HOUSE JOURNAL
of the
SIXTY–FIRST LEGISLATURE
of the
STATE OF UTAH
FIRST SPECIAL SESSION

House Chamber
State Capitol
Salt Lake City, Utah
Wednesday, August 19, 2015

The House was called to order by Speaker Gregory H. Hughes at 3:40 p.m.

Roll call showed all members present, except Representative Dixon Pitcher, excused.

Prayer and Pledge of Allegiance by Representative Justin Fawson.

Chief Clerk Sandy Tenney read the following:

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, since the adjournment of the 2015 General Session of the Sixty–First Legislature of the State of Utah, certain matters have arisen which require immediate legislative attention; and

WHEREAS, Article VII, Section 6 of the Constitution of the State of Utah provides that the Governor may, by proclamation, convene the Legislature into Special Session;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Gary R. Herbert, Governor of the State of Utah, by virtue of the authority vested in me by the Constitution and the laws of the State of Utah into a First Special Session at the Utah State Capitol, in Salt Lake City, Utah, on the 19th day of August 2015, at 3:00 p.m., for the following purposes:

1. to consider the recommendation of the Prison Relocation Commission as to the building of a new state prison at the location of Interstate–80 and 7200 West in Salt Lake City;
2. to consider changes to the statute of limitations governing refunds or credits issued for overpayment of corporate taxes;

3. to consider the statutory qualifications for the Medicaid Inspector General;
4. to consider corrections to the penalty for an accident involving injury, death, or property damage, and code references within Utah Code 76–10–503;
5. to consider clarifications to Utah Code 78B–2–201; and
6. for the Senate to consent to appointments made by the Governor.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF,
I have hereunto set my hand and
caused to be affixed the Great
Seal of the State of Utah. Done at the Utah State Capitol in Salt Lake City, Utah, this 14th day of August 2015.

GARY R. HERBERT
Governor

SPENCER J. COX
Lieutenant Governor

Communication filed.

CERTIFICATION

I, Spencer J. Cox, Lieutenant Governor of the State of Utah, do hereby certify that the attached copy of the Proclamation issued on the 15th day of August, 2015 and signed by Governor Gary R. Herbert, is a true and correct copy of the original Proclamation calling the Sixty–First Legislature of the State of Utah into a First Special Session at the Capitol Complex at Salt Lake City, Utah on the 19th day of August, 2015, at 3:00 PM, for the purposes named in the Proclamation.

I further certify that the membership of the Utah State House of Representatives has not changed from that of the 2015 General Session, with the following exception:

DISTRICT FIFTY–EIGHT: Sanpete County
Derrin Owens

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF,
I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the Great Seal of the State of Utah, at Salt Lake City, this 17th day of August, 2015.

SPENCER J. COX
Lieutenant Governor

Communication filed.

MISCELLANEOUS BUSINESS

Senators Jenkins, Vickers, and Dabakis formally notified the House of Representatives that the Senate was organized and ready to do business.

Speaker Hughes announced that pursuant to Joint Rule 2–1–101, the Rules adopted by the Legislature during the 2015 General Session apply to the conduct of the House during the 2015 First Special Session.

Speaker Hughes appointed the following Representatives to act with a like committee from the Senate to wait upon the Governor and inform him that the Legislature is organized and ready to receive any communication or message he may have to offer: Representatives Richard Cunningham, Robert Spendlove, and Carol Moss.

Speaker Hughes appointed the following Representatives as the committee to notify the Senate to inform that honorable body that the House is organized and ready to do business: Representatives Keven Stratton, Marc Roberts, and Mark Wheatley.

On motion of Representative Dunnigan, as allowed by the Utah Constitution and Joint Rules of the Legislature, the House voted to continue its practice of reading only the short title of bills and resolutions as they are introduced or considered on a House Calendar and not read the long title of the bills and resolutions unless a majority of the House directs the reading of the long title, short title, or both of any House or Senate bill or resolution.

On motion of Representative King, the House voted to suspend the rule requiring that bills and resolutions remain on a calendar for one legislative day between second and third readings and that the House also suspend the House Rule requiring a favorable recommendation from a House Standing Committee prior to passage of bills and resolutions.

Representative Stratton informed the House that his committee notified the Senate that the House is organized and ready to do business.

Representative Cunningham informed the House that his committee, working with a like committee from the Senate, notified the Governor that the Legislature was organized and ready to do business.

HOUSE JOURNAL
of the
SIXTY-FIRST LEGISLATURE
of the
GENERAL SESSION
FIRST DAY

* * *

MORNING SESSION

House Chamber
State Capitol
Salt Lake City, Utah
January 25, 2016

The House was called to order by Speaker Gregory H. Hughes at 10:00 a.m.

Prayer given by Elder Gary E. Stevenson, Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints and a member of the Quorum of the Twelve Apostles.

PRAYER BY GARY E. STEVENSON

Our Father in Heaven, we bow our heads in a token of our respect and humility to thee at the commencement of this legislative session of the House of Representatives of this great state of Utah, and we are grateful for the political and the legal framework which authorizes the commencement and the activities embodied in this legislative session. We're grateful for each and every member of the House and for their service, their public service, that brings them here for these next forty-five days. We acknowledge thy hand in all things and we acknowledge our total dependence upon thee. We're also grateful for the freedom which we enjoy and we're mindful of the battles that have been won for the freedom and liberty that we do enjoy – for our God-given rights and inalienable rights to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. We would ask thee at this time that the session here will be one which will create an outcome which will create a work product that would always be in accordance with thy will; that each member of the house here will be endowed with a special measure of energy, of endurance; that they might have an ability to organize and to prioritize; that there would be a spirit of compromise; that a spirit of discernment will be upon each of the members here, that their work product will create an outcome for the citizens of Utah that will be one of protection, of order, and of righteousness; and that the proceedings here will be such that there will be others that will want to emulate, even imitate, the things that have been done and that are accomplished here. At the same time we ask that these similar blessings would be upon the Senate, upon the Executive and Judicial branches of the state. We ask for these things and we do so with the deepest measure of humility, of kindness, of compassion, of tolerance, and of love, and offer this in the name of thy son, even Jesus Christ, amen.

MISCELLANEOUS BUSINESS

The National Anthem was performed by Laura Eady–Popwell, Calvary Baptist Church.

The posting of Colors was performed by the Utah National Guard. The Color Guard consisted of the following members: SFC Matthew Raines, NCOIC, SFC Troy Kolterman, SSG Troy Kolterman, and MSG Allen Jackson.

The Pledge of Allegiance was led by Terry Schow, Chair of the Veterans Administration’s Utah Rural Health Advisory Committee.

The Calvary Baptist Church Choir performed “The Battle Hymn of the Republic,” accompanied and directed by Brian Hesleph.

Speaker Hughes appointed Sandy D. Tenney as Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives for 2016 General Session.

The Chief Clerk, Sandy D. Tenney, read the following:

MISCELLANEOUS BUSINESS

Roll call showed all members present, except Representatives Keith Grover and Brad Last, excused.

REMARKS BY SPEAKER GREGORY H. HUGHES

I'm just going to say last year I had to read a speech. I refuse to read it but I don't know that I picked a better path to do this because there is so much that I want to share and I don't want to read as much as I want to talk to my fellow colleagues. So bear with me, I don't know how this is going to happen.

I love today. I love the buzz of this first day. We have all the work in front of us. We have all the expectations of what we can do as a body together, all available. There hasn't been any untoward comments, there hasn't been any frustrations expressed yet. And it reminds me of maybe John Cox's Cubs, at the beginning of their baseball season. Well, it used to be the Cubs, and they were always bad, they always had their first day of the season. They're getting better, John. But you're going to have to bear with me because I'm going to use some sports analogies here. And the one I use is that this is the beginning of the season. This is game day. Last year, when I stood before this body, I had a lot of emotions going through me: emotions of anticipation, emotions of optimism, of what we could do. I think that of all the times I've served, I've never served with, and I knew this last year, with a more talented and a stronger group of representatives as we have and that we serve together with here today. And so last year I really talked about some things that I thought would help us come together as a body and really tackle some of the tough challenges that we had. It's a year gone by and I've served as speaker for a year. And now I have that same optimism, I still feel that buzz. We're still here, we're not being sworn in, we're half way through. And all of that anticipation and all that excitement, also comes now with a knowledge that we can and that we have done great things. Last year I talked about forging new paths forward, dynamiting the boulders that were in front of us instead of always plowing around them. We did that. We talked about not living through Groundhog Day over and over again. I'll tell you, and if you don't know this, if my legislative experience has been any indication, I truly don't think you will ever confuse last session with any session we ever serve again, ever. I truly think it was unique in many ways. If you don't believe me, right after we got out of the session, we have political columnists and opinion writers, one from one of our largest papers, and they describe our last session as the Super Bowl/World Series of legislative sessions. I'm telling you, I was not surprised to see it, well, I was surprised they would admit it, but I wasn't surprised that this body did it. What did we do? Let me just recap a little bit, and this is where I have to be more succinct than I want to be because I would love to dive into these issues because I'm so proud of the tough work that we did, but I'm going to have to be brief.

Non-discrimination and religious liberty legislation: Standing here last year I did not know that was a bill with such disparate sides and such emotion. That we could, in such a short amount of time, come together, and come together in such a strong way. With the leadership of the house sponsor, Brad Dee on that bill, pass significant legislation. Think about this legislation, what happened? I thought, you know, history is going to tell that we did a good job here. Within weeks of this session ending, you saw legislation other states passed that were causing boycotts in Indiana, media frenzy that wasn't positive, wasn't showing the overlap and the coming together of different communities with different worries. They had to rush into a special session and reverse things some of the things they had done during their general session. Contrast that with what we did. We, with leadership, stakeholders, people that you wouldn't think would work together, and this body, we decided and we put into legislation, that we're going to love and respect one another. We're going to respect each other and love each other regardless of the church that you attend or the make up of your household. Think about that, it's a best practice and a model for the rest of the country and I am so proud of this body for the work that we did to make that a reality. (applause)

Our transportation initiative: Since the nineties we've watched that fund, that used to fund our roads, the expansion and the maintenance of roads, dwindle every single year. This wasn't unknown. Every single year, as I've been a member, we've talked about this and wanted to find the political courage to do something about it. Our transportation initiative, our passing a bill for the first time since the nineties, allows for a formula that will allow us, as we grow as a state, to fund the critical needs in our transportation infrastructure. We've also acknowledged that in 2015 it wasn't just one mode. Within that initiative we also passed comprehensive multi-modal transportation infrastructure. That's what our regional plan says, that was put together by the stakeholders around the state. That's what we did and that is the vision that we carried forward. That's new. And I will tell you, if Rep. Johnny Anderson won't tell you, he has been asked to cross this country and explain to transportation shares and legislative leaders around the country how you can find the political courage, the political will, to do something as big as we did, just this past year. (applause)

Education funding: The largest commitment in this legislature in a decade; that's real. Education funding equalization, you want to talk about Groundhog Day. I'm so proud of what we've done. You've got to hear me out. Every year I came here we talked about the equalization of funding in terms of, we have the weighted pupil unit but we had a disparity in property taxes and the way we were funding these students in our state. On one hand we were regarded as such a wise steward of public dollars as if you lived in Rose Park or Park City, that weighted pupil unit delivered dollars to students in classrooms the same way. When you got to the equalization of the property taxes this is the simple formula we would use every year. I'm one that was very cynical about this. Show me the districts that would have to give – how many; show me the districts that would have to receive – how many. If this number was larger than this number, you don't have a bill. We can talk about it year after year after year. Last year something different occurred here. It was a different bill. You saw leadership in this body from Rep. Craig

Powell, from a district that traditionally you would assume would immediately be opposed to this bill, stepped forward and, like a leader, lent his support and his efforts to equalizing funding for our public schools and our students. That had never been done before and we did it and I'm proud of it. (applause)

The prison redesign, rebuild, and justice reform: Does anyone remember a debate in an open gubernatorial seat back in 2004? This was a hot topic. It was time to take an old Alcatraz style prison and redesign it. The programming, the new prison designs in Gunnison and other places have proven that the people that enter into these correctional facilities will come out and they will attempt to integrate into our society. The more programming occurs, the more that design comports with the important work that happens inside correctional facilities, the better their trajectory is and the less recidivism, which is taxpayers' dollars being paid to fund those who leave and come right back in, those dollars are spent in a wiser way. There is more efficiency and recidivism is lowered. That was a long time ago that discussion began and when a brand new governor came and a feasibility study was done it concluded that we can't do it. The resources are finite and the demands too great. The cost of doing something that big was, frankly, just too much. Years of public hearings culminated last year in the political will of us finalizing the redesign, rebuild, and relocation of this facility and then the justice reform, that in a unique way, best practices – The Pew Foundation came in working with the leadership of Rep. Eric Hutchings to implement real reforms (applause) that connect all these dots that make sure the reduction of recidivism actually occurs, that we do the things we've promised to do. That's not something that happens every session, I'm here to tell you. That's not a Groundhog Day. And Rep. Hutchings isn't finished. All you have to do is give him the ability to continue this forward. That reform continues today. You do something this big, it's like any piece of legislation, you need to keep working on it, you have to keep your eye on that ball, and Rep. Hutchings is doing that. We're going to see more in justice reform from our good colleague that will benefit all of us and the state.

There's a part I need to read because it's an emotional one. I know I speak for all in this room when I express my gratitude and sorrow to the families of the recently slain Unified Police Officer Doug Barney and his injured colleague, Officer Jon Richey. I want the Barney family to know that we stand with them and will do what we can to assist them during this difficult time. Last year, because of the selfless determination of a constituent of mine, Shonte Johnson, and Annette Wride, both of whom tragically lost their husbands in the line duty, we here in our legislature were able to increase death benefits and extend health insurance for families of slain police officers. Officer Richey, we wish you a full and healthy recovery and appreciate your courage. We remain committed to supporting the men and women who put their lives on the line everyday to ensure we all live in a safe environment. Let's take a moment, all of us, to thank these individual and all of our law enforcement officers for their commitment and service to us. (applause) Thank-you.

Those are big issues. Like I said, I could talk on and on and I have during this interim bragged about this body and our political courage. What does it take to do the kind of this I just described? Aside from the obvious, it takes leadership, it takes selflessness, it does require political courage. The big issues that we took on, and I can look at every member of this body, and I can pinpoint the hard work that has gone on. The compromise that we've engaged in, and the bipartisanship that we've done to make sure that these bills and these big issues that we've talked about were not strident, were not partisan, were not done in an ugly and all too familiar way that we see in politics. There was collaboration. I'm proud of this house. In this house we are thorough. In this house, you've heard me say this before, good information drives good decisions. That's the way we've done this. We don't subscribe to this formula that you see a lot. We do nothing to offend no one. Have you seen this? I see it a lot. Not once did any of us ever take the easy way out. None of us, even in the face of what I think might have been some of the most searing criticism that I have felt, and that I know that we have all felt, did we ever let it compromise our conscience or that process of allowing good decisions to drive, and in many cases, very difficult decisions. I am proud to be a member of this body and I am proud of you and all that we do and will do.

I've learned a lot in this last year.

MISCELLANEOUS BUSINESS

On motion of Representative Dunnigan, the House voted to have the prayer given by Elder Gary E. Stevenson, Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints, and the remarks given by Speaker Gregory H. Hughes printed upon the pages of the House Journal.

On motion of Representative Francis Gibson, the House voted to authorize the Speaker to appoint a committee to meet with a like committee from the Senate to wait upon the Governor to inform him that the Legislature is organized and ready to receive any communication or message he may have to offer. Speaker Hughes appointed Representatives Merrill Nelson, Scott Chew, and Susan Duckworth.

On motion of Representative Brian S. King, the House voted to authorize the Speaker to appoint a committee to notify the Senate to inform that Honorable Body that the House is organized and ready to do business. Speaker Hughes appointed Representatives Lee Perry, Ray Ward, and Marie Poulson.

On motion of Representative Michael E. Noel, the House voted to adopt House Rules, Joint Rules, and Interim Rules as were adopted by the 2015 First Special Session of the 61st Legislature, until such time as new rules may be adopted by the 2016 General Session of the 61st Legislature.

On motion of Representative Noel, and as allowed by the Utah Constitution and the Joint Rules of the Legislature, the House voted, by a two-thirds majority, to continue its practice of reading only the short title of bills and resolutions as they are introduced or considered on a House calendar and not read the long title of the bills and resolutions, unless a majority of the House directs the reading of the long title, short title, or both, of any House or Senate bill or resolution.

MISCELLANEOUS BUSINESS

On motion of Representative Dunnigan, and at 12:15 p.m., the House voted to recess until 2:15 p.m.

AFTERNOON SESSION

The House was called to order by Speaker Hughes at 2:20 p.m.

COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE

On motion of Representative Dunnigan, the House resolved itself into a Committee of the Whole, with the Speaker as Chairman, for the purpose of hearing from Chief Justice Matthew B. Durrant.

STATE OF THE JUDICIARYREMARKS BY CHIEF JUSTICE MATTHEW B. DURRANT

Thank you Speaker Hughes for the privilege of addressing this distinguished body. I am pleased to be joined by Associate Chief Justice Lee, Justice Durham and our new justices, Himonas and Pierce. They are superb additions to our court. It is one of the great privileges and pleasures of my life to work with four colleagues who are not just exemplary jurists, but also extraordinary people.

My wonderful mother was a tough and remarkable woman. She raised eight children on my father's seminary teacher salary and was fearlessly loyal to each of them, even to me, who as a lawyer-to-be was annoying even by teenage boy standards. She insisted on coming to my BYU junior varsity basketball games, despite the fact that my participation usually consisted of hoping against hope that, in a fit of irrationality, the coach might put me in. So I seldom had the opportunity to endanger the other team with my rough play. Our games were in the 20,000 seat Marriott Center, and I am guessing that, including my mom, there were usually 16 or 17 people in attendance, scattered around that vast arena.

It was a very different story when, several years later, she attended my brother Devin's games. Not only did he actually play, he was a star. She and my father sat close to the floor, just in front of the seats set aside for LDS General Authorities, who dutifully watched the games in suits, white shirts, and ties. She never missed an opportunity to point out a referee's missed call. And in my mother's eyes, the referees missed many, many calls—all fouls that she felt had been inflicted upon her dear son. She was close enough to actually be heard by the refs, and with her big voice, believe me, she was heard. Whether that did more harm than good for Devin, I'm not sure. But he is BYU's all-time leader in free throws attempted.

My father, a gentle and modest man, was often uncomfortable with the volume and harshness of my mother's criticisms of the referees, especially within ear shot of the general authorities. But he sat there helplessly, knowing there was little he could do about it. He did feel much better one game, however, when a general authority leaned over and said, "Marilyn, thank you for yelling all of the things that I want to, but can't."

Well, I'm grateful that I feel no such constraint in addressing you today. There are a number of things I very much want to share with you (I hope with a little more objectivity than my mother showed), and I appreciate this opportunity to do so. And as much as I love basketball, these things are much more important.

In the past, I have principally used these remarks to speak on the state of our judiciary. Let me assure you, our state's judiciary is sound, and I will address that briefly later in my remarks, but I'd like to begin by discussing certain values and the efforts we have made this year as a judiciary to promote them. Each year seems marked by a sense of turmoil and unrest in the world. This year, that sense seems particularly acute. Media reports provide a forceful and daily reminder of the challenges we face as a nation. As I've read these reports, I am reminded that we must stay grounded in the values that provide continuity and make us strong. In particular, the values of fairness, access to justice, individual rights, and public safety are essential to the strength and continuity of our state. They are values shared by all Utahans.

This year, the judiciary focused on four initiatives to balance and strengthen these values. Let me start with an issue you know well, the Justice Reinvestment Initiative, or JRI. This act seeks to enhance fairness in sentencing and to provide defendants with increased opportunities to receive treatment, thereby reducing the stress on our prisons while advancing access to justice and public safety. It would not be an overstatement to describe House Bill 348, which implemented JRI, as the most significant change in Utah criminal justice policy in decades. Not only does it effect significant substantive change in our criminal law, it requires a significant cultural change, as well. It may be the latter that ends up being the most difficult challenge.

The most significant substantive changes went into effect in October. Have those first several months been without problems? No, of course not. With changes of this magnitude we expected transitional issues, and in this, we were not disappointed. Anyone who expected a flawless transition did not fully appreciate how drastically JRI changed Utah's criminal justice system. Since the Act's impact on Utah criminal justice policy requires a certain amount of phasing-in, some processes and tools await further implementation.

As noted, perhaps the most difficult change required by JRI is a cultural one. The judiciary, like other actors in the criminal justice system, must meet that challenge. Judges are now expected to use a more objective approach to sanctioning offenders than they are used to, and they now rely on tools and reports they have never seen before. To that end, we have provided extensive training to our judges in evidence-based sentencing and practices, as well as in the legal requirements of the new law. The courts are committed to realizing the full potential of JRI.

While these transitional issues will soon fade, of greater concern is an issue that is not transitional—inadequate treatment resources. The provision of treatment for defendants with substance use and mental health needs was at the heart of JRI; yet, so far, the necessary resources have not been provided. The Act was predicated on the demonstrated fact that it is more effective to treat substance abuse and mental health needs—which prevents recidivism—than to imprison. To this end, JRI reduced the supervision and incarceration aspects of the equation, but we have not added the treatment programs and funding necessary to replace the reductions in supervision and incarceration. Without adequate treatment resources to balance the equation, the promise of this model will not be realized.

On this point I need to be clear—if treatment is unavailable, not only will the system fail to improve, it will likely worsen. Putting offenders who would previously have gone to jail or prison back into the community, without treatment, will almost certainly increase crime. Passage of the Justice Reinvestment Act was clearly the right decision, but it was conceived of as a complete package and somehow the treatment side of the equation must be addressed.

Now let me turn to the values I mentioned earlier—fairness, access to justice, individual rights, and public safety. Judges are in a unique position. Though we have a very limited policy role, we encounter the concrete consequences of numerous policy issues that relate to these values. I believe that with this perspective comes a responsibility to raise issues for discussion that may not otherwise be addressed. In this way, we in the judiciary serve as conveners. We bring various stakeholders together to examine these issues and to explore potential solutions to identified problems. We then usually present whatever consensus proposal there may be to you, the legislature, for your consideration of possible action. We believe this shared process has served Utahans well.

As conveners, over the last several months, we have concluded three collaborative studies that address issues important to the people of Utah. They concern indigent representation in criminal cases, pretrial release practices, and access to civil justice.

First, indigent representation. The Sixth Amendment to the United States Constitution provides that “in all criminal prosecutions the accused shall enjoy the right to a speedy and public trial, by an impartial jury..., to be informed of the nature of the charges against him, to be confronted with the witnesses against him..., and to have the assistance of counsel for his defense.” Over the years, case law has defined this right to assistance of counsel to require states to provide a lawyer to those who cannot afford one in any case where there is a potential sentence of incarceration. In Utah, provision of this right has been delegated by the state to local government.

This year, a judicial council committee concluded an extensive multi-year study of how Utah is carrying out this constitutional responsibility. The committee was broadly representative, including legislators, judges, prosecutors, defense lawyers, and others involved in the criminal justice system. The committee’s report—some 192 pages—was presented to the Utah Judicial Council in October and identified three problems and three solutions.

As an initial matter, the committee found that there is a lack of oversight of how counties and municipalities comply with the constitutional mandate to provide lawyers to indigent defendants. As a result, little information is available on how this responsibility is being administered. In addition there is a dearth of operational or performance standards for these local indigent defense systems. As a solution, the committee recommends that a statewide, representative commission be created, which would set data collection standards, compile that data, and monitor the appointment and performance of defense counsel. This requires your assistance. Senator Weiler, who along with Representative McCay served on this committee, will introduce legislation this session to create the statewide indigent defense commission recommended by the committee.

Second, the way in which many counties and municipalities contract with defense lawyers often creates disincentives for those lawyers, disincentives that work against the effective delivery of legal services. The solution is to reform the contracting process by standardizing the structure of contracts between local governments and defense counsel. And many cities and counties have already addressed the contracting issue by revamping their contracts, and have developed and disseminated model uniform contracts.

Finally, the committee identified a lack of consistency in information and procedures, primarily in courts with misdemeanor caseloads, which has resulted in a failure to obtain adequate waivers of counsel, or a failure to appoint counsel, when required. This problem needs to be addressed through training and through implementation of mandatory uniform procedures and forms. And, in fact, the Administrative Office of the Courts has already provided this training and will continue to do so, and the Judicial Council is in the final process of adopting and requiring the recommended forms and procedures.

While everyone involved in addressing this issue agreed that there are shortcomings in Utah's indigent defense system, they also agreed that the needed solutions are apparent, and well within reach. We should collectively act to implement these solutions, and in so doing promote fairness, access to justice, individual rights, and public safety.

The second discussion that we convened addressed pretrial release practices, or what is commonly referred to as the bail process. The perception of most people about the bail process is likely based upon television shows like Law and Order or The Good Wife, where a judge is often shown setting bail in the hundreds of thousands of dollars in hopes of keeping the accused behind bars pending trial. But in reality, the bail process is far more complicated and important than these TV shows portray. It has profound implications for the accused, for public safety, and for taxpayers.

There is much research about what an effective and efficient pretrial process should look like. Five characteristics are essential. First, a smart pretrial process uses a short validated assessment to predict which detainees are likely to flee if released, and which are likely to commit new offenses if released. Outside of Salt Lake County, Utah does not use this best practice.

Second, an efficient pretrial release process quickly releases defendants who are not likely to flee or commit a new offense. Generally, Utah does not do this, either.

Third, a safe pretrial release process identifies those defendants who are truly a danger to the public and does not release them into the community before trial, offering no release on bail. In Utah, we do not have adequate tools to determine which defendants truly are a threat.

Fourth, an economical pretrial release process saves tax dollars by not using valuable jail space, as we do now, to hold thousands of defendants pending their court date who pose no risk to flee or re-offend.

And finally, a fair pretrial release process does not make defendants' wealth the deciding factor for whether they are released pending trial. In Utah, if defendants can raise enough money to meet the financial bail requirement, or 10% of that amount so that they can engage a bail bond surety, they will be released. If they don't have those funds, in jail they will stay pending trial, which means separation from their family and often a loss of their employment, with the accompanying loss of income. And as we learned from JRI, confinement in jail will forcibly expose them to a criminal culture, and research tells us they will then be more likely to commit crimes in the future. And remember that for all of these people this all occurs before they have been tried, so they are presumed innocent.

The study committee, composed of prosecutors, defense lawyers, judges, regulators, representatives of local government and the bail bond industry, as well as Representative Hutchings and Senator Hillyard, prepared 12 sound recommendations ranging from creating a statutory presumption in favor of pretrial release without financial conditions to instituting a validated pretrial risk assessment process for use in every jurisdiction.

The research in this area, and the experience of other states, has led to a national consensus about evidenced-based pre-trial release practices. Even the general public intuitively feels that these practices make sense. Independent polling shows that the vast majority of respondents support the approach recommended by the study committee. Senator Hillyard is sponsoring legislation that will move our state in this direction and better ensure fairness, protect individual rights, and promote public safety. I encourage your thoughtful consideration of the committee's recommendations.

The proposals I have outlined to this point relating to JRI, access to criminal defense counsel, and fair pretrial release practices are all consistent with the sound consensus of criminal justice professionals across the country. In fact, unlike in so many other important government functions, in these three areas Utah is not ahead of the pack, but rather in the middle of it. Many states have already adopted the best practices, the effective approaches, and the cost-saving ideas I have described, and we need to catch up.

But the last study I want to share with you puts Utah on the cutting edge of innovation and public service when it comes to access to justice. It is a study conducted by a task force appointed by our supreme court. This task force, which again had broad representation, including Senator Urquhart and Representative

Brian King, was asked to study the current rules governing the practice of law and to consider whether to permit qualified non-lawyers to provide certain law-related services currently provided only by lawyers.

The legislature, the court system, and the legal profession have, each in its own way, expressed concern about the growing chasm between the need for legal services and the ability of the average person to afford them. This is not an issue that has been ignored. The courts, with your assistance, are providing direct legal assistance to tens of thousands of self-represented parties every year through our self-help center. These are people who have chosen to participate in a legal proceeding without an attorney, sometimes because they can't afford one, but more and more because they just don't think they should have to hire a lawyer.

The Utah State Bar, through its pro bono and modest means programs, has worked hard to place attorneys with clients unable to afford one. As impressive as these efforts have been, they only scratch the surface of meeting the real need. In naming this task force, the supreme court wanted to consider a broader, market-based change to make legal services more accessible.

After studying the few states with similar efforts underway and examining where the need is most pronounced within our own state and court system, the task force recommended an innovative approach that has far reaching implications for improving access to justice in Utah. Last month the supreme court approved task force recommendations that would allow qualified non-lawyers to practice law, on a carefully defined basis, in three areas where legal needs are not being met: debt collection, landlord-tenant, and family law. These specially trained non-lawyers will be called licensed paralegal practitioners. For an analogy to the role they will play, you might think of the role of a physician's assistant in the medical setting.

There is still much to be done, such as finalizing minimum education, certification, and licensing requirements, but we believe this new client and market-driven approach holds great promise—not as a substitute for attorneys, but as a complimentary legal resource for providing meaningful assistance in specific areas where existing legal resources are inadequate but the need is great. The National Center for State Courts is interested in this project and has agreed to conduct an independent evaluation of our experience. I look forward to reporting to you on this initiative in a future address.

As I said at the outset, the state of our courts is sound. Our judges and staff work in an all- electronic environment. It's simply the way work is done now, and we remain one of the few state court systems able to say that. The metrics we use to track performance all show that we continue to increase our efficiency. In the last five years, the average age of cases pending in our district courts has dropped from 337 to 183 days. And we've been able to accomplish this with 81 fewer employees.

As for the court's budget, I'd like to mention just one issue. We have a continuing but acute need for two new judges: a juvenile court judge in the 4th District (Utah, Millard, Juab, and Wasatch counties) and a district court judge in the 5th District (Washington, Iron, and Beaver counties). The existing judges in these courts have for several years been carrying much higher workloads than is appropriate, and the public in these areas deserves your attention to this pressing need. And, while discussing appropriations, let me use this opportunity to sincerely thank you for the step taken last year to address the judicial compensation recommendation of your Elected Officials and Judicial Compensation Commission.

Finally, you may recall my boasting about our courts in my address two years ago, something about the public confidence in our courts being higher than John Stockton's basketball free throw percentage. And I may have modestly mentioned that my brother's percentage was itself higher than Stockton's. We have just recently completed our biannual survey of court users, and I'm pleased to be able to report that they continue to provide high marks. For example, 95% reported they were treated with courtesy and respect, and a like percentage reported being satisfied with their court experience. To give you some frame of reference, a recent national poll found that only 66% of respondents agreed with the statement: "Courts treat people with dignity and respect." I am gratified that we are doing significantly better than that.

As I have said before, I am extremely proud of our judges and staff, and for good reason. Because of the merit-based selection process that you, the legislature, have had in place for many years, we have one of the strongest benches in the country. It is an honor to be part of our state's extraordinary judiciary and to be able to work with such fine people, who, like you, value fairness, access to justice, individual rights, and public safety.

Thank you for the committed service you provide to the people of Utah, and I wish you well with your important deliberations over the next 45 days.

MISCELLANEOUS BUSINESS

On motion of Representative Dunnigan, and at 12:05 p.m., the House voted to adjourn until January 28, 2016, at 11:00 a.m.

JOINT CONVENTION

President Wayne Niederhauser called the Joint Convention of the Legislature to order at 6:15 p.m. in the Chamber of the Utah House of Representatives and recognized Greg Hughes, Speaker of the House.

President Niederhauser announced that a quorum of the House of Representatives and the Senate was present.

President Niederhauser appointed a Joint Committee comprised of Senators Ralph Okerlund, Stuart Adams, and Gene Davis, and Representatives Jim Dunnigan, Francis Gibson, and Brian King to notify Governor Gary R. Herbert that the 2016 General Session of the Sixty-First Legislature is in Joint Convention and ready to hear his State-of-the-State address.

President Niederhauser acknowledged special guests and elected and appointed officials in attendance at the Joint Convention.

Senator Ralph Okerlund made a motion that the Legislature resolve into a Joint Convention and Committee of the Whole for the purpose of hearing Governor Herbert's State-of-the-State address.

The Joint Committee escorted Governor Herbert to the House rostrum.

STATE-OF-THE-STATE ADDRESS BY GOVERNOR GARY R. HERBERT

President Niederhauser, Speaker Hughes, Members of the Legislature, Justices of the Utah Supreme Court, Lieutenant Governor and Mrs. Cox and Utah's First Lady, my wife, Jeanette. My fellow Utahns.

The Utah we know and love today stands on higher ground because of the many sacrifices of hardworking Utahns who have gone before us.

Let me begin this evening by acknowledging two of these giants who left us this past year--former Governors, Norm Bangerter and Olene Walker. Among Governor Bangerter's many achievements, he deserves great credit for increasing education funding and improving government efficiency during a time of economic uncertainty.

Governor Bangerter was a down-to-earth leader who liked to say that he was “just an old farmer and carpenter” from Granger who happened to be governor. We all saw so much more in Norm Bangerter. He was a true leader who had the courage to stand up for what he believed. He knew how to partner with the Legislature to solve the critical issues of the day. In short, Norm offered Utah what we need in this state, and that is the steady hand of leadership.

Governor Walker was also a leader, and a trailblazer, the first woman to hold Utah’s highest office. Just as important, she was a tireless advocate for education who established early reading initiatives in our Utah schools.

As a state legislator, she had the foresight to create Utah’s Rainy Day Fund to help us prepare our state for the unforeseen events of the future. That Rainy Day fund now has $528 million in it, the largest amount in our state’s history, and for establishing and prudently increasing the Rainy Day Fund, both Governor Walker and everyone here in this body deserves a round of applause.

This week we witnessed a remarkable outpouring of love and support for hometown hero Officer Doug Barney, who gave the ultimate sacrifice while in the line of duty. He was a husband, a father of three beautiful children, a dependable friend and brother, and an honorable public servant.

In honor of him and others who have gone before, let us today commit ourselves as a state to show greater respect and appreciation for the men and women who willingly put themselves in harm’s way to serve, protect, and defend Utahns every single day.

The question before us tonight is simple: what is the state of our state? And just as important, what are we going to do to make it even better?

Six years ago, our state found itself in the most severe recession since the Great Depression. The unemployment rate at the time was 8 percent. Each of us had family members and friends who struggled just to get by. Our economy had been weakened, but we did not give up hope. Together, we set a goal to not only recover from the Great Recession but to become the top-performing economy in America.

Six years later, our state economy has added 219,000 new jobs, with an unemployment rate dropping from 8 percent down to 3 ½ percent today. In fact, in 9 of the last 12 months, Utah had the highest job growth creation of any state in the nation.

Our economy is now the third most diverse. Income inequality is low. Our wage growth is up. And just this fall, the state of Utah was recognized as the most fundamentally sound economy in America. Since I stood here one year ago, businesses across our state have now added approximately 40,000 new jobs.

Think about that for just a minute. Some of you within the sound of my voice know the pain that comes from losing a job. 40,000 new jobs means new opportunities for 40,000 Utahns. This isn't just a statistic. We're talking about real people here, our neighbors, our friends, our family members.

So what is the state of our state? The state of our state is strong, and I think most of us would say the state of our state is outstanding. That being said, I believe that we can do even better.

A high quality of life should mean parents don't have to watch their children leave and go to another town or another state because there are no jobs available where they live.

Jeanette and I enjoy the singular blessing of having our 6 children and now 16 grandchildren all living here in Utah within just 30 minutes of our home. Your children may not choose to stay here, but we need an economy strong enough that they always have the choice.

Unfortunately, this is not the case in some of the rural areas of our state. As we begin this session, I ask you in the Legislature to focus on these communities with renewed determination and resolve.

Thanks to the leadership of Senator Ralph Okerlund, we now have new tools available to help in this battle. Soon there will be a new industrial development in Iron County, roads and power to a potash mine in Beaver County, and other critical infrastructure projects that will enable businesses to expand in rural Utah like never before.

While developing this kind of basic infrastructure is the proper role of government, make no mistake, ultimately it is our small businesses and large businesses and the tens of thousands of hardworking, productive Utah workers who create Utah's economic success, and not the government.

If we expect to make even more progress in rural Utah, it will take more entrepreneurs like Roland Christensen, born and raised in Fayette, Utah, population 245. In his lifetime, Roland has developed 38 different patents and started four successful businesses. He has employed hundreds of people. And the place he chose to build those businesses is in his hometown in Sanpete County. For those of you born and raised in rural Utah, your hometown needs you.

To Utahns everywhere, whether you live in Blanding or Bear River, Parowan or Plain City, I pledge to you tonight that we will not rest until all 29 counties and all 245 cities and towns in our state are full participants in Utah's tremendous economic success.

Even in those areas of our state with abundant prosperity, we can still do better.

Recently, I had the opportunity to visit with Mellowdey Trueblood, a young single mother from Ogden. As a child and now an adult, she has experienced constant economic struggles, homelessness, joblessness, and the feeling that life just isn't what it could or should be. During my visit with her, she said something that has left an indelible impression upon me: She said, "Governor, A lot of brilliant minds are lost to poverty."

In typical Utah fashion, Mellowdey decided she was going to do something about her situation. She enrolled in a paralegal program provided by Weber State University. She began attending financial planning and budget classes. And because she lives in Utah, not only will she have a good education, but there will be job opportunities for her once she graduates.

As Mellowdey has demonstrated and as I believe, it is education, not entitlement, that creates the opportunity for self reliance. If you remember nothing else from my message this evening, remember this. Education is the most important investment we can make in Utah's future.

One of the defining moments in my time as governor came last year when we made one of the largest increases in education funding ever in Utah's history, $512 million in all. As I go around the state, I am often thanked by teachers, principals, parents and others for this extraordinary investment in Utah's future.

Members of the Legislature, I recognize that you often don't get all the credit you deserve on this issue. I believe that needs to change. So tonight I want to be absolutely clear. On behalf of all three million Utahns from across this state I am here to deliver a message that is long overdue. Thank you, members of the Legislature, for investing in our future.

With finite resources and hundreds of competing demands in last year's session, you made the tough decisions that put Utah's children first. Together we have invested over $1.3 billion of new money in education over the past four years, which is more money, by the way, committed to education than any other time in Utah's history.

Our sustained long-term investment in education is already producing positive results. For example when I first came into office, one in every four Utah high school students did not graduate. That was unacceptable to you and to me. Step by step, that number has improved.

I am pleased to report that Utah's graduation rate has grown by nearly 10 percent and now is at 84 percent. That means 3,400 additional students now graduate each and every year from Utah schools with increased opportunities like never before. Now 84 percent is good compared to other states, but I know that we can and that we must, in fact, do better.

Tonight, I am challenging teachers, parents, principals, school board members, and most importantly, our students to raise our graduation rate in this state to 90 percent in the next four years. I pledge to you tonight that we will bring to bear the necessary resources, determination and innovation to achieve this goal.

Members of the Legislature, now is not the time to take our foot off the gas pedal! Let us recommit tonight that we will work together to invest in our children and in our future.

As one of the fastest growing states in America, just a few months ago, our state welcomed its three millionth resident. With our growing population, we must do all that we can to preserve our enviable quality of life despite some of the challenges that we uniquely face.

One example is the meaningful progress we have made to improve air quality. Together, we have reduced total emissions by approximately 35 percent over the past 10 years. But the data means very little when the inversion sets in and those emissions hang in the valleys. There is important work yet to be done.

One thing is for certain—environmental challenges won't be solved with hyperbole or misinformation. We must invest our limited resources in programs and technology that will actually work, not just rhetoric that ignores common sense.

That's why I am continuing to push for our refineries to produce much cleaner Tier 3 fuel as soon as possible. This is one of the most effective steps we can take to improve air quality. I am proud to announce that one of our refineries, Tesoro, has already agreed to make this transition. I have personally met with every refinery in the state, and we expect others will work with us to fully bring Tier 3 fuels to Utah.

We are currently enjoying a wet winter, but we know from history it may not always be that way. That's why my budget also calls for funds to help find long-term solutions to our water supply to accommodate future needs.

We must make an individual and collective commitment to be good stewards of our land, our air and our water. There's no state in America with as much natural beauty as our state and our combined efforts will ensure that Utah's natural wonders can be enjoyed for generations to come.

Healthcare is another important issue. Some continue to struggle with inadequate healthcare coverage because of the fundamentally flawed Affordable Care Act, coupled with the U.S. Supreme Court decision.

Here in the state of Utah, we have worked together to try and find a solution. Unfortunately, we have not yet succeeded in that effort. Too often many of the problems created by the federal government are simply dumped at the feet of the states.

We can speak out in defiance. We can choose to ignore them. Or we can roll up our sleeves and work together to actually do something.

My friends in the Legislature, it is time to find a solution. This problem is not going to go away. This is too important an issue to ignore.

Too many Utahns work hard and still have no healthcare coverage.

I promise that I will work with you to continue providing constructive, practical solutions to every problem and every challenge that we face regardless of who created them, and I know that you want to do the same thing. No matter what issues we face, the states can and do find the best solutions, not the federal government. On this issue of healthcare, let this be the session when Utah leads the way in finding the right state solution.

We have seen that kind of innovation and success in other areas of state government. For example, if we simply added new employees over the last five years at the same rate as our growing population, we would have more than 2,200 additional full-time state employees today. Instead, we have reduced the number of state employees by 11 percent, saving Utah taxpayers over $177 million in 2015 alone.

What does that improved efficiency mean in practical terms for everyday Utah citizens? It means our tax burden is one of the lowest in the nation. Improved efficiency also means that you can now carry around your fishing or hunting license on your smartphone. It means that we can process fingerprints faster than ever before, to get criminals off the streets and behind bars. And we have accomplished what many may think is impossible - we have actually reduced the average wait time down to 4 minutes at the DMV.

Four years ago, my administration conducted an exhaustive regulation review process that has modified and eliminated 368 regulations. In addition, I have just completed a review of every executive order issued by a Utah governor since statehood. Tonight, I am pleased to announce that I will repeal 52 of these executive orders that are no longer necessary.

In Washington, D.C., we have a president who thinks it's okay to bypass Congress and create laws by executive order. Well, that's not the way we do it in Utah.

As governor, I will not issue executive orders to bypass you, the Legislature, or the will of the people. Here in Utah, we still believe in the rule of law and the three branches of government.

To my friends in the Legislature, I need your help. If we truly believe in limited government, now is the time to show it.

I see that a large number of bill files have already been opened this session. Most of those bills add a few lines to state code to fix various issues, but tonight I am calling on you to do something entirely different.

I have instructed my Cabinet to work with you to find areas of relevant state code that can not only be updated and improved but, where possible, deleted altogether. Let this be a session where we cut unnecessary red tape in government. Let's shrink the size of the state code.

Please know that you will have a willing partner in my administration to accomplish this laudable and overdue goal. We cannot simply wait for the next Zenefits or Tesla to come along for us to conclude that many laws are now onerous and unnecessary. We must streamline government today to allow the 21st century economy to continue growing uninhibited by outdated laws, rules and regulations.

While our economy may be tremendously strong today, there are, in fact, challenges on the horizon. The federal government still controls and mismanages too much of our backyard, and we live with the daily threat of a presidential monument declaration. I am encouraged by the work of Representative Keven Stratton and others on this issue.

I am also an enthusiastic supporter of the Public Lands Initiative of Congressman Rob Bishop, Congressman Jason Chaffetz and Senator Mike Lee. I believe these are critical steps to help resolve this long-standing conflict and improve our self reliance. Of course self reliance is not just an issue for our public lands. It should permeate everything we do in state government, especially in our annual budget process.

While a $528 million Rainy Day fund is extraordinary, there are others things we must do in order to preserve our state's unprecedented fiscal stability. First and foremost, my proposed budget calls for no new debt and no tax increases. In addition, it pays off $350 million in existing debt, bringing the total debt paid off by the state over the last five years to over $1.4 billion.

We all know that being prepared for the future means being fiscally prudent. That's why when measured on a per-capita basis, it is good news to know that Utah spends the fewest federal dollars of all the 50 states.

These are just some of the reasons why, just this past month, we have once again been rated as one of only nine states in this country with a AAA bond rating. Think about that for a moment. Forty-one other states have a tarnished bond rating. The United States of America recently had its own rating downgraded. But not here in Utah.

And don't think for a minute that this recognition does not matter. It saves the taxpayer money. AAA is the best you can get, and here in Utah we won't settle for anything less.

For all the challenges Utah faces, it is important to remember that there are 49 other states out there that would love to trade places with us. Political gridlock is everywhere in this country, but here in Utah we know how to come together, in spite of our differences, and get things done. I believe there has never been a better time to live, to work, and to raise a family in this state.

To answer the question I posed earlier, the state of our state is strong. It's outstanding. But it's much more than that..

The events of last week's tragedy with Officer Barney impacted all of us profoundly. But equally impactful was the tremendous outpouring of public spirit that we all witnessed. We will never forget the 50-mile long motorcade, the streets lined with children holding flags, and neighbors and friends on overpasses saluting one of our own. I have never been more proud to call Utah home.

Yes, the state of our state has never been stronger.

But as I watched Utahns mourn together, I realized something more important. I realized the state of our state is strong because the state of our people has never been stronger.

As Utahns, you are united, you are compassionate, you are inspiring, you are extraordinary. I am proud to be a part of this great state. I am proud to be a Utahn. It is indeed an honor for all of us to serve.

May God bless our great country in this difficult time.

And may God continue to bless the Great State of Utah and her people.

(f) additional requirements relating to calculation of asset reduction from liability for reinsurance ceded by a domestic insurer to other ceding insurers under Section 31A-17-404.1.

(2) A rule made pursuant to Subsection (1)(e) or (f) may apply to reinsurance relating to:

(a) a life insurance policy with guaranteed nonlevel gross premiums or guaranteed nonlevel benefits;

(b) a universal life insurance policy with provisions resulting in the ability of a policyholder to keep a policy in force over a secondary guarantee period;

(c) a variable annuity with guaranteed death or living benefits;

(d) a long-term care insurance policy; or

(e) such other life and health insurance or annuity product as to which the National Association of Insurance Commissioners adopts model regulatory requirements with respect for credit for reinsurance.

(3) A rule adopted pursuant to Subsection (1)(e) or (1)(f) may apply to a treaty containing:

(a) a policy issued on or after January 1, 2015;

(b) a policy issued before January 1, 2015, if risk pertaining to the policy is ceded in connection with the treaty, either in whole or in part, on or after January 1, 2015.

(4) A rule adopted pursuant Subsection (1)(e) or (1)(f) may require the ceding insurer, in calculating the amounts or forms of security required to be held under rules made under this section, to use the Valuation Manual adopted by the National Association of Insurance Commissioners under Section 11B(1) of the National Association of Insurance Commissioners Standard Valuation Law, including all amendments adopted by the National Association of Insurance Commissioners and in effect on the date as of which the calculation is made, to the extent applicable.

(5) A rule adopted pursuant to Subsection (1)(e) or (1)(f) may not apply to cessions to an assuming insurer that:

(a) is certified in this state or, if this state has not adopted provisions substantially equivalent to Section 2E of the Credit for Reinsurance

Section 31. Section 31A-27A-601 is amended to read:

31A-27a-601. Filing of claims.

(1) (a) Subject to the other provisions of this Subsection (1), proof of a claim shall be filed with the liquidator in the form required by Section 31A-27a-602 on or before the last day for filing specified in the notice required under Section 31A-27a-406.

(b) The last day for filing specified in the notice may not be later than 18 months after the day on which the order of liquidation is entered unless the receivership court, for good cause shown, extends the time.

(c) Proof of a claim for the following does not need to be filed unless the liquidator expressly requires filing of proof:

(i) cash surrender value in life insurance and annuities;

(ii) investment value in life insurance and annuities other than cash surrender value; and

(iii) any other policy insuring the life of a person.

(d) Only upon application of the liquidator, the receivership court may allow alternative procedures and requirements for the filing of proof of a claim or for allowing or proving a claim.

(e) Upon application, if the receivership court dispenses with the requirements of filing a proof of claim by a person, class, or group of persons, a proof of claim for that person, class, or group is considered as being filed for all purposes, except that the receivership court's waiver of proof of claim requirements may not impact guaranty association proof of claim filing requirements or coverage determinations to the extent that the guaranty association statute or filing requirements are inconsistent with the receivership court's waiver of proof.

(2) The liquidator may permit a claimant that makes a late filing to share ratably in distributions, whether past or future, as if the claim were not filed late, to the extent that the payment will not prejudice the orderly administration of the liquidation, under the following circumstances:

(a) the eligibility to file a proof of claim was not known to the claimant, and the claimant files a proof of claim within 90 days after the day on which the claimant first learns of the eligibility;

(b) (i) a transfer to a creditor is:

(A) avoided under Section 31A-27a-503, 31A-27a-504, 31A-27a-506, or 31A-27a-507; or

(B) voluntarily surrendered under Section 31A-27a-509; and

(ii) the filing satisfies the conditions of Section 31A-27a-509;

or

(c) the valuation of security held by a secured creditor under Section 31A-27a-610 shows a deficiency and the claim for the deficiency is filed within 30 days after the valuation.

(3) If a reinsurer's reinsurance contract terminates pursuant to Section 31A-27a-513:

(a) a claim filed by the receiver which arises from the termination may not be considered late if the claim is filed within 90 days of the day on which the reinsurance contract terminates; and

(b) the reinsurer shall receive a ratable share of distributions, whether past or future, as if the claim described in Subsection (3)(a) is not late.

(4) Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, the liquidator may petition the receivership court, subject to Section 31A-27a-107, to set a date certain after which no further claims may be filed.

(5) A Class 1 claim pursuant to Subsection 31A-27a-701(2)(a) is not subject to the claim filing provisions of this section.

14. Page 123, Lines 3789 through 3791:

3789 (i) provide all or part of the capital and surplus required by applicable law in an amount

3790 of not less than ~~{-}~~ $350,000 ~~{-}~~ ~~{-$250,000-}~~, which amount the commissioner may increase by order if

3791 the commissioner considers it necessary; and

S.B. 30, DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE BOARDS, COMMITTEES, AND COMMISSIONS CONCURRENCE AMENDMENTS, Senator Bramble, was read the third time by short title and placed on its final passage. Representative V. Peterson explained the bill.

Representative Webb proposed Amendment 1:

1. Page 5, Lines 127 through 131:

127 (10) (a) For purposes of this Subsection (10), "concurrence"
 128 means the entities given a

128 concurring role must jointly agree for the action to be taken.

129 (b) If a provision of this chapter requires concurrence between 129 the director or division

130 and the commission and no concurrence can be reached, the 130 director or division has final

131 authority.

(c) When this chapter requires concurrence between the director or division and the commission:

(i) the director or division shall report to and update the commission on a regular basis related to matters requiring concurrence; and
(ii) the commission shall review the report submitted by the director or division under this Subsection (10)(c) and concur with the report, or:
(A) provide a reason for not concurring with the report; and
(B) provide recommendations to the director or division.

2. Page 15, Line 460 through Page 16, Line 464:

460 (1) For purposes of this section, “concurrence” means the entities given a concurring

461 role must jointly agree for the action to be taken.

462 (2) Except for Section 61–1–18.7, if a provision of this chapter requires concurrence

463 between the director or division and the commission and no concurrence can be reached, the 464 director or division has final authority.

(3) When this chapter requires concurrence between the director or division and the commission:

(a) the director or division shall report to and update the commission on a regular basis related to matters requiring concurrence; and

(b) the commission shall review the report submitted by the director or division under this Subsection (3) and concur with the report, or:

(i) provide a reason for not concurring with the report; and

(ii) provide recommendations to the division or director.

3. Page 16, Lines 466 through 469:

466 61–2–205. Concurrence.

467 (1) If a provision under this title requires concurrence between the director or division and 468 a commission or board created under this title and no concurrence can be reached, the director

469 or division has final authority.

(2) When this title requires concurrence between the director or division and a commission or board:

(a) the director or division shall report to and update the commission or board on a regular basis related to matters requiring concurrence; and

(b) the commission or board shall review the report submitted by the director or division under this Subsection (2) and concur with the report,

or:
(i) provide a reason for not concurring with the report; and
(ii) provide recommendations to the director or division.

(b) under the title of the qualified registered political party as designated by the qualified political party in the certification described in Subsection (1), or, if none is designated, then under some suitable title;

(6) notwithstanding Subsection 20A-6-302(1)(a), each election officer shall ensure, for paper ballots in regular general elections, that each candidate who is nominated by the qualified political party is listed by party;

(7) notwithstanding Subsection 20A-6-303(1)(g), each election officer shall ensure that the party designation of each candidate who is nominated by the qualified political party is printed immediately adjacent to the candidate's name on ballot sheets or ballot labels;

(8) notwithstanding Subsection 20A-6-304(1)(g), each election officer shall ensure that the party designation of each candidate who is nominated by the qualified political party is displayed adjacent to the candidate's name on an electronic ballot;

(9) "candidates for elective office," defined in Subsection 20A-9-101(1)(a), also includes an individual who files a declaration of candidacy under Section 20A-9-407 or 20A-9-408 to run in a regular general election for a federal office, constitutional office, multicounty office, or county office;

(10) an individual who is nominated by, or seeking the nomination of, the qualified political party is not required to comply with Subsection 20A-9-201(1)(c);

(11) notwithstanding Subsection 20A-9-403(3), the qualified political party is entitled to have each of the qualified political party's candidates for elective office appear on the primary ballot of the qualified political party with an indication that each candidate is a candidate for the qualified political party;

(12) notwithstanding Subsection 20A-9-403(4)(a), the lieutenant governor shall include on the list provided by the lieutenant governor to the county clerks:

(a) the names of all candidates of the qualified political party for federal, constitutional, multicounty, and county offices; and

(b) the names of unopposed candidates for elective office who have been nominated by the qualified political party and instruct the county clerks to exclude such candidates from the primary-election ballot;

(13) notwithstanding Subsection 20A-9-403(5)(c), a candidate who is unopposed for an elective office in the regular primary election of the qualified political party is nominated by the party for that office without appearing on the primary ballot; and

(14) notwithstanding the provisions of Subsections 20A-9-403(1) and (2) and Section 20A-9-405, the qualified political party is entitled to have the names of its candidates for elective office featured with party affiliation on the ballot at a regular general election.

JUDICIARY STANDING COMMITTEE REPORTS

Mr. Speaker: February 17, 2016

The Judiciary Committee recommends H.B. 279, STATUTE OF LIMITATIONS REFORM AMENDMENTS, by Representative K. Ivory, be replaced and reports a favorable recommendation on 1st Sub. H.B. 279, STATUTE OF LIMITATIONS REFORM AMENDMENTS with the following amendments:

1. Page 2, Lines 27 through 29:

27 78B–2–308. Legislative findings -- Civil actions for sexual abuse of a child -- Window for revival of time

28 barred claims.

(1) The Legislature finds that:

(a) child sexual abuse is a crime that hurts the most vulnerable in our society and destroys lives;

(b) research over the last 30 years has shown that it takes decades for children and adults to pull their lives back together and find the strength to face what happened to them;

(c) often the abuse is compounded by the fact that the perpetrator is a member of the victim's family and when such abuse comes out, the victim is further stymied by the family's wish to avoid the "ugliness";

(d) even when the abuse is not committed by a family member, the perpetrator is rarely a stranger and, if in a position of authority, can bring pressure to bear on the victim to insure silence;

(e) in 1992, when the Legislature enacted the statute of limitations requiring victims to sue within four years of majority, society did not understand the long-lasting effects of abuse on the victim;

(f) the Legislature, as the policy-maker for the state, may take into consideration advances in medical science and understanding in revisiting policies and laws shown to be harmful rather than beneficial; and

(g) the Legislature has the authority to change old laws in the face of new information, and set new policies.

29 {-(3)-} (2) As used in this section:

2. Page 2, Lines 55 through 56:

55 {-(2)-} (3) (a) A person may file a civil action against a perpetrator for intentional or negligent
 56 sexual abuse suffered as a child at any time.

3. Page 2, Lines 52 through 54:

52 [(f)] (h)” {-[-]} Person {-[-]} {-Victim-} “ means an individual victim who was intentionally or negligently 53 sexually abused. It does not include individuals whose claims are derived through another
 54 individual who was sexually abused.

LaVar Christensen, Chair

Report filed. On motion of Representative Christensen, the report of the Judiciary committee was adopted and the bill was read the second time by short title and placed on the Third Reading Calendar.

TWENTY-FIFTH DAY FEBRUARY 19, 2016

MORNING SESSION

The House was called to order by Speaker Hughes at 10:10 a.m.

Roll call showed all members present except Representative Scott Sandall, excused.

Prayer offered by Ashlee Buchholz. Pledge of Allegiance led by Josh Daniel. Both are guests of Representative Brian Greene.

COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE

On motion of Representative Dunnigan, the House resolved itself into a Committee of the Whole, with the Speaker as Chairman, for the purpose of hearing from U.S. Congressman Jason Chaffetz. Representatives Chavez–Houck and Christofferson commented.

On motion of Representative Gibson, the Committee of the Whole was dissolved.

MISCELLANEOUS BUSINESS

On motion of Representative Gibson, the House voted to print U.S. Congressman Jason Chaffetz' remarks upon the pages of the House Journal.

REMARKS OF U.S. CONGRESSMAN JASON CHAFFETZ

I was just thinking about what has happened in my role in the congress, which I am honored and privileged to serve. Washington D.C. is doing far too much. I originally ran on the idea that we need to repeal No Child Left Behind. There shouldn't even be a Federal Department of Education.

There are things that scare me in the Department of Education. For instance, the student loan portfolio is in excess of $1 trillion. It's hard to believe that the Department of Education is actually running a financial institution that is bigger than Citibank. And yet the Congressional Budget Office scores the risk to the United States of America as zero. They believe that 100 percent of those loans will be repaid, which we know will not be true. It is creating a bubble that we need to pay attention to and it is contributing to the high cost of higher education.

There is also extreme data vulnerability at the Department of Education. If you or anybody has filled out an application for a student loan, that information goes to the department. They now house in excess of 135 million social security numbers. When you fill out that information, you're not talking about just your social security; you're talking about all of your personal information. Your bank or credit union accounts, or a loan, or whatever it might be; and yet we find that there are pockets where there is no encryption or dual authentication. There is such vulnerability that I believe there has already been a hack of major proportions.

I've had the honor and privilege several times to share a meal or to talk about issues with Justice Scalia of the Supreme Court. I will fondly and forever remember my interaction with Justice Scalia as I told him, "I want to abolish the Department of Education. I want to get rid of No Child Left Behind. How do we do that so guys like you don't screw it up?" And he said, "Stop taking their money! Stop taking their money, and guys like us will not force those states to do those things." I said, "Well, we still have to pay for it." He said, "The first step is to stop taking their money."

Mr. Speaker, I really do believe the Legislature, the Governor, and the financial analysts should look at the cost of taking those federal funds. My understanding, last time I looked at it, is roughly 8 percent of the budget comes from the federal Department of Education, but what are the strings? What are the ramifications of taking all those dollars? I know the first inclination, the gut reaction, is to take all the money we can get. But let's also understand the cost of that money. I think that discussion is still an open one.

Another thing we're working on is the Remote Transaction Parody Act. This is a State's Rights bill that allows you to make determination regarding on-line sales. That is a raging debate. We did have progress in the Senate where there was a deal evidently struck between Mitch McConnell and the Democrats, and Senator Dick Durbin to allow the Jason Chaffetz version of that bill to be heard and voted on in the United States Senate. I hope that we can make the same type of progress in the House of Representatives and I do appreciate the good work that is being done here by a lot of members. Those efforts are very helpful to what we are doing.

We're also working closely with Rob Bishop on the public lands issue. We're trying as best we can to bring all the disparate parties together and get rid of this conflict. I again applaud the efforts that are being made here in the State. I wholly support the effort to go after the enabling act and make that case, but I see it as a dual track. So, working closely with Rob Bishop, Mike Lee, and Chris Stewart, we are trying as best we can to come to a plausible solution for seven of our counties. To get rid of this uncertainty and come to a conclusion so there's no on-going conflict.

Unfortunately there are those that thrive on the conflict. There are those that profit from conflict. They don't want to see a resolution, it is better for them to have perpetual chaos so that the attorneys and those they represent can continue to be employed and raise money to run ads, and do those types of things. That's not the spirit, Mr. Speaker, in which we're approaching this. We need to come to some conclusions, and provide certainty for our citizens here in Utah and for the Country as a whole.

Mr. Speaker, we did make progress on Criminal Justice Reform. I know this is not necessarily the top campaign issue, but I think it's a moral issue. We have a choice before us in the United States. We have people that have become incarcerated. At the federal level it is just over 220,000 of our fellow citizens that have committed some degree of crime and they are imprisoned. The question before us is: are these people going to become better criminals, or are we actually going to be the department of corrections that I think we should aspire to be?

The reality is 95 percent of the people that go to prison are coming back out. And again, working closely with Mike Lee and Senator Cory Booker, Cedric Richmond, and Hakeem Jeffries; we have created a very good bipartisan bill that deals with those that are incarcerated. There are 48 exclusions, such as violent criminals and crimes against children. These people will not qualify for this program. But let's understand, Mr. Speaker, that we are at 120 to 140 percent of the capacity of the federal system.

We don't have a federal prison here, but we do have Utahns that go to prison, and will come back here. We need to make sure that the prisons are in a position to reduce the rate of recidivism because the last thing we want the inmates to do after they serve their sentence is to commit another crime. We think we have crafted something good and just last week it passed out of the Judiciary Committee in the House of Representatives. I sit on the committee and I appreciate the leadership of Chairman Goodlatte helping us to do that.

Two other things. I think we have had the EPA administrator before our Oversight and Government Reform committee more than anybody else. This is one of the worst run agencies on the face of the planet. They are not doing their job and it is an embarrassment. On the one hand, they are trying to implement the Waters of the United States because the federal government wants to control literally every puddle in our country; and yet you have situations like Flint, Michigan where 100,000 people were contaminated with lead.

The EPA had that information, and they did not let the public know. They went so far as to tell the mayor of Flint that the water was safe. He went on television, drank the water, and said it was safe. It was some seven months later that they said, "Whoops! The report we had, well, we gave you bad information." There are something like 10,000 people that are six years old and younger who drank that water and the lead contamination was at toxic levels for more than a year. It's one of the saddest situations. It's like what you would see in a third world country, and the EPA was complicit in this.

The State of Michigan is not off the hook either. I feel it a duty and obligation as the chairman of that committee to bring forth both parties. I don't care what political affiliation they have, state officials as well as the EPA will be involved in hearings. We have already had the first hearing on this and we're going to have more. But if you look at the EPA action there, you look at the Annumus River, and you look at what's happening in New York (not many people have heard about that), you just see this consistent pattern and we will continue to get after them on that situation.

Lastly, Mr. Speaker, I would mention the IRS. More Americans fear the IRS than probably any other department or agency. They have the ability to come in and ruin people's lives. What we have seen over the last few years is that they're morphing into a political machine. When Americans are targeted based on their political beliefs and not allowed to exercise their first amendment rights, it should scare all of us. And yet the lack of accountability is unbelievable. We had the President suggest that John Koskinen was going to be the new IRS commissioner. He was going to come in and turn things around. They have not changed. I could go on for hours about how the situation is actually worse, not better.

The United States Congress has cut the IRS' budget by hundreds of millions of dollars, and yet they still don't get it because they take it out of customer service. They take it out of that person who is calling on the phone and trying to get hold of a local person.

I find that most people that work at the IRS are good, decent, honest, hard working, patriotic people; but the leadership, the management...there are only two political appointees in the IRS, but you've got to wonder when we have a dually issued subpoena that we issued to the IRS (they seem to dish it out but they don't take it very well) so, we issue the IRS a subpoena, they have documents in hand, and they knowingly destroy them. What would happen to you if you did that?

We have another case above and beyond the lowest learner in the targeting of these conservative organizations. We have a Microsoft case where the IRS was ordered to go and produce documents. They said they didn't have them. They said they actually destroyed them, which begs a lot of questions. Then I announce that we are having a hearing, and within 48 hours, suddenly, those emails all appear. It is unbelievable given the money and the importance of the IRS. We will continue to pursue these issues because it is just absolutely, totally wrong. It is unfair.

I think that Congress has got to exercise some more of its muscle. We have ceded far too much power to the Executive Branch. We need to better use the power of the purse. We need to understand that willpower is the power to do nothing and is often the right answer.

The third power that I would mention that we haven't used in a long time (our muscles have atrophied) is the power of impeachment. I'm not talking about the high standard of impeaching a President. We do impeach judges from time to time, but the Constitution also calls for the impeachment of civil officers. The Senate has advice and consent, they have an equal vote when somebody comes up and the President nominates that person. But the way that the Congress can recall somebody is to use the power of impeachment. So I have filed papers to impeach the commissioner of the IRS. We have exhausted every remedy. This administration will not hold them accountable. There has been no consequence, and we are left with no alternative but to have that person recalled. And the Congress better get its act together and understand that even though the last time it was used on a civil officer was 1876, it is still in the United States Constitution. It is still one of our remedies and it's something we should get in the habit of doing more regularly when people don't serve the interests of the United States of America.

Again, Mr. Speaker, it is an honor and privilege for me to be here. I thank you and I would be happy to do whatever you see fit in terms of answering questions.

Representative Chavez–Houck welcomed Congressman Chaffetz to the Capitol and commented that in Utah we are evaluating whether it is right or wrong to look at medical marijuana policy. Part of the challenge we have is federal laws that restrict ability to research in particular, and to expand our opportunities to provide some common sense medical marijuana legislation here in the state.

Currently there is a piece of legislation called the CARERS Act that would allow for expanded changing of the whole controlled substance delineation on medical marijuana use. It would allow research and some support for our veterans. There is legislation in the Senate that says CARERS Act, S.683, and the bill in the House is HR1538. Representative Chavez–Houck asked Congressman Chaffetz if he would consider being a co–signer or co–sponsor on that legislation. She stated that currently there are 15 sponsors and only two republicans. It would go a long way in helping our states being able to help their ability to provide very ardent public policy regarding medical marijuana use.

Congressman Chaffetz thanked Representative Chavez–Houck and responded, “I have not co–sponsored that nor do I anticipate that I will be. I will tell you that the opportunity, particularly for the University of Utah, our premiere research medical institution in this state; does and has access, for instance, to CBD oil. You fill out a form and an application with the FDA as well as the DEA. In talking with them they have no problems getting access to those things that they would like to study which I think is very legitimate and if there was any hindrance there I would certainly want to help champion their ability to legitimately study this.

“I did understand and do appreciate what was passed out two years ago regarding CBD oil and I am preparing and am almost ready to introduce a piece of legislation that would change the schedule for CBD oil, if a state has actually legalized that. There are 15 states that have various uses for this. I’m trying to be responsive to what I hear you saying, but at the same time I have no interest in wholly making marijuana available that will eventually be partially used for recreational purposes.

“I think you’ll be pleased that although we’re not behind what you’re doing, we’re trying to give some relief so that people who legitimately need this CBD oil to deal with epilepsy, cancer or whatever it might be, can have legal, lawful access. And that pharmacies and others can be able to get that product and be able to serve those patients given the fact that the state legislature here has approved that. I don’t want to go so far as to legalize the entire plant and do what Colorado or Washington is doing. I think that is the wrong direction, but I’ll be very interested to see and follow your lead in what happens here. This being the people’s House of the State, I want to be as responsive as I can.”

Representative Christofferson thanked Congressman Chaffetz and stated, “One of the biggest threats, I feel, to our nation is the national debt. We are at 19 trillion now and I think the unfunded mandate that a lot of people don’t discuss is, I’ve heard, numbers of 200 trillion. Could you talk about that and tell us what is happening in Congress to manage that? And when do we fall off the cliff, do you think?”

Congressman Chaffetz responded, “We fell off the cliff a long time ago. We’re on the way down and have been for quite some time. I can’t imagine that this is – I hate to put it in the category of good news, but it is better than where it was. I took office and was sworn in the same month as President Obama, so that’s looking at that time frame. The reality is, Democrats had the House, the Senate and the Presidency. The annual deficit number rose to $1.4 trillion. Remember how big that is. If you spent a million dollars a day, every day, it would take you 3,000 years just to get to one trillion.

“We have all time record high receipts for the Federal Government. Things have changed, bodies have changed, programs have changed; we have literally cut billions and billions in spending. For instance, with Barrack Obama (if you take the Department of Defense and the Postal Service off to the side), the net increase in the number of federal employees was up more than 120,000. These are additional federal bureaucrats into the system.

“We get a lot of people crying and saying, ‘Hey! We need more roads, bridges and infrastructure.’ Guess what, when the President championed a $787 billion stimulus plan, less than 5 percent of those funds went to roads, bridges and infrastructure. It went to all this other ‘stuff’ and we really didn’t get anything. We didn’t invest in the military, which we need to do. We didn’t invest in roads, bridges and infrastructure which would have helped create jobs and better our roads and highways. We didn’t do any of that.

“I voted against it anyway, but the deficit now is down around the $400 billion range, and I’m rounding by big numbers. A trillion dollar difference over a number of years. Is it where it needs to be? No! The number one driver, the things we have to fix, are the mandatory programs which consume just about 2/3 of the budget. Medicaid, Medicare, Social Security, Pell grants and Obama Care. If you don’t tackle those five things, you never solve this problem. Because our discretionary budget is roughly 1 trillion 70 billion dollars. 600 billion of that goes to the Department of Defense and we have a depleted inventory of assets. For instance, our United States Navy under Ronald Reagan had 600 ships or so. We now have less than 300 and yet we have to be able to fight and defend the United States on two fronts.

“I do think it is worthy to spend more money on the military and certainly our veterans. We are not taking care of the veterans the way we need to, and we have added literally tens of billions of dollars in additional money to help with their care. But going to the core of the debt and the deficit, when you have all time record receipts – more taxes is not the answer.

“We have got to cut spending, and if you don’t tackle those five things and make adjustments for future generations – I think about our own son. He’s at the University of Utah, he’s in his third year, he’s starting out his life, he’s engaged. His equation on social security should be dramatically different than his grandmother’s. When she started social security there were 30 or 40 people paying into the system for every beneficiary. Now there are 3 or 4 people paying it. I would hope that there would be a drum beat in the public to say we have to address these mandatory spending programs.

“And one other thing I’d mention, a scary thing that happened. I think every single Republican voted against it, I may be wrong by one or two (and not to be too partisan here), but the Dodd Frank piece of legislation did something that scares the living daylights out of me. It took the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau, created a new bureau, gave them a budget larger than the Securities and Exchange Commission, and it's funded – not by Congress– but by the Federal Reserve.

“If the Democrats continue to insist to have funding for government come through an entity where there is no representation by the people, shame on us for being asleep at the wheel. Everybody has to realize how dangerous that precedent is. They've given them authority, they are outside the reach of our ability to control the purse and do appropriations and we have got to fight that back. We have to fight that back. They spend hundreds and hundreds of millions of dollars with a mission that is ill defined, redundant to other agencies, and create another layer of bureaucracy that is just untenable. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.”

52 (4) Subsection (2) does not apply if the prisoner is younger than 18 years of age at the 53 time the offense listed in Subsection (5) is committed and is sentenced on or after May 10, 2016 .

2. Page 4, Lines 91 through 92:

91 (b) Subsections (2)(a)(i) and (2)(a)(iii) do not apply if the person was younger than 18

92 years of age at the time the offense was committed and was sentenced on or after May 10, 2016 .

3. Page 7, Lines 205 through 207:

205 (1) (a) The sentencing option of life without parole provided in Sections 76-3-201 and

206 76-3-207 applies only to those capital felonies for which the offender { ~~was 18 years of age or~~

207 ~~older at the time the offense was committed and~~ } is sentenced on or after April 27, 1992.

4. Page 7, Line 210 through Page 8, Line 214:

210 (2) An offender, who commits a capital felony prior to April 27, 1992, but is sentenced

211 on or after April 27, 1992, shall be given the option, prior to a sentencing hearing pursuant to

212 Section 76-3-207, to proceed either under the law which was in effect at the time the offense

213 was committed or under the additional sentencing option of life in prison without parole

214 provided in Sections 76-3-201 and 76-3-207.

(3) The sentencing option of life without parole has no effect on sentences imposed on an offender who was younger than 18 years of age at the time the offense was committed and was sentenced on or after May 10, 2016.

5. Page 8, Lines 224 through 225:

224 (b) Subsection (2)(a)(i) does not apply if the person was younger than 18 years of age

225 at the time the offense was committed and was sentenced on or after May 10, 2016 .

6. Page 8, Lines 228 through 233:

228 Notwithstanding any provision of law, a person may not be sentenced to life without 229 parole if convicted of a crime punishable by life without parole if, at the time of the 230 commission of the crime, the person was younger than 18 years of age. The maximum 231 punishment that may be imposed on a person described in this section is { ~~life with the~~
 232 possibility of parole -} an indeterminate prison term of not less than 25 years and that may be for life . This section shall only apply prospectively to individuals sentenced on or after

1. Page 4, Lines 108 through 119:

108 (b) “Department” means the United States Department of the Interior.

109 {~~-(c) “Proprietary federal land” means land to which the federal government:~~

110 (i) ~~has acquired right or title; and~~

111 (ii) ~~has not obtained any of the state’s authority over the land.-}~~

 (c) “Jurisdictional authorization” means a federal law, or a rule or regulation adopted by the department or the bureau, that:

 (i) relates to federal land administered by the bureau; and

 (ii) has a logical nexus with a designated purpose of the federal land in question.

112 (2) The chief executive officer of a political subdivision or a county sheriff may, in

113 accordance with Subsection (3), determine that action of a law enforcement official of the

114 bureau {~~-, in relation to proprietary federal land,-} exceeds the bureau’s {~~jurisdiction-~~ jurisdictional authorization .~~

115 (3) In evaluating whether the action described in Subsection (2) exceeds the bureau’s

116 {~~jurisdiction in relation to proprietary federal land-~~} jurisdictional authorization , the chief executive officer of a political

117 subdivision or a county sheriff may consider:

118 (a) the nature and seriousness of the action of the bureau's law enforcement official:

119 (b) the nature of the bureau's {~~jurisdiction in relation to the proprietorial federal land~~} jurisdictional authorization :

2. Page 5, Lines 123 through 127:

123 (d) the extent and nature of any communications between the bureau, the political

124 subdivision, and the county sheriff regarding:

125 (i) the actions of the bureau's law enforcement official:
{~~or~~}

126 (ii) the political subdivision's and county sheriff's policies, plans, and positions {~~or~~} ;or

(iii) the terms and conditions of an agreement entered into and described in Subsection 53-13-106.9.

127 (4) If, after consulting with the governor and the attorney general, the chief executive officer of a

3. Page 5, Lines 134 through 148:

134 (5) The notice described in Subsection (4) shall include:

135 (a) a detailed explanation of the basis for determining that the actions of a law

136 enforcement official of the bureau exceed the bureau's {~~jurisdiction in relation to the~~

137 proprietorial federal land} jurisdictional authority :

138 (b) a demand that the bureau and the department cease repetition of the law

139 enforcement official's actions, and conform the official's future actions to the bureau's

140 {~~jurisdiction in relation to the affected proprietorial federal land~~} jurisdictional authority ;and

141 (c) a specific date, no less than 30 days after the day on which the notice is served, by

142 which time the bureau and the department shall:

143 (i) ensure that the bureau's law enforcement official keeps the law enforcement

144 official's actions within the limits of the bureau's {~~jurisdiction in relation to the affected~~

145 ~~proprietary federal land~~} jurisdictional authority ; or

146 (ii) provide the chief executive officer or county sheriff described in Subsection (4)

147 with a plan for ensuring that the bureau's law enforcement official's actions will be kept within 148 the limits of the bureau's {~~jurisdiction in relation to the affected proprietary federal land~~} jurisdictional authority .

4. Page 6, Lines 154 through 159:

154 Subsections (5)(b) and (c), the chief executive officer or county sheriff may, after consultation

155 with the county attorney , the governor, and the attorney general, pursue all available legal remedies.

156 (b) In seeking any emergency injunction against the actions of a law enforcement

157 official of the bureau that exceed the bureau's {~~jurisdiction in relation to proprietary federal~~

158 ~~land~~} jurisdictional authority , a chief executive officer of a political subdivision or a county sheriff shall attempt, to the 159 extent possible, to coordinate with the {~~state, the bureau~~} governor, the attorney general , and the department.

1. Page 19, Lines 556 through 571:

556 (2) ~~{-[-} Counsel {-[-} {~~Except as provided in~~~~ ~~Subsection (3), counsel-}~~ appointed by the court

557 may not provide representation as court-appointed counsel for a parent or legal guardian in any

558 action initiated by, or in any proceeding to modify court orders in a proceeding initiated by, a

559 private party .except that in a private action to terminate parental rights the court may appoint counsel to represent an indigent parent if it finds that the failure to appoint counsel will result in a deprivation of due process .

560 ~~{~~(3) Unless the court finds there is a likelihood that the~~~~ ~~failure to appoint counsel for an~~

561 ~~indigent private party may result in a deprivation of due process.~~ ~~counsel appointed by the~~

562 ~~court may not provide representation as court-appointed counsel~~
~~for a parent or legal guardian~~

563 ~~in a termination of parental rights action initiated by a private~~ ~~party.-}~~

564 ~~{-[-} (3) {-[-} {~~(4)~~}~~ If the county responsible to provide legal counsel for an indigent under

565 Subsection (1)(g) has arranged by contract to provide services, the court shall appoint the 566 contracting attorney as legal counsel to represent that indigent.

567 {~~+~~} (4) {~~+~~} {~~(5)~~} The court may order a parent or legal guardian for whom counsel is appointed,

568 and the parents or legal guardian of any minor for whom counsel is appointed, to reimburse the 569 county for the cost of appointed counsel.

570 {~~+~~} (5) {~~+~~} {~~(6)~~} The state, or an agency of the state, may not be ordered to reimburse the 571 county for expenses incurred under Subsection (1)(g).

Representative Snow proposed Amendment 3:

1. Page 15, Lines 453 through 455:

453 (d) The commission ~~{-shall-}~~ may allow a large-scale electric utility to use the regulatory

454 liability carrying charge described in Subsection
~~{-(5)(a)(ii)-}~~ (5)(c) to offset the carrying charge described in Subsection

455 (2)(b)(iii).

2. Page 16, Lines 471 through 477:

471 (b) The commission shall authorize a large-scale electric utility to spend up to:

472 (i) $2,000,000 annually for the electric vehicle incentive program described in Section

473 54–20–103; and

474 (ii) an annual average of:

475 (A) ~~{-$500,000-}~~ $1,000,000 for the clean coal technology program described in Section 54-20-104;

476 and

477 (B) ~~{-$3,900,000-}~~ $3,400,000 for the innovative utility programs described in Section 54-20-105.

Representative Brad King commented. Representative Snow’s motion to amend passed on a voice vote.

Representative Snow proposed Amendment 4:

- 1. Page 15, Lines 443 through 446:

443 (b) (i) The commission ~~{-shall-}~~ may authorize the large-scale electric utility to use the 444 regulatory liability described in Subsection (5)(a)(ii) to depreciate thermal generation plant for

445 which the commission determines depreciation is in the public interest for compliance with an

446 environmental regulation or another purpose.

Representative Snow’s motion to amend passed on a voice vote.

Representative Snow explained the bill.

Representative Cox proposed Amendment 2:

- 1. Page 13, Lines 385 through 387:

385 (2) The commission shall exempt a customer that enters into a contract described in

386 Subsection (1) from paying the costs recovered under Subsection
54-7-12.8(3) ~~{-, except the costs~~

387 of the Utah solar incentive program included in Subsection 54-7-12.8(3)(b) ~~}~~ .

2. Page 14, Lines 409 through 410:

409 ~~{(d) “Utah solar incentive program” means the eligible~~
~~utility rooftop solar pilot~~
410 ~~program established by commission order in 2012.}~~

3. Page 15, Line 431 through Page 16, Line 464:

431 ~~{(4) On December 31, 2016, the commission shall end the~~ ~~Utah solar incentive program~~
432 ~~and surcharge tariff and the large-scale electric utility shall stop~~ ~~accepting new applications for~~
433 ~~solar incentive program incentives.}~~

434 ~~{(5)}~~ (4) (a) The commission may authorize a large-scale electric utility that capitalizes
435 demand side management costs under Subsection (2)(b) to:
436 (i) recognize the difference between the annual revenues the large-scale electric utility 437 collects for demand side management and the annual amount of the large-scale electric utility’s 438 demand side management cost amortization expense as an additional expense;
439 (ii) establish and fund, via the additional expense described in Subsection ~~{(5)}~~ (4) (a)(i), a 440 regulatory liability; and
441 (iii) use the regulatory liability described in Subsection
~~{(5)}~~ (4) (a)(ii) to depreciate thermal 442 generation plant.

443 (b) (i) The commission shall authorize the large-scale electric utility to use the
444 regulatory liability described in Subsection
~~{(5)}~~ (4) (a)(ii) to depreciate thermal generation plant for 445 which the commission determines depreciation is in the public interest for compliance with an
446 environmental regulation or another purpose.

447 (ii) The commission may not consider the existence of the 448 regulatory liability described
449 in Subsection {-(5)-} (4) (a)(ii) in a determination to 450 accelerate depreciation under Subsection {-(5)-} (4) (b)(i).
451 (c) The commission shall allow the large-scale electric utility to 452 apply a carrying
453 charge to the regulatory liability described in Subsection 454 {-(5)-} (4) (a)(ii) in an amount equal to the 455 large-scale electric utility's pretax average weighted cost of capital 456 approved by the
457 commission in the large-scale electric utility's most recent general 458 rate proceeding.
459 (d) The commission shall allow a large-scale electric utility to 460 use the regulatory
461 liability described in Subsection {-(5)-} (4) (a)(ii) to offset
462 the carrying charge described in Subsection
463 (2)(b)(iii).
464 (e) The large-scale electric utility shall apply the carrying 465 charge described in
466 Subsection {-(5)-} (4) (c) to funds that a large-scale electric
467 utility is authorized to use to depreciate
468 thermal generation plant under Subsection {-(5)-} (4) (a)
469 until the reduction in the large-scale electric
470 utility's rate base associated with the thermal generation plant
471 depreciation for which the funds
472 are used is reflected in the large-scale electric utility's customers' 473 rates.
474 (f) If the commission determines that funds established in the 475 regulatory liability under 476 Subsection {-(5)-} (4) (a) are no longer needed for the 477 purpose of depreciating thermal generation
478 plant, the large-scale electric utility shall use the balance of the 479 funds in the regulatory liability
480 to offset the capitalized demand side management costs described 481 in Subsection (2)(b)(i).

4. Page 16, Lines 465 through 484:

465 {~~(6)~~} (5) (a) During the pilot program period, of the funds a large-scale electric utility

466 collects via the line item charge described in Subsection (3), the commission shall authorize the

467 large-scale electric utility to allocate on an annual basis:

468 (i) $10,000,000 to the sustainable transportation and energy plan; and

469 (ii) the funds not allocated to the sustainable transportation and energy plan to demand

470 side management.

471 (b) The commission shall authorize a large-scale electric utility to spend up to:

472 (i) $2,000,000 annually for the electric vehicle incentive
program described in Section

473 54-20-103; and

474 (ii) an annual average of:

475 (A) $500,000 for the clean coal technology program described in Section 54-20-104;

476 and

477 (B) $3,900,000 for the innovative utility programs described in Section 54-20-105.

478 {~~(c)~~} The commission shall authorize a large-scale electric utility to recoup the

479 large-scale electric utility's unrecovered costs paid through the
Utah solar incentive program

480 from the funds allocated under Subsection ~~(6)(a)(i).~~ }

481 {~~(d)~~} (c) The commission may authorize a large-scale electric utility to allocate funds the 482 large-scale electric utility collects via the line item charge described in Subsection (3) not spent

483 under Subsection {~~(6)~~} (5) to a conservation, efficiency, or new technology program if the 484 conservation, efficiency, or new technology program is 485 cost-effective and in the public interest.

5. Page 16, Lines 485 through 490:

485 ~~{-(7)-}~~ (6) A large-scale electric utility shall establish a 486 balancing account that includes:

486 (a) funds allocated under Subsection (6)(a)(i);

487 (b) the program expenditures described in Subsection 488 (6)(b); and

489 ~~{-(c)- the unrecovered Utah solar incentive program costs~~
 490 ~~described in Subsection (6)(c);~~

489 ~~and-}~~

490 ~~{-(d)-}~~ (c) a carrying charge in an amount determined 491 by the commission.

6. Page 17, Lines 491 through 494:

491 ~~{-(8)-}~~ (7) A customer that is paying a contract rate
 492 under an agreement with a large-scale

493 electric utility as of January 1, 2016, is exempt from the costs
 494 recovered under Subsection (3) ~~{-}~~

495 except for costs created by or arising from the Utah solar incentive 496 program included in

497 Subsection 54-7-12.8(3)(b) ~~-}~~ .

7. Page 17, Lines 495 through 506:

495 ~~{-(9)-}~~ (8) (a) In any proceeding commenced under 496 Section 54-3-32, the commission may not

497 consider or assess to an eligible customer an expenditure, cost,
 498 amortization, charge, or liability

499 of any kind that is created by or arises in whole or in part from:

500 (i) any program created under Title 54, Chapter 20, Sustainable 501 Transportation and

502 Energy Plan Act; or

503 (ii) this section ~~{-, except for costs created by or arising from~~ 504 the Utah solar incentive

501 ~~program included in Subsection 54-7-12.8(3)(b)-}~~ .

502 (b) Except as provided in Subsection (9)(a) and in Section 54-3-33, this section and

503 Title 54, Chapter 20, Sustainable Transportation and Energy Plan Act, do not:

504 (i) amend or repeal any provision of Section 54-3-32; or

505 (ii) affect any right, defense, or credit available to an eligible customer under Section

506 54-3-32.

8. Page 17, Line 507 through Page 18, Line 528:

507 [~~(3)~~] ~~{-(10)-}~~ (9) Each electrical corporation proposing a tariff under this section shall, before

508 submitting the tariff to the commission for approval, seek ~~[and receive]~~ input from:

509 (a) the Division of Public Utilities;

510 (b) the Office of Consumer Services ~~[created in Section 54-10a-201]; and~~

511 ~~[(c) other interested parties.]~~

512 (c) a person that files a request for notice with the commission.

513 [~~(4)~~] ~~{-(11)-}~~ (10) Before approving a tariff under this section, the commission shall hold a

514 hearing if:

515 (a) requested in writing by the electrical corporation, a customer of the electrical

516 corporation, or any other interested party within 15 days after the tariff filing; or

517 (b) the commission determines that a hearing is appropriate.

518 [~~(5)~~] ~~{-(12)-}~~ (11) The commission may approve a demand side management tariff under this

519 section either with or without a provision allowing an end-use customer to receive a credit

520 against the charges imposed under the tariff for electric energy efficiency measures that:

521 (a) the customer implements or has implemented at the customer's expense; and

522 (b) qualify for the credit under criteria established by the [~~Utah Public Service~~

523 ~~Commission~~] commission.

524 [(6)] {-(13)-} (12) In approving a tariff under this section, the commission may impose

525 whatever conditions or limits it considers appropriate, including a maximum annual cost.

526 [(7)] {-(14)-} (13) Unless otherwise ordered by the commission, each tariff under this section

527 approved by the commission shall take effect no sooner than 30 days after the electrical 528 corporation files the tariff with the commission.

9. Page 23, Lines 688 through 689:

688 (1) The commission may authorize, subject to funding available under Subsection

689 ~~54-7-12.8~~ {-(6)-} (5) (b)(ii)(B), a large-scale electric utility to implement programs that the commission

Representative Snow commented. Representative Cox's motion to amend failed on a voice vote.

Representative Arent proposed Amendment 5:

1. Page 14, Lines 415 through 424:

415 (b) The commission {~~-shall-~~} may authorize a large-scale electric utility that is allowed to

416 charge a customer for demand side management under Subsection (2)(a) to:

417 (i) if requested by the large-scale electric utility, capitalize the annual costs incurred for

418 demand side management provided in Subsection (2)(a):

419 (ii) amortize the annual cost for demand side management over a period of 10 years;

420 (iii) apply a carrying charge to the unamortized balance that is equal to the large-scale

421 electric utility's pretax weighted average cost of capital approved by the commission in the

422 large-scale electric utility's most recent general rate proceeding; and

423 (iv) recover the amortization cost described in Subsection (2)(b)(ii) and the carrying 424 charge described in Subsection (2)(b)(iii) in customer rates.

2. Page 17, Lines 491 through 494:

491 (8) {~~A~~} The commission may exempt a customer that is paying a contract rate under an agreement with a large-scale

492 electric utility as of January 1, 2016 {~~is exempt~~} from the costs recovered under Subsection (3),

493 except for costs created by or arising from the Utah solar incentive program included in

494 Subsection 54-7-12.8(3)(b).

3. Page 19, Lines 558 through 561:

558 (d) Beginning June 1, 2016, for an electrical corporation with an energy balancing

559 account established before January 1, 2016, the commission shall evaluate whether to allow an electrical

560 corporation to recover 100% of the electrical corporation's prudently incurred costs as 561 determined and approved by the commission under this section.

Representatives Snow, Ivory, and Tanner commented. Representative Arent's motion to amend failed on a voice vote.

Report filed.

MISCELLANEOUS BUSINESS

On motion of Representative Dunnigan, the House voted to strike the enacting clause on all Senate and House bills and resolutions remaining on the House and Senate calendars and with the House Rules Committee.

On motion of Representative Dunnigan, the House authorized the Speaker to appoint a committee to wait upon the Governor and inform him that the House of Representatives has finished its business and is prepared to adjourn sine die. Speaker Hughes appointed Representatives Jack Draxler, Becky Edwards, and Mark Wheatley.

On motion of Representative Brian King, the House authorized the Speaker to appoint a committee to notify the Senate and inform that Honorable Body that the House of Representatives has completed its business and is prepared to adjourn sine die. Speaker Hughes appointed Representatives Brad Last, Steve Handy, and Marie Poulson.

Speaker Hughes directed Sandy Tenney to read, revise and make minor corrections to the daily House Journals and be responsible for certifying the indexed and bound copy as the accurate record of the proceedings of the 2016 General Session of the Sixty-first Legislature.

Senators Jenkins, Weiler, and Dabakis formally notified the House of Representatives that the Senate had completed its business and was prepared to adjourn sine die.

Representative Draxler informed the House of Representatives that his committee, with a like committee from the Senate, has notified the Governor that the Legislature has completed its business and is prepared to adjourn sine die.

Representative Last informed the House of Representatives that his committee has waited upon the Senate and informed them that the House of Representatives has completed its business and is prepared to adjourn sine die.

Governor Gary R. Herbert addressed the House of Representatives.

On motion of Representative Dunnigan, the 2016 General Session of the Sixty-first Legislature adjourned sine die.

HOUSE JOURNAL
OF THE
SIXTY-FIRST LEGISLATURE
OF THE
STATE OF UTAH

SECOND SPECIAL SESSION

House Chamber
State Capitol
Salt Lake City, Utah
May 18, 2016

The House was called to order by Speaker Gregory H. Hughes at 4:15 p.m.

Prayer given by Representative Lifferth's guest, Mayor Jim Miller, Saratoga Springs. Pledge of Allegiance led by Representative Lifferth's guest, Ben Reeves, Eagle Mountain City Councilman.

MISCELLANEOUS BUSINESS

Speaker Hughes appointed Sandy D. Tenney as Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives for the 2016 Second Special Session of the 61st Legislature.

The Chief Clerk, Sandy D. Tenney, read the following:

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, since the adjournment of the 2016 General Session of the Sixty-first Legislature of the State of Utah, certain matters have arisen which require immediate legislative attention; and

WHEREAS, Article VII, Section 6 of the Constitution of the State of Utah provides that the Governor may, by proclamation, convene the Legislature into Special Session;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Gary R. Herbert, Governor of the State of Utah, by virtue of the authority vested in me by the Constitution and the laws of the State of Utah, do by this Proclamation call the Sixty-first Legislature of the State of Utah into a Second Special Session at the Utah State Capitol, in Salt Lake City, Utah, on the 18th day of May 2016, at 4:00 p.m., for the following purposes:

1. To consider the appropriation of the following:

To State Board of Education - Utah State Office of Education –
Initiative Programs

From Education Fund	998,900
From Education Fund, One-time	3,775,000
Schedule of Programs:
Electronic High School	(1,001,100)
Upstart Early Childhood Education	1,500,000
ProStart Culinary Arts Program	275,000
Electronic Elementary Reading Tool	500,000
Early Intervention	3,000,000
IT Academy	500,000

2. To adopt the following intent language:

The Legislature intends that the Department of Workforce Services (DWS) authorize Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) funds for one year for the UPSTART program ($500,000). This TANF funding is dependent upon availability of TANF funding and expenditures meeting the necessary requirements to qualify for the federal TANF program. The Legislature further intends that DWS report to the Office of the Legislative Fiscal Analyst no later than September 1, 2016, regarding the status of these efforts.

3. To consider a concurrent resolution expressing opposition to the unilateral use of the Antiquities Act by the President to create a national monument in Utah and encouraging the President to include the State of Utah in any decision making or designation process.

4. For the Senate to consent to appointments made by the Governor.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF,
I have hereunto set my hand and
caused to be affixed the Great
Seal of the State of Utah.
Done at the Utah State Capitol
in Salt Lake City, Utah, this 20th day of April 2016.

Gary R. Herbert
Governor

Spencer J. Cox
Lieutenant Governor

Communication filed.

CERTIFICATION

I, Spencer J. Cox, Lieutenant Governor of the State of Utah, do hereby certify that the attached copy of the Proclamation issued on the 20th day of April, 2016 and signed by Governor Gary R. Herbert, is a true and correct copy of the original Proclamation calling the Sixty-first Legislature of the State of Utah into a Second Special Session at the Capitol Complex at Salt Lake City, Utah on the 18th day of May, 2016, at 4:00 p.m., for the purposes named in the Proclamation.

I FURTHER CERTIFY THAT the membership of the Utah State House of Representatives has not changed from that Certification of the 2016 General Session.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF,
I have hereunto set my hand and
caused to be affixed the Great
Seal of the State of Utah at Salt
Lake City, Utah, this 17th day of May, 2016.

Spencer J. Cox
Lieutenant Governor

Communication filed.

MISCELLANEOUS BUSINESS

Roll call showed all members present except Representative Marie Poulson, excused.

Speaker Hughes announced that pursuant to Joint Rule 2-1-101, the Rules adopted by the Legislature during the 2106 General Session apply to the conduct of the House during the 2016 Second Special Session.

The Speaker appointed Representatives Webb, Schultz, and Brad King as a committee to meet with a like committee from the Senate to wait upon the Governor to inform him that the Legislature is organized and ready to receive any communication or message he may have to offer.

The Speaker appointed Representatives Dee, Fawson, and Hollins as a committee to notify the Senate to inform that Honorable Body that the House is organized and ready to do business.

On motion of Representative Dunnigan, as allowed by the Utah Constitution and the Joint Rules of the Legislature, the House voted to continue its practice of reading only the short title of bills and resolutions as they are introduced or considered on a House Calendar and not read the long title of the bills and resolutions unless a majority of the House directs the reading of the long title, short title, or both of any House or Senate bill or resolution.

On motion of Representative King, the House voted to suspend the rule requiring that bills and resolutions remain on a calendar for one legislative day between second and third readings and that the House also suspends the House Rule requiring a favorable recommendation from a House Standing Committee prior to passage of bills and resolutions.

Representative Webb reported that his committee has waited upon the Governor and informed him that the Legislature is organized and ready to do business.

Representative Dee reported that his committee has waited upon the Senate and they are organized and ready to do business.

INTRODUCTION OF BILL

H.C.R. 201, Concurrent Resolution Opposing Unilateral Use of the Antiquities Act (K. Stratton), was read the first time by short title and referred to the Rules Committee.

On motion of Representative Noel, under suspension of the rules, the House voted to lift H.C.R. 201 from the Rules Committee, read it for the second time by short title and place it on the calendar for third reading. H.C.R. 201 was read the second time.

THIRD READING CALENDAR

H.C.R. 201, CONCURRENT RESOLUTION OPPOSING UNILATERAL USE OF THE ANTIQUITIES ACT, Representative Stratton, was read the third time by short title and placed on its final passage.

Representatives Romero and Noel commented.

Representative Noel proposed Amendment 1:

1. Page 4, Line 116 through Page 5, Line 131:

116 WHEREAS, San Juan County commissioner Rebecca Bennally, whose constituency

117 includes members of the Navajo Nation who live in San Juan County, indicated on April 20,

118 2016, that Navajos in that region would prefer sacred sites be protected through application of

119 a conservation area designation, with some areas left available for development and job

120 creation for locals;

121 WHEREAS, the Legislature and the Governor believe that democratic process matters,

122 and that consideration of whether to set aside Bears Ears for preservation should involve all

123 interested stakeholders, in a manner that protects Bears Ears while still allowing local concerns

124 to be heard and recognized;

WHEREAS, local Native American tribal members in San Juan County who were the first known inhabitants of the Bears Ears area are strongly opposed to the designation of a national monument and should be afforded additional time to present their concerns and interests in how the area would be managed in the future;

125 WHEREAS, the Legislature and the Governor invite the President and the Secretary of

126 the Interior to join Utah’s congressional delegation, the Governor, state legislative leadership

127 from both parties, locally elected officials, and interested stakeholders to engage in such a

128 constitutional process;

WHEREAS, the Legislature and the Governor urge federal, state, and local cooperation to ensure that multiple use and sustained yield are maintained on public lands while protecting ancient Native American artifacts under existing laws like the Archeological Resource Protection Act (ARPA) and the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA);

129 WHEREAS, the Legislature and the Governor are opposed to a unilateral use of the

130 Antiquities Act to create a Bears Ears National Monument without a more in–depth process that

131 draws all stakeholders together;

Representative Noel’s motion to amend passed on a voice vote.

S.B. 2001 was signed by the Speaker and returned to the Senate for signature of the President.

MISCELLANEOUS BUSINESS

Speaker Hughes appointed Representatives Pitcher, Sandall, and Arent as a committee to wait upon the Governor and inform him that the House of Representatives has finished its business and is prepared to adjourn sine die.

Speaker Hughes appointed Representatives Ipson, Eliason, and Wheatley as a committee to notify the Senate and inform that Honorable Body that the House of Representatives has completed its business and is prepared to adjourn sine die.

Speaker Hughes directed Sandy Tenney to read, revise and make minor corrections to the daily House Journal and be responsible for certifying the indexed and bound copy as the accurate record of the proceedings of the 2016 Second Special Session of the Sixty-first Legislature.

Senators Christensen, Stephenson, and Dabakis formally notified the House of Representatives that the Senate has completed its business and is prepared to adjourn sine die.

Representative Pitcher informed the House of Representatives that his committee, with a like committee from the Senate, has notified the Governor that the Legislature has completed its business and is prepared to adjourn sine die. The Governor has no further business to bring before the Legislature at this time.

Representative Ipson informed the House of Representatives that his committee has waited upon the Senate and informed them that the House of Representatives has completed its business and is prepared to adjourn sine die.

On motion of Representative Dunnigan, and at 6:40 p.m., the 2016 Second Special Session of the Sixty-first Legislature adjourned sine die.
