GENERAL SESSION
FIRST DAY
*** * ***

MORNING SESSION

House Chamber
State Capitol
Salt Lake City, Utah
January 22, 2018

The House was called to order by Speaker Gregory H. Hughes, Speaker of the Utah House of Representatives, at 10:00 a.m.

PRAYER BY ELDER DALE G. RENLUND
CHURCH OF JESUS CHRIST OF LATTER-DAY SAINTS

Our Heavenly Father, at the beginning of this legislative session, we are grateful to come before Thee to thank Thee for all the blessings that we enjoy. We are grateful for our wonderful country and for this wonderful state. We do pray that Thou will bless and watch over our country. We pray for the leaders of this nation that they may be blessed with wisdom as they face difficult challenges. We pray that they, and we, can avoid speciously polarizing debates and avoid arguing from positions of soundbites, but that we can try to understand issues and then move forward and affect good government. We are grateful for this state and for the prosperity we have and we are grateful and acknowledge Thy blessings that have made that so and that is magnified by the industriousness of all people here in Utah. We are grateful, as well, for the contribution of good governance here by leaders past and present. We ask Thee to bless each of the legislators here. We recognize that they all had to throw their hat in the ring in the public square and then go through, at times, difficult challenges to earn the opportunity to serve. And then even as they do so, they face unwarranted criticism in some cases. We pray that we as a people will recognize their sacrifice, know that they are doing their best in accomplishing difficult tasks and taking on difficult challenges. We pray for these legislators, their families, and their employees in all other aspects of their lives as they sacrifice to bless this people. We pray for employees of the state, for staff members, and others contributing to the success of this session. We pray that Thou would bless us all with Thy spirit during this session that a feeling of civility will prevail that even though issues can be argued and debated that they won't become personal – that the right things can happen and that the people of the state will be blessed. We pray, as well, that as the session goes forward that we can be mindful of those who are underprivileged, the poor, the needy, the orphan, the widow, and those who are marginalized in any way; that they can be taken into account as the great work of this chamber goes forward. We ask for Thy blessings on this session and on this body in the name of Jesus Christ, Amen.

MISCELLANEOUS BUSINESS

The National Anthem was performed by former members of the Utah House of Representatives: Ryan Wilcox, Kerry Gibson, Brad Winn, Jim Nielsen and Spencer Cox, accompanied by Derek Brown.

The posting of Colors was performed by the Utah National Guard. The Color Guard consisted of the following members: First Sergeant Allen Jackson, Sergeant First Class Davien Houchin, Master Sergeant Shawn Morton, and Master Sergeant Thomas Belgard.

The Pledge of Allegiance was led by Bruce Edmund, Speaker Hughes' father-in-law.

The former members of the House performed, "America the Beautiful" and "God Bless America."

The Chief Clerk, Sandy D. Tenney, read the following:

MISCELLANEOUS BUSINESS

Roll call showed all members present, except Representatives Lynn Hemingway and Keith Grover, excused.

* * *

On motion of Representative Brad Wilson, the House voted to have the prayer given by Elder Dale G. Renlund, Church of Jesus Christ of Latter–Day Saints printed upon the pages of the House Journal.

On motion of Representative Brian King, the House voted to authorize Speaker Hughes to appoint a committee to meet with a like committee from the Senate to wait upon the Governor to inform him that the Legislature is organized and ready to receive any communication or message he may have to offer. Speaker Hughes appointed Representatives Michael K. McKell, Edward Redd, and Sandra Hollins.

On motion of Representative Francis Gibson, the House voted to authorize Speaker Hughes to appoint a committee to notify the Senate to inform that Honorable Body that the House is organized and ready to do business. Speaker Hughes appointed Representatives Lowry Snow, Marc Roberts, and Elizabeth Weight.

On motion of Representative Michael Noel, the House voted to adopt House Rules, Joint Rules, and Interim Rules as were adopted by the 2017 Second Special Session of the 62nd Legislature, until such time as new rules may be adopted by the 2018 General Session of the 62nd Legislature.

On motion of Representative Joel Briscoe, and as allowed by the Utah Constitution and the Joint Rules of the Legislature, the House voted, by a two–thirds majority, to continue its practice of reading only the short title of bills and resolutions as they are introduced or considered on a House calendar and not read the long title of the bills and resolutions, unless a majority of the House directs the reading of the long title, short title, or both, of any House or Senate bill or resolution.

REMARKS BY SPEAKER GREGORY H. HUGHES

Representatives, in my first address to this legislative body as Speaker of the House, one of the phrases that was coined in that speech that I loved was that we were going to dynamite the boulders that were in the field that we had plowed around for far too long.

I can tell you as I stand here, taking inventory of the last three sessions we've served together, I believe that's exactly what this body has done. I do believe we have dynamited those boulders. I believe that we're not plowing around anything.

The work that's being done here is transformational and provides the reform needed for a growing state with pressing needs. You have shown the political will and the political courage to take on those hard issues even when the winds might have been against us and even when the criticism might have been, in many cases, loud. But I believe every bill that we've tackled, every issue that we've addressed, we have done together and we have let good information drive good decisions. It is our obligation to communicate that to our constituents and to the public, so I want to go over some of the things that we have recently accomplished. We never brag, we never talk about those boulders we dynamite, we never talked about those issues that were hard but in which we saw success.

Let's talk about public education, and let's look backwards for a moment. In the last three sessions we have increased public education funding by $800,000,000. That is not the status quo when it comes to public education. Is there more to do? Absolutely. We're a growing state. We know that. But I think our trajectory is great and I think that it is one that you will see continue in this upcoming session. Those types of improvements don't come by themselves. They come with leadership and with this whole body weighing in and sharing their perspective.

As for homelessness, it's not a brand new topic. It's one that we have spoken of before and this will be at least our third session speaking about it. Two years ago we came together and we agreed that it was a statewide issue. We put building blocks in place to begin as a state to deal with the issue of homelessness – how it is impacting communities and how it has culminated in what we have had to deal with in the Rio Grande area.

We started that work two years ago. Last year we put in a lot of work, and with the leadership of Representative Francis Gibson we finalized that long-term plan. That was a hard job, but we were able to accomplish it.

I want to tell you that when we talk about transportation, that's a tough issue in a growing state. We can't afford to have the population and vehicle miles traveled grow at the same rate because we just can't make the roads wide enough and we can't repair them quickly enough.

We have gone as a state to a multimodal transportation infrastructure plan. That means we are in the business of moving people from point A to point B and we're not picking our favorite mode. This is a new vision for us that is much broader than many states have. We have made great progress. Over this last interim, taking that vision and looking at direct and specific policies, we have had a transportation task force that has accomplished some heavy lifts. They have worked very hard with the stakeholders in our counties, cities and state and I think you are going to see some big changes, some needed changes. So, I ask for your special attention on transportation as we begin this session because there are some big things coming our way that will continue this state on the trajectory that we need.

With regard to our lands and our monuments, last year I came off this dais and I presented a resolution urging the President to rescind the Bears Ears National Monument Designation, and the president of the Senate came off the dais as the Senate sponsor of that resolution. We had great debates and public hearings; we had a great process. And it passed.

In May, the Department of Interior Secretary Zinke joined me and others, in Black Hawk helicopters, looking at Bears Ears and Grand Staircase Escalante national monuments. We had immediate response from our presidential administration. In December that culminated in a visit by the President of the United States looking at not just Bears Ears, but also Grand Staircase Escalante, and making changes that I think frankly are historic.

I think that if you were to take the modern day political calculus, there is no upside for a president to come here. I think you raise the ire of a national environmental movement and those critics that would be frustrated by it and I worry that nationally, our Republican colleagues might not appreciate these land use issues and how they impact local communities. I truly believe that the work we did is sticking up for the little guy. I think the work that was done in adjusting those monuments in size was a measured approach by the administration. I truly believe that the President came for the residents of the State of Utah who don't have as loud a voice nationally. I'm proud of that, and I'm proud of the work that we've done.

A few years ago we instituted justice reform. Representative Hutchings led that charge. We have 49 other states and the federal government wishing they could successfully reform this area as we all look for a smarter way to reduce recidivism. That was a heavy lift and we continue to work on the adjustments of such a big reform year after year, trying to make sure we get this right.

Did it tire you out? It did me a little. But on the heels of such massive reform, what did we have? We had Representative Snow introduce juvenile justice reform. You would think this body would need a breather after the kind of reform that we introduced, but with the same kind of work and study, knowing that we could do this better, attacking the status quo, we had another major initiative.

I will tell you that the reason we do these things is because of our culture here in the House of Representatives, in our State Legislature and our legislative branch. I think we are wired to do difficult things. I think we have a track record of doing difficult things. I was talking Friday with former Representative Dave Butterfield and he shared a quote with me, "Culture eats strategy for breakfast." Now think about that. I have said year after year that we love to do hard things. If it were impactful and easy, someone else got to do it; all we have left are the hard things. I realized when that quote was shared with me that that's because of our culture. That's the culture of our legislative branch.

After he shared that with me, I found another quote that said, "People are loyal to culture but not to strategy." Your strategies can come and go. We all have plans for this legislative session and whether we're successful or not, the culture prevails. No matter the strategy and whether it works or not, we are committed to moving the needle and leaving this place better than we found it. It's what inspires me. It is what makes being a public servant and serving with you so important and so impactful for me, and I know for all of us.

Do you know what culture requires? Loyalty. If you're going to be loyal to something, you have to feel loyalty. I hope that as we have this culture of getting things done and being effective, that we feel a loyalty not only to that culture but also to one another. That as we disagree on issues, as we debate, as we look to find a way to pass impactful legislation, that we're loyal to each other, that we respect each other and that we continue to do the very thing that we have an incredible track record of having done.

We have different cycles in our economy. I've served in this body when we've had shortfalls and special sessions to cut budgets and surplus years where there's additional revenue, but the culture never changes. If we didn't have this culture when things got tough, you could find us fragmenting and becoming ineffective. But that isn't what has happened. That culture has persisted. In fact, if you have a good culture you are ready for those hard times, you are good and impactful during those times. I think this House, our legislative branch, is designed to be good – not just in good times but also in bad.

That brings me to the issue of separation of powers. I will tell you that the day this part-time Legislature is considered a part-time branch of government, and that premise goes unchallenged, we lose our culture and our ability to be impactful. We have to stay vigilant and we have to watch for these encroachments. I think we learned some lessons this past interim about our constitutional prerogative as a branch. This session you're going to see some bills that are going to look at our separation of powers. I ask you to make sure we are protecting our branch, protecting this culture of advancing hard and difficult policies. These problems can sneak up on us if we're not careful. Complacency is a terrible thing and if we want to enjoy the successes we've seen in the past, we have to stay on top of this.

Now that said, what happens when the branches of government work really well together? At the beginning of the session last year, we said that we were drawing a line in the sand to combat the lawlessness in our capital city, to go after those wolves who would attack those who were most vulnerable.

Let's look back. I think we've done that as a body, and we've worked collaboratively. We worked with state government. In the gallery we have John Pierpont from the Department of Workforce Services, Lieutenant Governor Spencer Cox and Commissioner Squires from the Department of Public Safety. This is an example of the executive and legislative branches working incredibly well together. We also worked with the county and the city. What you saw in Operation Rio Grande was the most comprehensive effort since the Winter Games in terms of multi-jurisdictional effort. Many of you have heard me say it before, but it's a lot more fun working on the Winter Olympics than on the issues devastating our communities where people find themselves in a condition of homelessness, but nevertheless we came together across jurisdictions, as different branches of government, and we achieved much.

I could talk about the differences among us, but I want you to see what your leadership and the leadership of the state have been able to accomplish—shoulder to shoulder, no credit, no blame—working together with Mayor Ben McAdams, Jackie Biskupski, President Niederhauser, Lieutenant Governor Spencer Cox, John Pierpont, Commissioner of Public Safety Keith Squires and many other stakeholders, service providers and coalitions. There are so many working together to make this happen. There are people outside their comfort zone, outside of what they thought their job included. You'll see the kind of progress we've been able to make and I'm proud of the work that we do together.

As you see these streets that were once so crowded, now empty, understand that the meals served never went down and people needing help never declined because we were able to attack those invisible barriers to service—people afraid to be in the area, afraid of violence, afraid of addiction or relapsing into addiction. We did it with our partners. You see social order being restored. That was critical because the work we did had to have a short-term plan that would allow for the success of the long-term plan.

I thank you, and will tell you that during our special session when we worked on some of these fiscal and budget issues, we were in a no man's land because no one has ever done it this way before. The comments and votes of this body during that special session created a deeper well of trust among our stakeholders and partners, and I thank you for that. It didn't matter what district you were from, you were ready to do right by your constituents and I'm so proud of this body for that vision. It's easy to be provincial in politics, and I thank you so much for your leadership that we have not been.

With the leadership of Representative Dunnigan, finally, after two administrations and waivers that we were told would be approved back in the Obama administration, we were able to receive the waivers that allowed us to bring additional resources for treatment beds to be opened. Two weeks ago I was part of a ribbon cutting where 83 new treatment beds were opened for people who need help. We're seeing hundreds of beds that are now coming online.

We are going to attack addiction and help those who are in need. We're going to go after the predators who would hope that they could not only perpetuate addiction, but bring more people into it, and we're doing it from different places. We're bringing dignity of work to this effort. You would think the president of the Utah Jazz, Steve Starks, would have a lot on his plate right now, but that gentleman is working personally on the dignity-of-work component with other business owners. He's looking to help give dignity to those who want to be productive, who want to have earned success in their lives and find employment. His leadership in that effort has been unmatched, and he's been able to bring different stakeholders together and leverage the political will, and even private sector will, to do right and help our fellow man. So I thank him as well.

I will call our attention to an important bill that will be before us this session. We can talk about our long-range plan, about our funding issues, about housing, but in a tough market, where individuals who have a job are having a hard time finding housing, how are we involved as a state?

The idea of utilizing economies of scale to serve this population didn't work for us. It worked for cartels competing for market share but it didn't work for us trying to help those in need. We have additional resource centers that are going to be much smaller, 150-200 beds, and the communities that host these centers are a little concerned about the impact on their communities.

I propose that those who do not have the opportunity to provide housing in their communities should do their part to contribute so that those communities with facilities can receive additional resources. I'm willing to bet that as we do this statewide, the cost will be minimal but the impact and resources that could be generated will not only help those resource centers, but will lead to other cities and counties rolling up their sleeves and choosing to contribute when they realize that they will have access to resources to help them. This is a way that we as a state, in a unified way, can do this together. This will be in Representative Eliason's bill and I think it's critical for our long-range plan.

I had a store front in the Rio Grande area where I would have meetings unrelated to the issue of homelessness. We would hold budget meetings there so we could look outside and see the drug trafficking happening right before our eyes and while we were there, in our suits, they would just look at us. There was a blatant disregard for any authority or any consequence for what was going on down there. I needed our colleagues and stakeholders to literally see it with their own eyes, to see what had happened, to see a climate that didn't reflect our communities in Utah whatsoever.

One of the things I learned that I didn't know at this time last year is that even when staying well within the opioid prescription given by a doctor to manage pain, physical addiction can occur. What I've concluded as I've spoken to other stakeholders is that things changed in our state and in this country a number of years ago as we saw pain management and the distribution of painkillers increase exponentially. There has been a human toll, a human cost for this.

Let me read to you some of the marketing messages to physicians and the public from those that produce these painkillers: "There is existence of scientific evidence that opioids are effective for long-term use," "There is no maximum dosage for opioids," "There are no serious side effects from the long-term use of opioids," "Opioids improve functionality and overall health," and "Opioids are rarely addictive if taken long term." I think we know better. I think we've paid a terrible price.

We have legislation by Representative Ellison, Representative Daw, Representative Carol Spackman Moss and Representative Christensen that will come before you this year to allow us to consider how we will begin to address this problem on a state level. My fear, though, is that we have a lot of ambulances at the bottom of the cliff. I want you to think about those marketing statements I shared with you. We need to create a liability for those who have produced these drugs, as we see the carnage that has been created by what the CDC has appropriately called a national health crisis.

We need to go after those pharmaceutical companies. If we have 29 counties in this state, we have 29 counties that are being terribly impacted and I would love to see 29 counties enter the fray and litigate against big pharma, seeking accountability. I want the State of Utah to tell its own unique story, how we got here, and to step forward in making these pharmaceutical companies accountable. I want the crush of liability to be felt across this country to the point that it doesn't make business sense any more for them to continue as they have. Practices need to change and I know of no other way as a policymaker to impress upon them the fact that the business model they've used that has brought us to this point will not work any longer than to have this state—its counties and the state itself—go after and litigate against big pharma.

You might have heard the attorney general and I have had lengthy discussions about this. There are different strategies, where states can, in coalitions, move together. I think there's some very good work that has been done by multiple states working together as a coalition, but I don't want to dilute Utah's story or its case. After recent conversations with our attorney general I want to thank him, as he has decided that Utah will step forward in this space as a state so Utah's story is not diluted and its issues are not necessarily combined with others. So we as a state will be stepping forward as a state and I want to thank him for that.

In addition, we worked with our federal partners to receive the DEA 360 grant, where federal resources are made available to increase public awareness, to work with law enforcement, with the Boys and Girls Club and other community organizations. The DEA will tell you themselves that we can't arrest our way out of this. They understand this issue and have a grant to help communities. We have outpaced other metropolitan areas in this country, working together to make our case known federally, and we are one of just a number of cities this year that have received this program.

With regard to public education, we're going to continue that pace that I mentioned at the beginning when I talked about the things that we've been able to accomplish. We all know that education is the number one issue to our constituents, whether you're in Kane County or West Valley City. We will continue the trajectory that we have started and we will continue to do right by these kids in preparing our emerging workforce. That's an infrastructure issue that we need to work on.

Transportation is another infrastructure issue. As I mentioned, the task force has done a lot of work and they're going to propose some pretty heavy legislation for us to consider. We're going to see our Department of Transportation start to consider transportation options more broadly than just roads. We're going to task them with a multimodal approach that looks at what is the best, most efficient way to move people. You don't want to sit at a brand new I-15 intersection and have whispered in your ear, "This intersection is going to hit congestion failure in seven years." We can't do it that way. Seven years is not long-range planning. This is a bold step that the task force is recommending.

As far as the governance of UTA, they are a victim of their own success. I've been the chair of that organization. They serve over 80 percent of the population and I think that the model, with board members who darken the door only twice a month, makes it very difficult for those that are appointed to really be knowledgeable and accountable for a $400,000,000 political subdivision. So we're looking at a governance model change. Again, if it were easy, it would already be done. There has been robust debate during the interim but I think you'll find consensus that it is time for a governance model change. Those who are appointed to serve as a governing board will have more accountability, more time on the job, more focus.

Today, Monday morning, is the first day this Legislature convenes and business starts on behalf of the people that we serve. On this same Monday morning, on what should be a work day, our federal government is shut down because they could not find consensus, they could not find a way forward to serve the people that they've been elected to serve. That is culture.

They don't have a culture like we have and I think it's demonstrated in our actions. Whether you're Republican or Democrat, we govern. A lot of people think it's a negative thing when you compromise, collaborate and come together. If you look at the Utah House, 86 percent of the time the work that we put forward has been done through consensus.

The narrative out of Washington is that if you're agreeing with each other, you're abandoning your principals. Look at our indebtedness; look at what the product is in the State of Utah. Look at what we as a whole are able to achieve, much different than if they ever get back to work, if they can ever agree to start the federal government back up again. About 24 percent of the time they actually come together to govern, and that's when they're open for business. I think the best case is that they'll kick the can down the road until February 8th, if they can even do that. We'll still be in session. We'll still be here working and we'll still have a lot of weeks and long days in front of us to do our job.

I want to impress upon you the culture of the House and the culture of the Senate, of our entire legislative branch. We can't lose that. I feel that the last three years there's been momentum.

As our state grows, we have some infrastructure problems that we must face, whether that be roads, water or our education system and our workforce. These are good problems to have compared to other states, but they are challenges nonetheless.

I think there's a momentum that we've all been a part of and I have loved being part of that momentum and part of this culture. While this might be my last first day, in my last address to you as Speaker, I know that momentum is not going away. I know you. I've served with you. I know your appetite for doing hard things. I don't think you're going to accept anything less.

I want to thank you for the job that we have done together. It has been an honor to be a part of this. This is a rallying cry. This is a call to arms. We're doing this together, and I want to thank you. Hold onto your hats. For our new representatives, hold on. It's a fast pace but we're going to continue to do good things. Thank you so much.

Michael Noel, Chair

Report filed. On motion of Representative Noel, under suspension of the rules, the House voted to adopt the report.

MISCELLANEOUS BUSINESS

On motion of Representative Wilson, and at 12:15 p.m., the House voted to recess until 2:00 p.m.

AFTERNOON SESSION

The House was called to order by Speaker Hughes at 2:15 p.m.

COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE

On motion of Representative Wilson, the House resolved itself into a Committee of the Whole, with the Speaker as Chairman, for the purpose of hearing from Chief Justice Matthew R. Durrant.

STATE OF THE JUDICIARY

REMARKS BY CHIEF JUSTICE MATTHEW B. DURRANT

Thank you Speaker Hughes for the invitation to report on the state of our judiciary. I am honored to be with you today.

I'm joined by Associate Chief Justice Thomas Lee, Justice Deno Himonas, Justice John Pearce, and our newest justice, Paige Petersen, whom we welcome enthusiastically to our court. It is a great personal and professional privilege to serve with such dedicated and principled jurists.

I am also joined by members of our judicial council, who are sitting in the gallery, as well as by our new court administrator, Richard Schwermer, someone you all know well.

As I introduce my colleagues, it strikes me that all have joined me on the supreme court within the last eight years. Not only have these four justices joined our ranks, but 77 district court and juvenile court judges have taken the bench during that same time. As you can tell, it is a time of great change for the judiciary. In addition to the many new judges who have joined us and the changes in our administrative office, we have implemented some of the most significant policy reforms—in criminal, civil, and juvenile justice—in our history.

One momentous change I have yet to mention is the retirement of Justice Christine Durham. I know you will be honoring her later in the session, but I'd like to say just a few words about her today. Much has been said of all she has done for women—the trails she has blazed, the doors she has opened, and the inspiration she has provided. But as important as her contributions have been in this regard, that only tells part of the story. She has inspired just as many men as she has women, and, in my view, she has done more for our state's judiciary than any other person who has served in it.

Now, I hate to put too much pressure on Justice Petersen, but that is one daunting legacy to live up to. I have to say, though, that if anyone is up to that task, it is Paige Petersen. In her very short tenure on our court, she has already shown herself to have a brilliant and incisive legal mind. What's more, she has proven to be a delightful colleague. We are thrilled to have her join us.

We in the judiciary are dedicated to justice—and to increasing the public's access to it—as well as to fairness and accountability. Commitment to these principles is not unique to us. We know that you share that commitment. You, like us, have taken an oath to support, obey, and defend the Constitution of the United States and the Constitution of Utah, and to discharge the duties of your office with fidelity. It is a sacred oath, and cannot be honored without a heartfelt commitment to justice, fairness, and accountability.

I recently visited the U.S. Supreme Court building in our nation's capitol. It's an inspirational building that symbolizes the importance of the rule of law. Some of you may know that before the current and instantly recognizable building was constructed, the Supreme Court was hidden away in the basement of the U.S. Capitol. At that time, a lawmaker from New York famously stated: "A stranger might traverse the dark avenues of the capitol for a week, without finding the remote corner in which justice is administered to the American Republic."

As the judicial branch, that is, in fact, our specific role—to administer justice. But it is not one for which we have the exclusive right or responsibility. Our beautiful courtroom in this historic building is not hidden away in a remote corner. And justice is not revered only in that room, but by all the public servants who labor in this capitol. No one should wander these halls without stumbling upon sincere efforts to administer justice. This is our shared responsibility.

You, the legislature, discharge this responsibility by creating just and fair laws. The executive branch does so by faithfully enforcing the law. And we, the judiciary, do it by fairly and impartially interpreting the law.

We are proud to be part of a government here in Utah where justice is not hidden away, but is a bright beacon that guides all that we do as public servants. We each serve different roles in this grand enterprise of government, but we share the same objective. And we are all dedicated to upholding that majestic principle that has made America a shining city on a hill—the rule of law. We are a government not of men, or of women, but of law. We as public servants come and go, but the law remains.

I would like to highlight a few ways in which our different but complementary roles have helped us, through working together, to honor our shared commitment to justice, fairness, and accountability. I'll start with our joint efforts to reform our criminal justice system, then move to examples where we worked together to improve civil justice, and conclude with our combined work to reform our juvenile justice system.

CRIMINAL JUSTICE REFORM

A fine example of what can be achieved through cooperation among the three branches of government is how we, in this past year, have together addressed the issue of homelessness and related criminal law questions. The coordinated response to this issue involved dozens of state and local entities, including the courts. As for our courts' contribution, while the Salt Lake City Justice Court bore the brunt of the immediate caseload increase, a longer-term solution was clearly required. Research tells us that a drug court is the most effective way to serve that part of the population with severe substance use disorder coupled with significant criminal history. So, through the combined effort of you, the legislature, Salt Lake County, The Division of Substance Abuse and Mental Health, and the Department of Health, a new drug court was formed, the fourth drug court in Salt Lake County. Judge Todd Shaughnessy has stepped up and volunteered to preside over this new court. This court increased our drug court capacity by 125 treatment slots, and we already have 95 participants in this new program.

The result of this collaboration can be seen every Thursday afternoon in the successes being achieved and the progress being made by those participants, most of whom are well on their way to sobriety and a crime-free life. We are deeply appreciative of the funds you have allocated for criminal justice related treatment. They have made a real difference. I understand that this session you will be considering accessing additional treatment funds through some form of Medicaid expansion, and I wholeheartedly encourage such efforts. There is simply no better investment that can be made to improve public safety than an investment in treatment.

Another example of how we have worked together to improve our criminal justice system is the way in which we have addressed the problem of inadequate representation of indigent defendants. The judiciary conducted a study of this issue that served as the basis for your creation of the Indigent Defense Commission, a commission charged with developing attorney representation standards and with monitoring 6th Amendment compliance. The committee also allocates money to underfunded local defense systems—money that you appropriated. This commission plays a vital role in improving access to justice.

In addition, as you have sought to reform the criminal justice system by making the law more proportional and rehabilitative, we have worked with you to ensure that those reforms are administered in a fair and just way. Your work has been groundbreaking. You have focused on individualized evaluations and treatment. We have built upon that effort by looking for ways to provide more information to judges so that they can make better sentencing decisions. Like you, the more information we have, the better the decisions we are able to make.

The same is true of judges' pre-trial decisions. We have worked hard to provide judges with more information so that they might make these decisions in a way that is both more fair and better focused on public safety. We are doing this through a tool that will apprise judges of critical facts about a defendant's criminal history, facts that, remarkable as it may seem, are currently unavailable to judges. This includes information such as the defendant's history of past arrests, convictions, convictions for violent crimes, and failures to appear in court. You have raised important questions about these changes, and we have met with many of you to address them. We are hopeful that your concerns have been allayed, and we look forward to implementing this important reform.

And in this regard, I want to thank the senators and representatives who have served on our Pre-trial Study Committee, as well as on our Standing Committee on Pre-trial Release and Supervision. The Commission on Criminal and Juvenile Justice and the Sentencing Commission have also provided invaluable support to our pre-trial reform effort, and I want to thank the legislators who serve on those commissions.

CIVIL JUSTICE REFORM

Next, a couple of examples of how we have worked together to improve civil justice in our state. We worked closely with a number of you and the Utah State Bar to create the Licensed Paralegal Practitioner Program. In developing this new initiative, we changed the definition of the practice of law to allow a market-driven solution for one aspect of our access-to-justice problem. These LPPs will provide services that traditionally have been provided only by lawyers. They will serve those who, because they can't afford lawyer fees, have historically been unrepresented.

Also, as you have sought to find legislative ways in which to serve the aged and disabled, we have endeavored to enhance your efforts through our Court Visitor Program, in which selfless volunteers devote many hours, under court direction, visiting the homes of vulnerable individuals to ensure that they are well cared for and not taken advantage of. We call this program the Guardianship Review and Monitoring Program, affectionately known as GRAMP. You will see a request for the continued funding of this program, and I'm sure you will give it careful consideration.

JUVENILE JUSTICE REFORM

Finally, two examples of our joint effort to improve juvenile justice. We are grateful to Representative Snow and others who have been so thoughtful and inclusive in their approach. As you know, this has not been an easy process. Significant change is uncomfortable, and we judges are not immune to those feelings. But I want to assure you that we understand our role, which is to interpret and enforce the law that you write, as you write it.

In this respect, please know that we care deeply about what you do here. We focus on every word you choose in the legislation you pass. It is often remarkable just how much difference a particular word choice can make. It is our responsibility to carefully determine what those words mean, and we take that responsibility very seriously.

In conclusion, while I have touched upon some of the joint efforts of your branch and ours to better serve the people of Utah, overarching all of this is, as I have discussed, our shared devotion to justice, fairness, and accountability. I am proud of our judges and their commitment to these principles, as I am of those dedicated public servants who work alongside those judges in our courts. And despite the fact that few people who come to court really want to, and many of those who do come walk away disappointed with their result, court participants consistently recognize that they have been treated with respect and fairness. Our most recent survey showed that 93% of those who visit our courts are satisfied with their experience. 96% percent felt that they were treated with courtesy and respect, and 91% felt that their hearing was fair. I take pride in these results not only because they reflect the dedication of our judges and their staff, but because they demonstrate our deep commitment to finding ways to do our jobs better.

Thank you for the sacrifices you make to serve our state's citizens, and I wish you the best of luck this session. Thank you.

Leslie O. McLean

Secretary of the Senate

Communications filed. The bills were read the first time by short title and referred to the Rules Committee.

MISCELLANEOUS BUSINESS

On motion of Representative Wilson, and at 12:10 p.m., the House voted to adjourn until January 25, 2018, at 11:00 a.m.

JOINT CONVENTION

President Wayne Niederhauser called the Joint Convention to order at 6:15 p.m. in the Chamber of the Utah House of Representatives and recognized Gregory H. Hughes, Speaker of the House.

President Niederhauser announced that a quorum of the House of Representatives and the Senate was present.

President Niederhauser appointed a Joint Committee comprised of Senators Stuart Adams, Peter Knudson and Gene Davis, and Representatives Brad Wilson, Francis Gibson, and Brian King to notify Governor Gary R. Herbert that the 2018 General Session of the Sixty–Second Legislature is in Joint Convention and ready to hear his State–of–the–State address.

President Niederhauser acknowledged special guests and elected and appointed officials in attendance at the Joint Convention.

Senator Stuart Adams made a motion that the Legislature resolve into a Joint Convention and Committee of the Whole for the purpose of hearing Governor Herbert's State-of-the-State address.

The Joint Committee escorted Governor Herbert to the House rostrum.

STATE-OF-THE-STATE ADDRESS
BY GOVERNOR GARY R. HERBERT

President Niederhauser, Speaker Hughes, members of the Legislature, justices of the Supreme Court, Utah's First Lady, Lieutenant Governor and Mrs. Cox, other constitutional officers, and my fellow Utahns: It is an honor to address you this evening in our historic State Capitol.

It was here, last year, that we managed to balance our budget and pass over 500 bills in 45 days. And on our watch I don't recall a single government shutdown.

For each of the past eight years I have come before you in this special setting to talk about policy and priorities. I usually tout our economic growth and urge increased funding for education; I talk about taxation and transportation; I encourage ways to improve our social services and our environmental stewardship.

Along the way I might even brag about some particular successes. And, if you're really lucky, you might even hear me share how Utah ranks at the top of a national survey or two.

Each year, I am required by the Constitution to present to the legislature the State of the State. And each year, I have been pleased to report to you that our state is healthy, it's growing, and it's very successful.

This year, my overall report is more optimistic than ever. I am pleased to report to you today that by every meaningful metric, the state of the State of Utah is truly exceptional.

As I have given some thought about this special occasion, where the leadership of the state of Utah is gathered and focused for a few rare moments, I have felt inclined to use this time just a little bit differently.

So, tonight, in order to get your fill of Utah bragging rights, you'll have to get out your smartphone and go to utah.gov/stateofthestate where you will find an abundance of commendations. And if you were hoping for a detailed review of my budgetary and legislative priorities, simply visit: utah.gov/stateofthestate.

I believe you already know what we need to be doing in the remaining 42 days of this session.

You already know that we need to prioritize funding and standards for the kind of learning that educates the hearts and minds of our children so that they can flourish in our highly competitive global marketplace.

You already know that we need to update our tax code so that it conforms to the realities of today's dynamic marketplace while anticipating what tomorrow might bring.

You already know that we need to strive to keep tax rates low and revenue reliable by broadening the base.

You already know that we need to think proactively about infrastructure so that we maintain what we build, so that users pay their fair share, and so that we are investing in the future of our great state.

You already know that we need to think creatively about transportation funding so that our finite funds provide the most cost effective solutions, regardless of the mode of travel, for getting people to where they want and need to go.

You already know that although we have continued to reduce overall emissions, we need to do much more to encourage responsible choices and pursue evidence-based improvements for our air quality.

You already know that we need to patch up holes that are in our social safety net.

And you also know that we need to do all of this without growing the size, the scope or the burden of government carried by the taxpayer.

That's a big ask. But I know we can do these hard things.

So, tonight I want to talk about the good that comes from doing the hard things. I would like to talk about building our future together, about how we perpetuate our unique culture of self-reliance and personal responsibility, and how, together, we can build a better, a kinder and a more civil world.

Let's begin with a little history. This book contains the Laws of Utah passed in 1917.

Back in the day, general sessions of the legislature only met in odd-numbered years. One hundred and one years ago, in 1917, the House and the Senate passed, and Governor Simon Bamberger then signed into law, 131 bills that span a total of 458 pages.

And they did some pretty big things back then: For starters, they passed statewide prohibition of alcohol — a full three years before it became a nationwide policy.

But let's consider some of their other accomplishments. They modernized Utah's contract law. They created workmen's compensation. They expanded public vocational education. They passed securities regulation to prevent against fraud. They expanded our system of roads.

And because of many of their efforts we really are better off as a state today.

I can't help but wonder: Were they thinking about how their work would be remembered 100 years later?

So now I ask this question of us all: How will the decisions we make today shape Utah 100 years into the future?

I understand that 1277 bill files have been opened for this session. As one of your colleagues said to me earlier this week, "It may be a bit much." I recognize that the pressure on you from constituents to address problems through legislation is tremendous. We're also one of the fastest growing states in the nation, and we do have lots of things that need to be dealt with today. It can be a little bit overwhelming.

But I would like to believe that as we prioritize our work this session that a tax reform bill sponsored by President Wayne Niederhauser, for example, or an education bill sponsored by Representative Carol Spackman Moss, or a bill benefitting rural Utah sponsored by Representative Scott Sandall will have meaningful impacts on the state not only today — but will lay a foundation for the success and well-being of our children and our grandchildren into the future.

One month ago my six children, along with their spouses and fifteen of our sixteen grandchildren all gathered at our home for our traditional Christmas Eve celebration. Everyone but a granddaughter who is currently serving an LDS mission was able to enjoy our tradition of hot chocolate, karaoke and singing "Silent Night" around the Christmas Tree.

It is remarkable to consider in this age of economic dislocation that three generations of Herberts can enjoy fulfilling lives right here together, living just twenty minutes apart from one another.

I think we all want to give our families the best world we possibly can, and I have become increasingly concerned about the kind of world that we are creating for our children and for our grandchildren.

I think of my granddaughter, McKelle, who is serving as a Mandarin Chinese speaking missionary in Melbourne Australia. Everyday she sees globalization first hand, witnessing the dynamic economic growth and the blend of cultures in Asia and the South Pacific.

Just like all young people who are concerned about their future, she will ask a lot of questions about her own future when she returns home this year.

Will her experience and training match the economic opportunities here?

Will she find a workplace that protects her from harassment and gives her equal opportunity for her equal potential?

As she pursues the American Dream, will our culture reflect the ideal of human dignity found in our Declaration of Independence?

Will our society honor the fundamental rights guaranteed to all of us in our Constitution?

This is why we are here: To ensure that the answer to these questions is a resounding and emphatic “yes.”

As the elected representatives in the state, it is sometimes tempting to think that it is what we do with policies, with procedures and with appropriations that makes all the difference in the well-being of our state.

Now, don't get me wrong — our law and policy are critically important. I know from personal experience, and you do too, that few things can be more detrimental than bad law and bad policy.

Let us never forget the old adage “that the government is best that governs least.”

But I firmly believe that what is most important for our prosperity and our well-being, today and one hundred years from now, is a strong culture of work, self-reliance, shared responsibility and mutual respect.

This unique culture is not just about rugged individualism.

It is the sensibility that Utahns have always had — an understanding that while no one else is going to come and solve the hard problems for us, “we can achieve together what none of us can do alone.”

It is, in the words of Katherine Lee Bate's great American hymn, that "patriot dream, that sees beyond the years."

This is Utah's unique spirit of collaboration.

It is based on a moral commitment that when we say "We the People" we mean all the people -- the rich, the poor, the weak and the strong.

And when I talk about Utah's unique spirit of collaboration, I am not just talking about government. I am also talking about the collaboration of the citizenry and the private sector.

Yes, government has a critical role in optimizing policy. But even the smartest policies will mean very little if we fail to support each other.

Last Friday night, Jeanette and I attended an opening premiere at the Sundance Film Festival. We watched a fascinating documentary called "Won't You Be My Neighbor." And I gained a new appreciation for the life and work of Fred Rogers -- known affectionately to millions simply as Mister Rogers.

Fred Rogers once said this:

"We live in a world in which we need to share responsibility. It's easy to say 'it's not my child, not my community, not my world, not my problem.'"

He went on to say, "Then there are those who see the need and respond. Those people are my heroes."

Here in Utah, I am humbled to stand in the presence of many, many heroes.

I am grateful everyday as Utahns see a concern and step up to address a problem where there is no playbook. And it happens all the time.

For example, could Utah's rural schools benefit from better connections to the high tech boom along the Wasatch Front? Absolutely.

Well, enter BrainStorm, Inc., whose employees decided to adopt Mont Harmon Middle School in Carbon County and provide guidance and inspiration in coding, video editing and virtual reality.

Could an inner city elementary school benefit from some extra classroom support? Of course.

Well, enter Intrepid, a communications and PR firm, whose employees volunteer regularly in the first grade at Meadowlark Elementary in Rose Park.

When natural disasters strike in other parts of the United States, could those states or territories use extra help? Certainly.

Enter Jarem Hallows. Jarem was in a hospital bed receiving treatments for stage four cancer when he heard about the twin hurricanes that struck Puerto Rico and destroyed the power grids. He saw beyond his own need and moved to help his fellow man.

Along with Jorge Alvarado, Lieutenant Governor Spencer Cox, Auditor John Dougall, Tani Downing from my cabinet, my son Brad and his wife Carmen and so many others, he put Operation “Light up Puerto Rico” into action, delivering light and hope to people who had been living in the dark.

Once again Utahns stepped up, when there was no playbook, to help their fellow man.

When I became governor I said that Utah would unlock unlimited possibilities through unprecedented partnerships.

Consider what we have done with education. It has been through the unprecedented partnership of all our education stakeholders that we been able to unite and focus on a ten-year education roadmap. It has been through unprecedented partnerships between businesses and schools that we have launched our nationally recognized work-based education program, Talent Ready Utah.

Consider what we have done with our economy. The U.S. Chamber of Commerce, in recognizing Utah as the best performing economy in the country, identified our unique “culture of collaboration as the foundation of [our] job creation policy, enabling [Utah] to punch above its weight.”

So, in that spirit of collaboration, let us continue to tackle our big challenges of today.

Perhaps the best example of working together on a tough issue is when we said “No more!” to the lawlessness in the Rio Grande neighborhood.

There wasn’t a playbook for this exercise. It didn’t fit neatly into anyone’s job description. It came with uncertainty, it came with risk – but also with the potential to do some real good.

Members of my cabinet, legislators, law enforcement, county and city leaders and members of the community convened. We asked how we could restore order and dignity to the Rio Grande area.

Under the leadership of Lt. Governor Spencer Cox and House Speaker Greg Hughes, and many of you here, the mantra of the operation became: “shoulder-to-shoulder; no credit, no blame.”

While we are not ready to declare victory, Operation Rio Grande has already broken up drug trafficking, reduced crime, cleaned up our streets and parks, increased treatment services and provided job opportunities — all without disrupting the important social services for those who are experiencing homelessness.

But perhaps the most important barometer of our accomplishment comes from, my friend, counselor and homeless advocate Pamela Atkinson, who recently said of her homeless friends, “Instead of seeing hopelessness in their eyes, I and others are seeing hope!”

Unfortunately, there is another group of Utahns who also need greater hope. Far too many of our youth experience a sense of discouragement and hopelessness so severe that unfortunately, they consider taking their own lives. The fact that any of them actually do this is tragic beyond words. The fact that suicide has become the leading cause of death among our young people horrifies me.

Just as we could not ignore the human tragedy in the Rio Grande area, we must never ignore this human tragedy of suicide. That is why last week I put together a task force of community leaders to augment the good work already being done by the Utah Suicide Prevention Coalition.

Under the direction of my administration and key legislators, including Rep. Steve Eliason, this task force represents the shared concern of civic, health, educational and ecclesiastical organizations. By bringing together community connections and expertise, this task force will meet with the Suicide Prevention Coalition, prioritize their insights, and bring us a clear plan for immediate community engagement by this February 15. This session, we will find solutions.

Now this is what sets Utah apart. Instead of skirting the big issues, instead of pointing fingers, and instead of refusing to talk about them, we face them in the spirit of personal and shared responsibility. And we find answers. And we make our world and our communities better.

We are committed to being disciplined and humble enough to work together in a spirit of mutual respect — shoulder-to-shoulder; no credit, no blame.

And because of this, the eyes of the nation are upon us.

Just as Ronald Reagan referred to America as that shining city on a hill whose good example helps light the world, I believe that Utah has become that shining city on a hill for our nation.

The next 42 days are going to be tough. There will be late nights, hard decisions and some bruised egos. Perhaps in those moments of frustration, instead of retreating into our sometimes selfish selves, we could instead remember our dear friend Matt Hillyard.

For those who didn't know Matt personally, he is the son of Senator Lyle and Alice Hillyard from Logan. Matt was born with Down Syndrome, and about three weeks ago, at age 42, Matt passed away.

Matt was a remarkable individual — a man without guile. Matt greeted everyone with a hug. Matt loved unconditionally. In Matt's eyes there were only winners, no losers.

Matt taught me to live each day to its fullest. Matt taught me to be the best that you can be — do the most that you can do. Matt taught me to sing loud, even when you're off key. He taught me to eat every pancake like it's the first pancake you've ever tried and the last pancake you'll ever eat.

If we really want to have a lasting influence for good, not only could we emulate Matt, we could also emulate Matt's parents. Lyle and Alice, you taught us how to sacrifice for the well-being of our children. You recognized that by including Matt in all of our lives that everyone can grow, serve and experience joy. We all want to thank you for sharing Matt with us.

So this session, let's set a goal and from now on, let's all live like Matt!

And let's make decisions that matter.

If we do our job right, one hundred years from now, our great-grandchildren will dust off the "Laws for 2018," and they will recognize that what we did together over these next few weeks laid the foundation for their extraordinary successes in the Utah of the year 2118.

If we do our job right today, Utah in the future will still be the greatest place to live, to love, to work and to serve. Where people can become the best they can be in a free society. And if we do our job right, Utah will continue to be that place — that "right place" — where friends and strangers come together of their own accord to lighten weary hearts, protect the vulnerable, and restore hope and dignity one individual at a time.

And this will continue to be a place where the hardest problems are solved side-by-side, shoulder-to-shoulder, no credit, no blame.

That is my hope and my prayer.

May God continue to bless our state and may God continue to bless the great people of Utah.

Section 2. Section 78B-6-138 is amended to read:

78B-6-138. Pre-existing parent's rights and duties dissolved.

(1) A pre-existing parent of an adopted child is released from all parental rights and duties toward and all responsibilities for the adopted child, including residual parental rights and duties as defined in Section 78A-6-105, and has no further parental rights or duties with regard to that adopted child at the earlier of:

(a) the time the pre-existing parent's parental rights are terminated;

or

(b) except as provided in Subsection (2), and subject to Subsections (3) and (4), the time the final decree of adoption is entered.

(2) The parental rights and duties of a pre-existing parent who, at the time the child is adopted, is lawfully married to the person adopting the child are not released under Subsection (1)(b).

(3) The parental rights and duties of a pre-existing parent who, at the time the child is adopted, is not lawfully married to the person adopting the child are released under Subsection (1)(b).

(4) (a) Notwithstanding the provisions of this section, the court may allow a prospective adoptive parent to adopt a child without releasing the pre-existing parent from parental rights and duties under Subsection (1)(b), if:

(i) the pre-existing parent and the prospective adoptive parent were lawfully married at some time during the child's life;

(ii) the pre-existing parent consents to the prospective adoptive parent's adoption of the child, or is unable to consent because the pre-existing parent is deceased or incapacitated;

(iii) notice of the adoption proceeding is provided in accordance with Section 78B-6-110;

(iv) consent to the adoption is provided in accordance with Section 78B-6-120; and

(v) the court finds that it is in the best interest of the child to grant the adoption without releasing the pre-existing parent from parental rights and duties.

(b) This Subsection (4) does not permit a child to have more than two natural parents, as that term is defined in Section 78A-6-105.

(5) This section may not be construed as terminating any child support obligation of a parent incurred before the adoption.

1. Page 3, Lines 55 through 62:

55 NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the Legislature of the state of Utah, the

56 Governor concurring therein, supports rural development of wind, solar, and geothermal energy

57 resources within Utah as a complement to Utah's diversified energy system, so that Utah's rural 58 communities can take an active part in and receive the benefits of Utah's economic 59 development.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Legislature and the Governor support wind, solar, and geothermal energy development on lands managed by the Bureau of Land Management and the Forest Service, which lands constitute the majority of lands in rural Utah, and ask those agencies to actively support wind, solar, and geothermal energy development, including transmission line approvals.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Legislature and the Governor oppose any federal land designation -- including Antiquities Act designations, ACEC designations, and resource management plan designations, among other designations -- in rural Utah that would prohibit wind, solar, and geothermal energy development on federally managed land in the state.

60 BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Legislature and the Governor support the

61 export of Utah-produced wind, solar, and geothermal energy to other states in the West through

62 participation in centralized and bilateral energy markets. ; and

Mr. Speaker: February 20, 2018

The Senate passed, as substituted, 2nd Sub. S.B. 83, STATE REAL PROPERTY AMENDMENTS, by Senator M. Dayton, and it is transmitted for consideration; and

The Senate passed S.C.R. 13, CONCURRENT RESOLUTION HONORING SENATOR ORRIN HATCH, by Senator C. Bramble, and it is transmitted for consideration.

Leslie O. McLean
Secretary of the Senate

Communications filed. The bills were read the first time by short title and referred to the Rules Committee.

MISCELLANEOUS BUSINESS

On motion of Representative Knotwell, under suspension of the rules, the House voted to lift S.C.R. 13, CONCURRENT RESOLUTION HONORING SENATOR ORRIN HATCH, by Senator C. Bramble, from the Rules Committee, read it for the second time, and place it at the top of the Third Reading Calendar for Senate Bills.

THIRD READING CALENDAR

H.B. 318, STRAY CURRENT OR VOLTAGE REMEDIATION ACT, Representative Handy, was read the third time by short title and placed on its final passage.

Representative Chew proposed Amendment 1:

1. Page 3, Line 84 through Page 4, Line 104
House Committee Amendments 2–9–2018:

84 (5) “Livestock contact points” means two electrically conductive points that livestock

85 may simultaneously contact.

(6) “Livestock operator” means a person who through an agreement with the owner of livestock has authority and is responsible to oversee the care and well being of the livestock.

86 ~~{-(6)-}~~ (7) “Public agency” means the same as that term is defined in Section 11-13-103.

87 ~~{-(7)-}~~ (8) “Qualified testing professional” means an electrical engineer who has:

88 (a) graduated with an engineering degree from an accredited university;

89 (b) completed no fewer than 40 hours of relevant stray current or voltage training, with

90 electric utility experience; and

91 (c) been involved in at least one prior investigation involving the measurement or 92 testing of stray current or voltage.

93 ~~{-(8)-}~~ (9) “Root mean square” means:

94 (a) a measure of the effective energy value of a wave or cycle; and

95 (b) for regularly shaped alternating current sine waves, a value of 0.707 multiplied by 96 the peak value of the sine wave.

97 ~~{-(9)-}~~ (10) “Steady-state” means:

98 (a) for alternating current and AC voltage, a one minute average of root mean square

99 amperage or voltage values, excluding transients; and

100 (b) for direct current and DC voltage, a one minute average of amperage or voltage 101 values excluding transients.

102 ~~{-(10)-}~~ (11) “Transient” means a current or voltage impulse:

103 (a) lasting less than five thousandths of a second; and 104 (b) found on all types of electrical, data, and communications circuits.

Representative Chew's motion to amend passed on a voice vote.

1. Page 1, Lines 14 through 20:

14 This resolution:

\** Some lines not shown ****

17       ▶       urges the Department of Health , the Department of Public Safety, the Department of Corrections, the State Fire Marshal, and the Department of Veterans and Military

18   Affairs to continue working to educate victims of interpersonal violence, combat,

19   and life-threatening accidents or natural disasters, their families, and the citizens of 20   Utah regarding the causes, symptoms, and treatment of post-traumatic stress injury.

2.   Page 2, Lines 32 through 33:

32       WHEREAS, combat stress injury has historically been unjustly portrayed as a mental

33   illness in military combat veterans caused by a pre-existing flaw of character or ability;

3.   Page 2, Line 37:

37   or natural disasters;

WHEREAS, public service dispatchers and first responders, by the nature of their professions, are also susceptible to post traumatic stress injury;

4.   Page 2, Line 56 through Page 3, Line 62:

56       BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Legislature urges the Department of Health , the Department of Public Safety, the Department of Corrections, the State Fire Marshal, and 57   the Department of Veterans and Military Affairs to continue working to educate victims of 58   interpersonal violence, combat, and life-threatening accidents or natural disasters, their

59   families, and the citizens of Utah regarding the causes, symptoms, and treatment of

60   post-traumatic stress Injury.

61       BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that a copy of this resolution be sent to the Department

62 of Health the Department of Public Safety, the Department of Corrections, the State Fire Marshal and the Department of Veterans and Military Affairs.

182 ~~preceding a fiscal year for which~~

183 ~~Medicaid program expenditures are calculated.~~

184 (i) ~~“Operating deficit” means that, at the end of the fiscal year,~~
185 ~~the unassigned fund~~

186 ~~balance in the General Fund is less than zero.~~

187 (j) ~~“State revenue” means revenue other than federal revenue.~~

188 (k) ~~“State revenue expended for the Medicaid program”~~
189 ~~includes money transferred or~~

190 ~~appropriated to the Medicaid Growth Reduction and Budget~~ 191 ~~Stabilization Account only to the~~

192 ~~extent the money is appropriated for the Medicaid program by the~~ 193 ~~Legislature.~~

194 (2) ~~There is created within the General Fund a restricted account~~ 195 ~~to be known as the~~

196 ~~Medicaid Growth Reduction and Budget Stabilization Account.~~

197 (3) (a) (i) ~~Except as provided in Subsection (6), if, at the end of a~~
198 ~~fiscal year, there is a~~

199 ~~General Fund revenue surplus, the Division of Finance shall~~ 200 ~~transfer an amount equal to~~

201 ~~Medicaid growth savings from the General Fund to the Medicaid~~ 202 ~~Growth Reduction and~~

203 ~~Budget Stabilization Account.~~

204 (ii) ~~If the amount transferred is reduced to prevent an operating~~ 205 ~~deficit, as provided in~~

206 ~~Subsection (6), the Legislature shall include, to the extent revenue~~
207 ~~is available, an amount~~

208 ~~equal to the reduction as an appropriation from the General Fund to~~ 209 ~~the account in the base~~

210 ~~budget for the second fiscal year following the fiscal year for which~~ 211 ~~the reduction was made.~~

212 (b) ~~If, at the end of a fiscal year, there is not a General Fund~~ 213 ~~revenue surplus, the~~

200 ~~Legislature shall include, to the extent revenue is available, an amount equal to Medicaid~~

201 ~~growth savings as an appropriation from the General Fund to the account in the base budget for~~

202 ~~the second fiscal year following the fiscal year for which the reduction was made.~~

203 ~~(c) Subsections (3)(a) and (3)(b) apply only to the fiscal year in which the department~~

204 ~~implements the proposal developed under Section 26-18-405 to reduce the long-term growth in~~

205 ~~state expenditures for the Medicaid program, and to each fiscal year after that year.~~

206 ~~(4) The Division of Finance shall calculate the amount to be transferred under~~

207 ~~Subsection (3):~~

208 ~~(a) before transferring revenue from the General Fund revenue surplus to:~~

209 ~~(i) the General Fund Budget Reserve Account under Section 63J-1-312;~~

210 ~~(ii) the Wildland Fire Suppression Fund created in Section 65A-8-204, as described in~~

211 ~~Section 63J-1-314; and~~

212 ~~(iii) the State Disaster Recovery Restricted Account under Section 63J-1-314;~~

213 ~~(b) before earmarking revenue from the General Fund revenue surplus to the Industrial~~

214 ~~Assistance Account under Section 63N-3-106; and~~

215 ~~(c) before making any other year-end contingency appropriations, year-end set-asides,~~

216 ~~or other year-end transfers required by law.~~

217 ~~(5) (a) If, at the close of any fiscal year, there appears to be insufficient money to pay~~

218 ~~additional debt service for any bonded debt authorized by the Legislature, the Division of~~

219 Finance may hold back from any General Fund revenue surplus money sufficient to pay the 220 additional debt service requirements resulting from issuance of bonded debt that was 221 authorized by the Legislature.

222 (b) The Division of Finance may not spend the hold back amount for debt service
223 under Subsection (5)(a) unless and until it is appropriated by the Legislature.

224 (c) If, after calculating the amount for transfer under Subsection
(3), the remaining
225 General Fund revenue surplus is insufficient to cover the hold back for debt service required by 226 Subsection (5)(a), the Division of Finance shall reduce the transfer to the Medicaid Growth
227 Reduction and Budget Stabilization Account by the amount necessary to cover the debt service
228 hold back.

229 (d) Notwithstanding Subsections (3) and (4), the Division of Finance shall hold back
230 the General Fund balance for debt service authorized by this Subsection (5) before making any
231 transfers to the Medicaid Growth Reduction and Budget
Stabilization Account or any other
232 designation or allocation of General Fund revenue surplus.

233 (6) Notwithstanding Subsections (3) and (4), if, at the end of a fiscal year, the Division
234 of Finance determines that an operating deficit exists and that holding back earmarks to the 235 Industrial Assistance Account under Section 63N-3-106, transfers to the Wildland Fire
236 Suppression Fund and State Disaster Recovery Restricted Account under Section 63J-1-314,
237 transfers to the General Fund Budget Reserve Account under Section 63J-1-312, or earmarks

238 and transfers to more than one of those accounts, in that order, does not eliminate the operating

239 deficit, the Division of Finance may reduce the transfer to the Medicaid Growth Reduction and 240 Budget Stabilization Account by the amount necessary to eliminate the operating deficit.

241 (7) The Legislature may appropriate money from the Medicaid Growth Reduction and 242 Budget Stabilization Account only:

243 (a) if Medicaid program expenditures for the fiscal year for which the appropriation is

244 made are estimated to be 108% or more of Medicaid program expenditures for the previous

245 year; [and]

246 (b) for the Medicaid program[.]; and

247 (c) if non-state government entities are unable to repay federal funds relating to the 248 Nursing Care Facility Non-State Government-Owned Upper Payment Limit program.

249 (8) The Division of Finance shall deposit interest or other earnings derived from 250 investment of Medicaid Growth Reduction and Budget Stabilization Account money into the

251 General Fund. }

2. Page 4, Line 106 through Page 5, Line 121:

106 JR3-2-501. Meetings -- Zero based budget creation
 == Appropriation reviews.

107 (1) As used in this section "Zero based budget" means a review of a line item's or a program's expenditures, by category of expenditure, and sources of finance, by major fund type, starting from zero for a given fiscal year. A zero based budget may include:

(a) evaluation of trends in categories of expenditure and major fund types over time;

(b) comparison of trends to major indicators like population, inflation, and workload;

(c) analysis of throughput and quality as they relate to operating expenses; and

(d) review of more detailed data as warranted and as resources allow.

(2) (a) During the interim, the Executive Appropriations Committee shall meet at least 108 every other month on the day before interim meetings.

109 (b) The appropriations subcommittee chairs may attend these meetings and provide 110 input regarding their budget.

111 {-(2)-} (3) [Appropriation] Appropriations subcommittees shall meet [at least once] during the 112 interim [~~and may also hold additional meetings if~~] as authorized by the Legislative 113 Management Committee in order for the subcommittees to carry out their responsibilities.

114        {~~(3)~~} (4) For each interim, each subcommittee shall create a zero based budget for at least

115 20% of its line items or programs, and in doing so, shall ensure that each line item and program

116 is reviewed and included in the zero based budget no less frequently than every five years.

117        [~~3~~]    {~~(4)~~} (5) (a) The Executive Appropriations Committee may, based on a legislator’s or

118 citizen’s complaint, review any appropriation, whether in an appropriations bill or otherwise, to

71 (4) (a) In accordance with Subsections (4)(b) and (c), a vision service provider may, in

72 a contract with a vision plan, agree to participate in a discount program sponsored by the vision 73 plan.

74 (b) A contract between a vision service provider and a vision plan to provide a covered

75 service may not be contingent on whether the vision service provider agrees to participate in a 76 discount program sponsored by the vision plan.

77 (c) Regardless of whether a vision service provider participates in a discount program

78 sponsored by the vision plan, a vision plan shall offer equal treatment to a vision service

79 provider under contract with the vision plan to provide a covered service, regarding:

80 (i) promotional treatment;

81 (ii) marketing benefits;

82 (iii) materials; and

83 (iv) contract terms for providing a covered service.

(5) Notwithstanding Subsection (4)(c), a vision plan may, when providing a typically-formatted list of vision service providers that accept the vision plan, identify whether a vision service provider participates in a discount program sponsored by the vision plan.

MISCELLANEOUS BUSINESS

Speaker Hughes announced that the enacting clause on all legislation in possession of the House that has not passed the House before adjournment sine die will be automatically stricken.

On motion of Representative Wilson, the House authorized the Speaker to appoint a committee to wait upon the Governor and inform him that the House of Representatives has finished its business and is prepared to adjourn sine die. Speaker Hughes appointed Representatives Dunnigan, Fawson, and Kwan.

On motion of Representative King, the House authorized the Speaker to appoint a committee to notify the Senate and inform that Honorable Body that the House of Representatives has completed its business and is prepared to adjourn sine die. Speaker Hughes appointed Representatives Edwards, Westwood, and Chavez–Houck.

Speaker Hughes directed Sandy Tenney to read, revise and make minor corrections to the daily House Journals and be responsible for certifying the indexed and bound copy as the accurate record of the proceedings of the 2018 General Session of the Sixty–Second Legislature.

Senators Fillmore, Zehnder, and Escamilla formally notified the House of Representatives that the Senate had completed its business and was prepared to adjourn sine die.

Representative Dunnigan informed the House of Representatives that his committee, with a like committee from the Senate, has notified the Governor that the Legislature has completed its business and is prepared to adjourn sine die.

Representative Edwards informed the House of Representatives that her committee has waited upon the Senate and informed them that the House of Representatives has completed its business and is prepared to adjourn sine die.

Governor Gary R. Herbert addressed the House of Representatives.

On motion of Representative Wilson, the 2018 General Session of the Sixty-second Legislature adjourned sine die.

RESIGNATION LETTERS

RESIGNATION LETTER

Dear Speaker Hughes:

August 21, 2017

After being elected and sworn to the office of Salt Lake County Recorder, I hereby resign my seat in the Utah House of Representatives, effective immediately.

It has been an honor to serve among some of the brightest minds our great state has to offer. Everyone from staff to leadership has been incredibly helpful navigating the legislative process and made it the experience of a lifetime. Your leadership and the mentorship of Majority Leader Brad Wilson and Representative Mike Schultz mean a great deal and give me comfort that the direction of the House and the State of Utah will be a positive one.

I have complete confidence in the electorate from House District 43 to choose a thoughtful, competent replacement.

Sincerely,
Adam Gardiner
House District 43

Communication filed.

RESIGNATION LETTER

Dear Speaker Hughes,

November 30, 2017

I have always viewed being in the legislature as public service and never as a professional career. As such my “day job” career is taking me out of the state of Utah. I have accepted a position as the Senior Vice President of Strategy for Centura Health based in Colorado. I will be relocating my place of residence in January. Therefore, I need to resign my seat in the Utah House of Representatives, effective December 8th 2017 in order to allow the party adequate time to elect my replacement before the 2018 legislative session.

While I am excited for the professional opportunity before me, I am saddened to leave the legislature and the close association with the great people of Utah, and especially my constituents. Working under your charismatic leadership, my time in the legislature has been among the most exciting and rewarding periods of my life.

I know there are many capable and qualified individuals living in District 63 and am certain the electorate will choose a very good person to replace me.

Sincerely,
Dean Sanpei
State Representative
House District 63

Communication filed.

RESIGNATION LETTER

Dear Speaker Hughes,

February 6, 2018

Due to immediate personal and family concerns, I hereby resign my seat in the Utah House of Representatives, effective immediately.

It has been a great honor for me to serve the constituents of District 62 and with so many colleagues that I've grown to love and value. I know many will be concerned, but I would appreciate respecting our privacy at this time.

Sincerely,
Representative Jon Stanard
House District 62

September 20, 2017

The House was called to order by Speaker Gregory H. Hughes at 2:05 p.m.

Prayer given by Rabbi Benny Zippel, Chabad Lubavitch synagogue in Salt Lake City. Pledge of Allegiance led by Representative Tim Hawkes.

MISCELLANEOUS BUSINESS

Speaker Hughes appointed Sandy D. Tenney as Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives for the 2017 First Special Session of the 62nd Legislature.

The Chief Clerk, Sandy D. Tenney, read the following:

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, since the adjournment of the 2017 General Session of the Sixty–second Legislature of the State of Utah, certain matters have arisen which require immediate legislative attention; and

WHEREAS, Article VII, Section 6 of the Constitution of the State of Utah provides that the Governor may, by proclamation, convene the Legislature into Special Session;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Gary R. Herbert, Governor of the State of Utah, by virtue of the authority vested in me by the Constitution and the laws of the State of Utah, do by this Proclamation call the Sixty–second Legislature of the State of Utah into a First Special Session at the Utah State Capitol, in Salt Lake City, Utah, on the 20th day of September 2017, at 2:00 p.m., to consider the following:

1. The clarification of the statutory authority of municipalities to close class C roads for specified reasons;

2. The approval of the proposed settlement of Utah Department of Transportation's SR-92 litigation with the Flatiron/Harper Joint Venture;

3. The authorization and implementation of a transfer of unused prior year funds from the Department of Corrections to the General Fund and from the General Fund to the Department of Workforce Services for the purpose of supporting Operation Rio Grande; and

4. The modification, consistent with audit findings, of requirements related to the Department of Transportation's imposition of fines for overweight vehicles in Utah Code §72-7-404.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF,
I have hereunto set my hand and
caused to be affixed the Great
Seal of the State of Utah.
Done at the Utah State Capitol
in Salt Lake City, Utah, this 15th day of September 2017.

Gary R. Herbert
Governor

Spencer J. Cox
Lieutenant Governor

Communication filed.

CERTIFICATION

I, Spencer J. Cox, Lieutenant Governor of the State of Utah, do hereby certify that the attached copy of the Proclamation issued on the 15th day of September, 2017 and signed by Governor Gary R. Herbert, is a true and correct copy of the original Proclamation calling the Sixty-Second Legislature of the State of Utah into a First Special Session at the Capitol Complex at Salt Lake City, Utah on the 20th day of September, 2017, at 2:00 p.m., for the purposes named in the Proclamation.

I FURTHER CERTIFY THAT the membership of the Utah State House of Representatives has not changed from that Certification of the 2017 General Session with the following exception:

FORTY-THIRD DISTRICT: County of Salt Lake
Representative Cheryl Acton

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF,
I have hereunto set my hand and
caused to be affixed the Great
Seal of the State of Utah at Salt
Lake City, Utah, this 19th day of November 2017.

Spencer J. Cox
Lieutenant Governor

Communication filed.

MISCELLANEOUS BUSINESS

Roll call showed all members present except Representatives Ken Ivory, Eric Hutchings, and Keven Stratton, excused.

Speaker Hughes announced that pursuant to Joint Rule 2–1–101, the Rules adopted by the Legislature during the 2017 General Session apply to the conduct of the House during the 2017 First Special Session.

The Speaker appointed Representatives Brad Daw, Karianne Lisonbee, and Lynn Hemingway as a committee to meet with a like committee from the Senate to wait upon the Governor to inform him that the Legislature is organized and ready to receive any communication or message he may have to offer.

The Speaker appointed Representatives Robert Spendlove, Mike Winder, and Carol Moss as a committee to notify the Senate to inform that Honorable Body that the House is organized and ready to do business.

On motion of Representative Wilson, as allowed by the Utah Constitution and the Joint Rules of the Legislature, the House voted to continue its practice of reading only the short title of bills and resolutions as they are introduced or considered on a House Calendar and not read the long title of the bills and resolutions unless a majority of the House directs the reading of the long title, short title, or both of any House or Senate bill or resolution.

On motion of Representative King, the House voted to suspend the rule requiring that bills and resolutions remain on a calendar for one legislative day between second and third readings and that the House also suspends the House Rule requiring a favorable recommendation from a House Standing Committee prior to passage of bills and resolutions.

Representative Daw reported that his committee has waited upon the Governor and informed him that the Legislature is organized and ready to do business.

Representative Spendlove reported that his committee has waited upon the Senate and they are organized and ready to do business.

Senators Allen Christensen, Brian Shiozawa, and Jani Iwamoto formally notified the House of Representatives that the Senate is organized and ready to do business.

CERTIFICATION

I, SPENCER J. COX, LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR OF THE STATE OF UTAH, DO HEREBY CERTIFY THAT the attached copy of a Call for Legislative Veto Override Session issued on the 12th day of April, 2018 and signed by Wayne Niederhauser, President of the Senate, and Greg Hughes, Speaker of the Utah House of Representatives, is a true and correct copy of the original Call for Legislative Veto Override Session calling the Sixty-second Legislature of the State of Utah into a Legislative Veto Override Session at the Utah State Capitol on the 18th day of April, 2018, at 1:00 p.m., for the purposes named in the Proclamation.

I further certify that the membership of the Utah House of Representatives has not changed from that of the 2018 General Session.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF,
I have hereunto set my hand and
caused to be affixed the Great
Seal of the State of Utah, at Salt
Lake City, this 18th day of April, 2018.

SPENCER J. COX
Lieutenant Governor

Communication filed.

MISCELLANEOUS BUSINESS

Speaker Hughes announced that Joint Rule 2-1-101 stipulates that the Rules adopted by the Legislature during the 2018 General Session apply to the conduct of the House during the 2018 Veto Override Session.

Speaker Hughes appointed Representatives Ward, Kennedy, and Wheatley to notify the Senate that the House is organized and ready to do business.

Senators Hemmert, Iwamoto, and Zehnder formally notified the House of Representatives that the Senate was organized and ready to do business.

Representative Ward reported that his committee had waited upon the Senate and informed that Honorable Body that the House of Representatives was organized and ready to do business.

On motion of Representative Wilson, the House voted that the Governor's veto letters accompanying the return of H.B. 3, H.B. 198, H.B. 322, and S.B. 171 be spread upon the pages of the House Journal and that the House bills be placed on the House Third Reading Calendar for immediate consideration.

Dear Speaker Hughes and President Niederhauser, March 27, 2018

I have vetoed HB 198, Attorney General Responsibility Amendments because it poses a significant threat to the ability of the Executive Branch to receive legal counsel from the Attorney General and because it interferes with the Office of the Attorney General’s (OAG) responsibilities to determine for itself whether legal conflicts of interest exist.

Pursuant to the Utah Constitution, the Attorney General is the “legal adviser of the State officers.” Art. VII, Section 16. The Utah Supreme Court declared in Hansen v. Utah Retirement Board, 652 P.2d 1332 (1982), that “State officers” means only the executive officers mentioned in Article VII of the Utah Constitution and their respective departments. Notably, the Attorney General has no constitutional duty to provide legal counsel to the Legislature. Instead, the Utah Constitution authorizes the Legislature to appoint its own legal counsel. Art. VI, Section 32(2).

Under that authority, the Legislature has established the Office of Legislative Research and General Counsel, which consists of about two dozen attorneys who serve the Legislative Branch—including by preparing legal opinions. The Attorney General’s constitutional mandate to be the legal adviser of the Executive cannot be limited by statute, nor can the attorney–client relationship between the Attorney General and the State officers be limited or defined by statute. HB 198 attempts to do just that by stating “[t]he attorney general may not invoke the potential conflict of interest or attorney–client privilege as grounds to withhold or refuse to provide the legal opinion required in Subsection 67–5–1(7) and this section.”

Like all attorneys, the OAG has professional responsibilities to carefully evaluate representation of clients to ensure that conflicts of interest do not exist and that its actions will not harm an existing client. Evaluation of those issues is governed by the Rules of Professional Conduct. Specifically, evaluation of whether the OAG may provide an opinion to the Legislature on a matter affecting the OAG’s relationship with an Executive officer or department is governed by Rule 2.3 of the Rules of Professional Conduct.

Under that rule’s guidance, the OAG may do so only if it determines that providing the opinion is compatible with its representation of the Executive officer or department. If the OAG concludes that providing an opinion to the Legislature “is likely to affect the [Executive officer’s] interests materially and adversely, the [AOG] shall not provide the [opinion] unless the [Executive officer] gives informed consent.” Rule 2.3(b). The Legislature may not change this requirement by statute.

HB 198 inappropriately interferes with the OAG’s ability to analyze under Rules of Professional Conduct whether it can provide an opinion to the Legislature. If the OAG concludes that providing a certain opinion to the Legislature will materially and adversely affect the interests of the Executive, the OAG must decline to issue the opinion unless the Executive consents. By imposing a rule of decision contrary to Rule 2.3, HB 198 provides a second standard, one that differs from that articulated by the Utah Supreme Court which has constitutional authority to govern the practice of law.

For these reasons, I have vetoed HB 198.

Sincerely,
GARY R. HERBERT
Governor

Dear Speaker Hughes and President Niederhauser, March 20, 2018

Although I understand the important policies addressed by HB 322, Non–Emergency Patient Transportation Safety Amendments, I have vetoed it at the request of Representative Ed Redd, the bill’s chief sponsor.

On the last day of the General Session, the Legislature passed an amendment that inadvertently omitted 10 words. The omission of the following phrase: “or a non–emergency secure medical transport designated by the department,” will actually eliminate the ability of current providers to make such transports, and will greatly increase costs associated with non–emergency facility–to–facility patient transports.

Because of the significance of these unintended consequences, I have vetoed the bill and look forward to working with the sponsor and members of the Legislature to address the underlying policies in a future special session or general session of the Legislature.

Sincerely,
GARY R. HERBERT
Governor

Communication filed.

Dear Speaker Hughes and President Niederhauser, March 27, 2018

I have vetoed SB 171, Intervention Amendments because it intrudes on a function that is inherently and exclusively in the domain of the Executive Branch. When plaintiffs challenge the constitutionality of a state statute they have judicial standing because they can demonstrate a real or potential harm caused by the execution of the law. In defending these suits, the Office of the Attorney General (OAG) is not only defending the statute itself but current or future execution of the statute. That is why the defendant is the Governor or another Executive officer. Defending these legal challenges is inherently part of the Executive's role of executing the law.

Intervention by the Legislature would only disrupt judicial proceedings. Presumably, the Legislature would intervene because it disagrees with the approach taken by the OAG. Differing positions of the Legislature and the OAG would unnecessarily complicate the proceedings and interfere with the ability of the OAG to pursue legal strategies and to present the state's case.

Some have suggested that an additional review of a case by the Legislature cannot hurt anything and serves only to strengthen the state's position. This is contrary to fundamental notions of separation of powers. The Utah Constitution's explicit separation of powers clause means that even if one branch believes that "two eyes are better than one" that branch still cannot exercise the functions belonging to another branch. Additionally, the Legislature may not exercise Executive authority even when the Legislature believes the Executive is not performing its role properly.

Others have suggested that intervention by the Legislature will not hurt the Executive because the Legislature would present its case in a way that does not detract from the Executive's case. They have argued that SB 171 simply provides an additional track for a state actor to present arguments to the court. This argument is akin to the Governor filing his own bills, under his own name during a legislative session. It would not impede the ability of the Legislature to file bills; it would simply provide another track.

Additionally, SB 171 is worded so broadly that the Legislature would be able to intervene in thousands of cases. Many legislators have provided assurances that this bill would rarely be used. However, the Legislature appropriated $700,000 to implement SB 171, suggesting that the Legislature sees enough work for three attorneys, a paralegal, and a legal secretary.

I look forward to further dialogue about how the Executive Branch may properly seek input from the Legislature in defending the type of challenges at issue in SB 171.

Sincerely,
GARY R. HERBERT
Governor
