STATE OF UTAH
SENATE JOURNAL
2018 GENERAL SESSION of the
SIXTY-SECOND LEGISLATURE
FIRST DAY
MORNING SESSION
January 22, 2018

Pursuant to the provisions of the Constitution of the State of Utah, the Senators of the Sixty-Second Legislature of the State of Utah convened in General Session in the Senate Chamber on Monday, January 22, 2018, at ten o'clock a.m.

The Senate was called to order at 10:07 a.m., by Senate President Wayne L. Niederhauser.

PRAYER BY ELDER MICHAEL RINGWOOD OF THE CHURCH OF JESUS CHRIST OF LATTER-DAY SAINTS

Our kind Heavenly Father. We're grateful to gather in this beautiful room, this beautiful winter day and express appreciation to thee for the many blessings that we enjoy. We're grateful, most of all for this great state of Utah. We recognize it as a place of gathering for people from around the world who have come here to find solace, have come here to find peace, have come here to enjoy a quality of life that is perhaps not surpassed in any other place. We're grateful for this country and this state and for the principles it's been founded upon. We are grateful, this morning for these men and women who have gathered to begin this Legislative session. We recognize that they are sacrificing time from occupation, professions, and most importantly from family, and we pray that thou will bless them, as they meet together, as they deliberate, as they talk and discuss things that will improve the quality of life for the citizens of this great state. We recognize that they are representative of the people and pray that they might fulfill their responsibility, their chosen responsibility, to represent those people. We pray for them that they will have the attributes that are necessary for them to fulfill successfully their responsibilities. Mostly, we pray that we'll all be blessed with compassion, that we'll understand the plight, the difficulties that many people face, and find ways to alleviate and help. We pray that they will be blessed as they tackle social, economic and political issues. We pray that thy choicest blessings will be with them throughout this session. These things we ask in the name of Jesus Christ, Amen.

BOY SCOUT OF AMERICA TROOPS 1994

Pledge of Allegiance – Oswaldo Daniel Sanchez

Musical number – The National Anthem, American Anthem, and Danny Boy were sung by members of the Utah Opera. The performers were Robert Rosworth, Abigail Rathwisch, Melanie Ashkar, Christopher Oglesby, and Jesús Murillo.

A citation was read honoring the Utah Opera on their 40th anniversary.

On motion of Senator Ralph Okerlund, the Senate thanked Elder Michael Ringwood for delivering the invocation and requested his words to be spread upon the pages of the Senate Journal. He also expressed appreciation to Scout Troop 1994, Oswaldo Daniel Sanchez for leading the pledge and members of the Utah Opera Company for their participation in the opening of the Utah State Senate.

On motion of Senator Henderson, the 2018 Senate Rules, Joint Rules and Interim Rules adopted by the 2017 Seventh Extraordinary Session of the Sixty-Second Legislature were adopted with the understanding that changes to these rules for the Sixty-Second Legislature will be considered and adopted as soon as possible.

On motion of Senator Henderson, as allowed by the Utah Constitution and Joint Rules of the Legislature, the Senate voted to continue its practice of reading only the short title of bills and resolutions as they are introduced or considered on the Senate calendar and not read the long title of the bills and resolutions unless a majority of the Senate directs the reading of the long title, short title, or both of any House or Senate bill or resolution. The motion passed.

WELCOMING REMARKS BY PRESIDENT NIEDERHAUSER

Welcome everyone to opening day. I am looking forward to a great session, and working hard with each you for the people of the State of Utah during the next 45 days. Notably, I want to recognize our newest Senator, Brian Zehnder. Senator Brian Zehnder, welcome to Senate, and your family, Jean and your children. I have met Keith, but I have not met your two daughters, but we welcome you to the family of the Senate. We're anxious to get to know you by working with you and associating with you in a very close setting for the next several weeks.

I also want to acknowledge and mention that we are going to miss Senator Shiozawa, who has been part of our body for many years, and his wife Joye and wish them our best in their new venture with the US HHS office in Denver. We wish them the best of luck.

I would be remiss if didn't recognize our Senate full-time and session employees that make all this happen for us. Many thanks to each of you. Let's give them a hand. And also, our families that make this all happen and possible for us, that carry a heavy load while we're away for 45 days. My family think it's a relieve for 45 days, and I appreciate each of my family members being here today, Notably my mother Mary Beth Niederhauser and Melissa's mother Beverly Barrett. We appreciate them.

I want to begin my remarks this morning by talking about The Great Seal of the United States.

To preface my remarks regarding the seal: I found copious amounts of information in my research connecting the elements of the seal to the occult and secret societies, but my references today will focus on the plain and obvious meanings of the symbols. I want to emphasize that. Much of the information I am using came from the US Department of State, Bureau of Public Affairs.

Designing of Seal

To my surprise, the adoption of The Great Seal of the United States took some time. Congress organized three committees over a six-year period each of which failed to present a design that Congress would approve.

Regarding the first of the three committees the history relates:

“The challenge facing the committee was to translate intangible principles and ideals into graphic symbols. Three of the best minds of the Age of Enlightenment—Franklin, Adams, and Jefferson—struggled unsuccessfully with Biblical and classical themes, including the Children of Israel in the Wilderness and the Judgment of Hercules. Finally, they sought the help of a talented “drawer” and portrait artist, Pierre Eugene du Simitiere. To the post of consultant, Du Simitiere brought some knowledge of heraldry—the art of describing coats of arms—and also the experience in designing seals.

Four features recommended by the first committee and its consultant were later adopted in the final seal: The Eye of Providence, and the date of independence, 1776 in Roman numerals (MDCCLXXVI), both of which appeared on the final reverse side of the seal. And the shield and the Latin motto, E Pluribus Unum (Out of many, one), on the obverse side or the main side.

The first committee submitted its design on August 20, 1776, but the Congress ordered the report “to lie on the table,” indicating the lack of approval.” As we know, “table” and “approval” in the same sentence are seldom in harmony.

On the far left you will notice the seal that committee number one came up with, the middle is committee number two. I don’t know if you can see those very well, but that’s the best pictures I could find. And the one on the far right is committee number three.

After two more committees attempted to satisfy the Congress, it was still not satisfied. “On June 13, 1782, it presented the collected work and recommendations of the three committees to Charles Thomson, Secretary of Congress. Thomson was not an artist, but he was a practical man with the ability to get things done. He selected the best features of all the previous designs, assigning prominence to the eagle. Feeling that the new nation’s symbol should be strictly American...” Thomson worked with William Barton, the artist from the third committee and together they designed the final product. Thomson presented the seal with some remarks and explanation to the Congress on June 20, 1782. The Congress acted the same day and adopted the report, which did not contain a drawing of either design.

Thus, nearly 6 years after establishment of the first committee, Charles Thomson and William Barton “brought in a device.” The Great Seal of the United States was unique—simple and uncluttered, yet bold—the composite product of many minds.”

The Seal has two sides, which I don't think we consider very much. If you look at the back of a dollar bill, it has both sides of the seal represented there. Both sides are enclosed within a circle.

“The circle (according to Hermeticism) is a universal symbol with extensive meaning. It represents the notions of totality, wholeness, original perfection, the Self, the infinite, eternity, timelessness, all cyclic movement, (and) God” (Hermes Trismegistus)

I would like to go over each element.

We'll start with the Obverse Side, the side of the coin that bears the principle design.

Eagle: In the center is a bald eagle our national bird and common symbol of our country.

Arrows: In its left talon, the eagle holds thirteen arrows. A symbol of war.

Olive Branch: In its right talon, the eagle holds an olive branch with thirteen leaves and thirteen olives. The olive branch symbolizes peace.

Notice that the eagle's head is turned toward the olive branch symbolizing our favor for peace, along with the arrows which are emblematic of our constant readiness to defend that peace and our country.

Shield: The shield with thirteen red or white stripes covers the eagle's breast. The stripes are united under the head, called the chief, of blue which's represents Congress.

Blue, the color of the Chief, signifies vigilance, perseverance and justice. White is a symbol of purity and innocence. Red symbolizes hardiness and valor. Cloud: Above the eagle's head is a cloud containing a constellation of thirteen stars breaking through at the dawning of a new day.

Scroll: The eagle holds in its beak a scroll inscribed with the words of our original national motto – E Pluribus Unum, which is Latin for “out of many, one”.

Now, the Reverse Side of the Seal

Pyramid: At the center is a pyramid with 13 levels.

Roman Numeral: The bottom level has inscribed the Roman numeral for 1776, the year that we declared ourselves a country.

Novus Ordo Seclorum: Below the pyramid is the Latin word for “New order of the ages”, Novus Ordo Seclorum, referring to the beginning of the American Era.

Annuit Coeptis: At the top are the Latin words for “He favors our undertakings”, Annuit Coeptis, which refers to the Eye of Providence immediately above the Pyramid.

The Eye of Providence is commonly referred to as the “all seeing eye of God”. Some suggest the eye is within a triangle signifying the Trinity.

I counted six features of thirteen, which is symbolic of the original thirteen colonies, but also the number thirteen is often associated with transformation and rebirth. This was obviously very important. There is the Constellation of thirteen stars, The Stripes on the Shield, the Olives, the Olive leaves, the Arrows and the Levels of the pyramid.

I have used this research as the motivation for this year’s Senate Coins. Yes, I refer to “coins” in the plural sense.

While they’re being handed out, my objective was to put the great seal of the United States on the coin. We found out that we may need to get permission from the Department of State and have been in the midst of that for some time without success. So, I designed another coin of my own making, each which has the Senate seal on the obverse side, and on the back, we’ve gone ahead and are just going to pass these out without permission from the State Department. It says in the law that we can use them for governmental purposes, and this is obviously a governmental purpose.

I looked at a lot of different seals that were put together during the three committees. And one of those designs had all the colonies on the outside, so if you’re looking at the one in the box, there is a star representing each colony and then a shield with the abbreviation of each colony.

I was perplexed that there were two colonies there that I didn’t recognize, and that was MB and DC, and it took a little bit of research to figure out. So right at the top is MB which is Massachusetts Bay. There is New Hampshire, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, DC, now that’s not Washington DC, that’s Delaware Colony. That is how they referred to those two, Massachusetts Bay and Delaware Colony. I’m not sure why I could not find out the reasons why. There’s Maryland, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina and Georgia. And notice what links them together. It’s a chain. It’s this “out of many one” linked together in a strong bond with a chain. And in the middle, is the eye of Providence shining forth, and as stated is “he favors our undertakings”. Or we hope he favors our undertakings. At the top is E Pluribus Unum, and at the bottom is the Roman Numeral for 1776.

There are two things that deeply impressed me in my study of the Great Seal of the United States.

First, the designers and Congress desired to symbolize the power and providence of God in the creation of our country. That was clearly evident.

Second, the concept of E Pluribus Unum, out of many, one. It means for us the joining of thirteen separate colonies into one country, the bringing of many nationalities, races and religions into one nation and applicable for our present day and situation, the bringing of 104 legislators from all parts of our great state with different vision, background and ideas into a process toward one state policy. The principle of E Pluribus Unum is not easy. It is fraught with challenges like ego, and impatience, misunderstanding, and legitimate disagreement. This is Utah’s 45–day forum of free speech, where ideas and policies are presented and debated in civility, decorum, and deliberation (we hope), to achieve common ground and general acceptance. This is the foundation and greatness of our country, bringing many into one.

Some of the major policy discussions that we will face this year include:

Education, Elections, Opioid Crisis, Infrastructure.

As I’ve mentioned before, our three biggest issues are Infrastructure, Infrastructure, Infrastructure. Funding and governance of those systems. It’s infrastructure items that creep up on us and that start day for me was about 6 months ago, when I realized that we’re facing huge congestion on our freeways today and on our state roads and local roads, that I really hadn’t noticed until about up to 6 months ago. This is after several billion dollars of investment over the last couple of decades. This is a huge issue for us. We are going to have to do a lot of work to meet the needs of our infrastructure going forward. Which infrastructure includes educational infrastructure, recreational assets.

There will be: Public Lands, Water, and Tax Reform.

I want to emphasize today, though you’ve heard me mention this many times before, that one of the structural problems that we deal with in this state, has to do with infrastructure. Six hundred million dollars, in round figures, comes out of our general fund to pay for transportation. This has happened over a long time. There are some good things to that, that we could go into in more depth, but we won’t today. That is a huge issue that we face as a legislature. We don't have to solve all of the problems today, but we need to incrementally do our part.

I want to emphasize an opportunity that we have for income tax reform, broadening the base and lowering the rate. Last year, we attempted to do this, but it got caught up in who would get the benefit of any kind of rate reduction. That often is to the rich, so to speak, and so it becomes political for us to actually do what is economically good.

I want to highlight what happened on a federal in the 1980s. President Reagan, a new president, and a democratic congress took on tax reform. The personal income tax top marginal rate was 70% coming out of the nineteen seventies. The 1981 tax reform lowered the rate to 50%. Who do you think got the lion's share of the benefit from that initiative? Ronald Reagan and a Democratic Congress passed this reform.

In 1986 the reform went even further. It took the rate from 50% to 28%. I think that we can show that our economy has been reaping the benefits of the tax reform that happened in the 1980's.

I challenge us to do what might be hard and see if we can fine a way to lower the rate and broaden the base, as far as our income tax is concerned. This year, with the federal reform, we have a once in a multi-decade opportunity to do something like this.

Today, we begin a course toward a balanced budget and significant public policy for the good of the people of Utah that we represent.

May we be the best we can be in this hallowed effort.

This ends my remarks.

To our dear and loving friend, Matt Hillyard. On January 4, Matt Hillyard graduated from this life to the glorious life to come. When I heard the news that day, my first thought was "I'm so happy for Matt, but sad for us". We will miss him. Matt loved Aggies. We shared that. It was a common bond for Matt and I.

Matt loved and cherished birthday's. (Video of Senators singing to Matt Hillyard followed by this comment from Senator Hillyard: I don't think there is anyone that enjoys birthday's more than Matt.) Did you hear what Senator Hillyard said? Isn't that the truth, nobody I know of cherished birthday's like he did. We all have memories and experiences with Matt that we will cherish forever. The experiences will live on.

Just a couple of connections that I had to Matt. One is my mother, who was his Primary teacher. We lived near the Hillyard's when Matt was young and so I've known Matt a long time. One thing that I've noticed about Matt is Alice and Lyle, who did an amazing job as parents. I can't express how deeply I'm impressed with their parenthood as it related to Matt. We high-fived a lot because we are both Logan boys. Melissa had a special connection with Matt. When we had the Senate President's dinner a few years ago, he came to our house and spent the evening with our children. That will be a cherished memory for them. We will conclude with a tribute video that our staff has put together. Then I'm going to recognize Senator Hillyard for some remarks. (video) We love you Matt and we are going to miss you!

Senator Hillyard:

Thank you Mr. President. I didn't know how hard this would be. I knew the day would come, but we're never ready for it. Matt's health has not been good, as you know, for the last two years. For the last two months he's been in bed most of the time, didn't have the strength, had congestive heart failure, and water was building up in his body. I'll tell you, I've been overwhelmed, Alice and I have been overwhelmed with the response, not only in Logan, not only in the Senate, but in the State of Utah and outside. People who have been touched by him. His pure love. I'd joke, he even loved Howard Stephenson. Alice made a comment as we were at the viewing and she just said to someone how much Matt loved him, and she turned to me and she said "he loved everybody". There wasn't anyone in the line he hadn't had a relationship and loved.

So let me tell you what I've thought today and we are going to hand out a card to you, the staff. It's a thank-you card with Matt's picture on it. We had proposed to mail it out. It will be for every Senator, and we have 50 of them, so it will be staff and other people who would like to have one. And I haven't written in them because I'm going to say three things to you that I want you to either write in your mind or write in this paper itself, because Matt did have a big, big impact on so many people in such a positive way.

First of all, I want you to remember this session, and I'd invite you to follow Matt's example of loving everyone. You know I'm not a huggy person, but I've become a huggy person in the last month. I just so appreciate people who have come through the line and given us hugs and shown love. I don't know if you can give loves to everyone after we've had our sexual harassment training, but I would say this. I would invite everyone here that when you meet someone, give them your full attention. That's what Matt did. He was happy to see you and would want to involve you in all of these things. So I want you to, the first goal in this session, when you meet anyone either you know or don't know, give them your full attention. Talk to them with your eyes and make them feel like they are as important as Matt made you feel.

The second challenge I would give you is to learn the words “thank-you”. You know, my wife’s brother and his wife live next door to us, and her name is Margene. Ever since Matt was little he called her “mamagene”. And she brought pancakes or waffles almost every Saturday morning over to her. She had a sourdough start. The doorbell would ring on Saturday morning often, and he would go up there, even in the snow, would be mamagene with a plate of pancakes or waffles for him. I said something to her one time, “why do you do this so much”. She said because he always calls and thanks me. I didn’t even know he did that. But he did that, he’d call and thank. He loved to send thank-you notes and he wasn’t able to do that the last couple of years. He’d, on Sunday afternoons, sit at the kitchen table and write a note to somebody and he would always sign it, “love you, miss you, love Matt.” And I’ve had a number of people call me that day and said “I got that note”, and it just hit me – love you, miss you, love Matt. So I would hope that we learn that great word of Thank you. That we can say that everybody we work with, that they would feel like you are concerned about them as Matt always was.

The final thing that I would share with you is that Matt was very competitive. He loved games. He would play Phase 10, or Uno, or Sorry, or whatever it was. And he was very competitive, he really liked to win. And when he won, he would cheer, but when you won, he would cheer for you. There were no losers at the games that Matt played. Because he looked at winners all the way around. We get in a pretty competitive atmosphere up here, of wanting to win or lose. I would invite you this session to remember Matt, to make sure there are no losers, that when we win, we win, but when someone else wins we cheer for them as well.

Because I think again he lived far longer than anyone ever thought he would. The doctor said a month or so ago, there is not a doctor alive that can tell you why he is still alive. His blood (alcohol, blood alcohol, I’ve got to clear my mind. Actually I sit too close to Jerry Stevenson.) His blood oxygen was in the 60’s, 50’s and down in the 40’s the last little bit of his life. But I tell you, he is who he is because of a number of things, including you people here now, and who have sat in your chairs. Who have reached out and touched his life. Alice and I have both decided, that he touched your lives. So I would hope this session, you would take your card that we have just given out. “A big thank you from Matthew David Hillyard” and either in your mind, or write in the card, or keep that picture of Matt in your mind and remember these three things: love everyone you approach, thank you, and there are no losers. If you all do that you are going to find yourself and your family shocked at the outpouring of response you receive when you come to that final day. Again, Matt is gone somewhere else and I just hope he can reach down far enough to reach my hand when I come there that I can get up to where he is. He has really touched a lot and you have helped him.

Mr. President, I appreciate you giving me a bit of time to speak here today. I know I speak for our family. Those of you, and many of you, came to the funeral. I think you could say it was not an ordinary funeral. It was really a special one of four children paying tribute to their brother, and the unity that it created within our family that made them better people as well, being siblings of Matt Hillyard, and you as well.

Thank you Mr. President.

President Niederhauser: Loveyoumissyou, without spaces, right Lyle? It would run on, that was the signature of Matt's.

President Niederhauser thanked the Hillyard's for sharing Matt with them for so many years.

On motion of Senator Adams, the Senate voted to have President Niederhauser's and Senator Hillyard's remarks spread upon the pages of the 2018 Senate Journal.

AFTERNOON SESSION

The Senate was called to order by President Wayne Niederhauser at 2:37 p.m.

STATE OF THE JUDICIARY

REMARKS BY CHIEF JUSTICE MATTHEW B. DURRANT

COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE

On motion of Senator Okerlund, the Legislature resolved itself into a Committee of the Whole for the purpose of hearing from Chief Justice Matthew B. Durrant, Utah Supreme Court.

Thank you President Niederhauser for the invitation to report on the state of our judiciary. I am honored to be with you today.

I'm joined by Associate Chief Justice Thomas Lee, Justice Deno Himonas, Justice John Pearce, and our newest justice, Paige Petersen, whom we welcome enthusiastically to our court. It is a great personal and professional privilege to serve with such dedicated and principled jurists.

I am also joined by members of our judicial council, who are sitting in the gallery, as well as by our new court administrator, Richard Schwermer, someone you all know well.

As I introduce my colleagues, it strikes me that all have joined me on the supreme court within the last eight years. Not only have these four justices joined our ranks, but 77 district court and juvenile court judges have taken the bench during that same time. As you can tell, it is a time of great change for the judiciary. In addition to the many new judges who have joined us and the changes in our administrative office, we have implemented some of the most significant policy reforms—in criminal, civil, and juvenile justice—in our history.

One momentous change I have yet to mention is the retirement of Justice Christine Durham. I know you will be honoring her later in the session, but I'd like to say just a few words about her today. Much has been said of all she has done for women—the trails she has blazed, the doors she has opened, and the inspiration she has provided. But as important as her contributions have been in this regard, that only tells part of the story. She has inspired just as many men as she has women, and, in my view, she has done more for our state's judiciary than any other person who has served in it.

Now, I hate to put too much pressure on Justice Petersen, but that is one daunting legacy to live up to. I have to say, though, that if anyone is up to that task, it is Paige Petersen. In her very short tenure on our court, she has already shown herself to have a brilliant and incisive legal mind. What's more, she has proven to be a delightful colleague. We are thrilled to have her join us.

We in the judiciary are dedicated to justice—and to increasing the public's access to it—as well as to fairness and accountability. Commitment to these principles is not unique to us. We know that you share that commitment. You, like us, have taken an oath to support, obey, and defend the Constitution of the United States and the Constitution of Utah, and to discharge the duties of your office with fidelity. It is a sacred oath, and cannot be honored without a heartfelt commitment to justice, fairness, and accountability.

I recently visited the U.S. Supreme Court building in our nation's capitol. It's an inspirational building that symbolizes the importance of the rule of law. Some of you may know that before the current and instantly recognizable building was constructed, the Supreme Court was hidden away in the basement of the U.S. Capitol. At that time, a lawmaker from New York famously stated: "A stranger might traverse the dark avenues of the capitol for a week, without finding the remote corner in which justice is administered to the American Republic."

As the judicial branch, that is, in fact, our specific role—to administer justice. But it is not one for which we have the exclusive right or responsibility. Our beautiful courtroom in this historic building is not hidden away in a remote corner. And justice is not revered only in that room, but by all the public servants who labor in this capitol. No one should wander these halls without stumbling upon sincere efforts to administer justice. This is our shared responsibility.

You, the legislature, discharge this responsibility by creating just and fair laws. The executive branch does so by faithfully enforcing the law. And we, the judiciary, do it by fairly and impartially interpreting the law.

We are proud to be part of a government here in Utah where justice is not hidden away, but is a bright beacon that guides all that we do as public servants.

We each serve different roles in this grand enterprise of government, but we share the same objective. And we are all dedicated to upholding that majestic principle that has made America a shining city on a hill—the rule of law. We are a government not of men, or of women, but of law. We as public servants come and go, but the law remains.

I would like to highlight a few ways in which our different but complementary roles have helped us, through working together, to honor our shared commitment to justice, fairness, and accountability. I'll start with our joint efforts to reform our criminal justice system, then move to examples where we worked together to improve civil justice, and conclude with our combined work to reform our juvenile justice system.

CRIMINAL JUSTICE REFORM

A fine example of what can be achieved through cooperation among the three branches of government is how we, in this past year, have together addressed the issue of homelessness and related criminal law questions. The coordinated response to this issue involved dozens of state and local entities, including the courts. As for our courts' contribution, while the Salt Lake City Justice Court bore the brunt of the immediate caseload increase, a longer-term solution was clearly required. Research tells us that a drug court is the most effective way to serve that part of the population with severe substance use disorder coupled with significant criminal history. So, through the combined effort of you, the legislature, Salt Lake County, The Division of Substance Abuse and Mental Health, and the Department of Health, a new drug court was formed, the fourth drug court in Salt Lake County. Judge Todd Shaughnessy has stepped up and volunteered to preside over this new court. This court increased our drug court capacity by 125 treatment slots, and we already have 95 participants in this new program.

The result of this collaboration can be seen every Thursday afternoon in the successes being achieved and the progress being made by those participants, most of whom are well on their way to sobriety and a crime-free life. We are deeply appreciative of the funds you have allocated for criminal justice related treatment. They have made a real difference. I understand that this session you will be considering accessing additional treatment funds through some form of Medicaid expansion, and I wholeheartedly encourage such efforts. There is simply no better investment that can be made to improve public safety than an investment in treatment.

Another example of how we have worked together to improve our criminal justice system is the way in which we have addressed the problem of inadequate representation of indigent defendants. The judiciary conducted a study of this issue that served as the basis for your creation of the Indigent Defense Commission, a commission charged with developing attorney representation standards and with monitoring 6th Amendment compliance. The committee also allocates money to underfunded local defense systems—money that you appropriated. This commission plays a vital role in improving access to justice.

In addition, as you have sought to reform the criminal justice system by making the law more proportional and rehabilitative, we have worked with you to ensure that those reforms are administered in a fair and just way. Your work has been groundbreaking. You have focused on individualized evaluations and treatment. We have built upon that effort by looking for ways to provide more information to judges so that they can make better sentencing decisions. Like you, the more information we have, the better the decisions we are able to make.

The same is true of judges' pre-trial decisions. We have worked hard to provide judges with more information so that they might make these decisions in a way that is both more fair and better focused on public safety. We are doing this through a tool that will apprise judges of critical facts about a defendant's criminal history, facts that, remarkable as it may seem, are currently unavailable to judges. This includes information such as the defendant's history of past arrests, convictions, convictions for violent crimes, and failures to appear in court. You have raised important questions about these changes, and we have met with many of you to address them. We are hopeful that your concerns have been allayed, and we look forward to implementing this important reform.

And in this regard, I want to thank the senators and representatives who have served on our Pre-trial Study Committee, as well as on our Standing Committee on Pre-trial Release and Supervision. The Commission on Criminal and Juvenile Justice and the Sentencing Commission have also provided invaluable support to our pre-trial reform effort, and I want to thank the legislators who serve on those commissions.

CIVIL JUSTICE REFORM

Next, a couple of examples of how we have worked together to improve civil justice in our state. We worked closely with a number of you and the Utah State Bar to create the Licensed Paralegal Practitioner Program. In developing this new initiative, we changed the definition of the practice of law to allow a market-driven solution for one aspect of our access-to-justice problem. These LPPs will provide services that traditionally have been provided only by lawyers. They will serve those who, because they can't afford lawyer fees, have historically been unrepresented.

Also, as you have sought to find legislative ways in which to serve the aged and disabled, we have endeavored to enhance your efforts through our Court Visitor Program, in which selfless volunteers devote many hours, under court direction, visiting the homes of vulnerable individuals to ensure that they are well cared for and not taken advantage of. We call this program the Guardianship Review and Monitoring Program, affectionately known as GRAMP. You will see a request for the continued funding of this program, and I'm sure you will give it careful consideration.

JUVENILE JUSTICE REFORM

Finally, two examples of our joint effort to improve juvenile justice. We are grateful to Representative Snow and others who have been so thoughtful and inclusive in their approach. As you know, this has not been an easy process. Significant change is uncomfortable, and we judges are not immune to those feelings. But I want to assure you that we understand our role, which is to interpret and enforce the law that you write, as you write it.

In this respect, please know that we care deeply about what you do here. We focus on every word you choose in the legislation you pass. It is often remarkable just how much difference a particular word choice can make. It is our responsibility to carefully determine what those words mean, and we take that responsibility very seriously.

In conclusion, while I have touched upon some of the joint efforts of your branch and ours to better serve the people of Utah, overarching all of this is, as I have discussed, our shared devotion to justice, fairness, and accountability. I am proud of our judges and their commitment to these principles, as I am of those dedicated public servants who work alongside those judges in our courts. And despite the fact that few people who come to court really want to, and many of those who do come walk away disappointed with their result, court participants consistently recognize that they have been treated with respect and fairness. Our most recent survey showed that 93% of those who visit our courts are satisfied with their experience. 96% percent felt that they were treated with courtesy and respect, and 91% felt that their hearing was fair. I take pride in these results not only because they reflect the dedication of our judges and their staff, but because they demonstrate our deep commitment to finding ways to do our jobs better.

Thank you for the sacrifices you make to serve our state's citizens, and I wish you the best of luck this session. Thank you.

President Wayne Niederhauser called the Joint Convention to order at 6:15 p.m. in the Chamber of the Utah House of Representatives and recognized Gregory H. Hughes, Speaker of the House.

President Niederhauser announced that a quorum of the House of Representatives and the Senate was present.

President Niederhauser appointed a Joint Committee comprised of Senators Stuart Adams, Peter Knudson and Gene Davis, and Representatives Brad Wilson, Francis Gibson, and Brian King to notify Governor Gary R. Herbert that the 2018 General Session of the Sixty–Second Legislature is in Joint Convention and ready to hear his State–of–the–State address.

President Niederhauser acknowledged special guests and elected and appointed officials in attendance at the Joint Convention.

Senator Stuart Adams made a motion that the Legislature resolve into a Joint Convention and Committee of the Whole for the purpose of hearing Governor Herbert’s State–of–the–State address.

The Joint Committee escorted Governor Herbert to the House rostrum.

STATE–OF–THE–STATE ADDRESS
BY GOVERNOR GARY R. HERBERT

President Niederhauser, Speaker Hughes, members of the Legislature, justices of the Supreme Court, Utah’s First Lady, Lieutenant Governor and Mrs. Cox, other constitutional officers, and my fellow Utahns: It is an honor to address you this evening in our historic State Capitol.

It was here, last year, that we managed to balance our budget and pass over 500 bills in 45 days. And on our watch I don’t recall a single government shutdown.

For each of the past eight years I have come before you in this special setting to talk about policy and priorities. I usually tout our economic growth and urge increased funding for education; I talk about taxation and transportation; I encourage ways to improve our social services and our environmental stewardship.

Along the way I might even brag about some particular successes. And, if you’re really lucky, you might even hear me share how Utah ranks at the top of a national survey or two.

Each year, I am required by the Constitution to present to the legislature the State of the State. And each year, I have been pleased to report to you that our state is healthy, it’s growing, and it’s very successful.

This year, my overall report is more optimistic than ever. I am pleased to report to you today that by every meaningful metric, the state of the State of Utah is truly exceptional.

As I have given some thought about this special occasion, where the leadership of the state of Utah is gathered and focused for a few rare moments, I have felt inclined to use this time just a little bit differently.

So, tonight, in order to get your fill of Utah bragging rights, you'll have to get out your smartphone and go to utah.gov/stateofthestate where you will find an abundance of commendations. And if you were hoping for a detailed review of my budgetary and legislative priorities, simply visit: utah.gov/stateofthestate.

I believe you already know what we need to be doing in the remaining 42 days of this session.

You already know that we need to prioritize funding and standards for the kind of learning that educates the hearts and minds of our children so that they can flourish in our highly competitive global marketplace.

You already know that we need to update our tax code so that it conforms to the realities of today's dynamic marketplace while anticipating what tomorrow might bring.

You already know that we need to strive to keep tax rates low and revenue reliable by broadening the base.

You already know that we need to think proactively about infrastructure so that we maintain what we build, so that users pay their fair share, and so that we are investing in the future of our great state.

You already know that we need to think creatively about transportation funding so that our finite funds provide the most cost effective solutions, regardless of the mode of travel, for getting people to where they want and need to go.

You already know that although we have continued to reduce overall emissions, we need to do much more to encourage responsible choices and pursue evidence-based improvements for our air quality.

You already know that we need to patch up holes that are in our social safety net.

And you also know that we need to do all of this without growing the size, the scope or the burden of government carried by the taxpayer.

That's a big ask. But I know we can do these hard things.

So, tonight I want to talk about the good that comes from doing the hard things. I would like to talk about building our future together, about how we perpetuate our unique culture of self-reliance and personal responsibility, and how, together, we can build a better, a kinder and a more civil world.

Let's begin with a little history. This book contains the Laws of Utah passed in 1917.

Back in the day, general sessions of the legislature only met in odd-numbered years. One hundred and one years ago, in 1917, the House and the Senate passed, and Governor Simon Bamberger then signed into law, 131 bills that span a total of 458 pages.

And they did some pretty big things back then: For starters, they passed statewide prohibition of alcohol — a full three years before it became a nationwide policy.

But let's consider some of their other accomplishments. They modernized Utah's contract law. They created workmen's compensation. They expanded public vocational education. They passed securities regulation to prevent against fraud. They expanded our system of roads.

And because of many of their efforts we really are better off as a state today.

I can't help but wonder: Were they thinking about how their work would be remembered 100 years later?

So now I ask this question of us all: How will the decisions we make today shape Utah 100 years into the future?

I understand that 1277 bill files have been opened for this session. As one of your colleagues said to me earlier this week, "It may be a bit much." I recognize that the pressure on you from constituents to address problems through legislation is tremendous. We're also one of the fastest growing states in the nation, and we do have lots of things that need to be dealt with today. It can be a little bit overwhelming.

But I would like to believe that as we prioritize our work this session that a tax reform bill sponsored by President Wayne Niederhauser, for example, or an education bill sponsored by Representative Carol Spackman Moss, or a bill benefitting rural Utah sponsored by Representative Scott Sandall will have meaningful impacts on the state not only today — but will lay a foundation for the success and well-being of our children and our grandchildren into the future.

One month ago my six children, along with their spouses and fifteen of our sixteen grandchildren all gathered at our home for our traditional Christmas Eve celebration. Everyone but a granddaughter who is currently serving an LDS mission was able to enjoy our tradition of hot chocolate, karaoke and singing “Silent Night” around the Christmas Tree.

It is remarkable to consider in this age of economic dislocation that three generations of Herberts can enjoy fulfilling lives right here together, living just twenty minutes apart from one another.

I think we all want to give our families the best world we possibly can, and I have become increasingly concerned about the kind of world that we are creating for our children and for our grandchildren.

I think of my granddaughter, McKelle, who is serving as a Mandarin Chinese speaking missionary in Melbourne Australia. Everyday she sees globalization first hand, witnessing the dynamic economic growth and the blend of cultures in Asia and the South Pacific.

Just like all young people who are concerned about their future, she will ask a lot of questions about her own future when she returns home this year.

Will her experience and training match the economic opportunities here?

Will she find a workplace that protects her from harassment and gives her equal opportunity for her equal potential?

As she pursues the American Dream, will our culture reflect the ideal of human dignity found in our Declaration of Independence?

Will our society honor the fundamental rights guaranteed to all of us in our Constitution?

This is why we are here: To ensure that the answer to these questions is a resounding and emphatic “yes.”

As the elected representatives in the state, it is sometimes tempting to think that it is what we do with policies, with procedures and with appropriations that makes all the difference in the well-being of our state.

Now, don’t get me wrong — our law and policy are critically important. I know from personal experience, and you do too, that few things can be more detrimental than bad law and bad policy.

Let us never forget the old adage “that the government is best that governs least.”

But I firmly believe that what is most important for our prosperity and our well-being, today and one hundred years from now, is a strong culture of work, self-reliance, shared responsibility and mutual respect.

This unique culture is not just about rugged individualism.

It is the sensibility that Utahns have always had — an understanding that while no one else is going to come and solve the hard problems for us, “we can achieve together what none of us can do alone.”

It is, in the words of Katherine Lee Bate’s great American hymn, that “patriot dream, that sees beyond the years.”

This is Utah’s unique spirit of collaboration.

It is based on a moral commitment that when we say “We the People” we mean all the people — the rich, the poor, the weak and the strong.

And when I talk about Utah’s unique spirit of collaboration, I am not just talking about government. I am also talking about the collaboration of the citizenry and the private sector.

Yes, government has a critical role in optimizing policy. But even the smartest policies will mean very little if we fail to support each other.

Last Friday night, Jeanette and I attended an opening premiere at the Sundance Film Festival. We watched a fascinating documentary called “Won’t You Be My Neighbor.” And I gained a new appreciation for the life and work of Fred Rogers — known affectionately to millions simply as Mister Rogers.

Fred Rogers once said this:

“We live in a world in which we need to share responsibility. It’s easy to say ‘it’s not my child, not my community, not my world, not my problem.’”

He went on to say, “Then there are those who see the need and respond. Those people are my heroes.”

Here in Utah, I am humbled to stand in the presence of many, many heroes.

I am grateful everyday as Utahns see a concern and step up to address a problem where there is no playbook. And it happens all the time.

For example, could Utah's rural schools benefit from better connections to the high tech boom along the Wasatch Front? Absolutely.

Well, enter BrainStorm, Inc., whose employees decided to adopt Mont Harmon Middle School in Carbon County and provide guidance and inspiration in coding, video editing and virtual reality.

Could an inner city elementary school benefit from some extra classroom support? Of course.

Well, enter Intrepid, a communications and PR firm, whose employees volunteer regularly in the first grade at Meadowlark Elementary in Rose Park.

When natural disasters strike in other parts of the United States, could those states or territories use extra help? Certainly.

Enter Jarem Hallows. Jarem was in a hospital bed receiving treatments for stage four cancer when he heard about the twin hurricanes that struck Puerto Rico and destroyed the power grids. He saw beyond his own need and moved to help his fellow man.

Along with Jorge Alvarado, Lieutenant Governor Spencer Cox, Auditor John Dougall, Tani Downing from my cabinet, my son Brad and his wife Carmen and so many others, he put Operation "Light up Puerto Rico" into action, delivering light and hope to people who had been living in the dark.

Once again Utahns stepped up, when there was no playbook, to help their fellow man.

When I became governor I said that Utah would unlock unlimited possibilities through unprecedented partnerships.

Consider what we have done with education. It has been through the unprecedented partnership of all our education stakeholders that we been able to unite and focus on a ten-year education roadmap. It has been through unprecedented partnerships between businesses and schools that we have launched our nationally recognized work-based education program, Talent Ready Utah.

Consider what we have done with our economy. The U.S. Chamber of Commerce, in recognizing Utah as the best performing economy in the country, identified our unique "culture of collaboration as the foundation of [our] job creation policy, enabling [Utah] to punch above its weight."

So, in that spirit of collaboration, let us continue to tackle our big challenges of today.

Perhaps the best example of working together on a tough issue is when we said “No more!” to the lawlessness in the Rio Grande neighborhood.

There wasn’t a playbook for this exercise. It didn’t fit neatly into anyone’s job description. It came with uncertainty, it came with risk – but also with the potential to do some real good.

Members of my cabinet, legislators, law enforcement, county and city leaders and members of the community convened. We asked how we could restore order and dignity to the Rio Grande area.

Under the leadership of Lt. Governor Spencer Cox and House Speaker Greg Hughes, and many of you here, the mantra of the operation became: “shoulder-to-shoulder; no credit, no blame.”

While we are not ready to declare victory, Operation Rio Grande has already broken up drug trafficking, reduced crime, cleaned up our streets and parks, increased treatment services and provided job opportunities -- all without disrupting the important social services for those who are experiencing homelessness.

But perhaps the most important barometer of our accomplishment comes from, my friend, counselor and homeless advocate Pamela Atkinson, who recently said of her homeless friends, “Instead of seeing hopelessness in their eyes, I and others are seeing hope!”

Unfortunately, there is another group of Utahns who also need greater hope. Far too many of our youth experience a sense of discouragement and hopelessness so severe that unfortunately, they consider taking their own lives. The fact that any of them actually do this is tragic beyond words. The fact that suicide has become the leading cause of death among our young people horrifies me.

Just as we could not ignore the human tragedy in the Rio Grande area, we must never ignore this human tragedy of suicide. That is why last week I put together a task force of community leaders to augment the good work already being done by the Utah Suicide Prevention Coalition.

Under the direction of my administration and key legislators, including Rep. Steve Eliason, this task force represents the shared concern of civic, health, educational and ecclesiastical organizations. By bringing together community connections and expertise, this task force will meet with the Suicide Prevention Coalition, prioritize their insights, and bring us a clear plan for immediate community engagement by this February 15. This session, we will find solutions.

Now this is what sets Utah apart. Instead of skirting the big issues, instead of pointing fingers, and instead of refusing to talk about them, we face them in the spirit of personal and shared responsibility. And we find answers. And we make our world and our communities better.

We are committed to being disciplined and humble enough to work together in a spirit of mutual respect — shoulder-to-shoulder; no credit, no blame.

And because of this, the eyes of the nation are upon us.

Just as Ronald Reagan referred to America as that shining city on a hill whose good example helps light the world, I believe that Utah has become that shining city on a hill for our nation.

The next 42 days are going to be tough. There will be late nights, hard decisions and some bruised egos. Perhaps in those moments of frustration, instead of retreating into our sometimes selfish selves, we could instead remember our dear friend Matt Hillyard.

For those who didn't know Matt personally, he is the son of Senator Lyle and Alice Hillyard from Logan. Matt was born with Down Syndrome, and about three weeks ago, at age 42, Matt passed away.

Matt was a remarkable individual — a man without guile. Matt greeted everyone with a hug. Matt loved unconditionally. In Matt's eyes there were only winners, no losers.

Matt taught me to live each day to its fullest. Matt taught me to be the best that you can be — do the most that you can do. Matt taught me to sing loud, even when you're off key. He taught me to eat every pancake like it's the first pancake you've ever tried and the last pancake you'll ever eat.

If we really want to have a lasting influence for good, not only could we emulate Matt, we could also emulate Matt's parents. Lyle and Alice, you taught us how to sacrifice for the well-being of our children. You recognized that by including Matt in all of our lives that everyone can grow, serve and experience joy. We all want to thank you for sharing Matt with us.

So this session, let's set a goal and from now on, let's all live like Matt!

And let's make decisions that matter.

If we do our job right, one hundred years from now, our great-grandchildren will dust off the “Laws for 2018,” and they will recognize that what we did together over these next few weeks laid the foundation for their extraordinary successes in the Utah of the year 2118.

If we do our job right today, Utah in the future will still be the greatest place to live, to love, to work and to serve. Where people can become the best they can be in a free society. And if we do our job right, Utah will continue to be that place — that “right place” — where friends and strangers come together of their own accord to lighten weary hearts, protect the vulnerable, and restore hope and dignity one individual at a time.

And this will continue to be a place where the hardest problems are solved side-by-side, shoulder-to-shoulder, no credit, no blame.

That is my hope and my prayer.

May God continue to bless our state and may God continue to bless the great people of Utah.

167 77-2a-2. Plea in abeyance agreement -- Negotiation --
168 Contents -- Terms of 168 agreement -- Waiver of time for sentencing.

169 (1) At any time after acceptance of a plea of guilty or no contest
170 but [~~prior to~~] before

170 entry of judgment of conviction and imposition of sentence, the 171 court may, upon motion of 171 both the prosecuting attorney and the defendant, hold the plea in 172 abeyance and not enter

172 judgment of conviction against the defendant nor impose sentence
173 upon the defendant within

173 the time periods contained in Rule 22(a), Utah Rules of Criminal 174 Procedure.

174 (2) [~~The~~] A defendant shall be represented by counsel during 175 negotiations for a plea in

175 abeyance and at the time of acknowledgment and affirmation of 176 any plea in abeyance

176 agreement unless the defendant [~~shall have~~] knowingly and 177 intelligently [~~waived his~~] waives

177 the defendant's right to counsel.

178 (3) [~~The~~] A defendant has the right to be represented by counsel
179 at any court hearing

179 relating to a plea in abeyance agreement.

180 (4) (a) Any plea in abeyance agreement entered into between the prosecution and the 181 defendant and approved by the court shall include a full, detailed recitation of the requirements

182 and conditions agreed to by the defendant and the reason for requesting the court to hold the 183 plea in abeyance.

184 (b) If the plea is to a felony or any combination of misdemeanors and felonies, the

185 agreement shall be in writing and shall, [~~prior to~~] before acceptance by the court, be executed

186 by the prosecuting attorney, the defendant, and the defendant's counsel in the presence of the 187 court.

188 (5) ~~{-|-}~~ A ~~{-|}~~ ~~{-Unless the prosecutor and the~~ ~~defendant agree to a longer term or to an~~

189 ~~extension, a~~ plea ~~[shall]~~ may not be held in abeyance for a period longer than 18 months if the

190 plea ~~{-|-}~~ was ~~{-|}~~ ~~{-is-}~~ to ~~{-i}~~

191 ~~(a)~~ any class of misdemeanor ~~{-|-}~~ or ~~{-|}~~
~~{-of-}~~ longer than three years ~~{-|-}~~ if the plea was to ~~{-|}~~ ~~{-i}~~

192 ~~(b)~~ any degree of felony ~~{-i}~~ or
~~{-|-}~~ to ~~{-|}~~

193 ~~{-(e)}~~ any combination of misdemeanors and felonies.

(6) Notwithstanding Subsection (5), a plea may be held in abeyance for up to two years if the plea is to any class of misdemeanor and the plea in abeyance agreement includes a condition that the defendant participate in a problem solving court approved by the Judicial Council.

194 ~~{-(6)}~~ (7) A plea in abeyance agreement ~~[shall]~~ may not be approved unless the defendant,

195 before the court, and any written agreement, knowingly and intelligently waives time for 196 sentencing as designated in Rule 22(a), Utah Rules of Criminal Procedure.

51 ~~issued a certificate of eligibility on an expedited basis] (1)(c)(iv).~~
Section 1. Section 77-40-105 is amended to read:

77-40-105. Eligibility for expungement of conviction — Requirements.

(1) A person convicted of an offense may apply to the bureau for a certificate of eligibility to expunge the record of conviction as provided in this section.

(2) A petitioner is not eligible to receive a certificate of eligibility from the bureau if:

(a) the conviction for which expungement is sought is:

(i) a capital felony;

(ii) a first degree felony;

(iii) a violent felony as defined in Subsection 76-3-203.5(1)(c)(i);

(iv) felony automobile homicide;

(v) a felony violation of Subsection 41-6a-501(2);

(vi) a registerable sex offense as defined in Subsection 77-41-102(17); or

(vii) a registerable child abuse offense as defined in Subsection 77-43-102(2);

(b) a criminal proceeding is pending against the petitioner; or

(c) the petitioner intentionally or knowingly provides false or misleading information on the application for a certificate of eligibility.

(3) A petitioner seeking to obtain expungement for a record of conviction is not eligible to receive a certificate of eligibility from the bureau until all of the following have occurred:

(a) all fines and interest ordered by the court related to the conviction for which expungement is sought have been paid in full;

(b) all restitution ordered by the court pursuant to Section 77-38a-302, or by the Board of Pardons and Parole pursuant to Section 77-27-6, has been paid in full; and

(c) the following time periods have elapsed from the date the petitioner was convicted or released from incarceration, parole, or probation, whichever occurred last, for each conviction the petitioner seeks to expunge:

(i) 10 years in the case of a misdemeanor conviction of Subsection 41-6a-501(2) or a felony conviction of Subsection 58-37-8(2)(g);

- (ii) seven years in the case of a felony;
 - (iii) five years in the case of any class A misdemeanor or a felony drug possession offense;
 - (iv) four years in the case of a class B misdemeanor; or
 - (v) three years in the case of any other misdemeanor or infraction.
- (4) The bureau may not count ~~{-a-}~~ pending or previous infractions, traffic offenses, or minor regulatory offenses , or fines or fees arising from the infractions, traffic offenses, or minor regulatory offenses, when determining expungement eligibility.

(5) The bureau may not issue a certificate of eligibility if, at the time the petitioner seeks a certificate of eligibility, the bureau determines that the petitioner's criminal history, including previously expunged convictions, contains any of the following, except as provided in Subsection (8):

- (a) two or more felony convictions other than for drug possession offenses, each of which is contained in a separate criminal episode;
- (b) any combination of three or more convictions other than for drug possession offenses that include two class A misdemeanor convictions, each of which is contained in a separate criminal episode;
- (c) any combination of four or more convictions other than for drug possession offenses that include three class B misdemeanor convictions, each of which is contained in a separate criminal episode; or
- (d) five or more convictions other than for drug possession offenses of any degree whether misdemeanor or felony, each of which is contained in a separate criminal episode.

(6) The bureau may not issue a certificate of eligibility if, at the time the petitioner seeks a certificate of eligibility, the bureau determines that the petitioner's criminal history, including previously expunged convictions, contains any of the following:

- (a) three or more felony convictions for drug possession offenses, each of which is contained in a separate criminal episode; or
- (b) any combination of five or more convictions for drug possession offenses, each of which is contained in a separate criminal episode.

(7) If the petitioner's criminal history contains convictions for both a drug possession offense and a non drug possession offense arising from the same criminal episode, that criminal episode shall be counted as provided in Subsection (5) if any non drug possession offense in that episode:

- (a) is a felony or class A misdemeanor; or
- (b) has the same or a longer waiting period under Subsection (3)

than any drug possession offense in that episode.

(8) If at least 10 years have elapsed from the date the petitioner was convicted or released from incarceration, parole, or probation, whichever occurred last, for all convictions, then each eligibility limit defined in Subsection (5) shall be increased by one.

(9) If, prior to May 14, 2013, the petitioner has received a pardon from the Utah Board of Pardons and Parole, the petitioner is entitled to an expungement order for all pardoned crimes pursuant to Section 77-27-5.1.

78B-5-505. Property exempt from execution.

(1) (a) An individual is entitled to exemption of the following property:

(i) a burial plot for the individual and the individual's family;

(ii) health aids reasonably necessary to enable the individual or a dependent to work or sustain health;

(iii) benefits the individual or the individual's dependent have received or are entitled to receive from any source because of:

(A) disability;

(B) illness; or

(C) unemployment;

(iv) benefits paid or payable for medical, surgical, or hospital care to the extent they are used by an individual or the individual's dependent to pay for that care;

(v) veterans benefits;

(vi) money or property received, and rights to receive money or property for child support;

(vii) money or property received, and rights to receive money or property for alimony or separate maintenance, to the extent reasonably necessary for the support of the individual and the individual's dependents;

(viii) (A) one:

(I) clothes washer and dryer;

(II) refrigerator;

(III) freezer;

(IV) stove;

(V) microwave oven; and

(VI) sewing machine;

(B) all carpets in use;

(C) provisions sufficient for 12 months actually provided for individual or family use;

(D) all wearing apparel of every individual and dependent, not including jewelry or furs; and

(E) all beds and bedding for every individual or dependent;

(ix) except for works of art held by the debtor as part of a trade or business, works of art:

(A) depicting the debtor or the debtor and his resident family; or

(B) produced by the debtor or the debtor and his resident family;

(x) proceeds of insurance, a judgment, or a settlement, or other rights accruing as a result of bodily injury of the individual or of the wrongful death or bodily injury of another individual of whom the individual was or is a dependent to the extent that those proceeds are compensatory;

(xi) the proceeds or benefits of any life insurance contracts or policies paid or payable to the debtor or any trust of which the debtor is a beneficiary upon the death of the spouse or children of the debtor, provided that the contract or policy has been owned by the debtor for a continuous unexpired period of one year;

(xii) the proceeds or benefits of any life insurance contracts or policies paid or payable to the spouse or children of the debtor or any trust of which the spouse or children are beneficiaries upon the death of the debtor, provided that the contract or policy has been in existence for a continuous unexpired period of one year;

(xiii) proceeds and avails of any unmatured life insurance contracts owned by the debtor or any revocable grantor trust created by the debtor, excluding any payments made on the contract during the one year immediately preceding a creditor's levy or execution;

(xiv) except as provided in Subsection (1)(b), any money or other assets held for or payable to the individual as a participant or beneficiary from or an interest of the individual as a participant or beneficiary in a retirement plan or arrangement that is described in Section 401(a), 401(h), 401(k), 403(a), 403(b), 408, 408A, 409, 414(d), 414(e), or 457, Internal Revenue Code;

(xv) the interest of or any money or other assets payable to an alternate payee under a qualified domestic relations order as those terms are defined in Section 414(p), Internal Revenue Code;

(xvi) unpaid earnings of the household of the filing individual due as of the date of the filing of a bankruptcy petition in the amount of 1/24 of the Utah State annual median family income for the household size of the filing individual as determined by the Utah State Annual Median

Family Income reported by the United States Census Bureau and as adjusted based upon the Consumer Price Index for All Urban Consumers for an individual whose unpaid earnings are paid more often than once a month or, if unpaid earnings are not paid more often than once a month, then in the amount of 1/12 of the Utah State annual median family income for the household size of the individual as determined by the Utah State Annual Median Family Income reported by the United States Census Bureau and as adjusted based upon the Consumer Price Index for All Urban Consumers; ~~{—and—}~~

(xvii) except for curio or relic firearms, as defined in Section 76–10–501, any three of the following:

(A) one handgun and ammunition for the handgun not exceeding 1,000 rounds;

(B) one shotgun and ammunition for the shotgun not exceeding 1,000 rounds; and

(C) one shoulder arm and ammunition for the shoulder arm not exceeding 1,000 rounds ~~{—}~~ : and (xviii) a tax-advantaged method of saving for higher education costs on behalf of a particular individual that meets the requirements of Section 529, Internal Revenue Code.

(b) The exemption granted by Subsection (1)(a)(xiv) does not apply to:

(i) an alternate payee under a qualified domestic relations order, as those terms are defined in Section 414(p), Internal Revenue Code; or

(ii) amounts contributed or benefits accrued by or on behalf of a debtor within one year before the debtor files for bankruptcy. This may not include amounts directly rolled over from other funds which are exempt from attachment under this section.

(2) The exemptions in Subsections (1)(a)(xi), (xii), and (xiii) do not apply to proceeds and avails of any matured or unmatured life insurance contract assigned or pledged as collateral for repayment of a loan or other legal obligation.

(3) Disability benefits, as described in Subsection (1)(a)(iii)(A), and veterans benefits, as described in Subsection (1)(a)(v), may be garnished on behalf of a child victim if the person receiving the benefits has been convicted of a felony sex offense against a child and ordered by the convicting court to pay restitution to the victim. The exemption from execution under this section shall be reinstated upon payment of the restitution in full.

(4) Exemptions under this section do not limit items that may be claimed as exempt under Section 78B-5-506. ; and

Senate Committee Amendments
2-15-2018:
 - 26 Be it enacted by the Legislature of the state of Utah:
 - Section 1. Section 36-12-6 is amended to read:
 - 36-12-6. Permanent committees -- House and Senate management -- Members -- Chair -- Legislative Management Committee -- Membership -- Chair and vice-chair -- Meetings -- Quorum.
 - (1) There are hereby established as permanent committees of the Legislature a House Management Committee and a Senate Management Committee. The House Management Committee shall consist of eight members of the House of Representatives, four from each major political party. The membership shall include the elected leadership of the House of Representatives and additional members chosen at the beginning of each annual general session by the minority party caucus as needed to complete the full membership. The chair of the committee shall be the speaker of the House of Representatives or the speaker's designee. The Senate Management Committee shall consist of eight members of the Senate, four from each major political party. The membership shall include the elected leadership of the Senate and additional members chosen at the beginning of each annual general session by the appropriate party caucus as needed to complete the full membership. The chair of the committee shall be the president of the Senate or the president's designee.

(2) (a) There is established a permanent committee of the Legislature known as the Legislative Management Committee.

(b) The committee shall consist of:

(i) the members of the House Management Committee; and

(ii) the members of the Senate Management Committee.

(c) (i) The president of the Senate or the president's designee shall be chair during 1987, and the speaker of the House of Representatives or the speaker's designee shall be vice-chair of the committee during that year.

(ii) The positions of chair and vice-chair of the Legislative Management Committee shall rotate annually between these two officers in succeeding years.

(d) The committee shall meet as often as is necessary to perform its duties, but not less than once each quarter.

(e) (i) If any vote of the committee results in a tie, the president of the Senate and speaker of the House of Representatives may together cast an additional vote to break the tie.

(ii) Notwithstanding Subsection (2)(e)(i), if the vote of the Legislative Management Committee relates to directing legislative general counsel in matters involving the Legislature's participation in litigation under Subsection 36-12-7(4), the president of the Senate and the speaker of the House of Representatives may not cast an additional vote to break a tie.

(3) If a legislator declines membership on the committees established by this section, or if a vacancy occurs, a replacement shall be chosen by the leadership of the appropriate party of the house in which the vacancy occurs.

(4) The committees established by this section shall meet not later than 60 days after the adjournment sine die of the annual general session held in even-numbered years and not later than 30 days after the adjournment sine die of the annual general session held in odd-numbered years for the purpose of effecting their organization and prescribing rules and policies pertaining to their respective powers and duties. A majority of the members of each committee constitutes a quorum, and a majority of a quorum has authority to act in any matter falling within the jurisdiction of the committee.

1st Sub. S.C.R. 10 was transmitted to the House.

On motion of Senator Iwamoto, the Senate voted to spread the words of S.C.R. 10 upon the pages of the Senate Journal.

WHEREAS, during World War II, as described in the Civil Liberties Act of 1988, “race prejudice, war hysteria, and a failure of political leadership” led to over 120,000 people of Japanese ancestry, two-thirds of whom were American citizens, being forced from their homes in west coast states and incarcerated in camps such as the Topaz Relocation Center near Delta, Utah;

WHEREAS, the Topaz Museum Board, a 501(c)(3) organization, was established in 1996 after raising money to restore a portion of an original Topaz recreation hall that had been used as the Boy Scouts meeting place during the period of incarceration;

WHEREAS, the Topaz Museum Board, under the direction of its founder and current president, Jane Beckwith, consists of people committed to a mission of: preserving the Topaz site; telling the history of incarceration during World War II; honoring the internees; interpreting the impact of the experience on the internees, their families, and the residents of Millard County; and educating the public in order to prevent a similar denial of American civil rights from recurring;

WHEREAS, since its founding, the Topaz Museum Board has purchased 633 acres of the original site of the Topaz Relocation Center, conducted teacher workshops, held pilgrimages, and raised awareness of the history of Topaz;

WHEREAS, the Secretary of the Interior designated the Topaz site as a National Historic Landmark in 2007;

WHEREAS, the Topaz Museum Foundation, a 501(c)(3) organization, has recently completed an ambitious campaign that raised approximately $3,000,000 to create the long-awaited and much-needed Topaz Museum and Education Center to tell the story of Topaz;

WHEREAS, the Topaz Museum and Education Center is the crowning jewel of a preservation program that began in 1991 to ensure the story of Japanese American internment during World War II is remembered and the site of the Topaz camp is preserved;

WHEREAS, the museum received many donations, including $300,000 from the state of Utah and $1,200,000 from the National Park Service through the Japanese American Confinement Sites grant program, allowing the Topaz Museum Board to complete this project;

WHEREAS, the Friends of Topaz, an organization created to support the Topaz Museum Foundation by engaging with communities, constituents, and individuals, has played an important role in promoting the mission, vitality, and success of the museum;

WHEREAS, the Topaz Museum Foundation has maintained a strong relationship with over 3,000 people, including many former internees, who have financially supported the foundation's programs and whose help was essential in the completion of each of the foundation's projects;

WHEREAS, the exhibits for the Topaz Museum and Education Center highlight the personal sacrifices and contributions of more than 11,000 people incarcerated at the desolate Topaz camp;

WHEREAS, the exhibits include a collection of 1,000 artifacts, including 110 original pieces of artwork created by internees during their incarceration, over 35 video interviews, and a restored recreation hall;

WHEREAS, the Topaz Museum and Education Center has become the official repository for teaching, exploring, and interpreting the history of this troubled period of America's past and the impact that still resonates today;

WHEREAS, the museum stands as a memorial to the resilient internees who tried to make camp life as normal as possible and as a witness for the history of the incarceration of people of Japanese ancestry during World War II;

WHEREAS, the installations and exhibits use cutting-edge technology combined with historic perspectives to engage and educate the public about the United States Constitution and civil rights;

WHEREAS, the Topaz Museum and Education Center will continue to collect and safeguard artifacts, artwork, and video interviews, making them accessible to future generations, and ensuring this period in American history will never be forgotten;

WHEREAS, the Topaz Museum Foundation also protects 633 acres of the original Topaz site, which is replete with evidence of gardens, walkways, concrete foundations, and artifacts, giving evidence of Japanese Americans who lived there from September 11, 1942, until October 31, 1945;

WHEREAS, visitors can learn this complex history, including information about the four Supreme Court test case appellants—Min Yasui, Gordon

Hirabayashi, and Topaz internees Fred Korematsu and Mitsuye Endo—by reading exhibit panels, by seeing artifacts and an original recreation hall, and then by visiting the actual camp site;

WHEREAS, this total experience produces an understanding of the stark reality of what happened in America to people of Japanese ancestry, the majority of whom were American citizens;

WHEREAS, the completion of the Topaz Museum and Education Center allows students, families, educators, historians, former internees, and their families to learn from the artwork, artifacts, oral histories, diaries, and interpretive exhibits, and then travel 16 miles to where the history occurred;

WHEREAS, museum docents greet visitors and answer questions beyond the scope of the exhibits allowing visitors to question and contemplate poignant and significant aspects of civil rights and race relations;

WHEREAS, in 2007, Governor Jon Huntsman Jr. spoke at the dedication of the Topaz site as a National Historic Landmark;

WHEREAS, in 2009, the Utah State Legislature passed a resolution supporting the construction of the Topaz Museum and Education Center;

WHEREAS, on January 18, 2013, Governor Gary Herbert proclaimed January 30, 2013, “Fred Korematsu Day” in Utah, honoring Mr. Korematsu on what would have been his 94th birthday for his lifelong efforts to assure civil liberties for all Americans, following his imprisonment at Topaz and landmark Supreme Court case;

WHEREAS, Topaz art has been shown in five major galleries in California and Utah, and in 2018 the Utah Museum of Fine Arts will host a retrospective show of the art of Chiura Obata, who started the art school at Topaz;

WHEREAS, over 250 teachers have learned about Topaz in the Summer Field School hosted by the Topaz Museum Foundation and the Utah State Office of Education and countless students have visited the Topaz Museum;

WHEREAS, the Topaz Museum website and social media accounts confirm that 5,000 people per month are reading about Topaz and downloading information about visiting the site; and

WHEREAS, the grand opening of the Topaz Museum and Education Center took place on July 7 and 8, 2017, and featured speeches by Senator Orrin Hatch, Representative Rob Bishop, Jill Remington Love, executive director, Utah

Department of Heritage and Arts, and Don Tamaki, whose parents were in Topaz, a koto performance by Shirley Muramoto, a flag presentation by the Latinos in Action, a presentation by Kimi Kodani Hill, a book signing by Willie Ito, who was in Topaz, taiko drumming by the Ogden Buddhist Taiko Group, the puppet show “E.O. 9066” by the San Francisco troupe, Lunatique Fantastique, a ribbon cutting, and tours of the museum and site :

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the Legislature of the state of Utah, the Governor concurring therein, recognizes the achievements of Jane Beckwith and the Topaz Museum Board in bringing the vision of the Topaz Museum and Education Center to reality and providing a place where residents of and visitors to the state can learn valuable lessons regarding civil rights and the nation’s commitment to equal justice under the law by championing the resilience of the internees who remained steadfast when their government wavered.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Legislature and the Governor laud the efforts of all those who contributed to this effort and encourage the residents of and visitors to the state to take advantage of the important educational opportunities available at the Topaz Museum, 55West Main, Delta, Utah.

(p) manage search and rescue services in his county;

(q) obtain saliva DNA specimens as required under Section 53-10-404;

(r) on or before January 1, 2003, adopt a written policy that prohibits the stopping, detention, or search of any person when the action is solely motivated by considerations of race, color, ethnicity, age, or gender;

(s) create a child protection unit, as defined in Section 62A-4a-101, if the sheriff determines that creation of a child protection unit is warranted; and

(t) perform any other duties that are required by law.

(2) Violation of Subsection (1)(j) is a class C misdemeanor. Violation of any other subsection under Subsection (1) is a class A misdemeanor.

(3) (a) As used in this Subsection (3):

(i) "Police interlocal entity" has the same meaning as defined in Sections 17-30-3 and 17-30a-102.

(ii) "Police local district" has the same meaning as defined in Section 17-30-3.

(b) A sheriff in a county which includes within its boundary a police local district or police interlocal entity, or both:

(i) serves as the chief executive officer of each police local district and police interlocal entity within the county with respect to the provision of law enforcement service within the boundary of the police local district or police interlocal entity, respectively; and

(ii) is subject to the direction of the police local district board of trustees or police interlocal entity governing body, as the case may be, as and to the extent provided by agreement between the police local district or police interlocal entity, respectively, and the sheriff.

(c) If a police interlocal entity or police local district enters an interlocal agreement with a public agency, as defined in Section 11-13-103, for the provision of law enforcement service, the sheriff:

(i) does not serve as the chief executive officer of any interlocal entity created under that interlocal agreement, unless the agreement provides for the sheriff to serve as the chief executive officer; and

(ii) shall provide law enforcement service under that interlocal agreement as provided in the agreement.

RENUMBER REMAINING SECTIONS ACCORDINGLY

6. Page 7, Line 195:

195 (10) Subsection 53G-8-211(4) is repealed July 1, 2020.

Section 8. Section 78A-6-117 (Effective 07/01/18) is amended to read:

78A-6-117 (Effective 07/01/18). Adjudication of jurisdiction of juvenile court -- Disposition of cases -- Enumeration of possible court orders -- Considerations of court.

(1) (a) When a minor is found to come within Section 78A-6-103, the court shall so adjudicate. The court shall make a finding of the facts upon which it bases its jurisdiction over the minor. However, in cases within Subsection 78A-6-103(1), findings of fact are not necessary.

(b) If the court adjudicates a minor for a crime of violence or an offense in violation of Title 76, Chapter 10, Part 5, Weapons, it shall order that notice of the adjudication be provided to the school superintendent of the district in which the minor resides or attends school. Notice shall be made to the district superintendent within three days of the adjudication and shall include:

- (i) the specific offenses for which the minor was adjudicated; and
- (ii) if available, if the victim:
 - (A) resides in the same school district as the minor; or
 - (B) attends the same school as the minor.

(c) An adjudicated minor shall undergo a risk screening or, if indicated, a validated risk and needs assessment. Results of the screening or assessment shall be used to inform disposition decisions and case planning. Assessment results, if available, may not be shared with the court before adjudication.

(2) Upon adjudication the court may make the following dispositions by court order:

(a) (i) the court may place the minor on probation or under protective supervision in the minor's own home and upon conditions determined by the court, including compensatory service;

(ii) a condition ordered by the court under Subsection (2)(a)(i):

(A) shall be individualized and address a specific risk or need;

(B) shall be based on information provided to the court, including the results of a validated risk and needs assessment conducted under Subsection (1)(c); and

(C) if the court orders treatment, be based on a validated risk and needs assessment conducted under Subsection (1)(c);

(iii) a court may not issue a standard order that contains control-oriented conditions;

(iv) prohibitions on weapon possession, where appropriate, shall be specific to the minor and not the minor's family;

(v) if the court orders probation, the court may direct that notice of the court's order be provided to designated persons in the local law enforcement agency and the school or transferee school, if applicable, that the minor attends. The designated persons may receive the information for purposes of the minor's supervision and student safety; and

(vi) an employee of the local law enforcement agency and the school that the minor attends who discloses the court's order of probation is not:

(A) civilly liable except when the disclosure constitutes fraud or willful misconduct as provided in Section 63G-7-202; and

(B) civilly or criminally liable except when the disclosure constitutes a knowing violation of Section 63G-2-801.

(b) The court may place the minor in the legal custody of a relative or other suitable person, with or without probation or protective supervision, but the juvenile court may not assume the function of developing foster home services.

(c) (i) The court shall only vest legal custody of the minor in the Division of Juvenile Justice Services and order the Division of Juvenile Justice Services to provide dispositional recommendations and services if:

(A) nonresidential treatment options have been exhausted or nonresidential treatment options are not appropriate; and

(B) the minor is adjudicated under this section for a felony offense, a misdemeanor when the minor has five prior misdemeanors or felony adjudications arising from separate criminal episodes, or a misdemeanor involving the use of a dangerous weapon as defined in Section 76-1-601.

(ii) The court may not vest legal custody of a minor in the Division of Juvenile Justice Services for:

(A) contempt of court except to the extent permitted under Section 78A-6-1101;

(B) a violation of probation;

(C) failure to pay a fine, fee, restitution, or other financial obligation;

(D) unfinished compensatory or community service hours;

(E) an infraction; or

(F) a status offense.

(iii) (A) A minor who is 18 years old or older, but younger than 21 years old, may petition the court to express the minor's desire to be removed from the jurisdiction of the juvenile court and from the custody of the Division of Child and Family Services if the minor is in the division's custody on grounds of abuse, neglect, or dependency.

(B) If the minor's parent's rights have not been terminated in accordance with Part 5, Termination of Parental Rights Act, the minor's petition shall contain a statement from the minor's parent or guardian agreeing that the minor should be removed from the custody of the Division of Child and Family Services.

(C) The minor and the minor's parent or guardian shall sign the petition.

(D) The court shall review the petition within 14 days.

(E) The court shall remove the minor from the custody of the Division of Child and Family Services if the minor and the minor's parent or guardian have met the requirements described in Subsections (2)(c)(iv)(B) and (C) and if the court finds, based on input from the Division of Child and Family Services, the minor's guardian ad litem, and the Office of the Attorney General, that the minor does not pose an imminent threat to self or others.

(F) A minor removed from custody under Subsection (2)(c)(iv)(E) may, within 90 days of the date of removal, petition the court to re-enter custody of the Division of Child and Family Services.

(G) Upon receiving a petition under Subsection (2)(c)(iv)(F), the court shall order the Division of Child and Family Services to take custody of the minor based on the findings the court entered when the court originally vested custody in the Division of Child and Family Services.

(d) (i) The court shall only commit a minor to the Division of Juvenile Justice Services for secure confinement if the court finds that the minor poses a risk of harm to others and is adjudicated under this section for:

(A) a felony offense;

(B) a misdemeanor if the minor has five prior misdemeanor or felony adjudications arising from separate criminal episodes; or

(C) a misdemeanor involving use of a dangerous weapon as defined in Section 76-1-601.

(ii) A minor under the jurisdiction of the court solely on the ground of abuse, neglect, or dependency under Subsection 78A-6-103(1)(b) may not be committed to the Division of Juvenile Justice Services.

(iii) The court may not commit a minor to the Division of Juvenile Justice Services for secure confinement for:

(A) contempt of court;

(B) a violation of probation;

(C) failure to pay a fine, fee, restitution, or other financial obligation;

(D) unfinished compensatory or community service hours;

(E) an infraction; or

(F) a status offense.

(e) The court may order nonresidential, diagnostic assessment, including substance use disorder, mental health, psychological, or sexual behavior risk assessment.

(f) (i) The court may commit a minor to a place of detention or an alternative to detention for a period not to exceed 30 cumulative days per adjudication subject to the court retaining continuing jurisdiction over the minor. This commitment may not be suspended upon conditions ordered by the court.

(ii) This Subsection (2)(f) applies only to a minor adjudicated for:

(A) an act which if committed by an adult would be a criminal offense; or

(B) contempt of court under Section 78A-6-1101.

(iii) The court may not commit a minor to a place of detention for:

(A) contempt of court except to the extent allowed under Section 78A-6-1101;

(B) a violation of probation;

(C) failure to pay a fine, fee, restitution, or other financial obligation;

(D) unfinished compensatory or community service hours;

(E) an infraction; or

(F) a status offense.

(iv) (A) Time spent in detention pre-adjudication shall be credited toward the 30 cumulative days eligible as a disposition under Subsection (2)(f)(i). If the minor spent more than 30 days in a place of detention before disposition, the court may not commit a minor to detention under this section.

(B) Notwithstanding Subsection (2)(f)(iv)(A), the court may commit a minor for a maximum of seven days while a minor is awaiting placement under Subsection (2)(c)(i). Only the seven days under this Subsection (2)(f)(iv)(B) may be combined with a nonsecure placement.

(v) Notwithstanding Subsection (2)(t), no more than seven days of detention may be ordered in combination with an order under Subsection (2)(c)(i).

(g) The court may vest legal custody of an abused, neglected, or dependent minor in the Division of Child and Family Services or any other appropriate person in accordance with the requirements and procedures of Title 78A, Chapter 6, Part 3, Abuse, Neglect, and Dependency Proceedings.

(h) (i) The court may order a minor to repair, replace, or otherwise make restitution for material loss caused by the minor's wrongful act or for conduct for which the minor agrees to make restitution.

(ii) A victim has the meaning defined under Subsection 77-38a-102(14). A victim of an offense that involves as an element a scheme, a conspiracy, or a pattern of criminal activity, includes any person directly harmed by the minor's delinquency conduct in the course of the scheme, conspiracy, or pattern.

(iii) If the victim and the minor agree to participate, the court may refer the case to a restorative justice program such as victim offender mediation to address how loss resulting from the adjudicated act may be addressed.

(iv) For the purpose of determining whether and how much restitution is appropriate, the court shall consider the following:

(A) restitution shall only be ordered for the victim's material loss;

(B) restitution may not be ordered if the court finds that the minor is unable to pay or acquire the means to pay; and

(C) any amount paid by the minor to the victim in civil penalty shall be credited against restitution owed.

(v) Any amount paid to the victim in restitution shall be credited against liability in a civil suit.

(vi) The court may also require a minor to reimburse an individual, entity, or governmental agency who offered and paid a reward to a person or persons for providing information resulting in a court adjudication that the minor is within the jurisdiction of the juvenile court due to the commission of a criminal offense.

(vii) If a minor is returned to this state under the Interstate Compact on Juveniles, the court may order the minor to make restitution for costs expended by any governmental entity for the return.

(viii) The prosecutor shall submit a request for restitution to the court at the time of disposition, if feasible, otherwise within three months after disposition.

(ix) A financial disposition ordered shall prioritize the payment of restitution.

(i) The court may issue orders necessary for the collection of restitution and fines ordered by the court, including garnishments, wage withholdings, and executions, except for an order that changes the custody of the minor, including detention or other secure or nonsecure residential placements.

(j) (i) The court may through its probation department encourage the development of nonresidential employment or work programs to enable minors to fulfill their obligations under Subsection (2)(h) and for other purposes considered desirable by the court.

(ii) Consistent with the order of the court, the probation officer may permit a minor found to be within the jurisdiction of the court to participate in a program of work restitution or compensatory service in lieu of paying part or all of the fine imposed by the court.

(iii) The court may order the minor to:

(A) pay a fine, fee, restitution, or other cost; or

(B) complete service hours.

(iv) If the court orders a minor to pay a fine, fee, restitution, or other cost, or to complete service hours, those dispositions shall be considered collectively to ensure that the order is reasonable and prioritizes restitution.

(v) If the court orders a minor to pay a fine, fee, or other cost, or complete service hours, the cumulative order shall be limited per criminal episode as follows:

(A) for children under age 16 at adjudication, the court may impose up to $180 or up to 24 hours of service; and

(B) for minors 16 and older at adjudication, the court may impose up to $270 or up to 36 hours of service.

(vi) The cumulative order under Subsection (2)(j)(v) does not include restitution.

(vii) If the court converts a fine, fee, or restitution amount to service hours, the rate of conversion shall be no less than the minimum wage.

(k) (i) In violations of traffic laws within the court's jurisdiction, when the court finds that as part of the commission of the violation the minor was in actual physical control of a motor vehicle, the court may, in addition to any other disposition authorized by this section:

(A) restrain the minor from driving for periods of time the court considers necessary; and

(B) take possession of the minor's driver license.

(ii) The court may enter any other eligible disposition under Subsection (2)(k)(i) except for a disposition under Subsection (2)(c), (d), or (f). However, the suspension of driving privileges for an offense under Section 78A-6-606 is governed only by Section 78A-6-606.

(l) (i) The court may order a minor to complete community or compensatory service hours in accordance with Subsections (2)(j)(iv) and (v).

(ii) When community service is ordered, the presumptive service order shall include between five and 10 hours of service.

(iii) Satisfactory completion of an approved substance use disorder prevention or treatment program or other court-ordered condition may be credited by the court as compensatory service hours.

(iv) When a minor is found within the jurisdiction of the juvenile court under Section 78A-6-103 because of a violation of Section 76-6-106 or 76-6-206 using graffiti, the court may order the minor to clean up graffiti created by the minor or any other person at a time and place within the jurisdiction of the court. Compensatory service ordered under this section may be performed in the presence and under the direct supervision of the minor's parent or legal guardian. The parent or legal guardian shall report completion of the order to the court. The court may also require the minor to perform other alternative forms of restitution or repair to the damaged property pursuant to Subsection (2)(h).

(m) (i) Subject to Subsection (2)(m)(iii), the court may order that a minor:

(A) be examined or treated by a physician, surgeon, psychiatrist, or psychologist; or

(B) receive other special care.

(ii) For purposes of receiving the examination, treatment, or care described in Subsection (2)(m)(i), the court may place the minor in a hospital or other suitable facility that is not a secure facility or secure detention.

(iii) In determining whether to order the examination, treatment, or care described in Subsection (2)(m)(i), the court shall consider:

(A) the desires of the minor;

(B) if the minor is under the age of 18, the desires of the parents or guardian of the minor; and

(C) whether the potential benefits of the examination, treatment, or care outweigh the potential risks and side-effects, including behavioral disturbances, suicidal ideation, brain function impairment, or emotional or physical harm resulting from the compulsory nature of the examination, treatment, or care.

(iv) The Division of Child and Family Services shall take reasonable measures to notify a parent or guardian of any non-emergency health treatment or care scheduled for a child, shall include the parent or guardian as fully as possible in making health care decisions for the child, and shall defer to the parent's or guardian's reasonable and informed decisions regarding the child's health care to the extent that the child's health and well being are not unreasonably compromised by the parent's or guardian's decision.

(v) The Division of Child and Family Services shall notify the parent or guardian of a child within five business days after a child in the custody of the Division of Child and Family Services receives emergency health care or treatment.

(vi) The Division of Child and Family Services shall use the least restrictive means to accomplish a compelling interest in the care and treatment of a child described in this Subsection (2)(m).

(n) (i) The court may appoint a guardian for the minor if it appears necessary in the interest of the minor, and may appoint as guardian a public or private institution or agency, but not a nonsecure residential placement provider, in which legal custody of the minor is vested.

(ii) In placing a minor under the guardianship or legal custody of an individual or of a private agency or institution, the court shall give primary consideration to the welfare of the minor. When practicable, the court may take into consideration the religious preferences of the minor and of a child's parents.

(o) (i) In support of a decree under Section 78A-6-103, the court may order reasonable conditions to be complied with by a minor's parents or guardian, a minor's custodian, or any other person who has been made a party to the proceedings. Conditions may include:

- (A) parent-time by the parents or one parent;
- (B) restrictions on the minor's associates;
- (C) restrictions on the minor's occupation and other activities; and
- (D) requirements to be observed by the parents or custodian.

(ii) A minor whose parents or guardians successfully complete a family or other counseling program may be credited by the court for detention, confinement, or probation time.

(p) The court may order the child to be committed to the physical custody of a local mental health authority, in accordance with the procedures and requirements of Title 62A, Chapter 15, Part 7, Commitment of Persons Under Age 18 to Division of Substance Abuse and Mental Health.

(q) (i) The court may make an order committing a minor within the court's jurisdiction to the Utah State Developmental Center if the minor has an intellectual disability in accordance with Title 62A, Chapter 5, Part 3, Admission to an Intermediate Care Facility for People with an Intellectual Disability.

(ii) The court shall follow the procedure applicable in the district courts with respect to judicial commitments to the Utah State Developmental Center when ordering a commitment under Subsection (2)(q)(i).

(r) The court may terminate all parental rights upon a finding of compliance with Title 78A, Chapter 6, Part 5, Termination of Parental Rights Act.

(s) The court may make other reasonable orders for the best interest of the minor and as required for the protection of the public, except that a child may not be committed to jail, prison, secure detention, or the custody of the Division of Juvenile Justice Services under Subsections (2)(c) and (d).

(t) The court may combine the dispositions listed in this section if it is permissible and they are compatible.

(u) Before depriving any parent of custody, the court shall give due consideration to the rights of parents concerning their child. The court may transfer custody of a minor to another person, agency, or institution in accordance with the requirements and procedures of Title 78A, Chapter 6, Part 3, Abuse, Neglect, and Dependency Proceedings.

(v) Except as provided in Subsection (2)(x)(i), an order under this section for probation or placement of a minor with an individual or an agency shall include a date certain for a review and presumptive termination of the case by the court in accordance with Subsection (6) and Section 62A-7-404. A new date shall be set upon each review.

(w) In reviewing foster home placements, special attention shall be given to making adoptable children available for adoption without delay.

(x) (i) The juvenile court may enter an order of permanent custody and guardianship with an individual or relative of a child where the court has previously acquired jurisdiction as a result of an adjudication of abuse, neglect, or dependency. The juvenile court may enter an order for child support on behalf of the child against the natural or adoptive parents of the child.

(ii) Orders under Subsection (2)(x)(i):

(A) shall remain in effect until the child reaches majority;

(B) are not subject to review under Section 78A-6-118; and

(C) may be modified by petition or motion as provided in Section 78A-6-1103.

(iii) Orders permanently terminating the rights of a parent, guardian, or custodian and permanent orders of custody and guardianship do not expire with a termination of jurisdiction of the juvenile court.

(3) In addition to the dispositions described in Subsection (2), when a minor comes within the court's jurisdiction, the minor may be given a choice by the court to serve in the National Guard in lieu of other sanctions, provided:

(a) the minor meets the current entrance qualifications for service in the National Guard as determined by a recruiter, whose determination is final;

(b) the minor is not under the jurisdiction of the court for any act that:

(i) would be a felony if committed by an adult;

(ii) is a violation of Title 58, Chapter 37, Utah Controlled Substances Act; or

(iii) was committed with a weapon; and

(c) the court retains jurisdiction over the minor under conditions set by the court and agreed upon by the recruiter or the unit commander to which the minor is eventually assigned.

(4) (a) A DNA specimen shall be obtained from a minor who is under the jurisdiction of the court as described in Subsection 53-10-403(3). The specimen shall be obtained by designated employees of the court or, if the minor is in the legal custody of the Division of Juvenile Justice Services, then by designated employees of the division under Subsection 53-10-404(5)(b).

(b) The responsible agency shall ensure that employees designated to collect the saliva DNA specimens receive appropriate training and that the specimens are obtained in accordance with accepted protocol.

(c) Reimbursements paid under Subsection 53-10-404(2)(a) shall be placed in the DNA Specimen Restricted Account created in Section 53-10-407.

(d) Payment of the reimbursement is second in priority to payments the minor is ordered to make for restitution under this section and treatment under Section 78A-6-321.

(5) (a) A disposition made by the court pursuant to this section may not be suspended, except for the following:

(i) If a minor qualifies for commitment to the Division of Juvenile Justice Services under Subsection (2)(c) or (d), the court may suspend a custody order pursuant to Subsection (2)(c) or (d) in lieu of immediate commitment, upon the condition that the minor commit no new misdemeanor or felony offense during the three months following the day of disposition.

(ii) The duration of a suspended custody order made under Subsection (5)(a)(i) may not exceed three months post-disposition and may not be extended under any circumstance.

(iii) The court may only impose a custody order suspended under Subsection (5)(a)(i) following adjudication of a new misdemeanor or felony offense committed by the minor during the period of suspension set out under Subsection (5)(a)(ii).

(b) The court pursuant to Subsection (5)(a) shall terminate jurisdiction over the minor at the end of the presumptive time frame unless at least one the following circumstances exists:

(i) termination pursuant to Subsection (6)(a)(ii) would interrupt the completion of a program determined to be necessary by the results of a validated risk and needs assessment with completion found by the court after considering the recommendation of a licensed service provider on the basis of the minor completing the goals of the necessary treatment program;

(ii) the minor commits a new misdemeanor or felony offense;

(iii) service hours have not been completed; or

(iv) there is an outstanding fine.

(6) When the court places a minor on probation under Subsection (2)(a) or vests legal custody of the minor in the Division of Juvenile Justice Services under Subsection (2)(c), the court shall do so for a defined period of time pursuant to this section.

(a) For the purposes of placing a minor on probation under Subsection (2)(a), the court shall establish a presumptive term of probation as specified in this Subsection (6):

(i) the presumptive maximum length of intake probation may not exceed three months; and

(ii) the presumptive maximum length of formal probation may not exceed four to six months.

(b) For the purposes of vesting legal custody of the minor in the Division of Juvenile Justice Services under Subsection (2)(c), the court shall establish a maximum term of custody and a maximum term of aftercare as specified in this Subsection (6):

(i) the presumptive maximum length of out-of-home placement may not exceed three to six months; and

(ii) the presumptive maximum length of aftercare supervision, for those previously placed out-of-home, may not exceed three to four months, and minors may serve the term of aftercare in the home of a qualifying relative or guardian or at an independent living program contracted or operated by the Division of Juvenile Justice Services.

(c) The court pursuant to Subsections (6)(a) and (b), and the Youth Parole Authority pursuant to Subsection (6)(b), shall terminate jurisdiction over the minor at the end of the presumptive time frame unless at least one of the following circumstances exists:

(i) termination pursuant to Subsection (6)(a)(ii) would interrupt the completion of a court ordered program determined to be necessary by the results of a validated assessment, with completion found by the court after considering the recommendations of a licensed service provider or facilitator of court ordered treatment or intervention program on the basis of the minor completing the goals of the necessary treatment program;

(ii) termination pursuant to Subsection (6)(a)(i) or (6)(b) would interrupt the completion of a program determined to be necessary by the results of a validated assessment, with completion determined on the basis of whether the minor has regularly and consistently attended the treatment program and completed the goals of the necessary treatment program as determined by the court or Youth Parole Authority after considering the recommendation of a licensed service provider or facilitator of court ordered treatment or intervention program ;

(iii) the minor commits a new misdemeanor or felony offense;

(iv) service hours have not been completed; or

(v) there is an outstanding fine.

(d) (i) Subject to Subsection (6)(g), if one of the circumstances under Subsection (6)(c)(i), (ii), (iii), or (iv) exists, the court may extend jurisdiction for the time needed to address the specific circumstance.

(ii) Subject to Subsection (6)(g), if one of the circumstances under Subsection (6)(c)(i), (ii), (iii), or (iv) exists, and the Youth Parole Authority has jurisdiction, the Youth Parole Authority may extend jurisdiction for the time needed to address the specific circumstance.

(e) If the circumstance under Subsection (6)(c)(iv) exists, the court, or the Youth Parole Authority if the Youth Parole Authority has jurisdiction, may extend jurisdiction one time for up to three months.

(f) Grounds for extension of the presumptive length of supervision or placement and the length of any extension shall be recorded in the court record or records of the Youth Parole Authority if the Youth Parole Authority has jurisdiction, and tracked in the data system used by the Administrative Office of the Courts and the Division of Juvenile Justice Services.

(g) (i) For a minor who is under the supervision of the juvenile court and whose supervision is extended to complete service hours under Subsection (6)(c)(iv), jurisdiction may only be continued under the supervision of intake probation.

(ii) For a minor who is under the jurisdiction of the Youth Parole

Authority whose supervision is extended to complete service hours under Subsection (6)(c)(iv), jurisdiction may only be continued on parole and not in secure confinement.

(h) In the event of an unauthorized leave lasting more than 24 hours, the supervision period shall toll until the minor returns.

(7) Subsection (6) does not apply to any minor adjudicated under this section for:

(a) Section 76-5-103, aggravated assault resulting in serious bodily injury to another;

(b) Section 76-5-202, attempted aggravated murder;

(c) Section 76-5-203, murder or attempted murder;

(d) Section 76-5-302, aggravated kidnapping;

(e) Section 76-5-405, aggravated sexual assault;

(f) a felony violation of Section 76-6-103, aggravated arson;

(g) Section 76-6-203, aggravated burglary;

(h) Section 76-6-302, aggravated robbery;

(i) Section 76-10-508.1, felony discharge of a firearm; or

(j) an offense other than those listed in Subsections (7)(a) through (i) involving the use of a dangerous weapon, as defined in Section 76-1-601, that is a felony, and the minor has been previously adjudicated or convicted of an offense involving the use of a dangerous weapon.

SENATE JOURNAL

FIRST VETO OVERRIDE SESSION OF THE SIXTY–SECOND LEGISLATURE

In accordance with a joint proclamation of the members of the Sixty–Second Legislature of the State of Utah, the Senate met in the Senate Chamber at the State Capitol in the First Veto Override Session at 1:00 p.m. on Wednesday, April 18, 2018.

Prayer – Senator Todd Weiler

Pledge of Allegiance – Senator Howard Stephenson

The Senate was called to order at 1:20 p.m., with President Wayne Niederhauser presiding.

Roll Call – All Senators present, except Senator Thatcher, excused.

Leslie McLean, Secretary of the Senate, read the following Proclamation and Certification:

UTAH STATE LEGISLATURE

CALL OF LEGISLATIVE VETO OVERRIDE SESSION

Pursuant to Article VII, Section 8 of the Utah Constitution and Utah State Legislative Joint Rule Title Two, Chapter Two, its presiding officers, the Honorable Wayne L. Niederhauser, President of the Utah State Senate, and the Honorable Gregory H. Hughes, Speaker of the Utah House of Representatives, have polled the members of the Senate and the House of Representatives, and do hereby call the Utah State Legislature into a Legislative Veto Override Session to convene at the State Capitol on Wednesday, April 18, 2018 at 1:00 p.m..

At least two–thirds of the members of each house voted in favor of convening a Veto Override Session. Governor Gary R. Herbert vetoed the following bills or items of appropriation passed by the Legislature which adjourned on March 8, 2018:

- | | |
|-----------------|---|
| H.B. 3 | Appropriations Adjustments (Rep. B. Last)
Item 295, lines 2229–2235 |
| H.B. 198 | Attorney General Responsibility Amendments
(Rep. M. Nelson) |
| H.B. 322 | Non–Emergency Patient Transportation Safety
Amendments (Rep. E Redd) |

S.B. 171 Intervention Amendments (Sen. S. Adams)

Wayne L. Niederhauser, President
Utah State Senate
Gregory H. Hughes, Speaker
House of Representatives

CERTIFICATION

I, SPENCER J. COX, LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR OF THE STATE OF UTAH, DO HEREBY CERTIFY THAT the attached copy of a Call for Legislative Veto Override Session issued on the 12th day of April, 2018 and signed by Wayne L. Niederhauser, President of the Senate and Gregory H. Hughes, Speaker of the Utah House of Representatives, is a true and correct copy of the original Call for Legislative Veto Override Session calling the Sixty–Second Legislature of the State of Utah into a Legislative Veto Override Session at the State Capitol at Salt Lake City, Utah, on the 18th day of April, 2018, at 1:00 p.m., for the purposes named in the Proclamation.

I further certify that the membership of the Utah State Senate has not changed from that of the 2018 General Session.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF,
I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the Great Seal of the State of Utah at Salt Lake City this 18th day of April, 2018.

Spencer J. Cox
Lieutenant Governor

Senator Henderson, announced that the Senate Rules and the Joint Rules of the 2018 General Session of the Sixty–Second Legislature apply to the conduct of the Senate during the Veto Override Session.

President Niederhauser appointed Senators Hemmert, Zehnder and Iwamoto as a committee to notify the House of Representatives that the Senate is organized and ready to do business.

Senator Hemmert reported that the House has been notified that the Senate is organized and ready to do business.

On motion of Senator Van Tassell, the Senate voted to spread the governor's veto messages for H.B. 3, H.B. 198, H.B. 322, and S.B. 171 upon the pages of the Senate Journal and that S.B. 171 be placed on the Third Reading Calendar for consideration.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM THE GOVERNOR

Dear President Niederhauser and Speaker Hughes: March 27, 2018

I have vetoed SB 171, Intervention Amendments because it intrudes on a function that is inherently and exclusively in the domain of the Executive Branch. When plaintiffs challenge the constitutionality of a state statute they have judicial standing because they can demonstrate a real or potential harm caused by the execution of the law. In defending these suits, the Office of the Attorney General (OAG) is not only defending the statute itself but current or future execution of the statute. That is why the defendant is the Governor or another Executive officer. Defending these legal challenges is inherently part of the Executive's role of executing the law.

Intervention by the Legislature would only disrupt judicial proceedings. Presumably, the Legislature would intervene because it disagrees with the approach taken by the OAG. Differing positions of the Legislature and the OAG would unnecessarily complicate the proceedings and interfere with the ability of the OAG to pursue legal strategies and to present the state's case.

Some have suggested that an additional review of a case by the Legislature cannot hurt anything and serves only to strengthen the state's position. This is contrary to fundamental notions of separation of powers. The Utah Constitution's explicit separation of powers clause means that even if one branch believes that "two eyes are better than one" that branch still cannot exercise the functions belonging to another branch. Additionally, the Legislature may not exercise Executive authority even when the Legislature believes the Executive is not performing its role properly.

Others have suggested that intervention by the Legislature will not hurt the Executive because the Legislature would present its case in a way that does not detract from the Executive's case. They have argued that SB 171 simply provides an additional track for a state actor to present arguments to the court. This argument is akin to the Governor filing his own bills, under his own name during a legislative session. It would not impede the ability of the Legislature to file bills; it would simply provide another track.

Additionally, SB 171 is worded so broadly that the Legislature would be able to intervene in thousands of cases. Many legislators have provided assurances that this bill would rarely be used. However, the Legislature appropriated $700,000 to implement SB 171, suggesting that the Legislature sees enough work for three attorneys, a paralegal, and a legal secretary.

I look forward to further dialogue about how the Executive Branch may properly seek input from the Legislature in defending the type of challenges at issue in SB 171.

Dear President Niederhauser and Speaker Hughes: March 27, 2018

I have vetoed HB 198, Attorney General Responsibility Amendments because it poses a significant threat to the ability of the Executive Branch to receive legal counsel from the Attorney General and because it interferes with the Office of the Attorney General's (OAG) responsibilities to determine for itself whether legal conflicts of interest exist.

Pursuant to the Utah Constitution, the Attorney General is the "legal adviser of the State officers." Art. VII, Section 16. The Utah Supreme Court declared in Hansen v. Utah Retirement Board, 652 P.2d 1332 (1982), that "State officers" means only the executive officers mentioned in Article VII of the Utah Constitution and their respective departments. Notably, the Attorney General has no constitutional duty to provide legal counsel to the Legislature. Instead, the Utah Constitution authorizes the Legislature to appoint its own legal counsel. Art. VI, Section 32(2).

Under that authority, the Legislature has established the Office of Legislative Research and General Counsel, which consists of about two dozen attorneys who serve the Legislative Branch—including by preparing legal opinions. The Attorney General's constitutional mandate to be the legal adviser of the Executive cannot be limited by statute, nor can the attorney-client relationship between the Attorney General and the State officers be limited or defined by statute. HB 198 attempts to do just that by stating "[t]he attorney general may not invoke the potential conflict of interest or attorney-client privilege as grounds to withhold or refuse to provide the legal opinion required in Subsection 67-5-1(7) and this section."

Like all attorneys, the OAG has professional responsibilities to carefully evaluate representation of clients to ensure that conflicts of interest do not exist and that its actions will not harm an existing client. Evaluation of those issues is governed by the Rules of Professional Conduct. Specifically, evaluation of whether the OAG may provide an opinion to the Legislature on a matter affecting the OAG's relationship with an Executive officer or department is governed by Rule 2.3 of the Rules of Professional Conduct.

Under that rule's guidance, the OAG may do so only if it determines that providing the opinion is compatible with its representation of the Executive officer or department. If the OAG concludes that providing an opinion to the Legislature "is likely to affect the [Executive officer's] interests materially and adversely, the [AOG] shall not provide the [opinion] unless the [Executive officer] gives informed consent." Rule 2.3(b). The Legislature may not change this requirement by statute.

HB 198 inappropriately interferes with the OAG's ability to analyze under Rules of Professional Conduct whether it can provide an opinion to the Legislature. If the OAG concludes that providing a certain opinion to the Legislature will materially and adversely affect the interests of the Executive, the OAG must decline to issue the opinion unless the Executive consents. By imposing a rule of decision contrary to Rule 2.3, HB 198 provides a second standard, one that differs from that articulated by the Utah Supreme Court which has constitutional authority to govern the practice of law.

For these reasons, I have vetoed HB 198.

Dear President Niederhauser and Speaker Hughes: March 20, 2018

Although I understand the important policies addressed by HB 322, Non-Emergency Patient Transportation Safety Amendments, I have vetoed it at the request of Representative Ed Redd, the bill's chief sponsor.

On the last day of the General Session, the Legislature passed an amendment that inadvertently omitted 10 words. The omission of the following phrase: "or a non-emergency secure medical transport designated by the department," will actually eliminate the ability of current providers to make such transports, and will greatly increase costs associated with non-emergency facility-to-facility patient transports.

Because of the significance of these unintended consequences, I have vetoed the bill and look forward to working with the sponsor and members of the Legislature to address the underlying policies in a future special session or general session of the Legislature.
