OF THE
STATE OF UTAH

THIRD SPECIAL SESSION

House Chamber
State Capitol
Salt Lake City, Utah
July 13, 2016

The House was called to order by Speaker Gregory H. Hughes at 3:15 p.m.

Prayer given by Representative Don Ipson. Pledge of Allegiance led by Representative Brad Last.

MISCELLANEOUS BUSINESS

Speaker Hughes appointed Sandy D. Tenney as Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives for the 2016 Third Special Session of the 61st Legislature.

The Chief Clerk, Sandy D. Tenney, read the following:

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, since the adjournment of the 2016 General Session of the Sixty-first Legislature of the State of Utah, certain matters have arisen which require immediate legislative attention; and

WHEREAS, Article VII, Section 6 of the Constitution of the State of Utah provides that the Governor may, by proclamation, convene the Legislature into Special Session;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Gary R. Herbert, Governor of the State of Utah, by virtue of the authority vested in me by the Constitution and the laws of the State of Utah, do by this Proclamation call the Sixty-first Legislature of the State of Utah into a Third Special Session at the Utah State Capitol, in Salt Lake City, Utah, on the 13th day of May 2016, at 3:00 p.m., for the following purposes:

1. An appropriation of funds and related legislation for the purpose of constructing an arena at the State Fair Park;

2. Legislation related to the use of unmanned aircrafts over restricted wildfire airspaces;
3. Legislation related to the Utah Justice Reinvestment Initiative;
4. Amendments to the code provisions regarding Judicial Nominating Commissions;
5. Legislation related to the ability of grandparents to visit grandchildren adopted by a family member of the child;
6. A clarification to the statutory exception to the warrant requirement for access to the controlled substance database by probation or parole officers;
7. To consider economic development legislation that would provide certain sales and use tax exemptions for a qualifying enterprise data center;
8. Amendments to the code provisions regarding continuing care retirement communities;
9. Legislation related to the Legislature's review of tax credits, similar to 2016 House Bill 310, Tax Credit Review Amendments; and
10. For the Senate to consent to appointments made by the Governor.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF,
I have hereunto set my hand and caused to be affixed the Great
Seal of the State of Utah.
Done at the Utah State Capitol in Salt Lake City, Utah, this 11th day of July 2016.

Gary R. Herbert
Governor

Spencer J. Cox
Lieutenant Governor

Communication filed.

CERTIFICATION

I, Spencer J. Cox, Lieutenant Governor of the State of Utah, do hereby certify that the attached copy of the Proclamation issued on the 11th day of July, 2016 and signed by Governor Gary R. Herbert, is a true and correct copy of the original Proclamation calling the Sixty-first Legislature of the State of Utah into a Third Special Session at the Capitol Complex at Salt Lake City, Utah on the 13th day of July, 2016, at 3:00 p.m., for the purposes named in the Proclamation.

I FURTHER CERTIFY THAT the membership of the Utah State House of Representatives has not changed from that Certification of the 2016 General Session.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF,
I have hereunto set my hand and
caused to be affixed the Great
Seal of the State of Utah at Salt Lake City, Utah, this 11th day of July, 2016.

Spencer J. Cox
Lieutenant Governor

Communication filed.

MISCELLANEOUS BUSINESS

Roll call showed all members present except Representatives Johnny Anderson, Keith Grover, Paul Ray, and Lowry Snow, excused.

Speaker Hughes announced that pursuant to Joint Rule 2-1-101, the Rules adopted by the Legislature during the 2106 Second Session apply to the conduct of the House during the 2016 Third Special Session.

The Speaker appointed Representatives Brad Dee, Sophia DiCaro, and Lynn Hemingway as a committee to meet with a like committee from the Senate to wait upon the Governor to inform him that the Legislature is organized and ready to receive any communication or message he may have to offer.

The Speaker appointed Representatives Jeremy Peterson, Jon Stanard, and Rebecca Chavez-Houck as a committee to notify the Senate to inform that Honorable Body that the House is organized and ready to do business.

On motion of Representative Dunnigan, as allowed by the Utah Constitution and the Joint Rules of the Legislature, the House voted to continue its practice of reading only the short title of bills and resolutions as they are introduced or considered on a House Calendar and not read the long title of the bills and resolutions unless a majority of the House directs the reading of the long title, short title, or both of any House or Senate bill or resolution.

On motion of Representative Brian King, the House voted to suspend the rule requiring that bills and resolutions remain on a calendar for one legislative day between second and third readings and that the House also suspends the House Rule requiring a favorable recommendation from a House Standing Committee prior to passage of bills and resolutions.

Representative Dee reported that his committee has waited upon the Governor and informed him that the Legislature is organized and ready to do business.

Representative J. Peterson reported that his committee has waited upon the Senate and they are organized and ready to do business.

Senators Todd Weiler, Karen Mayne, and Ann Milner formally notified the House of Representatives that the Senate is organized and ready to do business.

The Speaker appointed Representatives Bruce Cutler, Jon Stanard, and Angela Romero as a committee to meet with a like committee from the Senate to wait upon the Governor to inform him that the Legislature is organized and ready to receive any communication or message he may have to offer.

The Speaker appointed Representatives Kay Christofferson, Derrin Owens, and Sue Duckworth as a committee to notify the Senate to inform that Honorable Body that the House is organized and ready to do business.

On motion of Representative Dunnigan, as allowed by the Utah Constitution and the Joint Rules of the Legislature, the House voted to continue its practice of reading only the short title of bills and resolutions as they are introduced or considered on a House Calendar and not read the long title of the bills and resolutions unless a majority of the House directs the reading of the long title, short title, or both of any House or Senate bill or resolution.

On motion of Representative Brian King, the House voted to suspend the rule requiring that bills and resolutions remain on a calendar for one legislative day between second and third readings and that the House also suspends the House Rule requiring a favorable recommendation from a House Standing Committee prior to passage of bills and resolutions.

Representative Cutler reported that his committee has waited upon the Governor and informed him that the Legislature is organized and ready to do business.

Representative Christofferson reported that his committee has waited upon the Senate and they are organized and ready to do business.

Senators Evan Vickers, Don Ipson, and Jani Iwamoto formally notified the House of Representatives that the Senate is organized and ready to do business.

MORNING SESSION

House Chamber
State Capitol
Salt Lake City, Utah
January 23, 2017

The House was called to order by Melvin R. Brown, former Speaker of the Utah House of Representatives, at 10:00 a.m.

PRAYER BY ELDER DALLIN H. OAKS

Our Father in Heaven, Father of us all, we come before Thee at the initiation of this important session of the House of Representatives of the State of Utah. We thank Thee, Heavenly Father, for the freedom of this land, for the inspired constitutions that have been established throughout its various states. We thank Thee for the privilege of self-government which is demonstrated so effectively in this Chamber and the other Chamber and in our national government. We thank Thee for those who make themselves available for public service. We pray for their families and for their occupations that they have left to perform this service. Wilt Thou watch over and bless them in all of their needs. We pray for the officers and members of this House of Representatives and for the staff who serve them. Wilt Thou bless all of their activities. We pray that they will enjoy safety and good health as they perform their duties. We pray that Thou will bless this House and its members in the performance of all of their duties; that they may always embrace statesmanship over partisanship and civility over contention; that they may have wisdom, even the wisdom of Thy blessing, in all of the performance of their duties as they serve the people of this divinely inspired system of government. We give Thee thanks for the blessings of freedom and the prosperity of this land and pray

Thou will bless us as we continue to seek to serve. In the name of Jesus Christ, Amen

MISCELLANEOUS BUSINESS

Roll call showed all members present, except Representatives Scott Sandall, Keith Grover, and Douglas Sagers, excused.

Former Speaker Melvin R. Brown administered the Oath of Office to the members of the House of Representatives.

On motion of Representative Brian King, the House voted to nominate Gregory H. Hughes as Speaker of the House for the 62nd Legislature.

On motion of Representative Brad Wilson, the House voted to elect Gregory H. Hughes, by acclamation, as Speaker of the House for the 62nd Legislature.

Representatives Susan Duckworth and Marc Roberts escorted Speaker Hughes to the dais.

REMARKS BY SPEAKER GREGORY H. HUGHES

Fellow Representatives, welcome to the start of the 2017 General Session and the 62nd term of our Legislature. We all sit here together, through myriad different occasions and decisions but with something that's common among every single one of us sitting here today, and that is the choices we have each made to be here.

The tapestry of our lives has woven us together. Each of us has decided to make hard decisions and to do hard things as we represent the districts that we today have been sworn in to represent and serve. That binds us together in a unique and rare and powerful way.

These weren't easy, whimsical or carefree decisions that allow us to be public servants; these decisions inherently require hard choices. Think about today—what is in your life, what responsibilities are expected of you, that you're sacrificing to be here?

Not everyone can do that, not everyone is willing to do that. But we are. And there's something special about that and it's something that brings us in this chamber together, in a special way.

I want to talk about the hard choices that we face. To get anything done that's going to matter, it's going to require hard choices. Think about this country. We only have this great nation in which we live because of a culmination of many hard choices. Similarly, with the State of Utah and that pioneer spirit that built it, many hard choices were made to forge and found this state.

These are not unique and new ideas or concepts in which we engage, in which we believe and that have inherently driven us here. There is a common thread running through the stories of those in this country who have helped make this country great.

This body has done tremendous work. And for those who've served before, you know that we have moved the needle. We've done good things and we can be very proud of that. But we also know that we've set a pace for ourselves, an expectation, and there is much more work that we have to do. To those who are new to our chamber, who came by this same path – get ready. The work that we do in the House might not make you popular at times but I promise you this, you put the work in and you will be very proud of what you have to show for it and what you have to report to those constituents that you represent.

Let me talk about a very hard issue, one that's inherently hard. There's not an easy decision within this issue of homelessness. This state is dealing with a homelessness crisis. The values, the culture of this community and of our state, do not align with the carnage that's going on in real time, right now around us.

We've begun to tackle this. Through the leadership of this body we began a Homelessness Initiative. We have our Justice Reform Initiative, where we have worked to try and drill down on the causes that leave people in such desperate conditions and needing help. We worked on a traditional Medicaid bill that would leverage real dollars for behavioral health and those things that are critically needed to attack this issue through a multi-pronged approach. But the tough part is that this work has just begun. This truly is just the beginning.

I want to be clear—one city cannot take on this issue; one county can't take on this issue; the state by itself would not be able to take on this issue. This is going to take a collaborative effort. But the state of Utah is not writing blank checks. We are not sending out blank checks, hoping that our partners are going to be able to make this work out. We are partners in this. We will have every one of those dollars accounted for. And if our partners buckle under the political pressure, if the hard choices just become too hard, then we'll keep moving forward and we will go do that job and we will find those willing stakeholders to get this job done, because they are out there.

Now I am going to put a face to this issue. There's a gentleman I've met, his name is Brandon Kitchen. He committed a federal crime and served 21 years in a federal penitentiary.

On his first day of freedom in the state of Utah, where he didn't know anyone, he learned in a random conversation about a place called The Road Home. After 21 years, doing his time, he finds himself in The Road Home on that first night. Brandon tells me that there was a palpable sense of despair inside that room, people whose trajectory is in a place that they never would have imagined. People who are vulnerable and who need help. And he could feel it.

The next morning he woke up and met a gentleman, a constituent and friend of mine. He was then the Salt Lake City Deputy Chief and his name is Fred Ross. Chief Ross was assigned to the Rio Grande area downtown and he told Brandon, having just met him that morning, that they had a program and if he was serious, they would help him find a job. They would help him with what he needed to be able to become gainfully employed. You see Brandon didn't want a handout. Brandon came out, ready to take on his life and start over again, but he needed some hope. That hope was provided to him and he began that job. Within three weeks of gainful employment, he was able to secure transitional housing. From that transitional housing, he was able to then afford an apartment.

Now we fast forward. Brandon Kitchen, he's a family man. Brandon is here in the chamber with Heather and his twin six-month old boys. You see, that's the face of the story. That's what we're doing here. That's our cause and that cause is just. We're not going to slow down until the people who are in Brandon's situation know that we are here. We help. We serve. That's what we do.

Now that's the aspirational side of the story and that's the part that I think tugs at our heart strings as it rightly should. I'm going to talk now about an insidious part of the homeless crisis, one that doesn't make me feel aspirational at all.

You need to know as colleagues, and I want the public to know, that there are predators among those in Utah who are the most vulnerable and the most needy. There are people, wolves I would call them, who look to expand dependency, who look to multiply the ranks of those in life's worst situations, and they profit from it.

This drug dealing, this human trafficking, the crimes that are going on right now in this state and in our community, go on in broad daylight. They go on with very little consequence and I don't think we know or appreciate that to the degree that it's happening. There are a lot of reasons why. Those reasons are going to be addressed.

Now when you hear me describe these problems, I want you to know these aren't dirtball drug dealers; they're not petty thieves. Here's what's scary—this is a sophisticated criminal enterprise. We have drug cartels that are in our community. You could be walking a city street and see a gentleman in a suit and assume he's a legitimate businessperson. According to the top DEA agent in the state of Utah, many times that will be one of these sophisticated criminals, walking the streets with us. This is not random and it is not happening by accident. This is a fully organized effort to grow and expand the market at the expense of people's lives.

The feeling I have right now is not benevolence and it's not aspirational. It's anger. It makes me so angry that this is happening in our state. I'm drawing a line in the sand with this speech and this session. We are going to tackle that sophisticated criminal element.

Even with the combined efforts of our capital city, our largest county and the State of Utah, this problem is unfortunately bigger than we are. I have met with the top DEA official of this state, I've gone back to Washington, D.C. and I am working with the U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration and our federal delegation. We are going to bring additional federal resources and we are going to attack this problem. They are going to be able to leverage these law enforcement assets. We have to do this together, and we are going to eradicate this criminal element in the State of Utah.

You see, with the best of intentions, we believed that if we were to utilize economies of scale for our homeless population—get them in one place and put all the services around them—that there would be an efficiency to that effort. I've been down there. Many of you have been down there. The economies of scale unfortunately have become a boon for these wolves and predators. It is a one-stop shop to go after and hurt people in their most vulnerable state.

The efforts that we're engaged in are going to start to pull women and children away from what's happening down there. It will be done with limited beds, not with a shelter or a home but with a resource center that has an emphasis on getting people in and getting them out. People need these beds and they need a chance, but we're going to begin to help them move in the same direction that allowed Brandon to achieve success and self-reliance.

It's not going to be easy. You've seen in the papers already that there is angst and worry about the different changes that we're looking to make. We have to have the political will and we have to be committed to the hard choices to make this right, and that's what it's going to require from every single one of us. So that's one tough issue. There are a few more.

The Bears Ears monument is one of them. I stood there with a diverse crowd of people who, on a work day, came to protest. We stood together to say that encumbering this land and suggesting that this community of people who had grown up in the area could not, or would not, be good stewards of the land was not only highly emotional, but it was offensive.

As a suburbanite who doesn't live in rural Utah, had I not been there at that rally and seen and heard these people, I don't know that I would have the conviction I have right now. This idea that by decree, thousands of miles away, you can somehow better take care of the land than the people of that land and that community would do themselves, it's tragic.

And the one image that I thought just put a bow on this, that illustrates the disconnect we're seeing from those, even if well-intentioned, that would encumber this land through a federal designation of a monument against the will of the people of this community, is that when President Obama sent out the tweet to announce to the world that he was creating this national monument, the photo he used was of Arches National Park. If that doesn't let you know that there's a disconnect going on, I don't know what will. It would be funny if it weren't so sad.

That monument, as I've discovered talking to our attorney general's office, is one of the most prescriptive and prohibitive monuments that we have ever seen. It seeks to protect things like dead silence, natural habitat that is not necessarily unique to that area, open skies. This is an overstep. Those are not the objects meant to be protected in any Antiquities Act that you've ever seen before, and it is a great overstep. That's why today I am calling for, and we will be pushing for, the new Trump administration to rescind this national monument entirely.

You know we've seen this movie before—an outgoing president designating a monument. Utah has become the ATM for political payback for special-interest groups on their way out the door. It shouldn't happen here. Let me tell you, what we have the obligation to tell our constituents, and what Utah ought to share with the rest of the country, is that if the federal government can impact the lives of these people in a small town on Main Street in our community, it can happen anywhere. We need to be on guard.

Let's talk about an issue that we dive into every single year that's probably our top priority. Our constituents tell us that one of the number one issues on which they want us to drill down and do right by our students is our public education system.

There has been an inside baseball kind of a narrative going out among the press and the public about education funding. You and I, we all know that this is an issue that we take very seriously and that we tackle every single year. We try to make this right every year, but given that there is more attention on it this year, at least from our friends in the media and those groups and interested stakeholders in the public, let's talk about it.

In 2007 we had tax reform. Our state income tax is dedicated to education, so this state is uniquely tethered to its economy. It's the job you have, the salary you have, that is tied to our ability to fund our public schools.

In 2007, then-Governor Huntsman proposed reforming our income tax system. We had a seven percent tax. We looked at other western states and some didn't have a single dime in state income tax; others had a lower tax than we did. The idea wasn't to ask how could we come up with a solution to take more money out of education. That was not the banner under which we pursued tax reform. The banner that we flew was that we needed to be competitive economically. We needed to be one of those states that if in future years there's ever a ranking, we would be ranked one of the best states in which to do business, one of the nation's strongest economies. These were the goals we would hope to achieve by reforming our income tax and creating a five percent flat rate.

If we want to see more jobs and we want to see people pay more income tax, we need more of you and we need you making more money. The way you do that is you see corporations expand, you see corporations and businesses relocate to our state. That's what we said we'd like to do in 2007. Let's take some inventory right now.

How is job growth in the state of Utah? Are there any rankings out there that are putting Utah in the top tier in terms of economic viability? How's the unemployment rate compared to other states? I would argue that the reform that we put in place in 2007 has done the very things that we hoped we would see happen for the state of Utah.

We can draw all the numbers we want to budgets but it's taxpayers who pay taxes. It's an economy that drives what we're able to do with those finite dollars, and I would argue that if you look at the fiscal state of Utah that we have achieved those goals.

If someone says that you can raise the income tax, that it's not a big deal, let's ask the Governor's Office of Economic Development or the Economic Development Corporation of Utah, organizations that spend every single day looking to draw economic activity and businesses and jobs to our state. Let's ask them, "Can you lead, not with tax abatements or lower taxes, but with, 'We're going to raise your taxes. Come to Utah because we've got a great bill and we're going to raise the income tax here in the State of Utah. Come on in.'"

You've seen the kind of incentives that states use to try and draw businesses and economic activity to their states. They are looking for the lowering of taxes, looking for the tax burden to be lightened. I worry when, even under the best of intentions, we are talking about raising a tax. Those that look to bring this economic activity will not have as big or as great or grand of a story to tell if we take our income tax and simply raise it.

So then what? Do we not do anything? Do we give up? Let me go back to the last issue about our lands. If we, as policymakers, want to understand why those states that fund more dollars per child do it better than we do, let's have a look at what their tax policy actually looks like. Property tax is a major engine for education across this country, more so than an income tax. Not every state, in fact I think few states, would look solely to an income tax to fund their schools.

Property tax is the engine that funds public schools in this country. Now let's go to one of those states that we envy and let's look at their tax structure and we see that they have a property tax mechanism within their tax system that helps them provide those needed resources for their schools. Then let's take a look at what we have, with 68 percent of our land that is un-taxable. Are any of those successful states, who are committing those property tax dollars to their public schools, able to erase 68 percent of their land on which economic activity occurs or from which property taxes are derived? Where would they be and how would that affect their ability to fund their schools? We need to think about that and think about what challenges lie before us and what opportunities we're missing when we don't control the majority of our lands.

Let me give you something else to think about. We have our School Institutional Trust Lands, these little blocks of land all across the State of Utah. It was charged at statehood that those blocks of land are to derive revenue, and that revenue is committed to our schools. In the 1990's, that fund had been spent and they were seeing those dollars drawn down to almost nothing, so there was reform. I believe it was the former Speaker Mel Brown who said that we need to just let that fund grow, and not touch the principal ever again.

We sit here today in 2017, after seeing the SITLA fund grow uninterrupted, to the point where we are now drawing $50 million a year of revenue, and growing, from interest alone. That fund, which was in the tens of millions of dollars in the 1990s, is now $2.249 billion.

Here is a sustainable and growing revenue source for public schools. Now go meet your community councils, because that's where those dollars go—elementary schools, middle schools, high schools—go ask those community councils if those dollars aren't appreciated, and ask them what they can do with those funds? I would argue that this is a best practice, something we should learn from.

Should we not prioritize or think about how to expand such an incredible program, one that brings so much good in a sustainable and growing way to our public schools? I would argue we should. I know that some of our education stakeholders don't like the public lands issue.

If you look at the formula that works for other states and at the limitations that we have, and then you see a program as strong as our School Institutional Trust Lands fund and what it is able to accomplish, we need to do better. How can we do a better job of making it a bipartisan effort to see the resources and the opportunities of this state, and its land, managed and protected to provide a sustainable and growing revenue for our public schools? I leave that for you to think about.

In 2013 there was a bill that was passed and it was the formation of the Commission on Federalism. A lot of the things we're talking about have to do with the relationship between a state and its federal government. We mentioned homelessness and we talked about the Medicaid bill that we passed; a traditional Medicaid bill.

With the help of Representative Hutchings and many, many other stakeholders, we were able to find $30 million of state money. We talked to HHS, we talked to those in the beltway, and we said, "What about these waivers we need to make this a Utah plan?" And we were told that these waivers were reasonable.

We did not do this in the dark, and Representative Dunnigan will tell you that this bill was not drafted in a vacuum. It was relayed to us from CMS, HHS, these acronyms inside the beltway, that these were waivers that were acceptable. If those waivers were granted, you would see $100 million come to bear for the most vulnerable among us. Those at zero percent of the federal poverty level. That works into this homelessness issue we were talking about.

JRI has seen a shortfall because of some of the inaction of our federal government. The Medicaid bill that we worked so hard on, trying to find that right fit, we've seen the waivers in this bill largely ignored this last year. The public lands that we talked about, the designation of a monument and even the funding of our public schools, all have a relationship with this federal government. I don't know that it's a healthy relationship.

So the Commission on Federalism began to take inventory of the issues that impact this state and its right to govern, and where the federal government and its laws and regulations have created unintended consequences. In the Senate Chamber this morning, Senate President Niederhauser is announcing to his body, and I am announcing to you, that we are reconstituting our Commission on Federalism during this session. We are going to take special and careful inventory of these issues that impact our state and that interrupt our ability to govern as a state.

We're going to do quick work because we will have, no doubt, a laundry list of issues that we would like this new administration and our federal delegation to drill down on, to allow for the concentrated power of government within Washington to be released and to be found within the state legislative chambers across the country. We will be providing this list from the Commission to our federal delegation and to the Trump administration, because there is great work to do and the window of opportunity is upon us.

The issues I've just brought up, they're just scratching the surface. They're just a few of the issues that we're going to tackle. There are more coming and there are probably issues we don't even know about yet that are going to take our bandwidth and our time, and are going to require that we make votes of conscience and that we make hard decisions. Let me just tell you this – let's work hard, let's be collaborative, let's have courage and let's have the strength of will to make hard choices. We have a reputation for it. We've done it before. If we continue on this path, we know that we will leave after 45 days, with this state better than we found it.

God bless this effort. God bless the state of Utah. God bless this great nation, and thank you.

MISCELLANEOUS BUSINESS

On motion of Representative Brad Wilson, the House voted to have the prayer given by Elder Dallin H. Oaks, Church of Jesus Christ of Latter–Day Saints, and the remarks given by Speaker Gregory H. Hughes printed upon the pages of the House Journal.

On motion of Representative Francis Gibson, the House voted to authorize the Speaker to appoint a committee to meet with a like committee from the Senate to wait upon the Governor to inform him that the Legislature is organized and ready to receive any communication or message he may have to offer. Speaker Hughes appointed Representatives Paul Ray, Kim Coleman, and Rebecca Chavez–Houck.

On motion of Representative Joel Briscoe, the House voted to authorize the Speaker to appoint a committee to notify the Senate to inform that Honorable Body that the House is organized and ready to do business. Speaker Hughes appointed Representatives Jim Dunnigan, Becky Edwards, and Mark Wheatley.

On motion of Representative Michael Noel, the House voted to adopt House Rules, Joint Rules, and Interim Rules as were adopted by the 2016 Fourth Special Session of the 61st Legislature, until such time as new rules may be adopted by the 2017 General Session of the 62nd Legislature.

On motion of Representative Michael Noel, and as allowed by the Utah Constitution and the Joint Rules of the Legislature, the House voted, by a two–thirds majority, to continue its practice of reading only the short title of bills and resolutions as they are introduced or considered on a House calendar and not read the long title of the bills and resolutions, unless a majority of the House directs the reading of the long title, short title, or both, of any House or Senate bill or resolution.

On motion of Representative Angela Romero, the House voted to print upon the pages of the House Journal that the House Majority Caucus has elected the following members to positions of Caucus Leadership for the 2017–2018 term:

Brad Wilson, Majority Leader
Francis Gibson, Majority Whip

COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE

On motion of Representative Wilson, the House resolved itself into a Committee of the Whole, with the Speaker as Chairman, for the purpose of hearing from Chief Justice Matthew B. Durrant.

STATE OF THE JUDICIARY CHIEF JUSTICE MATTHEW B. DURRANT

I always count it a great privilege to stand before this body. Seeing you reminds me it is no accident that Utah is widely regarded as the best-managed state in the country. And it is an opportunity to thank you for the sacrifice of time and money you make to serve the citizens of our great state.

I'm here with my colleagues, Associate Chief Justice Thomas Lee, Justice Christine Durham, Justice Deno Himonas, and Justice John Pearce. It is my good fortune to serve with four individuals whom I respect deeply not only as jurists, but as human beings. And we are pleased to be joined by members of our judicial council, who are sitting in the gallery along with Elaine Becker, the lovely wife of Dan Becker, our state court administrator. Dan is retiring this May after 22 years of service. That means he has assisted in preparing 21 state of the judiciary addresses, and this is his last.

This observation caused us both to become a bit nostalgic as we discussed my comments to you today, and he dug up a copy of a state of the judiciary address that Chief Justice Michael Zimmerman gave early in Dan's tenure. The year was 1997, twenty years ago. That speech was memorable in that the chief justice spoke to you wearing only a business suit, not his judicial robe. He did it to illustrate that as chief justice he served in two distinct roles, one a judicial role as the chief justice of the supreme court, and the other an administrative role as chair of the judicial council, the role he assumed that day. I considered doing the same and speaking before you without my robe, but thought better of it when I realized that I'm still wearing the same cheap suit I was wearing twenty years ago. It's a suit that looks much better when covered by a robe. Also, I'm told that the robe flatters my figure.

Dan's retirement after over two decades of service, has caused me to reflect on just how much things have changed in that time—in the legislature, in our culture, and in our courts.

As for the legislature, two decades ago, in 1997, only seven of you were serving in this body – Senators Hillyard and Howard Stephenson, and then Representatives Arent, Davis, Dayton, Harper and Knudson. That was so long ago that even Orrin Hatch had only just begun his service as a United States Senator.

No, check that . . . he was just beginning his third decade in the Senate. And I guess there goes my shot at that open U.S. Supreme Court appointment.

As for our culture, it was about twenty years ago that Michael Jordan pushed off to vault the Chicago Bulls to an NBA championship over the Jazz. I know there are some who argue that he did not push off, but after much consideration I am now prepared to rule. He pushed off. And if you think I don't have the power to decide that, you haven't read the Utah Constitution.

And there have been so many technological changes. For instance, today you can meet your future wife or husband through a computer. Twenty years ago you had to meet him or her at a church dance or in a bar. In my case, it was a bar—the salad bar at the BYU cafeteria.

Our courts have changed just as much as our broader culture. In 1997, we were just beginning to undertake non-traditional responsibilities. We were asked to do work previously done by social service organizations or not done at all. Clerks were charged with assisting parties in filling out domestic violence protective orders, the courts became responsible for the Office of the Guardian ad Litem, and judges were starting to look at a person's underlying behavioral health problem, not just the charge that brought them into court. Our first drug courts began in 1996. At that time we were just initiating alternative dispute resolution, but only in a few civil cases.

And we were piloting a new information case management system, called CORIS. We were also piloting an education program for divorcing parents. We took pride in the services we provided unrepresented parties through our Quick Court Kiosks. They met a real need, even though back then most cases had attorneys on both sides. And twenty years ago, the juvenile justice task force was working on juvenile justice reform in response to a surge in gang violence.

Now fast forward twenty years. The dispassionate magistrate model of judging, in which, as described by Chief Justice John Roberts, judges call balls and strikes, has in part been replaced by a model where our trial court judges, in addition to calling balls and strikes, also in some case—such as those in our drug, mental health, and veterans courts—take on the role of coaches, encouraging success and supervising the delivery of supportive services.

The management of our court system has moved to one driven by data-based decisions, accountability, and transparency, with our performance posted on-line for all to see. We have gone from piloting CORIS to becoming a completely electronic system in our justice, juvenile, and district courts statewide, the first state in the country to achieve this.

Twenty years ago, both the public and attorneys were required to drive to the courthouse to do their work, which, particularly in rural areas, was a significant burden. Now they can simply file and access court records and documents remotely.

Those drug courts that were a pilot project in one district and in one juvenile court back in 1997 are now in every judicial district for both adults and juveniles. And the success of drug courts has led to mental health courts and veterans courts. Divorce education is now mandatory in all divorce cases where children are involved, and we also offer a divorce orientation program, and a program that focuses on children in divorce.

The number of self-represented parties has grown exponentially in the last twenty years. Now, cases with attorneys on both sides are the exception. In the majority of cases we see parties without lawyers on at least one side, and often both parties are unrepresented. Back then, mediation was limited to civil cases. Now we also routinely use mediation in child welfare, domestic, landlord-tenant, victim-offender, truancy, and debt collection cases.

Those kiosks that we used to have in our courthouses have been replaced by an internet-based service, our Online Court Assistance Program. And we have dramatically increased the services available for self-represented parties, including a court-based self-help center that assisted over 20,000 people last year.

Twenty years ago, justice courts worked largely in isolation. Now our centralized administrative office provides them with training, audit, legal, and technology services. We have made all of our courts more transparent to the public through video coverage of court proceedings. And our juvenile courts have moved from hearings that were entirely closed to the public to proceedings that are presumed open to the media and the public. During these twenty years, we have moved from using court reporters to an all-digital court recording environment, which has saved considerable cost and sped the process of generating transcripts. Further, with your support, twenty-two new courthouses have opened and many others have been remodeled, ensuring that the work of justice can be done in surroundings reflecting its importance.

One overarching change that we have made in our court system over the past twenty years is that rather than simply being guided by tradition (that is, by the notion that we ought to simply keep doing what we have always done), we have tried to see our court system and our responsibility as judges in a different way. Instead of being guided by tradition, anecdote, or “gut instinct,” we are guided by research, data, and evidence about what works. This new evidence-based way of approaching our jobs as judges and of discharging our obligations as a court system permeates every aspect of what we do. We have earnestly sought to make all of our services and our administrative and judicial practices, including sentencing, evidence based.

The Justice Reinvestment Initiative is a reflection of this evidence-based approach. It is founded upon the consensus research that tells us the best way to rehabilitate most offenders, and thereby better protect society, is to substitute treatment for incarceration. In our state's current efforts to reform our juvenile justice system, and as we reevaluate our pre-trial release practices, once more we look to the data, to the research, to what we know works.

We also know that sometimes what works for the public is easier and more timely access to our judicial system. Two ways in which we have addressed access to the courts are the online court assistance program and self-help center that I've already mentioned, but we are also developing two other initiatives intended to increase the availability of legal assistance and access to our courts. In three areas where the lack of affordable legal assistance is especially acute—domestic cases, landlord-tenant disputes, and eviction cases—we are developing a very promising market-based solution, effectively creating a new profession—Licensed Paralegal Practitioners.

These LPP's will be non-lawyers authorized to offer certain legal services that to this point only a lawyer could provide. They will be required to be specially trained and certified, which will involve an extensive curriculum of course work, and they will also be required to pass a test in each of the practice areas I mentioned. These individuals will provide, on a more limited basis than a lawyer, legal services at a substantially reduced cost. So more people will be able to afford and receive the legal assistance they need.

We are also very excited about the progress we have made in another innovative initiative, Online Dispute Resolution. Here again, we are a national leader. When operational later this year, this new process will allow citizens to evaluate, negotiate, and, if necessary, litigate their small claims case completely on the internet. They will be able to have settlement discussions, exchange documents, and in those cases where it is required, enlist the services of a mediator or a judge. All on-line, and on their schedule, not the court's.

The courts have taken the initiative on these issues, but let me now address a few topics that will be before the legislature this session. As I mentioned earlier, in 1997 we were focused on juvenile justice reform. Well, the state is again focused on that issue. That earlier reform movement was driven by gang violence. Now the effort is driven by data, data that informs us as to how we can best address the problem of juvenile delinquency. A study committee, through CCJJ, is advancing a number of reforms, and we support the concepts underlying these reforms. We will have suggestions on how this proposal can be improved, but my chief concern in this respect is funding. And I would put it this way, if the juvenile justice reform proposal cannot be adequately funded, and we sincerely hope that is possible, I think the better course would be to defer it to next year so that the reforms can be matched to the resources.

This is a lesson I think that we have all learned from the Justice Reinvestment Initiative. JRI was and remains the right policy decision, an evidence-based policy decision, and I commend this body for its wisdom in passing that initiative. But it was predicated on the idea that in appropriate cases, the far better response to criminal behavior is treatment rather than incarceration, the idea that in the long run our society is safer and the cost savings are significant if we can somehow shut the revolving door that leads those addicted to drugs to end up back in jail or prison time and time again.

But the treatment side of JRI has yet to be adequately addressed. I encourage you to find a way to complete the entire JRI package and allow this significant reform to cross the finish line. The successes that all of us are hoping for depend on this last critical piece of the puzzle being in place.

One final request, this one for our budget. I urge you to create a new district court judgeship in our fifth judicial district—the rapidly growing southwest part of our state. For several years our workload has been such in that district that it is essential to add an additional judge. And for the first time in decades, our projections show this as the last hotspot that can't be addressed in other ways. We believe this will be the last new judge we request for a number of years to come.

Now, finally, just a word about our retiring court administrator, Dan Becker. In Utah we are fortunate to have a court system that has become a national exemplar. During my tenure as chief I have seized upon every opportunity to brag about our judges and our court system. I often make the case that we are the best judiciary in the country. I did this recently at our annual judicial conference, which was attended by the President of the National Center for State Courts, the sister organization to your National Conference of State Legislatures.

As I spoke, I wondered if, in her eyes, I was overstating my case. And in fact when she stood up, my fear seemed to be realized. She began by saying, "Chief Justice Durrant has it wrong." But then she went on to say that Utah's judiciary is not just regarded as the best in the nation, but as a model internationally. She added that when people ask her which judicial system is the best organized, most efficient, and best managed among all the states, the answer is easy—it's Utah.

She said that who might be second or third is more difficult to say, but never who is the best.

Now, one of the reasons for this is that we have extraordinarily talented and qualified judges, largely because of the foresight and wisdom of this body over three decades ago. It was then that you adopted a process for the selection of judges that is focused on merit, a process that yields the best and brightest from among the legal profession to serve as our judges. And for that I thank you.

As I mentioned, many things have changed in the last 20 years—in the legislature, in our culture, and in our courts. But one constant for the judiciary, and another significant reason for our remarkable national reputation, is that during those years we have had as our court administrator a man who is a true visionary. A man who has earnestly worked each day of the last 22 years to effect the changes in Utah’s courts that I have described, and many more. And he has done all this so that the judicial branch of our government could better fulfill its constitutional role and better serve the citizens of Utah. We all owe an enormous debt of gratitude to Dan Becker for his dedicated service. In conclusion, I wish you a productive session, and I hope you will join me in thanking Dan for his extraordinary contribution.

On motion of Representative Wilson, the Committee of the Whole was dissolved.

Report filed. On motion of Representative Noel, the House voted to adopt the report. The Speaker assigned the bills to the committees recommended by the House Rules committee.

MISCELLANEOUS BUSINESS

On motion of Representative Wilson, and at 11:55 a.m., the House voted to adjourn until January 26, 2017, at 11:00 a.m.

JOINT CONVENTION

President Wayne Niederhauser called the Joint Convention of the Legislature to order at 6:15 p.m. in the Chamber of the Utah House of Representatives and recognized Greg Hughes, Speaker of the House.

President Niederhauser announced that a quorum of the House of Representatives and the Senate was present.

President Niederhauser appointed a Joint Committee comprised of Senators Ralph Okerlund, Stuart Adams, and Gene Davis, and Representatives Brad Wilson, Francis Gibson, and Brian King to notify Governor Gary R. Herbert that the 2017 General Session of the Sixty–Second Legislature is in Joint Convention and ready to hear his State–of–the–State address.

President Niederhauser acknowledged special guests and elected and appointed officials in attendance at the Joint Convention.

Senator Ralph Okerlund made a motion that the Legislature resolve into a Joint Convention and Committee of the Whole for the purpose of hearing Governor Herbert’s State–of–the–State address.

The Joint Committee escorted Governor Herbert to the House rostrum.

STATE–OF–THE–STATE ADDRESS BY GOVERNOR GARY R. HERBERT

President Niederhauser, Speaker Hughes, members of the Legislature, Justices of the Utah Supreme Court, Utah’s First Lady, Lieutenant Governor and Mrs. Cox, other constitutional officers, and my fellow Utahns: It is an honor to address you in this historic State Capitol that serves as a symbol of our collective dreams and aspirations.

Three weeks ago, at our state inauguration, we had the privilege of hearing the Mormon Tabernacle Choir. And I am very pleased to report that in spite of the choir’s decision to sing at my inauguration, not one choir member has resigned.

You’ll remember that the choir performed “Climb Every Mountain.” As they sang, I reflected on all the mountains that we must climb and conquer in our personal lives, as a people, and as a state.

When I first took office, Utah was climbing out of the Great Recession. Recognizing that so many of our challenges required a robust economy, we made economic recovery our primary objective.

Our climb has been arduous, but the height that Utah's economy now occupies is remarkable. (I truly could spend all evening simply listing the national accolades that have come our way — and I know you wish I would.) But let me simply note these meaningful, bottom-line facts: last year, Utah had one of the fastest growing technology sectors in the nation, and Utah businesses added more than 43,000 jobs to our economy.

Thanks to the collective efforts of the lawmakers and officials gathered here tonight, and primarily thanks to the hard work and cooperation of the people of Utah, I can say emphatically that the state of our state is truly exceptional.

But we haven't come this far to only go this far. There are several important summits for us to climb together over the next four years.

But before we talk about those peaks, let me say a few words about two of the very deep and shadowy valleys in our state's current landscape: drug addiction and homelessness.

I firmly believe that those closest to such issues will typically have the most informed answers. And I have been encouraged to see our local elected officials, our local law enforcement agencies, and our local charities working together to alleviate the suffering of those seeking treatment and those needing shelter.

But I also recognize that the state has a role in addressing this problem.

Speaker Hughes, I am particularly grateful for your willingness to address this issue head on. I look forward to your assessment and recommendations about what further state support is needed as you and the legislature engage with — and monitor — local efforts.

And let us, as a state, be absolutely clear that we will no longer tolerate the unconscionable drug trade that victimizes the most vulnerable in our community. Let us all agree tonight that this absolutely must stop!

I wish we had time to talk through every challenge we face, but let's direct our gaze to a few of the more significant summits ahead of us.

Among the most important is that of educational excellence. If we will unite and focus, Utah can be at the top of the nation in student achievement.

And we have already come quite some distance. Since 2009, Utah's high school graduation rate has climbed from 75 to 85 percent, the 4th largest such increase in the nation.

In the most recent National Assessment of Educational Progress — known as the nation's report card — Utah's fourth graders ranked 8th in the nation in Math, 7th in Reading and 5th in Science. And Utah's eighth graders ranked 8th in Math, 6th in Reading AND were ranked 1st in the nation in Science.

Thanks to the dedication and hard work of Utah's teachers, parents and students we can confidently say that Utah is getting a superior return on its investment in education.

I am gratified by our progress, but we still have work to do. Our strong aggregate statistics mask the challenges faced by some of our students. But I remain hopeful because I know of Utah's innovative and can-do spirit. Therefore, I truly believe that Utah can be number one in the nation on meaningful, measurable milestones of student achievement.

I am pleased that business leaders, parents and educators from across the state are very close to uniting on an innovative 10-year plan for kindergarten through post-high school that will take education in Utah from where we are — which is pretty darn good — to where we need to go — which is to be at the very top.

Governance of our public education system is complex. Our state Board of Education has the “general control and supervision” of public education. Our constitution tasks you, the Legislature, with the “establishment and maintenance” of our public education system. And we recognize that the most important work is accomplished by educators, parents and students at the local level in our 41 school districts and in our 119 charter schools, all designed to make students college and career ready.

Structurally, my role as Governor, is the power to convene and the power of this bully pulpit. And I can assure you that I will continue to do all that I can to push for support of our frontline educators, for appropriate accountable funding and for innovative alignment between our classrooms and our diverse and dynamic marketplace.

For example, jobs in Utah's aerospace industry are growing faster than there are trained workers to fill them. To address this, in 2015, I announced a pilot program — called Utah Aerospace Pathways.

Aerospace Pathways provides high school students with early training, internships and a head start in entering the workforce with world-class aerospace companies in Utah such as Boeing, Hexcel, and Orbital ATK.

Colton Winters was one of the first to enroll in Aerospace Pathways. Recently, Colton's father, Luke Winters wrote to me about the great experience his son had in the program. Even better, Hexcel's experience with Colton during his internship was so positive that the company hired him right out of high school.

The Pathways model assures parents that their children will find meaningful employment here in Utah. It gives confidence to Utah businesses that they will have a qualified workforce. And it supports our schools by optimizing engagement between business and education.

Therefore, I am pleased to announce tonight a major collaboration called Talent Ready Utah that will accelerate these mutually reinforcing successes. Led by the Governor's Office of Economic Development and my education advisor Tami Pyfer, and in partnership with the State Board of Education, Talent Ready Utah will expand career opportunities statewide by increasing the number of business and education partnerships.

Over the next four years — for pathway-like programs alone — Talent Ready Utah will recruit hundreds of businesses across Utah to partner with and invest in local education.

And we anticipate that Talent Ready Utah will help fill 40,000 new high-skill, high-paying jobs over the next four years.

Working together, we have invested $1.8 billion of new money in education over the past 5 years — and I thank you for your wisdom, foresight and commitment.

As you know, however, because Utah has had the fastest growing student population in the nation, we have significant funding needs just to accommodate the growth. And in order to push our way to the top, we need to invest more money into education.

But at the same time I am very concerned about altering our tax policies in any way that could damage our robust economic engine. In fact, the very best way to ensure ongoing growth of education funding is to continue to grow our economy. Failure to take into account how tax rates affect business investment won't help us make good policy decisions.

Look, I get it. And I know that you get it. No one likes to pay taxes. But everyone agrees that the state requires sufficient revenue to perform the essential public functions that we the people need.

Utah has benefitted from a sound and diversified revenue policy that has helped us to weather economic shocks better than any other state in America. But over the years, Utah's base that produces tax revenue has, in fact, narrowed.

Utah has required payment of a use tax on out-of-state purchases since 1937. Back when out-of-state purchases were few and far between, collection of the use tax was not a big deal. Today, however, we purchase more and more goods out of state because of the convenience of online shopping. And collection of the use tax on those purchases is cumbersome.

Our Legislative Fiscal Analyst, our Office and Management and Budget and the Utah State Tax Commission now estimate that the owed but unpaid use tax is approximately $150 to $200 million per year and rising.

In addition, our tax system has become complicated. For example, in 1996 there were 48 sales tax exemptions; today, there are 89. In that same period, income tax credits have more than tripled -- from 12 to 38. This narrowing of the base is now creating pressure to raise tax rates.

We all know that Congress needs to resolve the issue of how to effectively collect our owed but unpaid use tax. But if Congress won't do its job, then you, the Legislature, must act to provide our own state solution.

I also urge a thorough legislative review of each and every tax exemption and tax credit to examine whether it has outlived its usefulness. That means making our taxes fairer by eliminating loopholes and broadening the base.

I look forward to working with President Niederhauser, Speaker Hughes, Senator Henderson, Representative Eliason, and others in the legislature and with members of the private sector to improve significantly the fairness and equity of our tax system -- while maintaining Utah's number-one business friendly environment.

I believe that government regulations are designed to level playing fields and to protect the public. An example of effective state regulation can be found with how Utah governs alcohol. The results have been strong, as attested by Utah's low DUI fatalities, our low underage consumption, our low binge drinking rate and our enviable public safety record. But there is room for improvement.

Therefore, I appreciate the good work being done by Rep. Brad Wilson and Sen. Jerry Stevenson to improve our alcohol policy. For the past several months, we have been working closely together to evaluate our existing laws governing alcohol dispensing, licensing, prevention, education, and enforcement.

I know that many in the media have focused narrowly on the issue of dispensing restrictions — but that would be merely one aspect of this updating. This is about public health and public safety. We will ensure that our regulations — coupled with additional state resources — focus on education, prevention, and enforcement practices that are proven to further reduce underage drinking, alcohol abuse and impaired driving.

I believe we can do this without stigmatizing how responsible adults purchase and consume alcoholic drinks in dining establishments, and I believe we can do this without blurring the important distinction between restaurants and bars. To that end, we will work together this legislative session to keep and enhance what works for Utah, and repeal what does not.

A year ago, I pledged we would not rest until all 29 counties and all 245 cities and towns in our state are full participants in Utah's tremendous economic success.

We are making progress.

Tourism — now an $8.2 billion industry in Utah — is generating over a billion dollars in state and local taxes, and bringing jobs and more economic diversity to cities and towns in rural Utah. Moreover, visitation at our Mighty Five national parks, our state parks, and other areas of the state hit record levels over the past year. But tourism is only one piece of the puzzle.

Across rural Utah, many businesses are working with the state to innovate and to expand. One example is Houweling's Tomatoes in Juab County, where state-of-the-art technology has helped them grow their business by some 280 full-time jobs.

Still, the fact remains that parts of Utah outside the Wasatch Front are struggling.

Tonight, I would like us to unite behind a goal of creating 25,000 new jobs in the 25 counties off the Wasatch Front over the next four years. Reaching that goal will require unprecedented partnerships to grow and diversify the economy in rural Utah. To that end, I will work with Lieutenant Governor Cox and the Rural Partnership Board, the private sector and you, the legislature, to ensure that all Utahns have the same economic opportunities. Let's work together to create 25,000 new jobs in the rural and outlying parts of Utah.

Another issue that worries me — and I know concerns you, too — is our air quality. Utah is now the fastest growing state in America, which means more trucks and automobiles contributing to air pollution. As I have said before, there is no silver bullet for our pollution problems.

That is why I created the Utah Clean Air Partnership (UCAIR), a statewide nonprofit that empowers individuals and organizations to take proactive steps to reduce air pollution.

We will continue to fast-track the arrival of cleaner fuels, cleaner cars and to get people to drive less and to conserve more.

Utah will soon collect an estimated $35 million from the Volkswagen settlement to improve how diesel technologies affect air quality. I have asked our Department of Environmental Quality and our Division of Air Quality to convene stakeholders to analyze and identify how these valuable settlement dollars will give us the largest sustainable reduction of pollution possible. Those discussions should include replacing high-polluting diesel engines, including those in our older diesel-burning school busses.

We are already making a difference. While Utah's population increased by more than 600,000 between 2002 and 2014, total statewide emissions declined by 30 percent. That's a 46 percent reduction in per capita emissions.

We have been able to accomplish this:

- by requiring refineries and other large industries to invest hundreds of millions of dollars in the best available emission control technology;
- by expanding our transit system faster than any state in the country;
- by educating the public about things we all can do, such as carpooling and turning down our thermostats;
- by engaging with industry to encourage the construction of more energy efficient buildings;
- and by making inroads in alternative energy — Utah is now in the top 10 in the nation for electric vehicle adoption and number one for Compressed Natural Gas infrastructure.

Sometimes we fail to recognize our progress. So this year I will tour the state to highlight actions that are making a positive difference for air quality — such as the refineries that are accelerating the arrival of low-sulfur fuels to our market. And along the way, I will also visit those organizations that need a little extra encouragement to help us make measurable improvements to our air quality.

This is a shared responsibility, so let's keep it up and redouble our collective efforts because we shouldn't have to climb to a summit in order to breathe clean air.

Last week I was in Washington, D.C. Having just returned from the Inauguration, I can attest that if there is one message that is clear from the new administration it is that power will be returned to the people and to the states. I am confident that the new administration and Congress, working with the states, will enact major reforms that will enable us as a state to gain greater control and management over education, transportation, healthcare, natural resources, and our public lands.

There is a renewed appreciation for the Tenth Amendment and a realization that the states are truly the laboratories of democracy, the place where real solutions are developed to improve people's lives. It is at the state level where innovation, tailored to the unique local demographics, is actually taking place. And Utah is at the forefront of that innovation and that effort.

Yes, there are challenges ahead. But we have a history of working together to accomplish what others say is too hard. Defying the odds to achieve greatness is part of our cultural DNA.

That quality is exemplified by Alpine resident and entrepreneur Greg Paul, the founder of the popular Momentum climbing gyms located in Salt Lake City, Sandy, and Lehi.

In 2003, when the doctor told Greg his knees were shot and advised him to take up croquet, he ignored the counsel and continued to dream the seemingly impossible dream to summit Mount Everest.

In 2008, Greg had his right knee replaced with an artificial knee system made by Draper-based Ortho Development.

His first attempt at Everest in 2012 ended when avalanches forced his team to cancel the climb.

Later that same year, Greg had his left knee replaced.

His second crack at Everest in 2014 fell short when a major avalanche killed more than a dozen people on the mountain.

Finally this last May, on his third attempt, confronted by severe weather, Greg's climbing team paused just short of Everest's summit, wondering whether to turn back once again.

Early on the morning of Friday the Thirteenth, Greg shrugged off all superstition, and seeing the weather improve over the summit, he took courage and he resumed the climb.

Accompanied only by his Sherpa guide, Greg ascended the summit, becoming the first American climber to conquer Everest in three years. And the first person ever to conquer Everest with artificial knees -- high-tech replacements from Draper, Utah.

As a state, we have daunting summits ahead.

We need to get on top of intergenerational poverty, teen suicide, homelessness and addiction.

We need to be at the top of the nation in student achievement and align our training with marketplace demands.

We need to keep our tax system balanced and competitive while making it fairer and more inclusive.

We need to see that our economic opportunities are expanding statewide.

We need to continue to clean up our air.

And we need to reinvigorate principled federalism that will allow us to apply Utah solutions to Utah challenges.

Like Greg Paul, it may take years of planning and preparation to reach our goal.

Like Greg, we may face seemingly insurmountable obstacles on our first and second attempts.

Like Greg, we will likely need Utah innovation and technology to enhance our natural capacity.

But also like Greg, we need to keep our eye focused on our lofty objective, recognize when the momentary window of opportunity opens, and then seize the day and press on to the top.

Personally, I am committed to this trek, no matter how difficult the way.

I am exhilarated by the challenge because I have never been more optimistic about Utah's prospects for success. I invite all of you to join with me in this effort. May God bless us as we, together, climb ever higher.

May God bless America. And may God continue to bless the Great State of Utah!

148 Be it enacted by the Legislature of the state of Utah:

Section 1. Section 16-6a-207 is amended to read:

16-6a-207. Incorporation of cooperative association.

(1) (a) If a cooperative association meets the requirements of Subsection (1)(b), it may:

(i) be incorporated under this chapter; and

(ii) use the word “cooperative” as part of its corporate or business name.

(b) A cooperative association described in Subsection (1)(a):

(i) may not be ~~{-: (A)-}~~ an association subject to the insurance or credit union laws of this state; and ~~{-(B) a health insurance purchasing association as defined in Section 31A-34-103; or -}~~

~~{-(C) a health insurance purchasing alliance licensed under Title 31A, Chapter 34, Voluntary Health Insurance Purchasing Alliance Act; and-}~~

(ii) shall state in its articles of incorporation that:

(A) a member may not have more than one vote regardless of the number or amount of stock or membership capital owned by the member unless voting is based in whole or in part on the volume of patronage of the member with the cooperative association; and

(B) savings in excess of dividends and additions to reserves and surplus shall be distributed or allocated to members or patrons on the basis of patronage.

(2) (a) Any cooperative association incorporated in accordance with Subsection (1):

(i) has all the rights and is subject to the limitations provided in Section 3-1-11; and

(ii) may pay dividends on its stock, if it has stock, subject to the limitations of Section 3-1-11.

(b) The articles of incorporation or the bylaws of a cooperative association incorporated in accordance with Subsection (1) may provide for:

(i) the establishment and alteration of voting districts;

(ii) the election of delegates to represent:

(A) the districts described in Subsection (2)(b)(i); and

(B) the members of the districts described in Subsection (2)(b)(i);

(iii) the establishment and alteration of director districts; and

(iv) the election of directors to represent the districts described in Subsection (2)(b)(ii) by:

(A) the members of the districts; or

(B) delegates elected by the members.

(3) (a) A corporation organized under Title 3, Uniform Agricultural Cooperative Association Act, or Title 16, Chapter 16, Uniform Limited Cooperative Association Act, may convert itself into a cooperative association subject to this chapter by adopting appropriate amendments to its articles of incorporation by which:

(i) it elects to become subject to this chapter; and

(ii) makes changes in its articles of incorporation that are:

(A) required by this chapter; and

(B) any other changes permitted by this chapter.

(b) The amendments described in Subsection (3)(a) shall be adopted and filed in the manner provided by the law then applicable to the cooperative nonprofit corporation.

~~{-(4) Notwithstanding Subsection (1), a health insurance purchasing association may not use the word "cooperative" or "alliance" but may use the word "association."-}~~

~~{-(5)-}~~ (4) Except as otherwise provided in this section, a cooperative nonprofit corporation is subject to this chapter.

~~{-(6)-}~~ (5) A corporation that is a cooperative under this chapter may convert to a limited cooperative association under Title 16, Chapter 16, Uniform Limited Cooperative Association Act, by complying with that chapter.

Section 2. Section 16-6a-301 is amended to read:

16-6a-301. Purposes.

(1) Every nonprofit corporation incorporated under this chapter that in its articles of incorporation has a statement meeting the requirements of Subsection 16-6a-202(3)(a) may engage in any lawful activity except for express limitations set forth in the articles of incorporation.

(2) (a) A nonprofit corporation engaging in an activity that is subject to regulation under another statute of this state may incorporate under this chapter only if permitted by, and subject to all limitations of, the other statute.

(b) Without limiting Subsection (2)(a) and subject to Subsection (2)(c), an organization may not be organized under this chapter if the organization is subject to the:

(i) insurance laws of this state; or

(ii) laws governing depository institutions as defined in Section 7-1-103.

~~{-(c) Notwithstanding Subsection (2)(b), the following may be organized under this chapter:-}~~

~~{-(i) a health insurance purchasing association as defined in Section 31A-34-103; and-}~~

~~{-(ii) a health insurance purchasing alliance licensed under Title 31A, Chapter 34, Voluntary Health Insurance Purchasing Alliance Act.-}~~

244       ~~[(iii) pavement.]~~

Section 4. Section 59–2–506 is amended to read:

59–2–506. Rollback tax Penalty Computation of tax Procedure Lien Interest Notice Collection Distribution Appeal to county board of equalization.

(1) Except as provided in this section, Section 59–2–506.5, or Section 59–2–511, if land is withdrawn from this part, the land is subject to a rollback tax imposed in accordance with this section.

(2) (a) An owner shall notify the county assessor that land is withdrawn from this part within 120 days after the day on which the land is withdrawn from this part.

(b) An owner that fails to notify the county assessor under Subsection (2)(a) that land is withdrawn from this part is subject to a penalty equal to the greater of:

- (i) $10; or
- (ii) 2% of the rollback tax due for the last year of the rollback period.

(3) (a) The county assessor shall determine the amount of the rollback tax by computing the difference for the rollback period described in Subsection (3)(b) between:

- (i) the tax paid while the land was assessed under this part; and
- (ii) the tax that would have been paid had the property not been assessed under this part.

(b) For purposes of this section, the rollback period is a time period that:

- (i) begins on the later of:
  - (A) the date the land is first assessed under this part; or
  - (B) five years preceding the day on which the county assessor mails the notice required by Subsection (5); and
- (ii) ends the day on which the county assessor mails the notice required by Subsection (5).

(4) (a) The county treasurer shall:

- (i) collect the rollback tax; and
- (ii) after the rollback tax is paid, certify to the county recorder that the rollback tax lien on the property has been satisfied by:
  - (A) preparing a document that certifies that the rollback tax lien on the property has been satisfied; and
  - (B) providing the document described in Subsection (4)(a)(ii)(A) to the county recorder for recordation.

(b) The rollback tax collected under this section shall:

- (i) be paid into the county treasury; and
- (ii) be paid by the county treasurer to the various taxing entities pro rata in accordance with the property tax levies for the current year.

(5) (a) The county assessor shall mail to an owner of the land that is subject to a rollback tax a notice that:

- (i) the land is withdrawn from this part;
- (ii) the land is subject to a rollback tax under this section; and
- (iii) the rollback tax is delinquent if the owner of the land does not pay the tax within 30 days after the day on which the county assessor mails the notice.

(b) (i) The rollback tax is due and payable on the day the county assessor mails the notice required by Subsection (5)(a).

(ii) Subject to Subsection (7), the rollback tax is delinquent if an owner of the land that is withdrawn from this part does not pay the rollback tax within 30 days after the day on which the county assessor mails the notice required by Subsection (5)(a).

(6) (a) Subject to Subsection (6)(b), the following are a lien on the land assessed under this part:

(i) the rollback tax; and

(ii) interest imposed in accordance with Subsection (7).

(b) The lien described in Subsection (6)(a) shall:

(i) arise upon the imposition of the rollback tax under this section;

(ii) end on the day on which the rollback tax and interest imposed in accordance with Subsection (7) are paid in full; and

(iii) relate back to the first day of the rollback period described in Subsection (3)(b).

(7) (a) A delinquent rollback tax under this section shall accrue interest:

(i) from the date of delinquency until paid; and

(ii) at the interest rate established under Section 59-2-1331 and in effect on January 1 of the year in which the delinquency occurs.

(b) A rollback tax that is delinquent on September 1 of any year shall be included on the notice required by Section 59-2-1317, along with interest calculated on that delinquent amount through November 30 of the year in which the county treasurer provides the notice under Section 59-2-1317.

(8) (a) ~~{—Land—}~~ Except as provided in Subsection (8)(c), land that becomes ineligible for assessment under this part only as a result of an amendment to this part is not subject to the rollback tax if the owner of the land notifies the county assessor that the land is withdrawn from this part in accordance with Subsection (2).

(b) Land described in Subsection (8)(a) that is withdrawn from this part as a result of an event other than an amendment to this part, whether voluntary or involuntary, is subject to the rollback tax.

(c) Land that becomes ineligible for assessment under this part as a result of the changes in 2017 General Session H.B. 45 is subject to the rollback tax.

(9) Except as provided in Section 59-2-511, land that becomes exempt from taxation under Utah Constitution Article XIII, Section 3, is not subject to the rollback tax if the land meets the requirements of Section 59-2-503 to be assessed under this part.

(10) Land that becomes ineligible for assessment under this part only as a result of a split estate mineral rights owner exercising the right to extract a mineral is not subject to the rollback tax:

(a) (i) for the portion of the land required by a split estate mineral rights owner to extract a mineral if, after the split estate mineral rights owner exercises the right to extract a mineral, the portion of the property that remains in agricultural production still meets the acreage requirements of Section 59-2-503 for assessment under this part; or

(ii) for the entire acreage that would otherwise qualify for assessment under this part if, after the split estate mineral rights owner exercises the right to extract a mineral, the entire acreage that would otherwise qualify for assessment under this part no longer meets the acreage requirements of Section 59-2-503 for assessment under this part only due to the extraction of the mineral by the split estate mineral rights owner; and

(b) for the period of time that the property described in Subsection (10)(a) is ineligible for assessment under this part due to the extraction of a mineral by the split estate mineral rights owner.

(11) (a) Subject to Subsection (11)(b), an owner of land may appeal to the county board of equalization:

(i) a decision by a county assessor to withdraw land from assessment under this part; or

(ii) the imposition of a rollback tax under this section.

(b) An owner shall file an appeal under Subsection (11)(a) no later than 45 days after the day on which the county assessor mails the notice required by Subsection (5). ; and

3. Page 29, Line 865 through Page 30, Line 900:

865 (2) This section applies to a minor enrolled in school who is alleged to have committed

866 an offense:

867 (a) on school {~~grounds~~} property ; or

868 (b) that is truancy.

869 (3) If the alleged offense is a class C misdemeanor, an infraction, a status offense on 870 school {~~grounds~~} property , or truancy, the minor may not be referred to law enforcement or court but may 871 be referred to alternative school-related interventions, including:

872 (a) a mobile crisis outreach team, as defined in Section
78A-6-105;

873 (b) a receiving center operated by the Division of Juvenile Justice Services in 874 accordance with Section 62A-7-104; and 875 (c) a youth court or comparable restorative justice program.

876 {~~(4) Except as provided in Subsection (5), if an offense alleged~~ under Subsection (2) is a

~~877 class B misdemeanor or a nonperson class A misdemeanor, the following procedure may apply:~~

~~878 (a) the school administrator or the school administrator's designee shall refer the minor~~

~~879 to a youth court in accordance with Section 78A-6-1203 or a comparable restorative justice~~

~~880 program within the school setting;~~

~~881 (b) if a minor under Subsection (3)(a) elects not to participate in the program or fails to~~

~~882 comply with the program or the agreement reached through youth court or a comparable~~

~~883 restorative justice program, the minor shall then be referred to a multi-disciplinary team~~

~~884 established by the school board, local charter board, or school in accordance with Section~~

~~885 53A-3-402;~~

~~886 (c) the multi-disciplinary team shall review each case referral and establish a plan to~~

~~887 reduce the likelihood of a referral to juvenile court; and~~

~~888 (d) the minor may only be referred to law enforcement, the court, or a prosecutor in~~

~~889 accordance with Section 78A-6-602 if the minor does not comply with the plan established by~~

~~890 the multi-disciplinary team.~~

~~891 (5) (a) The procedure under Subsection (4) does not apply if the offense alleged under~~

~~892 Subsection (2) is a class B misdemeanor or a class A misdemeanor and the offense is an~~

~~893 offense:~~

~~894 (i) against a person committed as part of gang activity; or~~

~~895 (ii) where a dangerous weapon, as defined in Subsection 76-1-601(5), is used in the~~

~~896 commission of the offense.~~

897 ~~(b) In a case under this Subsection (5), or in the case of any class~~
~~A misdemeanor~~

898 ~~person offense or felony alleged under Subsection (2), the~~ ~~procedure under Subsection (4) may~~

899 ~~be followed, or the offense may be referred directly to law~~ ~~enforcement, juvenile court, or a~~

900 ~~prosecutor.}~~

(4) If the alleged offense is a class B misdemeanor or a nonperson class A misdemeanor, the minor may be referred directly to the juvenile court by the school administrator or the school administrator’s designee, or the minor may be referred to the alternative interventions in Subsection (3).

4. Page 108, Lines 3316 through 3320:

3316 (b) If the court adjudicates a minor for a crime of violence or an offense in violation of 3317 Title 76, Chapter 10, Part 5, Weapons, {~~—~~} it shall {~~—~~} {~~the court may~~} order that notice of the 3318 adjudication be provided to the school superintendent of the district in which the minor resides

3319 or attends school. Notice shall be made to the district superintendent within three days of the 3320 adjudication and shall include:

5. Page 148, Lines 4575 through 4577:

4575 (7) A minor offense defined under Section 78A-6-1202, alleged to have been

4576 committed by an enrolled child on school {~~grounds~~} property or related to school attendance, may only be 4577 sent to the prosecutor or the juvenile court in accordance with Section 53A-11-911.

6. Page 157, Line 4855 through Page 158, Line 4868:

4855 {~~—~~} (8) Youth courts may decline to accept a youth for youth court disposition for any

4856 reason and may terminate a youth from youth court participation at any time. {—}

4857 {—} (9) {—} {—(8)—} A youth or the youth's parent, guardian, or legal custodian may withdraw from 4858 the youth court process at any time. The youth court shall immediately notify the referring 4859 source of the withdrawal.

4860 {—} (10) {—} {—(9)—} The youth court may transfer a case back to the referring source for 4861 alternative handling at any time.

4862 {—} (11) {—} {—(10)—} Referral of a case to youth court may not, if otherwise eligible, prohibit the 4863 subsequent referral of the case to any court.

4864 {—} (12) {—} {—(11)—} Proceedings and dispositions of a youth court may only be shared with the 4865 referring agency, juvenile court, and victim.

4866 {—} (13) {—} {—(12)—} When a person does not complete the terms ordered by a youth court, and if

4867 the case is referred to a juvenile court, the youth court shall provide the case file to the juvenile 4868 court.

3rd Sub. H.B. 115, SOLID WASTE REVISIONS, Representative McKell, was read the third time by short title and placed on its final passage.

Representative McKell proposed Amendment 1:

1. Page 13, Lines 377 through 379:

377 (b) The department shall, before establishing the fee schedule described in Subsection

378 (6)(a), consult with industry and local government and complete a review of program costs and indirect costs of regulating nonhazardous solid 379 waste in the state and use the findings of the review to create the fee schedule.

2. Page 13, Lines 380 through 393:

380 (c) The fee schedule described in Subsection (6)(a) shall:

381 (i) create an equitable and fair fee to be paid by all persons whose treatment, transfer,

382 or disposal of nonhazardous solid waste creates a regulatory burden 383 to the department, except

384 as provided in Subsection (6)(d):

385 (ii) cover the fully burdened costs of the program and provide 386 for reasonable and

387 timely oversight by the department;

388 (iii) adequately meet the needs of industry, local government,
389 and the department,

390 including enabling the department to employ qualified personnel to 391 appropriately oversee

392 industry and local government regulation; {~~and~~}

393 (iv) provide stable funding for the Environmental Quality
394 Restricted Account created

395 in Section 19-1-108 {~~-~~} ; and

396 (v) give consideration to a fee differential regarding solid waste 397 managed at a transfer facility.

398 (d) Any person who treats, transfers, stores, or disposes of solid 399 waste from the 400 extraction, beneficiation, and processing of ores and minerals on a 401 site owned, controlled, or

402 operated by that person may not be charged a fee under this section 403 for the treatment, transfer,

INTENT LANGUAGE FOR 1ST SUB. H.B. 42

On motion of Representative Dunnigan, the House voted to print the following intent language upon the pages of the House Journal.

“The philosophy in taxation of insurance companies has been that it is better for the state to exact the support for exercising a corporate business charter by taxing insurance premiums in lieu of taxing net income. In adopting such a philosophy Utah, like most states, has made it clear that if an insurance company is subject to a premium tax then the net income of such company is not subject to the corporate income or franchise tax. This bill makes it clear that this has been and will continue to be the philosophy of Utah.”

404 services the greater of the amount required in 45 C.F.R. Sec. 147.138 { ~~plus 5% of that amount~~ } .

405 (d) Payment to a non-network provider for post stabilization care shall be the greater 406 of:

407 (i) the payment required under the applicable provisions of 45 C.F.R. Sec. 147.138; or

408 (ii) 100% of the in-network allowed amount for the patient's managed care

409 organization plan.

410 ~~(3) {-(a) Except as provided in Subsection (8), a non-network provider who receives~~

411 ~~payment directly from a payor may not balance bill that payor's enrollee in excess of the~~ 412 ~~amount under this Subsection (3).~~

413 ~~(b) A non-network provider may balance bill an enrollee for emergency services in an~~

414 ~~amount that is the lesser of:~~

415 ~~(i) 10% above the amount allowed under Subsection (2)(c) for the emergency services;~~

416 ~~or~~

417 ~~(ii) $5,000.-} (a) As used in this Subsection (3), "allowed charges benchmark" means the 70th percentile of the distribution of payments made by insurers for an emergency service provided within a market area, as determined by a database of insurance claims designated by the commissioner.~~

(b) Except as provided in Subsection (8), a non-network provider who is reimbursed under Subsection (2)(c) may not balance bill an enrollee in excess of the amount under this Subsection (3).

(c) A non-network provider may balance bill an enrollee for an emergency service in an amount not to exceed the allowed charges benchmark for the service for the market area in which the service was performed less any amounts already paid for the service by the managed care organization or the enrollee.

(d) The commissioner shall make rules in accordance with Title 63G, Chapter 3, Utah Administrative Rulemaking Act:

(i) designating a database of insurance claims data to be used for determining allowed charges benchmarks, which shall be a database:

(A) developed and maintained in accordance with sound methodologies; and

(B) provided by an independent nonprofit corporation that collects medical and dental insurance claims data nationwide and is able to provide allowed charges benchmarks for multiple market areas within Utah; and

(ii) specifying how market areas shall be determined for purposes of establishing allowed charges benchmarks for emergency services provided within Utah.

1. Page 1, Lines 9 through 11:

9 This concurrent resolution encourages the federal government to {~~give states greater~~
10 ~~control over Medicaid policies by providing Medicaid funding in~~ ~~the form of a federal~~ 11 ~~block grant.~~} work with states to plan and implement state-tailored, innovative Medicaid programs that maximize states' flexibility and choice.

2. Page 1, Lines 17 through 19:

17 ► calls upon the federal government to {~~provide~~ ~~Medicaid funding through a federal~~ 18 ~~block grant that would give states greater flexibility to manage the~~ ~~state Medicaid~~
19 ~~budget and tailor the program to meet state objectives.~~} work with states to plan and implement state-tailored, innovative Medicaid programs that maximize states' flexibility and choice.

3. Page 3, Lines 72 through 75:

72 BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Legislature and the Governor call upon the

73 federal government {~~to provide Medicaid funding through a federal block grant, including a per~~

74 capita allocation, and work with states to redesign the Medicaid program to give states greater

75 flexibility to manage the state Medicaid budget and tailor the program to meet state objectives.—} to work with states to plan and implement state-tailored, innovative Medicaid programs, through means such as a federal block grant or a per capita allocation, that maximize states' flexibility and choice.

Representative Quinn proposed Amendment 1:

1. Page 7, Line 204 through Page 8, Line 212:

204 57-8a-703. Applicability.

205 (1) Except as provided in Subsection (2) or (3), this part applies to a declaration or official

206 association action regardless of when the declaration was recorded or the official association

207 action was taken.

208 (2) This part does not apply to an express prohibition or an express restriction on a lot

209 owner's installation of a solar energy system:

210 (a) described in a declaration recorded before January 1, 2017;
or

211 (b) created by official association action taken before January 1, 2017.

212 (3) This part does not apply to a restriction in a governing document that includes an architectural guideline or a rule regarding lot improvements recorded or created by an official association action taken before May 9, 2017.

(4) This part does not apply during the period of administrative control.

Representatives Gibson, Christensen, Eliason, Hemingway, Ivory, Arent, Webb, Ivory, Schultz, McKell, and V. Peterson commented.

Representative Quinn’s motion to amend failed on a voice vote.

Representative Schultz declared a conflict of interest because he has helped set up many HOAs.

On motion of Representative Thurston, the House voted to circle 3rd Sub. S.B. 50.

MISCELLANEOUS BUSINESS

On motion of Representative McCay, the House voted to print the following on the pages of the House Journal.

The members of the education community collectively wish to thank the Public Education Appropriations Subcommittee, the Executive Appropriations Committee, and the members of the Utah House of Representatives and Utah Senate for their investment in public education this year. We have enjoyed the open dialog and collaborative atmosphere and look forward to continued cooperation.

We are appreciative of the Legislature for fully funding student enrollment growth, the 4% increase of the WPU value, ongoing funding for teacher supplies, regional service centers, and the new appropriations for educator licensing fee costs. Of note, we are especially grateful for the additional 1% WPU allocated on top of the original 3% proposal. Your commitment to student achievement and positive outcomes in schools is commendable.

Thank you for a positive session.

32 Utah Code Sections Affected by Coordination Clause:

33        32B-1-202, as last amended by Laws of Utah 2016, Chapter
176

32B-8a-302, as last amended by Laws of Utah 2016, Chapter 82

2. Page 11, Lines 307 through 312:

307        Section 6. Coordinating S.B. 279 with H.B. 442 -- Superseding technical and 308 substantive amendments.

309        If this S.B. 279 and H.B. 442, Alcohol Amendments, both pass and become law, it is 310 the intent of the Legislature that the amendments to {-Section-} Sections 32B-1-202 and 32B-8a-302 in this bill supersede

311 the amendments to {-Section-} Sections 32B-1-202 and 32B-8a-302 in H.B. 442, when the Office of Legislative Research

312 and General Counsel prepares the Utah Code database for publication.

Chief Clerk

Report filed.

MISCELLANEOUS BUSINESS

Speaker Hughes announced that the enacting clause on all legislation in possession of the House that has not passed the House before adjournment sine die will be automatically stricken.

On motion of Representative Wilson, the House authorized the Speaker to appoint a committee to wait upon the Governor and inform him that the House of Representatives has finished its business and is prepared to adjourn sine die. Speaker Hughes appointed Representatives Stewart Barlow, Christine Watkins, and Joel Briscoe.

On motion of Representative King, the House authorized the Speaker to appoint a committee to notify the Senate and inform that Honorable Body that the House of Representatives has completed its business and is prepared to adjourn sine die. Speaker Hughes appointed Representatives Tim Hawkes, Marc Roberts, and Angela Romero.

Speaker Hughes directed Sandy Tenney to read, revise and make minor corrections to the daily House Journals and be responsible for certifying the indexed and bound copy as the accurate record of the proceedings of the 2017 General Session of the Sixty–Second Legislature.

Senators Evan Vickers, Jake Anderegg, and Luz Escamilla formally notified the House of Representatives that the Senate had completed its business and was prepared to adjourn sine die.

Representative Barlow informed the House of Representatives that his committee, with a like committee from the Senate, has notified the Governor that the Legislature has completed its business and is prepared to adjourn sine die.

Representative Hawkes informed the House of Representatives that his committee has waited upon the Senate and informed them that the House of Representatives has completed its business and is prepared to adjourn sine die.

Governor Gary R. Herbert addressed the House of Representatives.

On motion of Representative Wilson, the 2017 General Session of the Sixty–second Legislature adjourned sine die.

LETTER

RESIGNATION LETTER

Dear Speaker Hughes:

September 21, 2016

It is with deep gratitude for my time in the Utah House of Representatives that I resign my seat for District 75, effective 11:00 a.m. On Wednesday, September 21, 2016. I have enjoyed my eight years working with all of the representatives and the many associates I have developed relationships with. They are all great public servants for the great state of Utah and I consider them all personal friends.

I look forward to our continued association.

Respectfully,
Don L. Ipson
House District 75
