STATE OF UTAH
SENATE JOURNAL
2015 GENERAL SESSION of the
SIXTY–FIRST LEGISLATURE

FIRST DAY

MORNING SESSION

January 26, 2015

Pursuant to the provisions of the Constitution of the State of Utah, the Senators of the Sixty–First Legislature of the State of Utah convened in General Session in the Senate Chamber on Monday, January 26, 2015, at ten o'clock a.m.

The Senate was called to order at 10:10 a.m., by former Senate President John L. Valentine.

PRAYER BY ELDER DAVID A. BEDNAR, MEMBER OF THE QUORUM OF THE TWELVE APOSTLES OF THE CHURCH OF JESUS CHRIST OF LATTER–DAY SAINTS

Our Dear Heavenly Father,

At the commencement of this legislative session, we bow our heads in humble prayer, to express gratitude for our many blessings. We thank thee for those who have gone before. We thank thee for the individuals, the families, and many institutions that have built strong foundations in this state. We are grateful for their diligence, their sacrifice, and for their successful efforts, and we truly feel blessed to stand upon their shoulders in this state at this time. As this session of the legislature begins, we humbly pray for wisdom, for guidance, for judgment, for inspiration. This is a remarkable season in the history of the earth. There are many complex and varied challenges that need to be addressed and we acknowledge that with our limited mortal capacity, we cannot fully address the things that need to be resolved. In this moment of various faiths and different backgrounds, we unite pleading with thee for help. We pray that these good men and women in the legislature, and particularly in the Senate, will have capacity beyond their own, vision to see what they might not ordinarily see, judgment to consider, evaluate, and decide in a manner that will be most remarkable. We love thee as our Father.

We thank thee for this land of goodness in which we live. We thank thee for the freedoms and the resources and the blessings that we enjoy. May we ever have gratitude in our hearts for all that we have received and do our best to strengthen the foundation upon which we all know for those who will come in the future. May I conclude this prayer by expressing my gratitude and my love to thee, and express our gratitude for thy beloved Son. And we offer this prayer with a petitioning earnestly, sincerely, and humbly for these blessings for these men, these women, their families and upon their service –

In the sacred name of the Lord Jesus Christ, Amen

WELCOMING REMARKS BY PRESIDENT NIEDERHAUSER

I would like to thank Commissioner Valentine for getting us started this morning, which is most appropriate for our long-time friend, mentor and leader.

We would like to thank Elder Bednar for the invocation to begin this session and getting us off on the right foot, recognizing that there is power beyond ourselves.

I would like to thank Mayor Hiatt, the mayor of Kaysville, for leading us in the pledge. Thanks to Utah National Guard for the flag ceremony and the Utah Symphony Brass Sextet for the inspirational music. I would like to give a special thanks to all of our senate personnel that work tirelessly to do their part to make this all function.

Thanks to each of you senators for your support and vote of confidence.

We begin this session with three new colleagues. I would like highlight a little something about each of them. Far from comprehensive, but intended to help us get to know and appreciate them better.

I will start with Senator Al Jackson. Little Al was destined to lead out with his mama and daddy by his side. He was born and raised on the East Coast. He became a star basketball player for Embry Riddle University in Daytona Beach, Florida. No stranger to public policy, he got his start on Capitol Hill in Washington DC lobbying for the aviation industry. Later, he formed the Jackson Group, consultants on government issues involving national security, homeland security, aviation, transportation, foreign affairs and corporate issues.

Welcome Senator Jackson! We are anxious to glean from all your experience.

Senator Ann Millner is also no stranger to the Utah legislative process having lobbied and been associated with the Utah Legislature for many years as President of Weber State University. Brad Mortenson, Vice President at Weber, remembers:

“One day I was attending a meeting at the Capitol with President Millner. She was very, very sick (she had a terrible cold). I knew she always took the stairs; however, on this day I was headed toward the elevator because of how sick she was – assuming of all days – surely we would take the elevator today. When she saw me walking toward the elevator she called, ‘come on, Brad! we are taking the stairs!’ She is focused and determined - you will now discover her dedication!”

We are pleased that you (Senator Millner) are part of the Senate and relish the opportunity to experience your dedication and talents.

Destined to be a state senator, Senator Jani Iwamoto was elected by her peers at Girls State in 1977 to the state senate representing Dern City. Formerly on the Salt Lake County Council, Senator Iwamoto has had plenty of experience with the legislative process. It is a pleasure to have her as a colleague and we anticipate learning from her experience. Senator Iwamoto, would you favor us in singing the Dern City fight song?

Song (Music to "It's A Small World")

It's a world of freedom,
 A world of hope,
 It's a world of gifts,
 From God above.
 We're so glad for Girls State,
 And we sure think it's great.
 It's a small state after all.

Chorus

We're Dern City as you can see,
 The best city for you and me.
 Our Dern City is lots of fun,
 'Cause we're number ONE!

Slogan

We're the best Dern City in the whole Dern state!!!

Now, you might ask how I discovered this little tidbit about Senator Iwamoto. No, it's not on Wikipedia. No, I didn't search the annals of previous Girls State functions. It was discovered in my own home archives. You see, there is another famous person that attended Girl's State in 1977. You might recognize her on the front row in this picture of Rampton City. Oh, how lovely were the 70's; let's never go to the fashion and attire of the 70's again. The fifth person from the right on the front row is the former Melissa Kay Barrett, now Melissa Kay Niederhauser or Melissa Kay Barrett Niederhauser. Try fitting that on your college diploma. Melissa Barrett went on to be elected county commissioner of Democracy County. Maybe there is still a destiny unfulfilled. Watch-out Salt Lake County Council!

Melissa, are you up for singing us the Rampton City song?

Song

They say a Rampton girl is nice to know.
 She's got that good old Rampton pep and go.
 She's got that style, that smile, that winning way.
 And everywhere you go, you'll recognize her when they say
 Now there's a girl I'd like to know.
 She's got that good old Rampton pep and go,
 And just to be with her is such a treat, you just can't beat
 A RAMPTON GIRL!

Slogan

"Rampton's our name, friendship's our game!"

Yet another familiar face is found attending the 1977 Girl's State. Does anyone recognize the lady on the right? Sue Ferry was on the Education Committee. Girl's State 1977, a gold mine of fun for us today.

Could I have the pages pass out this year's Senate Coin. On the front, as usual, the Senate Seal surrounded by 29 stars. Around the edge are the words, "Utah Senate General Session 2015". On the back, an impression of the Capitol encompassed by 29 stars and the Preamble of the Utah Constitution which reads:

Grateful to Almighty God for life and liberty, we, the people of Utah...do ordain and establish this CONSTITUTION.

Here is a little history regarding our Capitol:

Original Capitol Building

"The pioneers of Utah were anxious to build a statehouse. The first Legislative Assembly of the Territory, which met in 1851, placed the Capitol in the center of the territory and appointed a committee to proceed to Millard County immediately to designate the exact location for the new capitol building designed by Truman O. Angell, the primary designer of the Salt Lake Mormon Temple. However, central Utah did not develop as hoped, and only one complete session of the Legislature was held at Fillmore before the governmental offices were moved back north to Salt Lake City. The $20,000 appropriated for the building in Fillmore was considered wasted by Washington, and Congress refused to grant further funds for government buildings in Utah.

In January 1907 Governor John C. Cutler reminded the legislature that Utah had been in the union for eleven years without a capitol building. In the 1909 session three acts were passed relating to the financing of the building, and the project finally moved ahead with help from a windfall. A.R. Barnes, Attorney General for the state, found a state inheritance tax lying inoperative on the books. His enforcement of this law in the estate of E.H. Harriman, railroad magnate, resulted in $798,546.00 revenue. Along with these funds, the legislature passed a bill to provide for and negotiate a loan of $1,000,000.00 and to issue bonds. The Harriman funds provided sufficient money to start the work."

Some facts about the Utah State Capitol Building are:

Formerly known as "Arsenal Hill", the 20 acre plot where the Capitol is now located was once the location of a munitions storage facility.

Designed by architect Richard K.A. Kletting

Built in Corinthian order, with neoclassical architecture.

James Stewart & Company, general contractor

Construction began in 1912. Four years and $2.7 million dollars later, the building was finished in 1916.

In 2004 after almost one hundred years of use, the Capitol Building underwent a $227 million dollar renovation, and was finished in 2008. I might add that no one found any hidden taxes to pay for this, it was an appropriation.

Local materials were used in its construction, including granite from Little Cottonwood Canyon, iolite stone from Sanpete County, copper from Bingham Canyon, and marble from local quarries.

The building is now capable of withstanding a 7.3 earthquake.

ARSENAL HILL

On April 5, 1887 at 4:48 pm, a massive explosion erupted from the top of Arsenal Hill. This location was the site of a large munitions storage facility. All of Salt Lake City's black powder reserves exploded, and 500 tons of debris shot into the air. Windows were shattered 2 miles from the explosion and four people died. After the dust settled, it was discovered that two boys who were shooting at birds next to the munitions facility had accidentally shot the arsenal. (If I had been a young boy at the time, my mom might have thought that I was involved.) A few years after the explosion, Salt Lake City leaders decided that the location should be converted into the new site for the Utah State Capitol. Arsenal Hill is now Capitol Hill, with a beautiful view of the valley.

I have visited many other state Capitols, and ours is truly beautiful in comparison, especially the grand hallway in the middle of the Capitol.

Several of you are aware that the Utah Senate has sponsored an art contest to paint the state Capitol. High School students from around the state have submitted their art work. The entries have been outstanding. The talent of these young people is truly amazing. Twenty six entries have been chosen to be displayed in the Capitol near the Senate office on February 17th. We will recognize these accomplished students during floor time that day by awarding them college scholarships and the first place entry will hang in the senate office for many years to come. I want to thank every student who accepted this challenge and submitted their artwork. We are in for a treat on February 17th.

Now, a couple of facts about the Utah State Constitution

Preamble: Grateful to Almighty God for life and liberty, we, the people of Utah, in order to secure and perpetuate the principles of free government, do ordain and establish this CONSTITUTION.

Starting in 1849, seven different constitutions were drafted as Utah attempted to become a state.

The final draft of the Utah Constitution was ratified on November 5, 1895, with a vote of 31,305 in favor and 7,607 against.

Utah's first state officers were inaugurated on January 6, 1896.

We were one of the very first states to allow women to vote as depicted in a mural in the House of Representatives.

The Constitution is a symbol of our public policy and a reminder of the hard work, sacrifice and dedication of our forebearers. Our constitution is the foundation of fundamental principles and laws upon which our society functions. The United States' Constitution has the bill of rights after several sections on process. The Bill of Rights in our state's constitution is right at the front, the first section. This is how important it was to the people of Utah. I hope this coin will regularly bring to mind the solemn duty we have to do the people's work here in the people's house. I can't think of anyone who appreciated this as much as Speaker Becky Lockhart. Her untimely passing reminds us of our mortality and the unpredictable nature of our lives. Let us take time now for a moment of silence to remember her great contributions to the people of Utah and pray for the comfort of her family.

It is paramount that we put our best foot forward and work with energy and passion, but let us not forget the truly important things of life such as our families and our relationships with people. We are a cog, not the cogwheel. We function under a power beyond this earth. God has granted us life and liberty. It then behooves us to seek His mind and will as we engage in this process of public policy.

The passing of Speaker Lockhart has made me reflect. I think about the President's office, and the seat I am occupying and all of your seats and the dignity that these seats represent along with this building and my office. I often call this "my seat" and "my office", and "your seats". But really, they are not. This is the office of the President of the Senate, and this is the seat. These are the seats for senators who represent different districts across the state. We are here temporarily; someone else will fill these seats at some time and will do very well and maybe even better than us. We need to accept that, which gives us some perspective as we begin this session. Sometimes we overestimate our contributions. We are not the be all and end all.

We are facing some important issues this session, senators. There are questions about Medicaid expansion, transportation funding, water infrastructure and policy, prison relocation, education funding and governance, anti-discrimination and religious liberties just to name a few. I don't recall being faced with so many big issues in one session. It will surely test our courage and wisdom and our ability to set politics aside and do what is right for the long-term health, safety and prosperity of our State.

So buckle up and let's go to work.

On motion of Senator Van Tassell, the 2015 Senate Rules, Joint Rules and Interim Rules adopted by the 2015 First Extraordinary Session of the 61st Legislature were adopted with the understanding that changes to these rules for the Sixty-First Legislature will be considered and adopted as soon as possible.

On motion of Senator Van Tassell, as allowed by the Utah Constitution and Joint Rules of the Legislature, the Senate voted to continue its practice of reading only the short title of bills and resolutions as they are introduced or considered on the Senate calendar and not read the long title of the bills and resolutions unless a majority of the Senate directs the reading of the long title, short title, or both of any House or Senate bill or resolution. The motion passed.

COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE

On motion of Senator Okerlund, the Legislature resolved itself into a Committee of the Whole for the purpose of hearing from Chief Justice Matthew B. Durrant, Utah Supreme Court.

STATE OF THE JUDICIARY

REMARKS BY CHIEF JUSTICE MATTHEW B. DURRANT

Thank you President Niederhauser for the privilege of addressing this distinguished body. I am pleased to be joined by Justices Durham, Parrish, and Lee. Justice Nehring is unable to be here. It is one of the great privileges and pleasures of my life to work with four colleagues who are not just exemplary jurists, but also extraordinary people. I would like to make particular note of Justice Nehring's upcoming retirement. He has served this state with distinction both on the trial bench and on our court.

I would also like to take this opportunity to note the tragic passing of Speaker Lockhart. Along with you, we mourn her loss, and wish comfort to her family, her friends, and to you, her colleagues.

Now, in this annual report on the state of Utah's judiciary, I customarily do a good deal of unapologetic bragging about the accomplishments of the judicial branch of government. You see, when you work every day with dedicated, hardworking judges and staff, it's normal to want to share our collective accomplishments. But on this occasion, I thought I would take a different tack and, instead, praise the accomplishments of this, the legislative branch.

This is the thirty-year anniversary of the Utah Constitution's present Judicial Article, an extraordinary legislative achievement. The 1985 amendments to Article VIII of our constitution changed the way judges are selected, retained, disciplined, and governed. It required vision, insight, and the courage to change. We all know that change is not easy. I remember as a young man worrying about the changes an LDS mission might bring to my life, so I approached my father.

"Dad," I said, "I'm just not sure I can go for two years without a date."

"Son," he replied, "You've gone the last two years without one."

Well, things worked out for me, and the revised Judicial Article has worked out for the citizens of Utah in enormously beneficial ways.

It was passed by the house and the senate, and ratified by the people, in 1984. It became effective on July 1, 1985. If I'm not mistaken, there is only one member of this Legislature who was serving when the revised Judicial Article was debated and adopted— Senator Lyle Hillyard. Thirty four years of service to the people of this state certainly warrants special recognition and attention. (Thank you Senator.)

The revised Judicial Article was the product of more than four years' work by the Legislature's Constitutional Revision Commission. In the 1970s, consensus was building that fundamental changes to our state judicial system were needed. The system was fragmented by geography and by court level, and there was no cohesive direction – no rudder, so to speak. The immediate issue was the workload of the Supreme Court, which was among the highest in the country, and the obvious solution to that problem was the creation of an intermediate level appellate court. Yet as this study group looked at the whole judiciary, it was apparent that broader reform was needed. The creation of the Court of Appeals would fix the biggest hole in the ship, but there were others. In hindsight, the vision, creativity and courage to think big shown by the Legislature and the Commission were truly remarkable.

The new Judicial Article, together with its implementing legislation and the subsequent refinements it made possible, effected three basic changes that have enabled our judiciary to become a national model.

First, it created a system for the selection of judges that excises politics from the process and ensures that Utah's judges are picked based exclusively on merit. The amendments to the Judicial Article led to the creation of a non-partisan commission made up of lawyers and non-lawyers that certifies a list of qualified applicants to the governor. The commission does so based upon its own evaluation of the accomplishments of the applicants and upon anonymous critiques of them—by lawyers with whom they have had cases, and judges before whom they have appeared. The governor must choose a nominee from this list of applicants, and that person must be confirmed by the senate. This process serves as a referendum on the applicants' professional reputation. If they have not distinguished themselves in their career, if they have not developed a reputation for hard work, excellence, and integrity, they will not become a judge in Utah. It is a judicial selection process that is as rigorous as can be found in any state in the nation.

Because of this body's foresight in creating this system, our state has now enjoyed a judiciary of uniformly high quality for the last thirty years. The effect has been far-reaching. Not only because a strong judiciary ensures that individuals receive a fair forum for the resolution of their disputes, not only because it ensures that those rights guaranteed by our State and Federal Constitutions will be protected for all, but because a predictable, thoughtful, and stable judiciary is critical to our state's economic success now and in the future.

Second, the revised Judicial Article created a unified system of governance for the judiciary. It established a judicial council that is chaired by the chief justice and consists of representatives of each of the different kinds of courts—appellate, district, juvenile, and justice. It includes representatives who are elected by their colleagues in those courts. It also includes a representative from the bar. In this way, all judges participate in the governance of the judiciary. All have a voice. This is very different from the way in which the judiciary was governed before the Judicial Article was passed. Governance power resided, in a patchwork way, in various district court judges throughout the state. Let me pause to recognize members of the council who are with us today in the gallery.

Our governance process is also very different from that in place in almost every other state and appears to have been created by the commission and the legislature largely out of whole cloth. The fact that our judiciary is governed by a judicial council allows us to speak with one voice. It allows us to move with alacrity in addressing problems as they arise. For instance, in the recent financial crisis we were able to quickly modify our organizational structure and expedite our adoption of e-filing. By doing so we did not just survive the downturn, we flourished, increasing our efficiency and improving our performance during that time. And this while reducing the size of our workforce.

Our unified, state-wide court management system has not only made for a better judiciary. It has also been enormously beneficial to the citizens of our great state. Not every state is so fortunate. There are state judiciaries that have struggled to introduce modern technology, some spending in the hundreds of millions on efforts that ended up being abandoned. One state recently abandoned a one billion-dollar, decade-long initiative to develop an electronic court management system, with nothing to show for it. We on the other hand, have long had a highly efficient, self-designed state-wide case management system. And without any additional appropriation, we have successfully transitioned to an entirely electronic operation in our district and justice courts. Our juvenile and appellate courts will soon be all electronic as well. At present, no other state can make these claims. The difference, I believe, is the ability our judicial council form of governance has given us to plan, prioritize, make difficult decisions, and implement them as a system.

Third, the legislature's foresight in passing the revised Judicial Article was important in one additional respect—it created a balance between judicial independence and judicial accountability. If judges are made too subject to popular sentiment, the people are denied an unbiased arbiter. To the extent that judges are encouraged to have their finger to the wind of popular sentiment, their independence is undermined. And when a judge's independence is undermined, that precious right of all citizens, the right to a neutral forum in which their case can be adjudicated, is threatened. One of our most valued assets is the rule of law. Our judges need the independence necessary to uphold it. Our citizens are entitled to have the law fairly applied to the facts in their case, without regard to how much money they have, the color of their skin, their gender, or any other irrelevant factor.

The Judicial Article, together with its implementing legislation, struck a sensible balance between judicial independence and accountability. The vision of the commission and the legislature included several accountability mechanisms. Complaints against judges in our state can be filed with the Judicial Conduct Commission. This is an independent body created under the Judicial Article. The commission is required to be politically balanced and also to include lawyers and non-lawyers. It investigates every complaint made against a judge and, where warranted, makes recommendations for discipline to the supreme court. These recommendations range from informal reprimands up to removal from the bench.

In addition, as a result of the Judicial Article and subsequent legislation it made possible, judges are evaluated by another commission, the Judicial Performance Evaluation Commission. This, again, is bipartisan and includes lawyers and non-lawyers. This commission surveys lawyers who have appeared before judges. It also surveys staff, jurors, and others. Then, based on these anonymous responses and other information, the commission evaluates judges prior to each retention election. These evaluations are published and disseminated in a variety of ways, including social media, so that voters can make informed decisions in voting for judges.

So in Utah, even though judges periodically stand for retention elections, they are not subject to partisan political elections. In other states where judges do run in political elections, some supreme court candidates raise millions of campaign dollars. This money is often contributed to judges by the very corporations that will have cases before them and by the very lawyers and law firms that will be appearing before them. This kind of a system is inimical to the fair administration of justice and to a healthy business environment. In providing for the evaluation of judges by a nonpartisan commission, and making them subject to retention elections, rather than to political elections, Utah's legislature has done the public a great service.

For all of these reasons, I want to thank you, the legislative branch, for the revised Judicial Article and for the many other wise and forward-thinking decisions you have made.

Now finally, I would like to address three issues you will have before you in this legislative session that I believe could have a profound effect on the administration of justice in our great state. First, the Justice Reinvestment Initiative. At the request of Governor Herbert, then Speaker Lockhart, President Niederhouser, Attorney General Reyes, and myself, the Commission on Criminal and Juvenile Justice conducted a comprehensive study of our criminal justice system. The Commission's report details a variety of evidenced-based recommendations designed to make Utah a safer place through reducing recidivism. Ninety-eight percent of those who are sent by our courts either to jail or prison will at some point get out. When they then become productive, contributing, law-abiding members of society, our state is a better and safer place. On the other hand, when, upon their release, they return to their criminal ways, our state is diminished and our citizens made less safe. It is clear that the single most important thing we can do to break this cycle, to reduce recidivism, to ensure that when offenders are released they stay released, is to provide them with appropriate treatment, whether substance abuse or mental health treatment. And for many, treatment, rather than prison, is the better alternative in the first instance. In fact, for some, prison may do more harm than good. And it is important that valuable prison beds be available for those, especially violent offenders, for whom prison is the appropriate sanction.

As a district court judge I was amazed at how often the defendant appearing before me had some underlying drug or alcohol problem. The effect of drug and alcohol abuse on crime in our state and throughout the country cannot be overstated. The consensus estimate is that eighty percent of all crimes involve some underlying drug or alcohol problem. Based on my own experience, that number seems about right.

We have seen great success with our drug courts. We design these courts for high-risk, high-need offenders. This means they have a high risk of re-offending and have a high need for treatment. Our drug courts are not designed for first-time offenders. But we have a troubling problem—we don't have enough treatment slots available to admit every defendant who qualifies. We estimate that more than fifty percent of those who would otherwise qualify for drug court cannot be admitted because, without our being able to provide them with treatment, there is no point to the drug court process. We also routinely include treatment as a part of sentences in many cases outside the drug court context as well, but how effective is that sentence if treatment is not available? One area in which we do have ample treatment resources concerns those who have given so much to defend our freedom—our veterans. Fortunately, the treatment services available through the Veteran's Administration are available to all veterans, and we have seized on this opportunity to create two Veteran's Treatment Courts in Utah. Just three weeks ago, Judge Royal Hanson in Salt Lake and Judge Sam McVey in Provo began presiding over these courts, and as we speak, service members involved in the criminal justice system in these communities are getting the combination of supervision, treatment, and respect that research tells us works, and that befits those who have put their lives on the line for us. They deserve no less.

This is why I urge this legislature to provide adequate resources to ensure that all offenders who need drug or alcohol treatment, or mental health treatment, can receive it. If this is done, as the Justice Reinvestment Initiative recommends, Utah will not only be a better place, but a safer place.

It is not my place to address the political aspects of the Governor's proposals with respect to funding in general, but the link between our role as sentencing judges, the reforms recommended by the Justice Reinvestment Initiative, and Healthy Utah, or something like it, are clear. From the courts' perspective, the most important thing we can do to reduce recidivism and increase public safety is to provide necessary drug and alcohol treatment. And to do that we need treatment resources.

Second, you will be considering legislation sponsored by Senator Bramble that would add a juvenile court judge to the fourth district (Utah, Wasatch, Juab, and Millard counties) and a bill sponsored by Senator Urquhart that would add a district court judge to the fifth district (Washington, Iron, and Beaver counties). Workloads have reached a point in these districts where our ability to resolve cases on a timely basis for the citizens of these counties is threatened. I would urge you to pass the necessary legislation to create these two judgeships.

Now finally, your Elected Officials and Judicial Compensation Commission has put before you another resource issue—that of judicial compensation. The Commission has recommended a salary increase for judges to be implemented over the next two years. This legislative commission studied the issue extensively over the summer, and I commend their report and their recommendations to you. Now it obviously has the air of self-interest for me to stand before you and say “amen” to the committee's recommendations. But I genuinely believe it is in the best interests of the citizens of this state as well. You see, we have been very fortunate since the passage of the Judicial Article to have been able to attract high-quality, talented, and thoughtful judges. But we are seeing dwindling applicant pools. Fortunately, to date, the Governor has been able to find at least one qualified applicant for each position that has come open. But to have the best judiciary, the kind of judiciary that the citizens of this state deserve, he needs a broader array of qualified applicants from which to choose.

Those who seek to become judges do so to serve the public, to give something back. For these reasons, they are willing to serve at a financial sacrifice. But compensation remains important to attracting the best people. Because our criminal cases have decreased and our civil cases have increased in recent years, it is especially important that we be able to attract successful practitioners from the private sector who have experience in commercial and business law. The commission’s compensation goal is to maintain the kind of judiciary that will not only continue to protect the rights of individuals and provide them a neutral forum, but will also be stable, predictable, and sophisticated in a way that creates an attractive business environment. I am proud that we in the judiciary have been responsible stewards of the public’s money. I hope you will agree and give careful consideration to the Commission’s recommendations and the other request I have discussed.

In conclusion, allow me to return to my original observation that change is not easy, and to again acknowledge and thank this body for its foresight and courage 30 years ago in advancing to the voters a model judicial article. And in that spirit, I encourage you to again think expansively as you consider the proposals for criminal justice reform before you.

Finally, as chief justice and as a citizen of this state, I would like to sincerely thank you for your dedicated service. We as a judiciary are proud to participate with you and with the governor in serving those who call Utah home.

SPECIAL ORDER OF BUSINESS

A citation was read honoring former Speaker Becky Lockhart who passed away recently.

On motion of Senator Bramble the Senate voted to have the words of the citation spread upon the pages of the Senate journal.

CITATION HONORING BECKY LOCKHART

Speaker Rebecca D. Lockhart will be remembered as a great friend, a great woman, a great legislator, and one of Utah's truly great leaders.

As a wife and mother, Becky loved to spend time with her family. She was second to none in her commitment to her family and understood that her greatest accomplishment was not in the accolades of public life but in the quiet confines of her home.

As a legislator, Becky Lockhart was a true stateswoman who loved the institution of the Legislature and took her responsibilities in the House seriously. Her leadership style was not driven by the bright lights of fame but rather by an abiding love of our Constitution, our state, and our country.

As her career progressed over the years, Becky became a role model and example for other women. When she became Speaker of the Utah House of Representatives in November of 2010, she became the first woman presiding officer in the Utah Legislature from either the House or the Senate. As a true champion of woman's rights, she believed that given an equal opportunity, a qualified woman could succeed. It was following the example of this attitude that has inspired many young women to achieve their dreams.

The Utah State Senate pays tribute to this remarkable woman. We honor her great contribution to our state, commending her lasting legacy as an honorable stateswoman, and recognize her family, sending them our love and best wishes.

JOINT CONVENTION

President Wayne Niederhauser called the Joint Convention to order at 6:15 p.m. in the Chamber of the Utah House of Representatives and recognized Gregory H. Hughes, Speaker of the House.

President Niederhauser announced that a quorum of the House of Representatives and the Senate was present.

President Niederhauser appointed a Joint Committee comprised of Senators Ralph Okerlund, Stuart Adams, and Karen Mayne, and Representatives James Dunnigan, Francis Gibson, and Brian King to notify Governor Gary R. Herbert that the 2015 General Session of the Sixty-first Legislature is in Joint Convention and ready to hear his State-of-the-State address.

President Niederhauser acknowledged special guests and elected and appointed officials in attendance at the Joint Convention.

Senator Ralph Okerlund made a motion that the Legislature resolve into a Joint Convention and Committee of the Whole for the purpose of hearing Governor Herbert's State-of-the-State address.

The Joint Committee escorted Governor Herbert to the House rostrum.

STATE-OF-THE-STATE ADDRESS BY GOVERNOR GARY R. HERBERT

Speaker Hughes, President Niederhauser, members of the Legislature, Lt. Governor and Mrs. Cox, Utah's First Lady, my wife Jeanette, and my fellow Utahns

I am pleased to join with you to report on the state of our state, though I do so with a heavy heart because of the recent loss of former House Speaker Becky Lockhart. She will be remembered as a talented legislator, a strong leader and as a dedicated public servant who made history as the first woman to preside over the Utah House of Representatives.

Our state is a better place because of her work in this chamber. On behalf of all Utahns, I express my condolences to her family, including her husband, Stan, and her daughter Hannah who are here with us tonight.

This year marks the 70th anniversary of the end of World War II. During that conflict, millions of Americans served and 407,000 gave their lives to defend our freedoms and safeguard the torch of liberty.

Today, we call these veterans “America’s Greatest Generation.” They weathered the Great Depression and fought and won the most consequential war the world has ever seen.

One of them is Casey Kunimura of North Ogden. He and other Americans of Japanese heritage served in the most decorated U.S. military unit in history, the Army’s 442nd Regimental Combat Team.

We are privileged this evening to have with us Master Sergeant Kunimura and his wife Dorothy.

Our World War II generation met the challenges of their time. While many served abroad, Utahns on the home front bought war bonds, planted victory gardens, and donated materials needed for the war effort. Everyone worked and sacrificed together to secure victory.

Now, I would like to introduce you to some other very special guests – students from Mountain View Elementary in Salt Lake City, accompanied by Principal Kenneth Limb and Assistant Principal Jennifer Mayer-Glenn.

Just as our World War II veterans showed extraordinary valor in becoming America’s Greatest Generation of the 20th century, these students symbolize the potential of youth all across Utah to become the Greatest Generation of the 21st century.

Progress is never easy. The challenges are complex. But each of us has a role to play and must do our part. I reach out to you tonight with a renewed spirit of collaboration and a steadfast resolve. We will do the hard things. We will also do the right things. And we will be the problem-solvers in this difficult era of political gridlock and divisiveness.

Our state’s growing economy has us in a good position to invest in the rising generation. Our revenue is up, our job growth is up, and our unemployment rate is down to 3 1/2 percent.

When I stood before you in 2012, we set a goal to create 100,000 private sector jobs in 1,000 days. When our 1,000 days were up, not only did we meet our goal, but we exceeded it by more than 10 percent, creating more than 112,000 jobs. That is 112,000 Utahns—our friends and our neighbors—who can now work toward achieving their goals and realizing their dreams.

We also saved taxpayer dollars by making government more efficient. I have charged every state agency with improving performance by 25 percent and—Good News!—we are on track to hit that target.

As a state we are living within our means and setting aside money for unforeseen challenges that may lie ahead. Today, we have fewer state employees per resident than we did 15 years ago. We have approximately $470 million in the Rainy Day Fund, which is more than we had before the Great Recession. And we concluded the 2014 fiscal year with a revenue surplus of $166 million.

Economic recovery has been our top priority for the past six years. Thanks to the good work of you in the Legislature and businesses in the private sector, Utah is nationally recognized today as the home of one of the strongest and most diverse economies in America.

As a result, we now have the ability to invest in important areas that will drive our economy for decades to come. None of these areas is more important to Utah's continued success than education.

Many things are going well in our schools. We applaud the work of teachers who have helped make Utah number one in ACT scores among states where all students take the exam. Teachers also helped Utah 8th-graders rank in the Top 10 in science both nationally and internationally.

It is also worth noting that the U.S. Chamber of Commerce calls Utah's education system the best return on investment of any state in the nation.

As you have heard me say before: "Education is not all about the money, but it is some about the money."

We have the means to increase our education investment by approximately $500 million in new money. That would be the largest true increase in student funding for public education in 25 years, raising the total of new money going to education over the past four years to $1.3 billion. This session we should continue our collective efforts to give our students and teachers the financial support that they need to succeed.

As important as funding education is, it is even more important to make each and every dollar count by setting benchmarks for what we will achieve with that investment.

Yogi Berra said, "If you don't know where you are going, you'll end up someplace else."

I am working with elected officials, education leaders and other stakeholders to develop a comprehensive 10-year education plan so we know where we are going and we end up exactly where we want to be. This plan will allow us to better connect the money we invest to improved outcomes for all students, and provide greater academic achievement. Part of that plan is for Utah to become a Top 10 state in graduation rates, ACT scores, and in math and in literacy.

There is also a need for a more robust discussion in our schools about the founding principles of this country. Our students must understand the importance of the United States Constitution, our free market economy and the responsibility we all share as Utahns and as Americans to participate in the democratic process. We need to understand the sacrifices of past generations that have made America great. Our young people must learn those lessons and never, ever forget them.

Local school administrators and their boards know more about the needs of their students than anyone. As champions for local control, we should not only ensure that they have the resources they need, but we should empower them to apply those dollars where they are needed the most.

Whether that means raising teacher salaries, hiring more teachers to reduce class sizes, investing in more technology, increasing the number of guidance counselors, or addressing a variety of other high priority needs—with appropriate accountability measures in place, local school districts and charter schools should be in control of those decisions.

As we continue to step up our investment in education, we must not sidestep our commitment to the principle of local control.

Next week I will join with Attorney General Sean Reyes and others to deliver a report to the state school board reaffirming that our state is now, and always will be, in control of every aspect of our education system. Rest assured, we will assert our rights to exercise local control over what we teach and how we teach it.

We will never back away from the challenge that every state in America faces today—the constant overreach of the federal government. If states fail to stand up and speak out for our right to self-determination, we will lose that right to an ever-expanding federal bureaucracy.

Washington really does believe that “one-size-fits-all;” they really do believe that a Washington bureaucrat knows better than a Utah parent or a Utah teacher; and they really do believe that the federal government can manage our affairs more efficiently than we can here in our home state.

They believe it. I don't believe it. And I know you don't believe it, either. This principle of self-determination not only applies to education; it applies equally to health care and to the management of our public lands.

I believe that the Affordable Care Act is a deeply flawed and unacceptable piece of legislation. But short of the opportunity to "repeal and replace," which I would endorse, we have but one option—to make some kind of lemonade out the lemons we have been given.

That is why we created Healthy Utah. It is a plan that respects our own taxpayers, promotes individual responsibility and supports private markets. As complex as this issue is, there are three main reasons why Healthy Utah is a responsible solution.

First, the Affordable Care Act—which is the law of the land—requires Utahns to pay almost $800 million in new taxes each year. The choice before us is stark: we can either watch our hard-earned tax dollars remain on the table in Washington, D.C., primarily benefiting other states, or we can bring back a significant amount of our own money to Utah to be spent on Utahns. When it comes to expanding health coverage for uninsured Utahns, accepting the benefits is optional, but paying the taxes is mandatory.

Second, Healthy Utah will help fix the problem of nearly 100,000 people who too often use our health care system in the most inefficient and expensive ways. It's better to give them access to private health insurance rather than have them continue to receive their health care in emergency rooms. Because, when this happens, the quality of our health care goes down and the costs go up for everyone.

Third, Healthy Utah addresses the health care needs of our citizens while respecting core Utah values. Chief among these are self-reliance and the dignity of work. We can connect people in need of health insurance with programs proven to help them improve their employment, putting them on a path to self-reliance.

Now I know this is a challenging issue. But I also recognize we have been elected by the people to resolve the tough issues and to resolve them together. I don't support the Affordable Care Act, but it's the hand we have been dealt.

Unfortunately, we cannot prevent billions of Utah taxpayer dollars from being sent to Washington, D.C., but I applaud both President Niederhauser and Speaker Hughes for wisely acknowledging that "doing nothing is not an option." I pledge to work with them, and with all of you, to make sure that we do the right thing—together—for the people of Utah.

We must also stand up to federal overreach when it comes to our public lands. Utah is, and will always be, a public lands state. The question is, who will manage our public lands most effectively—the best-managed state in America, or the federal government that is 18 trillion dollars in debt? The answer is obvious.

I strongly support the Public Lands Initiative championed by Congressmen Rob Bishop and Jason Chaffetz. I will continue to work shoulder-to-shoulder with our federal delegation and interested Utahns to resolve our public lands issues.

Utahns are significantly impacted by federal decisions concerning our public lands, and Utahns must have a strong voice and role in managing those lands. We value our partnership with the federal government in areas of shared responsibility, but we will never be content to be a silent or a junior partner.

In that regard, the state also needs to stand up and speak out to ensure that our most precious religious liberties are protected. I firmly believe that, to protect the personally held values of people on all sides of this issue, any advancement of non-discrimination legislation should be coupled with legislation to safeguard protections to religious freedom.

I am confident that, as elected officials, we can work together with religious, business and civic leaders, as well as the LGBT community, to develop policies that treat all people with dignity and respect.

As a result of our abundant economic opportunity and our enviable quality of life, Utah is now among the fastest-growing states in America. Our population is expected to double by 2060. Our task is to take advantage of the opportunities that come with growth, while addressing the challenges that growth presents.

In transportation, for example, maintaining our existing roads and building new ones to accommodate a growing population will cost tens of billions of dollars. While we have sufficient funding for all the road projects currently planned, projections show that our current revenue sources fall $11 billion short of what will be required for our long-term state transportation needs.

I look forward to working with you in the Legislature this session to address this important issue. The time to have a meaningful discussion about long-term solutions to our transportation funding is now.

This is also the year to pass meaningful corrections and criminal justice reform.

We have one of the lowest incarceration rates in the country; unfortunately, it's still too high. Part of the problem is that nearly half of all Utah inmates return to prison within three years of release. We can change these results, but not without meaningful reforms. Representative Eric Hutchings and Senator Stuart Adams are leading this effort. This is about more than simply building a new prison; this is about rebuilding lives.

Nothing is more fundamental to our quality of life in Utah than the water we drink and the air we breathe. Without them, there is no life and there is no economy.

Stakeholders across our state are working diligently to ensure that we will have enough water to support our growing population. Doing so will require us to conserve more water, to invest more in our water infrastructure and to develop future water sources in fiscally and environmentally responsible ways.

Air quality has long been an issue in Utah—even predating our statehood. Today, our efforts to improve Utah’s air quality are making a positive difference. Over the past decade, we have added 350,000 people along the Wasatch Front while, at the same time, decreasing our total emissions by 35 percent.

When I addressed you a year ago, I called for an accelerated transition to cleaner Tier 3 fuels and automobiles. I have since met with the top executives of our refineries and received commitments that they will work toward producing these fuels ahead of the federal deadline. We are also working to expedite the arrival of Tier 3 vehicles to our state.

We further required business and industry to install stringent new emission controls, and we enacted 31 new state rules to reduce pollution. As a result, business is investing hundreds of millions of dollars in new technology to help clean our air.

While thoughtful regulation is an important tool for improving air quality, I recognize its potential to adversely impact individuals and small businesses. To ease such impacts, we have allocated $1.3 million in grant money through the Air Assist program to help small businesses cut emissions. And I am working with Representative Stephen Handy to reintroduce a bill to invest $20 million to replace old school buses with cleaner, lower-emission models.

I thank you in the Legislature who championed the eight air-quality bills I proudly signed last year. You helped lead the charge to do more to improve air quality than any previous Legislature on record.

Like you, I have always been a strong advocate of open and honest government.

I am working with Representative Mike McKell, Senator Deidre Henderson and Attorney General Sean Reyes to bring forward a proposal this session that would create a new office of Inspector General -- one that will act as an independent entity to elevate and ensure the highest levels of ethics and official conduct in state government. Ensuring the highest standards of open, honest government must always be our top priority.

These are just some of the challenges we must overcome if our young people are to reach their potential to become the Greatest Generation of the 21st century.

Our distinguished World War II veterans, like Master Sergeant Kunimura, stood together to withstand one of the greatest evils the world has ever known. And all across the country, Utahns and other Americans united to work and to stand with them.

Sadly, 70 years later, much of America is mired in political gridlock. Divisiveness too often characterizes our national political discourse and petty partisanship too often trumps common sense and the common good.

In Utah, I'm proud we do things differently. We have a history of setting aside our differences and working together to accomplish extraordinary things.

For example, many settlers during America's 19th-century push west did little for those who would come after them. On the other hand, Utah's pioneers labored to ease the way of those who would follow in their footsteps.

They removed obstacles on the trail; they built bridges and rafts that later settlers could use to cross rivers; and they planted crops for others to harvest. They understood the concept of the Greek proverb, which says: "A society grows great when people plant trees in whose shade they know they shall never sit."

More than 165 years later, we are still a people who work together to solve problems and ease the passage for those who follow in our footsteps.

The state of our state is exceptionally strong, but not without significant challenge. We can make it stronger by investing and working together to ensure an even brighter tomorrow for the "Greatest Generation" yet to come.

Our World War II generation is passing the torch to us. They rose to the challenges of their time. It is incumbent upon us to rise and meet the challenges of our time, and to pave the way for our children and our grandchildren to meet theirs.

This is our time! This is our charge! This is our moment! May God bless us all in this endeavor, may God bless America, and may God continue to bless the Great State of Utah and her people.

92 ~~30-3-11.4. Mandatory orientation course for divorcing parties~~ ~~—Purpose—~~

93 ~~Curriculum—Exceptions.~~

94 ~~(1) There is established a mandatory divorce orientation course~~
~~for all parties with~~

95 ~~minor children who file a petition for temporary separation or for a~~ ~~divorce. A couple with no~~

96 ~~minor children are not required, but may choose to attend the~~ ~~course. The purpose of the~~

97 ~~course shall be to educate parties about the divorce process and~~ ~~reasonable alternatives.~~

98 ~~(2) A petitioner shall attend a divorce orientation course no~~
~~more than 60 days after~~

99 ~~filing a petition for divorce.~~

100 ~~(3) With the exception of temporary restraining orders pursuant~~ ~~to Rule 65, Utah Rules~~

101 ~~of Civil Procedures, a party may file, but the court may not hear,~~ ~~temporary orders until the~~

102 ~~party seeking temporary orders has completed the divorce~~

105 (5) The clerk of the court shall provide notice to a petitioner of the requirement for the 106 course, and information regarding the course shall be included with the petition or motion,

107 when served on the respondent.

108 (6) The divorce orientation course shall be neutral, unbiased, at least one hour in

109 duration, and include:

110 (a) options available as alternatives to divorce;

111 (b) resources available from courts and administrative agencies for resolving custody

112 and support issues without filing for divorce;

113 (c) resources available to improve or strengthen the marriage;

114 (d) a discussion of the positive and negative consequences of divorce;

115 (e) a discussion of the process of divorce;

116 (f) options available for proceeding with a divorce, including:

117 (i) mediation;

118 (ii) collaborative law; and

119 (iii) litigation; and

120 (g) a discussion of post-divorce resources.

121 (7) The course may be provided in conjunction with the mandatory course for 122 divorcing parents required by Section 30-3-11.3.

123 (8) The Administrative Office of the Courts shall administer the course pursuant to

124 Title 63G, Chapter 6a, Utah Procurement Code, through private or public contracts.

125 (9) The course may be through live instruction, video instruction, or through an online

126 provider.

127 (10) Each participant shall pay the costs of the course, which 128 may not exceed $30, to

129 the independent contractor providing the course at the time and 130 place of the course. A

131 petitioner who attends a live instruction course within 30 days [of] 132 before filing may not be

133 charged more than $15 for the course. A respondent who attends a 134 live instruction course

135 within 30 days of being served with a petition for divorce may not 136 be charged more than $15

137 for the course.

138 (a) A fee of $5 shall be collected, as part of the course fee paid by 139 each participant, and

140 deposited in the Children's Legal Defense Account described in 141 Section 51-9-408.

142 (b) A participant who is unable to pay the costs of the course
143 may attend without

144 payment and request an Affidavit of Impecuniosity from the 145 provider to be filed with the 146 petition or motion. The provider shall be reimbursed for its costs by 147 the Administrative Office

148 of the Courts. A petitioner who is later determined not to meet the 149 qualifications for

150 impecuniosity may be ordered to pay the costs of the course.

151 (11) Appropriations from the General Fund to the 152 Administrative Office of the Courts

153 for the divorce orientation course shall be used to pay the costs of an 154 indigent petitioner who is

155 determined to be impecunious as provided in Subsection (10)(b).

156 (12) The Online Court Assistance Program shall include 157 instructions with the forms for

158 divorce which inform the petitioner of the requirement of this 159 section.

160 (13) Both parties shall attend a divorce orientation course
161 before a divorce decree may

146 be entered, unless waived by the court. A certificate of completion constitutes evidence to the 147 court of course completion by the parties.

148 (14) It shall be an affirmative defense in all divorce actions that the divorce orientation

149 requirement was not complied with, and the action may not continue until a party has 150 complied.

151 (15) The Administrative Office of the Courts shall adopt a program to evaluate the

152 effectiveness of the mandatory educational course. Progress reports shall be provided if

153 requested by the Judiciary Interim Committee. }

SPECIAL ORDER OF BUSINESS

A citation was read honoring Utah Honor Flight participants. On motion of Senator Knudson, the Senate voted to have the words of the citation printed in the Senate Journal.

UTAH HONOR FLIGHT CITATION

The Utah Honor Flight’s mission is to connect veterans with the memorials that were erected in their honor. To that end, the organization provides the means for veterans to travel to these memorials to visit and reflect in person.

The Honor Flight is a nation–wide, non–profit organization. Utah recently established its own branch in 2013. Since then, the Utah Honor Flight has sponsored five major flights to Washington D.C. and helped over 200 Utah veterans see their memorial. In Utah, we have over 8,000 World War II veterans, only a handful of them have seen their memorial. Over 644 World War II veterans die every day and the time to help them see these memorials in person is quickly passing.

The Utah State Legislature commends the Utah Honor Flight for its commitment to our brave men and women in helping them witness firsthand the perpetual symbols of our deep respect and enduring gratitude for their sacrifice. We wish the Utah Honor Flight success in its mission and express our desire to help preserve the legacy of our veterans so that no generation will ever forget their service.

SPECIAL ORDER OF BUSINESS

S.B. 218, NONPROFIT CORPORATION ACT AMENDMENTS, was read the second time.

Senator Hillyard proposed the following amendment:

1. Page 22, Lines 675 through 678:

675 16-6a-807. Resignation of directors.

676 (1) A director may resign at any time by giving written notice of resignation to the

677 [~~nonprofit corporation~~] {~~board of directors, the~~} board's chair, {~~or~~} the nonprofit corporation's 678 secretary , or as otherwise provided in the bylaws .

2. Page 24, Line 737 through Page 26, Line 783:

737 16-6a-813. Action without meeting.

738 (1) (a) Unless otherwise provided in the bylaws, any action required or permitted by this

739 chapter to be taken at a board of directors' meeting may be taken without a meeting if {~~each and~~

740 ~~every member~~} all members of the board consent to the action in writing {~~either:~~

741 (a) ~~votes for the action; or~~

742 (b) (i) ~~(A) votes against the action; or~~

743 ~~(B) abstains from voting; and~~

744 (ii) ~~waives the right to demand that action not be taken without a meeting~~} .

745 {-(2) Action is taken under this section only if the affirmative
746 vote for the action equals

747 or exceeds the minimum number of votes that would be necessary
748 to take the action at a

749 meeting at which all of the directors then in office were present and 750 voted.

751 (3) (a) An action taken pursuant to this section may not be 752 effective unless the

753 nonprofit corporation receives writings:

754 (i) describing the action taken;

755 (ii) otherwise satisfying the requirements of Subsection (1);

756 (iii) signed by all directors; and 757 (iv) not revoked pursuant to Subsection (4).

758 [(b) Unless otherwise provided by the bylaws, a writing
759 described in Subsection (3)(a)

760 may be received by the nonprofit corporation by electronically
761 transmitted facsimile or other

762 form of wire or wireless communication providing the nonprofit
763 corporation with a complete

764 copy of the document, including a copy of the signature on the 765 document.]

766 (b) (i) Unless otherwise provided by the bylaws, a director may 767 deliver a written

768 consent under this section by an electronic transmission that 769 provides the nonprofit corporation

770 with a complete copy of the written consent.

771 (ii) An electronic transmission consenting to an action under 772 this section is considered

773 to be written, signed, and dated for purposes of this section if the 774 electronic transmission is

775 delivered with information from which the corporation can 776 determine:

777 (A) that the electronic transmission is transmitted by the 778 director; and

765 ~~(B) the date on which the electronic transmission is transmitted.~~

766 ~~(iii) The date on which an electronic transmission is transmitted is considered the date~~

767 ~~on which the consent is signed.~~

768 (c) A director's right to demand that action not be taken without a meeting shall be

769 considered to have been waived if the nonprofit corporation receives a writing satisfying the

770 requirements of Subsection (1) that has been signed by the director and not revoked pursuant to 771 Subsection (4).

772 (d) Action taken pursuant to this section shall be effective when the last writing

773 necessary to effect the action is received by the nonprofit corporation, unless the writings

774 describing the action taken set forth a different effective date.

775 (4) If the writing is received by the nonprofit corporation before the last writing

776 necessary to effect the action is received by the nonprofit corporation, any director who has

777 signed a writing pursuant to this section may revoke the writing by a writing signed and dated

778 by the director:

779 (a) describing the action; and

780 (b) stating that the director's prior vote with respect to the writing is revoked.

781 (5) Action taken pursuant to this section:

782 (a) has the same effect as action taken at a meeting of directors; and

783 (b) may be described as an action taken at a meeting of directors in any document.—}

(b) Action is taken under Subsection (1)(a) at the time the last director signs a writing describing the action taken, unless, before that time, any director revokes a consent by a writing signed by the director and received by the secretary or any other person authorized by the bylaws or the board of directors to receive the revocation.

(c) Action under Subsection (1)(a) is effective at the time it is taken under Subsection (1)(a) unless the board of directors establishes a different effective date.

(2)(a) If provided in the bylaws, any action required or permitted by this chapter to be taken at a board of directors' meeting may be taken without a meeting if notice is transmitted in writing to each member of the board and each member of the board by the time stated in the notice:

(i)(A) signs a writing for such action; or

(B) signs a writing against such action, abstains in writing from voting, or fails to respond or vote; and

(ii) fails to demand in writing that action not be taken without a meeting.

(b) The notice required by Subsection (1) shall state:

(i) the action to be taken;

(ii) the time by which a director must respond to the notice;

(iii) that failure to respond by the time stated in the notice will have the same effect as:

(A) abstaining in writing by the time stated in the notice; and

(B) failing to demand in writing by the time stated in the notice that action not be taken without a meeting; and

(iv) any other matters the nonprofit corporation determines to include.

(c) Action is taken under this Subsection (2) only if at the end of the time stated in the notice transmitted pursuant to Subsection (2)(a):

(i) the affirmative votes in writing for the action received by the nonprofit corporation and not revoked pursuant to Subsection (2)(e) equal or exceed the minimum number of votes that would be necessary to take such action at a meeting at which all of the directors then in office were present and voted; and

(ii) the nonprofit corporation has not received a written demand by a director that the action not be taken without a meeting other than a demand that has been revoked pursuant to Subsection (2)(e).

(d) A director's right to demand that action not be taken without a meeting shall be considered to have been waived unless the nonprofit corporation receives such demand from the director in writing by the time stated in the notice transmitted pursuant to Subsection (2)(a) and the demand has not been revoked pursuant to Subsection (2)(e).

(e) A director who in writing has voted, abstained, or demanded action not be taken without a meeting pursuant to this Subsection (2) may revoke the vote, abstention, or demand in writing received by the nonprofit corporation by the time stated in the notice transmitted pursuant to Subsection (2)(a).

(f) Unless the notice transmitted pursuant to Subsection (2)(a) states a different effective date, action taken pursuant to this Subsection (2) is effective at the end of the time stated in the notice transmitted pursuant to Subsection (2)(a).

(3)(a) Unless otherwise provided by the bylaws, a communication under this section may be delivered by an electronic transmission.

(b) An electronic transmission communicating a vote, abstention, demand, or revocation under Subsection (2) is considered to be written, signed, and dated for purposes of this section if the electronic transmission is delivered with information from which the nonprofit corporation can determine:

(i) that the electronic transmission is transmitted by the director; and

(ii) the date on which the electronic transmission is transmitted.

(c) The date on which an electronic transmission is transmitted is considered the date on which the vote, abstention, demand, or revocation is signed.

(d) For purposes of this section, communications to the nonprofit corporation are not effective until received.

(4) Action taken pursuant to this section:

(a) has the same effect as action taken at a meeting of directors; and

(b) may be described as an action taken at a meeting of directors in any document.

3. Page 29, Line 889 through Page 30, Line 904:

889 (1) As used in this section ~~{-}~~ ,
“conflicting ~~{-}~~ : ~~{-~~

890 ~~(a) “Conflicting-~~ interest transaction” means a contract, transaction, or other financial 891 relationship between a nonprofit corporation and:

892 ~~{-}~~ (a) ~~{-}~~ ~~{-(i)-}~~ a director of the nonprofit corporation;

893 ~~{-}~~ (b) ~~{-}~~ ~~{-(ii)-}~~ a party related to a

6478 Section 202. Section 76–10–503 is amended to read:

76–10–503. Restrictions on possession, purchase, transfer, and ownership of dangerous weapons by certain persons — Exceptions.

(1) For purposes of this section:

(a) A Category I restricted person is a person who:

(i) has been convicted of any violent felony as defined in Section 76-3-203.5;

(ii) is on probation or parole for any felony;

(iii) is on parole from a secure facility as defined in Section 62A-7-101;

(iv) within the last 10 years has been adjudicated delinquent for an offense which if committed by an adult would have been a violent felony as defined in Section 76-3-203.5; ~~{-or-}~~

(v) is an alien who is illegally or unlawfully in the United States ~~{-}~~ ; or

(vi) is on probation for a conviction of possessing a substance classified in Schedule I or II in Section 58-37-8, or a controlled substance analog or a substance listed in Section 58-37-4.2 .

(b) A Category II restricted person is a person who:

(i) has been convicted of any felony;

(ii) within the last seven years has been adjudicated delinquent for an offense which if committed by an adult would have been a felony;

(iii) is an unlawful user of a controlled substance as defined in Section 58-37-2;

(iv) is in possession of a dangerous weapon and is knowingly and intentionally in unlawful possession of a Schedule I or II controlled substance as defined in Section 58-37-2;

(v) has been found not guilty by reason of insanity for a felony offense;

(vi) has been found mentally incompetent to stand trial for a felony offense;

(vii) has been adjudicated as mentally defective as provided in the Brady Handgun Violence Prevention Act, Pub. L. No. 103-159, 107 Stat. 1536 (1993), or has been committed to a mental institution;

(viii) has been dishonorably discharged from the armed forces; or

(ix) has renounced his citizenship after having been a citizen of the United States.

(c) As used in this section, a conviction of a felony or adjudication of delinquency for an offense which would be a felony if committed by an adult does not include:

(i) a conviction or adjudication of delinquency for an offense pertaining to antitrust violations, unfair trade practices, restraint of trade, or other similar offenses relating to the regulation of business practices

not involving theft or fraud; or

(ii) a conviction or adjudication of delinquency which, according to the law of the jurisdiction in which it occurred, has been expunged, set aside, reduced to a misdemeanor by court order, pardoned or regarding which the person's civil rights have been restored unless the pardon, reduction, expungement, or restoration of civil rights expressly provides that the person may not ship, transport, possess, or receive firearms.

(d) It is the burden of the defendant in a criminal case to provide evidence that a conviction or adjudication of delinquency is subject to an exception provided in Subsection (1)(c), after which it is the burden of the state to prove beyond a reasonable doubt that the conviction or adjudication of delinquency is not subject to that exception.

(2) A Category I restricted person who intentionally or knowingly agrees, consents, offers, or arranges to purchase, transfer, possess, use, or have under the person's custody or control, or who intentionally or knowingly purchases, transfers, possesses, uses, or has under the person's custody or control:

(a) any firearm is guilty of a second degree felony; or

(b) any dangerous weapon other than a firearm is guilty of a third degree felony.

(3) A Category II restricted person who intentionally or knowingly purchases, transfers, possesses, uses, or has under the person's custody or control:

(a) any firearm is guilty of a third degree felony; or

(b) any dangerous weapon other than a firearm is guilty of a class A misdemeanor.

(4) A person may be subject to the restrictions of both categories at the same time.

(5) If a higher penalty than is prescribed in this section is provided in another section for one who purchases, transfers, possesses, uses, or has under this custody or control any dangerous weapon, the penalties of that section control.

(6) It is an affirmative defense to a charge based on the definition in Subsection (1)(b)(iv) that the person was:

(a) in possession of a controlled substance pursuant to a lawful order of a practitioner for use of a member of the person's household or for administration to an animal owned by the person or a member of the person's household; or

(b) otherwise authorized by law to possess the substance.

(7) (a) It is an affirmative defense to transferring a firearm or other dangerous weapon by a person restricted under Subsection (2) or (3) that the firearm or dangerous weapon:

(i) was possessed by the person or was under the person's custody or control before the person became a restricted person;

(ii) was not used in or possessed during the commission of a crime or subject to disposition under Section 24-3-103;

(iii) is not being held as evidence by a court or law enforcement agency;

(iv) was transferred to a person not legally prohibited from possessing the weapon; and

(v) unless a different time is ordered by the court, was transferred within 10 days of the person becoming a restricted person.

(b) Subsection (7)(a) is not a defense to the use, purchase, or possession on the person of a firearm or other dangerous weapon by a restricted person.

(8) (a) A person may not sell, transfer, or otherwise dispose of any firearm or dangerous weapon to any person, knowing that the recipient is a person described in Subsection (1)(a) or (b).

(b) A person who violates Subsection (8)(a) when the recipient is:

(i) a person described in Subsection (1)(a) and the transaction involves a firearm, is guilty of a second degree felony;

(ii) a person described in Subsection (1)(a) and the transaction involves any dangerous weapon other than a firearm, and the transferor has knowledge that the recipient intends to use the weapon for any unlawful purpose, is guilty of a third degree felony;

(iii) a person described in Subsection (1)(b) and the transaction involves a firearm, is guilty of a third degree felony; or

(iv) a person described in Subsection (1)(b) and the transaction involves any dangerous weapon other than a firearm, and the transferor has knowledge that the recipient intends to use the weapon for any unlawful purpose, is guilty of a class A misdemeanor.

(9) (a) A person may not knowingly solicit, persuade, encourage or entice a dealer or other person to sell, transfer or otherwise dispose of a firearm or dangerous weapon under circumstances which the person knows would be a violation of the law.

(b) A person may not provide to a dealer or other person any information that the person knows to be materially false information with intent to deceive the dealer or other person about the legality of a sale, transfer or other disposition of a firearm or dangerous weapon.

(c) "Materially false information" means information that portrays an illegal transaction as legal or a legal transaction as illegal.

(d) A person who violates this Subsection (9) is guilty of:

(i) a third degree felony if the transaction involved a firearm; or

(ii) a class A misdemeanor if the transaction involved a dangerous weapon other than a firearm.

Renumber remaining sections accordingly.

Section 202. Section 76-10-503 is amended to read:

76-10-503. Restrictions on possession, purchase, transfer, and ownership of dangerous weapons by certain persons -- Exceptions.

(1) For purposes of this section:

(a) A Category I restricted person is a person who:

(i) has been convicted of any violent felony as defined in Section 76-3-203.5;

(ii) is on probation or parole for any felony;

(iii) is on parole from a secure facility as defined in Section 62A-7-101;

(iv) within the last 10 years has been adjudicated delinquent for an offense which if committed by an adult would have been a violent felony as defined in Section 76-3-203.5; ~~{-or-}~~

(v) is an alien who is illegally or unlawfully in the United States ~~{-}~~ ; or

(vi) is on probation for a conviction of possessing a substance classified in Schedule I or II in Section 58-37-8, or a controlled substance analog or a substance listed in Section 58-37-4.2 .

(b) A Category II restricted person is a person who:

(i) has been convicted of any felony;

(ii) within the last seven years has been adjudicated delinquent for an offense which if committed by an adult would have been a felony;

(iii) is an unlawful user of a controlled substance as defined in Section 58-37-2;

(iv) is in possession of a dangerous weapon and is knowingly and intentionally in unlawful possession of a Schedule I or II controlled substance as defined in Section 58-37-2;

(v) has been found not guilty by reason of insanity for a felony offense;

(vi) has been found mentally incompetent to stand trial for a felony offense;

(vii) has been adjudicated as mentally defective as provided in the Brady Handgun Violence Prevention Act, Pub. L. No. 103–159, 107 Stat. 1536 (1993), or has been committed to a mental institution;

(viii) has been dishonorably discharged from the armed forces; or

(ix) has renounced his citizenship after having been a citizen of the United States.

(c) As used in this section, a conviction of a felony or adjudication of delinquency for an offense which would be a felony if committed by an adult does not include:

(i) a conviction or adjudication of delinquency for an offense pertaining to antitrust violations, unfair trade practices, restraint of trade, or other similar offenses relating to the regulation of business practices not involving theft or fraud; or

(ii) a conviction or adjudication of delinquency which, according to the law of the jurisdiction in which it occurred, has been expunged, set aside, reduced to a misdemeanor by court order, pardoned or regarding which the person's civil rights have been restored unless the pardon, reduction, expungement, or restoration of civil rights expressly provides that the person may not ship, transport, possess, or receive firearms.

(d) It is the burden of the defendant in a criminal case to provide evidence that a conviction or adjudication of delinquency is subject to an exception provided in Subsection (1)(c), after which it is the burden of the state to prove beyond a reasonable doubt that the conviction or adjudication of delinquency is not subject to that exception.

(2) A Category I restricted person who intentionally or knowingly agrees, consents, offers, or arranges to purchase, transfer, possess, use, or have under the person's custody or control, or who intentionally or knowingly purchases, transfers, possesses, uses, or has under the person's custody or control:

(a) any firearm is guilty of a second degree felony; or

(b) any dangerous weapon other than a firearm is guilty of a third degree felony.

(3) A Category II restricted person who intentionally or knowingly purchases, transfers, possesses, uses, or has under the person's custody or control:

(a) any firearm is guilty of a third degree felony; or

(b) any dangerous weapon other than a firearm is guilty of a class A misdemeanor.

(4) A person may be subject to the restrictions of both categories at the same time.

(5) If a higher penalty than is prescribed in this section is provided in another section for one who purchases, transfers, possesses, uses, or has under this custody or control any dangerous weapon, the penalties of that section control.

(6) It is an affirmative defense to a charge based on the definition in Subsection (1)(b)(iv) that the person was:

(a) in possession of a controlled substance pursuant to a lawful order of a practitioner for use of a member of the person's household or for administration to an animal owned by the person or a member of the person's household; or

(b) otherwise authorized by law to possess the substance.

(7) (a) It is an affirmative defense to transferring a firearm or other dangerous weapon by a person restricted under Subsection (2) or (3) that the firearm or dangerous weapon:

(i) was possessed by the person or was under the person's custody or control before the person became a restricted person;

(ii) was not used in or possessed during the commission of a crime or subject to disposition under Section 24-3-103;

(iii) is not being held as evidence by a court or law enforcement agency;

(iv) was transferred to a person not legally prohibited from possessing the weapon; and

(v) unless a different time is ordered by the court, was transferred within 10 days of the person becoming a restricted person.

(b) Subsection (7)(a) is not a defense to the use, purchase, or possession on the person of a firearm or other dangerous weapon by a restricted person.

(8) (a) A person may not sell, transfer, or otherwise dispose of any firearm or dangerous weapon to any person, knowing that the recipient is a person described in Subsection (1)(a) or (b).

(b) A person who violates Subsection (8)(a) when the recipient is:

(i) a person described in Subsection (1)(a) and the transaction involves a firearm, is guilty of a second degree felony;

(ii) a person described in Subsection (1)(a) and the transaction involves any dangerous weapon other than a firearm, and the transferor has knowledge that the recipient intends to use the weapon for any unlawful purpose, is guilty of a third degree felony;

(iii) a person described in Subsection (1)(b) and the transaction involves a firearm, is guilty of a third degree felony; or

(iv) a person described in Subsection (1)(b) and the transaction involves any dangerous weapon other than a firearm, and the transferor has knowledge that the recipient intends to use the weapon for any unlawful purpose, is guilty of a class A misdemeanor.

(9) (a) A person may not knowingly solicit, persuade, encourage or entice a dealer or other person to sell, transfer or otherwise dispose of a firearm or dangerous weapon under circumstances which the person knows would be a violation of the law.

(b) A person may not provide to a dealer or other person any information that the person knows to be materially false information with intent to deceive the dealer or other person about the legality of a sale, transfer or other disposition of a firearm or dangerous weapon.

(c) "Materially false information" means information that portrays an illegal transaction as legal or a legal transaction as illegal.

(d) A person who violates this Subsection (9) is guilty of:

(i) a third degree felony if the transaction involved a firearm; or

(ii) a class A misdemeanor if the transaction involved a dangerous weapon other than a firearm.

Renumber remaining sections accordingly.

 Section 26. Section 31A-22-322 is enacted to read:
 31A-22-322. Transportation network company or driver.
 (1) As used in this section:
 (a) "Prearranged ride" means a period of time that:
 (i) begins when the transportation network driver has accepted a passenger's request for a ride through the transportation network company's software application; and
 (ii) ends when the passenger exits the transportation network driver's vehicle.

(b) “Software application” means an Internet–connected software platform, including a mobile application, that a transportation network company uses to:

(i) connect a transportation network driver to a passenger; and

(ii) process passenger requests.

(c) “Transportation network company” means an entity that:

(i) uses a software application to connect a passenger to a transportation network driver providing transportation network services;

(ii) is not:

(A) a taxicab, as defined in Section 53–3–102; or

(B) a motor carrier, as defined in Section 72–9–102; and

(iii) does not own, control, operate, or manage the vehicle used to provide the transportation network services.

(d) “Transportation network driver” means an individual who:

(i) pays a fee to a transportation network company, and, in exchange, receives a connection to a potential passenger from the transportation network company; and

(ii) operates a motor vehicle that:

(A) the individual owns, leases, or is authorized to use; and

(B) the individual uses to provide transportation network services.

(e) “Transportation network services” means, for a transportation network driver providing services through a transportation network company:

(i) providing a prearranged ride; or

(ii) being engaged in a waiting period.

(f) “Waiting period” means a period of time when:

(i) a transportation network driver is logged into a transportation network company’s software application; and

(ii) the transportation network driver is not engaged in a prearranged ride.

(2) A transportation network company or a transportation network driver shall maintain insurance that covers, on a primary basis, a transportation network driver’s use of a vehicle during a prearranged ride and that includes:

(a) an acknowledgment that the transportation network driver is using the vehicle in connection with a transportation network company during a prearranged ride or that the transportation network driver is otherwise using the vehicle for a commercial purpose;

(b) liability coverage for a minimum amount of $1,000,000 per occurrence;

(c) personal injury protection to the extent required under Sections 31A-22-306 through 31A-22-309;

(d) uninsured motorist coverage where required by Section 31A-22-305; and

(e) underinsured motorist coverage where required by Section 31A-22-305.3.

(3) A transportation network company or a transportation network driver shall maintain insurance that covers, on a primary basis, a transportation network driver's use of a vehicle during a waiting period and that includes:

(a) an acknowledgment that the transportation network driver is using the vehicle in connection with a transportation network company during a waiting period or that the transportation network driver is otherwise using the vehicle for a commercial purpose;

(b) liability coverage in a minimum amount, per occurrence, of:

(i) $50,000 to any one individual;

(ii) $100,000 to all individuals; and

(iii) $30,000 for property damage;

(c) personal injury protection to the extent required under Sections 31A-22-306 through 31A-22-309;

(d) uninsured motorist coverage where required by Section 31A-22-305; and

(e) underinsured motorist coverage where required by Section 31A-22-305.3.

(4) A transportation network company or a transportation network driver shall maintain comprehensive and collision insurance that covers, on a primary or contingent basis, a transportation network driver's use of a vehicle while providing transportation network services, and that includes:

(a) an acknowledgment that the transportation network driver is using the vehicle in connection with a transportation network company during a prearranged ride or waiting period, or that the transportation network driver is otherwise using the vehicle for a commercial purpose; and

(b) coverage limits that are at least equal to such coverage limits, if any, for the personal automobile insurance maintained by the vehicle's owner and reported to the transportation network company.

(5) A transportation network company and a transportation network driver may satisfy the requirements of Subsections (2), (3), and (4) by:

(a) the transportation network driver purchasing coverage that complies with Subsections (2), (3), and (4);

(b) the transportation network company purchasing, on the transportation network driver's behalf, coverage that complies with Subsections (2), (3), and (4); or

(c) a combination of Subsections (5)(a) and (b).

(6) An insurer may offer to a transportation network driver a personal automobile liability insurance policy, or an amendment or endorsement to a personal automobile liability policy, that:

(a) covers a private passenger motor vehicle while used to provide transportation network services; and

(b) satisfies the coverage requirements described in Subsection (2), (3) or (4).

(7) Nothing in this section requires a personal automobile insurance policy to provide coverage while a driver is providing transportation network services.

(8) If a transportation network company does not purchase a policy that complies with Subsections (2), (3), and (4) on behalf of a transportation network driver, the transportation network company shall verify that the driver has purchased a policy that complies with Subsections (2), (3), and (4).

(9) An insurance policy that a transportation network company or a transportation network driver maintains under Subsection (2) or (3):

(a) satisfies the security requirements of Section 41-12a-301; and

(b) may, along with insurance maintained under Subsection (4), be placed with:

(i) an insurer that is certified under Section 31A-4-103; or

(ii) a surplus lines insurer licensed under Section 31A-23a-104.

(10) An insurer that provides coverage for a transportation network driver explicitly for the transportation network driver's transportation network services under Subsection (2) or (3) shall have the duty to defend a liability claim arising from an occurrence while the transportation network driver is providing transportation network services.

(11)(a) If insurance a transportation network driver maintains under Subsection (2), (3), or (4) lapses or ceases to exist, a transportation network company shall provide coverage complying with Subsection (2), (3), or (4) beginning with the first dollar of a claim.

(b) Subsection (11)(a) does not apply to comprehensive or collision insurance otherwise required under Subsection (4) if, at the time of a claim for damage to a vehicle being used to provide transportation network services, there is no outstanding lien on the vehicle.

(12) (a) An insurance policy that a transportation network company or transportation network driver maintains under Subsection (2) or (3) may not provide that coverage is dependent on a transportation network driver's personal automobile insurance policy first denying a claim.

(b) Subsection (12)(a) does not apply to coverage a transportation network company provides under Subsection (10) in the event a transportation network driver's coverage under Subsection (2) or (3) lapses or ceases to exist.

(13) A personal automobile insurer:

(a) notwithstanding Section 31A-22-302, may offer a personal automobile liability policy that excludes coverage for a loss that arises from the use of the insured vehicle to provide transportation network services; and

(b) does not have the duty to defend or indemnify a loss if an exclusion described in Subsection (13)(a) excludes coverage according to the policy's terms.

(14) If a transportation network company's insurer insures a vehicle with a lien against the vehicle, and the transportation network company's insurer covers a claim regarding the vehicle under comprehensive or collision coverage, the transportation network company shall direct the transportation network company's insurer to issue the payment for the claim:

(a) directly to the person that is repairing the vehicle; or

(b) jointly to the owner of the vehicle and the primary lienholder.

2719 Section { -26- } 27 . Section 31A-22-504 is amended to read:

Renumber remaining sections accordingly.

4606 (p) Section 31A-16-119.

Section 57. Coordinating H.B. 24 and S.B. 294 -- Substantive amendments.

If this H.B. 24 and S.B. 294, Transportation Network Company Amendments, both pass and become law, it is the intent of the Legislature that the Office of Legislative Research and General Counsel, in preparing the Utah Code database for publication do the following:

(1) delete Section 13-51-108 enacted in S.B. 294;

(2) delete Subsection (1) of Section 31A-22-322 enacted in this bill and renumber remaining subsections accordingly and change internal cross references;

(3) delete Subsection (14) enacted in Section 31A-22-322; and

(4) renumber Section 31A-22-322 enacted in this bill to be Section 13-51-108.
