth in the record, or an informed waiver by the patient, which shall be included in the record.

(b) The court is authorized to exclude all persons not necessary for the conduct of the proceedings and may, upon motion of counsel, require the testimony of each examiner to be given out of the presence of any other examiners.

(c) The hearing shall be conducted in as informal a manner as may be consistent with orderly procedure, and in a physical setting that is not likely to have a harmful effect on the mental health of the proposed patient, while preserving the due process rights of the proposed patient.

(d) The court shall consider all relevant historical and material information that is offered, subject to the rules of evidence, including reliable hearsay under Rule 1102, Utah Rules of Evidence.

(e) (i) A local mental health authority or its designee or the physician in charge of the proposed patient's care shall, at the time of the hearing, provide the court with the following information:

(A) the detention order;

(B) admission notes;

(C) the diagnosis;

(D) any doctors' orders;

(E) progress notes;

(F) nursing notes;

(G) medication records pertaining to the current commitment; and

(H) whether the proposed patient has previously been civilly committed or under an order for assisted outpatient treatment.

(ii) That information shall also be supplied to the proposed patient's counsel at the time of the hearing, and at any time prior to the hearing upon request.

(16) The court shall order commitment of a proposed patient who is 18 years of age or older to a local mental health authority if, upon completion of the hearing and consideration of the information presented, the court finds by clear and convincing evidence that:

(a) the proposed patient has a mental illness;

(b) because of the proposed patient's mental illness the proposed patient poses a substantial danger to self or others;

(c) the proposed patient lacks the ability to engage in a rational decision-making process regarding the acceptance of mental treatment as demonstrated by evidence of inability to weigh the possible risks of accepting or rejecting treatment;

(d) there is no appropriate less-restrictive alternative to a court order of commitment; and

(e) the local mental health authority can provide the proposed patient with treatment that is adequate and appropriate to the proposed patient's conditions and needs. In the absence of the required findings of the court after the hearing, the court shall dismiss the proceedings.

(17) (a) The order of commitment shall designate the period for which the patient shall be treated. When the patient is not under an order of commitment at the time of the hearing, that period may not exceed six months without benefit of a review hearing. Upon such a review hearing, to be commenced prior to the expiration of the previous order, an order for commitment may be for an indeterminate period, if the court finds by clear and convincing evidence that the required conditions in Subsection (16) will last for an indeterminate period.

(b) The court shall maintain a current list of all patients under its order of commitment. That list shall be reviewed to determine those patients who have been under an order of commitment for the designated period. At least two weeks prior to the expiration of the designated period of any order of commitment still in effect, the court that entered the original order shall inform the appropriate local mental health authority or its designee. The local mental health authority or its designee shall immediately reexamine the reasons upon which the order of commitment was based. If the local mental health authority or its designee determines that the conditions justifying that commitment no longer exist, it shall discharge the patient from involuntary commitment and immediately report the discharge to the court. Otherwise, the court shall immediately appoint two designated examiners and proceed under Subsections (8) through (14).

(c) The local mental health authority or its designee responsible for the care of a patient under an order of commitment for an indeterminate period shall, at six-month intervals, reexamine the reasons upon which the order of indeterminate commitment was based. If the local mental health authority or its designee determines that the conditions justifying that commitment no longer exist, that local mental health authority or its designee shall discharge the patient from its custody and immediately report the discharge to the court. If the local mental health authority or its designee determines that the conditions justifying that commitment continue to exist, the local mental health authority or its designee shall send a written report of those findings to the court. The patient and the patient's counsel of record shall be notified in writing that the involuntary commitment will be continued, the reasons for that decision, and that the patient has the right to a review hearing by making a request to the court. Upon receiving the request, the court shall immediately appoint two designated examiners and proceed under Subsections (8) through (14).

(18) Any patient committed as a result of an original hearing or a patient's legally designated representative who is aggrieved by the findings, conclusions, and order of the court entered in the original hearing has the right to a new hearing upon a petition filed with the court within 30 days of the entry of the court order. The petition must allege error or mistake in the findings, in which case the court shall appoint three impartial designated examiners previously unrelated to the case to conduct an additional examination of the patient. The new hearing shall, in all other respects, be conducted in the manner otherwise permitted.

(19) Costs of all proceedings under this section shall be paid by the county in which the proposed patient resides or is found.

Section 4. Section 62A-15-632 is repealed and reenacted to read:

62A-15-632. Circumstances under which conditions justifying initial involuntary commitment shall be considered to continue to exist.

(1) When an individual is involuntarily committed to the custody of a local mental health authority under Subsection 62A-15-631(16), the conditions justifying commitment under that Subsection shall be considered to continue to exist for purposes of continued treatment under Subsection 62A-15-631(17) or conditional release under Section 62A-15-637 if the court finds that:

(a) the patient is still mentally ill;

(b) there is no appropriate less restrictive alternative to a court order of involuntary commitment; and

(c) absent an order of involuntary commitment, the patient will likely pose a substantial danger to self or others.

(2) When an individual has been ordered to assisted outpatient treatment under Subsection 62A-15-630.5(14), the individual may be involuntarily committed to the custody of a local mental health authority under Subsection 62A-15-631(16) for purposes of continued treatment under Subsection 62A-15-631(17) or conditional release under Section 62A-15-637, if the court finds that:

(a) the patient is still mentally ill;

(b) there is no appropriate less-restrictive alternative to a court order of involuntary commitment; and

(c) based upon the patient's conduct and statements during the preceding six months, or the patient's failure to comply with treatment recommendations during the preceding six months, the court finds that absent an order of involuntary commitment, the patient is likely to pose a substantial danger to self or others.

(3) A patient whose treatment is continued or who is conditionally released under the terms of this section shall be maintained in the least restrictive environment available that can provide the patient with treatment that is adequate and appropriate.
