MISCELLANEOUS BUSINESS

Roll call showed all members present, except Representatives Rebecca Chavez-Houck and Kraig Powell, excused.

On motion of Representative Sanpei, the House voted to adopt the same House Rules as were adopted by the 2013 General Session of the 60th Legislature.

On motion of Representative Dee, and as allowed by the Utah Constitution and the Joint Rules of the Legislature, the House voted to continue its practice of reading only the short title of resolutions as they are introduced or considered on a House calendar and not read the long title of resolutions, unless a majority of the House directs the reading of the long title of any House resolution.

INTRODUCTION OF RESOLUTION

H.R. 9001, House Rules Resolution Forming Special Investigative Committee (D. Sanpei), was read the first time by short title and referred to the Rules Committee.

MISCELLANEOUS BUSINESS

On motion of Representative Sanpei, the House voted to lift H.R. 9001 from the Rules Committee and read it for the second time. This resolution has had an interim committee hearing.

THIRD READING CALENDAR

H.R. 9001, HOUSE RULES RESOLUTION FORMING SPECIAL INVESTIGATIVE COMMITTEE, Representative Sanpei, was read the third time by short title and placed on its final passage.

Representative V. Peterson proposed Amendment 3:

The House was called to order by Speaker Rebecca Lockhart at 1:35 p.m.

Prayer given by Representative Lee Perry. Pledge of Allegiance led by Representative Dixon Pitcher.

MISCELLANEOUS BUSINESS

Speaker Lockhart appointed Sandy D. Tenney as Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives for the 2013 First Special Session of the 60th Legislature.

The Chief Clerk, Sandy D. Tenney, read the following:

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, since the adjournment of the 2013 General Session of the Sixtieth Legislature of the State of Utah, matters have arisen that require immediate legislative attention;

WHEREAS, Article VII, Section 6 of the Constitution of the State of Utah provides that the Governor may, by proclamation, convene the Legislature into Special Session.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Gary R. Herbert, Governor of the State of Utah, by virtue of the authority vested in me by the Constitution and the laws of the State of Utah, call the Sixtieth Legislature of the State of Utah into a First Special Session at the Utah State Capitol, in Salt Lake City, Utah, on the 17th day of July 2013, at 12:30 p.m., solely for the following purposes:

1. To consider changes relating to legislative subpoenas, the provision of testimony and evidence to the legislative branch, including the grant of

- immunity to a witness, and enacting provisions relating to the work of legislative investigative committees, including the circumstances under which certain records received by, or generated by or for, a special legislative committee may be classified as protected and the circumstances under which a legislative investigative committee meeting may be closed;
2. To consider modifying provisions relating to the unauthorized practice of law;
 3. To consider a joint resolution approving a settlement pursuant to the State Settlement Agreements Act and a related appropriation;
 4. To consider amendments to private investigator licensing statutes to allow out-of-state private investigators to obtain a Utah license if hired to assist a legislative special investigative committee investigating an elected official or to assist the Legislature with an impeachment inquiry;
 5. To consider the repeal of Utah Code Section 53-13-106.5 and other related sections; and
 6. For the Senate to consent to appointments made by the Governor.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF,
I have hereunto set my hand and
caused to be affixed the Great
Seal of the State of Utah. Done
at the Utah State Capitol in Salt
Lake City, Utah, this 15th day
of July, 2013.

Gary R. Herbert
Governor

Communication filed.

SUPPLEMENTAL PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, the undersigned issued a Proclamation on July 15, 2013, calling the Sixtieth Legislature of the State of Utah into a First Special Session beginning on the 17th day of July 2013; and

WHEREAS, the undersigned has since been informed of the need to include an additional item of business for consideration in this First Special Session;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Gary R. Herbert, Governor of the State of Utah, by virtue of the authority vested in me by the Constitution and the laws of the State of Utah, do by this Proclamation include the following item for Legislative action:

7. To consider modifying all code sections amended by H.B. 155, Federal Law Enforcement Amendments (2013 General Session), in order to reverse all changes made by that H.B. 155.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF,
I have hereunto set my hand and
caused to be affixed the Great
Seal of the State of Utah. Done
at the Utah State Capitol in Salt
Lake City, Utah, this 16th day
of July, 2013.

Gary R. Herbert
Governor

Communication filed.

CERTIFICATION

I, GREG BELL, LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR OF THE STATE OF UTAH, DO HEREBY CERTIFY THAT the attached copies of proclamations issued on the 15th day of July, 2013, signed by Governor Gary R. Herbert, are true and correct copies of the original Proclamation and Supplemental Proclamation calling the Sixtieth Legislature of the State of Utah into a First Special Session at the State Capitol Complex at Salt Lake City, Utah, on the 17th day of July, 2013, at 12:30 p.m., for the purposes named in the Proclamation and Supplemental Proclamation.

I FURTHER TESTIFY THAT the membership of the Utah State House of Representatives has not changed from that Certification of the 2013 General Session.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF,
I have hereunto set my hand and
caused to be affixed the Great
Seal of the State of Utah at Salt
Lake City, Utah, this 17th day
of July, 2013

Greg Bell

Communication filed.

MISCELLANEOUS BUSINESS

Roll call showed all members present, except Representatives Knotwell and McCay, excused.

Senators Jenkins, Christensen, and Robles formally notified the House of Representatives that the Senate was organized and ready to do business.

On motion of Representative Sanpei, the House voted to adopt the same Joint and Interim Rules as were adopted by the 2013 General Session and also the House Rules as adopted and amended by the 2013 First House Session of the 60th Legislature.

The Speaker appointed Representatives Powell, Stratton, and Arent as a committee to meet with a like committee from the Senate to wait upon the Governor to inform him that the Legislature is organized and ready to receive any communication or message he may have to offer.

The Speaker appointed Representatives Grover, Snow, and Romero as a committee to notify the Senate to inform that Honorable Body that the House is organized and ready to do business.

On motion of Representative Seelig, and as allowed by the Utah Constitution and the Joint Rules of the Legislature, the House voted, by a two-thirds majority, to continue its practice of reading only the short title of bills and resolutions as they are introduced or considered on a House calendar and not read the long title of the bills and resolutions, unless a majority of the House directs the reading of the long title, short title, or both, of any House or Senate bill or resolution.

On motion of Representative Sanpei, the House voted, by two-thirds majority, that for the First Special Session of the 60th Legislature, the House suspend the Rule requiring that bills and resolutions remain on the calendar for one legislative day between second and third readings, and also suspend the Rule requiring a favorable recommendation from a Standing Committee prior to passage of bills and resolutions.

On motion of Representative Dee, the House voted, by a two-thirds majority, that pursuant to Article VII, Section 6 of the Utah Constitution, that the House agrees to consider items that were submitted in the Governor's revised and supplemental calls with less than 48-hours notice.

Representative Grover reported that his committee has waited upon the Senate and they are organized and ready to do business.

Representative Powell reported that his committee had waited upon the Governor and informed him that the Legislature is organized and ready to do business.

HOUSE JOURNAL
OF THE
SIXTIETH LEGISLATURE
OF THE
STATE OF UTAH

SECOND SPECIAL SESSION

House Chamber
State Capitol
Salt Lake City, Utah
October 16, 2013

The House was called to order by Speaker Rebecca Lockhart at 1:35 p.m.

Prayer given by Representative Brian King. Pledge of Allegiance led by Representative Becky Edwards.

MISCELLANEOUS BUSINESS

On motion of Representative Dee, the House voted to continue with the same organization for the Second Special Session of the 60th Legislature as was constituted during the 2013 General Session insofar as it pertains to the Speakership, Majority Leadership, and Minority Leadership.

Speaker Lockhart appointed Sandy D. Tenney as Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives for the 2013 Second Special Session of the 60th Legislature.

The Chief Clerk, Sandy D. Tenney, read the following:

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, since the adjournment of the 2013 General Session of the Sixtieth Legislature of the State of Utah, matters have arisen that require immediate legislative attention;

WHEREAS, Article VII, Section 6 of the Constitution of the State of Utah provides that the Governor may, by proclamation, convene the Legislature into Special Session.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Gary R. Herbert, Governor of the State of Utah, by virtue of the authority vested in me by the Constitution and the laws of the State of

Utah, call the Sixtieth Legislature of the State of Utah into a Second Special Session at the Utah State Capitol, in Salt Lake City, Utah, on the 16th day of October 2013, at 2:30 p.m., solely for the following purposes:

1. To consider appropriating and/or authorizing the use of state funds to open and operate certain national parks, national monuments and/or national recreation areas;
2. To consider appropriating and/or authorizing the use of state funds to offset obligations occasioned by delays in federal funding to the Child Nutrition Program;
3. To consider appropriating and/or authorizing the use of state funds to cover the benefits of certain furloughed employees which are unpaid because of a lapse in federal funds;
4. For the Senate to consent to appointments made by the Governor.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF,
I have hereunto set my hand and
caused to be affixed the Great
Seal of the State of Utah. Done
at the Utah State Capitol in Salt
Lake City, Utah, this 11th day
of October, 2013.

Gary R. Herbert
Governor

Greg Bell
Lt. Governor

Communication filed.

CERTIFICATION

I, GREG BELL, LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR OF THE STATE OF UTAH, DO HEREBY CERTIFY THAT the attached copy of the Proclamation issued on the 11th day of October, 2013, and signed by Governor Gary R. Herbert, is a true and correct copy of the original Proclamation calling the Sixtieth Legislature of the State of Utah into a Second Special Session at the State Capitol Complex at Salt Lake City, Utah, on the 16th day of October, 2013, at 2:30 p.m., for the purposes named in the Proclamation.

I FURTHER CERTIFY THAT the membership of the Utah State House of Representatives has not changed from that Certification of the 2013 General Session.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF,
I have hereunto set my hand and
caused to be affixed the Great
Seal of the State of Utah at Salt
Lake City, Utah, this 15th day
of October, 2013.

Greg Bell
Lieutenant Governor

Communication filed.

MISCELLANEOUS BUSINESS

Roll call showed all members present, except Representatives Dixon Pitcher, Lynn Hemingway, and Mark Wheatley, excused.

On motion of Representative Sanpei, the House voted to adopt the same Joint, House, and Interim rules, as were adopted by the 2013 First Special Session of the 60th Legislature.

The Speaker appointed Representatives Handy, Kennedy, and Duckworth as a committee to meet with a like committee from the Senate to wait upon the Governor to inform him that the Legislature is organized and ready to receive any communication or message he may have to offer.

The Speaker appointed Representatives Wilcox, Anderegg, and Moss as a committee to notify the Senate to inform that Honorable Body that the House is organized and ready to do business.

Senators Van Tassell, Thatcher, and Mayne formally notified the House of Representatives that the Senate was organized and ready to do business.

On motion of Representative Seelig, and as allowed by the Utah Constitution and the Joint Rules of the Legislature, the House voted, by a two-thirds majority, to continue its practice of reading only the short title of bills and resolutions as they are introduced or considered on a House calendar and not read the long title of the bills and resolutions, unless a majority of the House directs the reading of the long title, short title, or both, of any House or Senate bill or resolution.

On motion of Representative Sanpei, the House voted, by two-thirds majority, that for the Second Special Session of the 60th Legislature, the House suspend the Rule requiring that bills and resolutions remain on the calendar for one legislative day between second and third readings, and also suspend the Rule requiring a favorable recommendation from a Standing Committee prior to passage of bills and resolutions. Speaker Lockhart noted that each bill was heard before the Executive Appropriations Committee on Tuesday, October 15, 2013.

Representative Handy reported that his committee had waited upon the Governor and informed him that the Legislature is organized and ready to do business.

Representative Wilcox reported that his committee has waited upon the Senate and they are organized and ready to do business.

INTENT LANGUAGE FOR ALL 2ND SPECIAL SESSION BILLS

On motion of Representative Christensen, the House voted, by voice vote, to print the following intent language upon the pages of the House Journal. Representative Seelig commented.

The following expression of legislative intent is spread upon the Journal of the House this Special Session October 16, 2013 regarding H.B. 2001, S.B. 2001, H.B. 2002.

Whereas, the Federal Government has failed to fully and timely meet and fund its financial responsibilities which has resulted in a national cessation of current Federal Government operations, and

Whereas, the same has, in Utah, inequitably and wrongfully caused harm and damage to our state, and

Whereas, the people of Utah are willing and able to advance funds to the federal government sufficient to resume specific operations in Utah and in good faith, reliance and expectation of full and prompt repayment from the federal government and such includes, but is not limited to, the exercise of all rights as recognized and provided in Utah Code 63G-16-101.

The House has this day passed the subject legislation for the good of Utah and the benefit of the National Government, which seeks and needs additional time to resolve those conditions, which have made necessary such action by our state at this time.

MORNING SESSION

House Chamber
State Capitol
Salt Lake City, Utah
January 27, 2014

The House was called to order by Speaker Rebecca Lockhart at 10:00 a.m.

Prayer given by former Representative David Litvack.

PRAYER BY FORMER REPRESENTATIVE DAVID LITVACK

Before our prayer, a short inspirational story:

There is a classic Hasidic story, a Rabbi, a great scholar and sage filled his whole life with acts of piety. He knew that he would be justly rewarded in the world to come, so he prayed to God to let him see who would be sitting next to him in the next world, who would be his study partner, and God granted him his wish. God took him to a little shop where a poor shoemaker slaved away. All day and far into the night the man made shoes, yet he seemed to have little to show for it. The shop was poor, the man never took time to study, and he badly needed to bathe and change clothes. The Rabbi was outraged, "Oh God after all my acts of piety, this man is to be my neighbor and study partner? What kind of justice is this?" God answered, "Go talk to the shoemaker." The Rabbi introduced himself. The shoemaker answered, "I have heard of your great piety, I wish I had time to learn with you, but who has the time? All day I work hard to make shoes for the rich, they pay my living. And then when there is leather left over, all night I work hard to make shoes for the poor. Nobody should be without shoes because they can not afford it." The Rabbi turned to God, "Master of the world I am not worthy to sit with him."

We Praise you Eternal God, sovereign of the universe, you call us to holiness. We give thanks for all whose labor benefits the world. For cities and towns, factories and farms, flowers and trees, sea and sky, Lord we praise you for the world and its beauty. For family and friends, neighbors and cousins, Lord we thank you for friendship and love. For kind hearts, smiling faces, and helping hands, Lord we praise you for those who care for others. For our local state and national leaders, Lord we thank you for compassion and empathy. For the journey we begin today, Lord we praise you for always being a light on our path. For our many achievements, Lord we thank you for giving us hills to climb and strength to climb them. For the honor to serve our community – Lord we praise you for a grateful heart, a wise and constant spirit one aware of our debt to others for this gracious honor. And for making us one family on earth, the children of one God, Lord we thank you, you made all people different, yet alike. Praise be the one who has called us to exalt our nation with righteousness and taught us. Seek the welfare of your community and pray on its behalf that all may share in its well being. Amen.

MISCELLANEOUS BUSINESS

The National Anthem was performed by the Salt City Voices, vocal ensemble from Salt Lake Community College: Garrett Ashby, Ashley Bostrom, Shelby Clark, Marlin Haws, Madison Horne, Christian Lackman, Matthew Langi, Jordan Mikesell, Erica Paul, Lisa Reed, Anne Thomsen, and Zachary Watts.

RESIGNATION LETTERS

Dear Madam Speaker

October 16, 2013

It is with mixed emotions that I formally tender this letter of resignation as the Representative from District 58 to the Utah House of Representatives. I would like to thank you for your leadership and friendship over the past year. I will miss the wonderful associations that I have made as a member of the House, but look forward to working with you and your colleagues in my new role as Lieutenant Governor.

Spencer J. Cox
Lt. Governor Designee

Dear Madam Speaker

December 9, 2013

This letter serves to inform you of my resignation from the Utah House of Representatives.

I have accepted the position of Deputy Chief of Staff for Senator Mike Lee, and will begin my tenure with the Senator on January 3, 2014. Because I cannot serve in both positions simultaneously, I will need to resign my seat in the House of Representatives. My effective date of resignation is January 2, 2014.

It has been an honor to be a member of the Utah House of Representatives. Since my election in 2010, it has been a privilege to represent the citizens of Cottonwood Heights and Sandy, and to work along dedicated women and men who spend so much time selflessly serving the citizens of the state of Utah. I treasure this experience, hope I have made a difference, and will genuinely miss it.

Derek E. Brown

APPOINTMENT LETTERS

Dear Mr. Jon Cox

November 14, 2013

It is my pleasure to appoint you to the Utah House of Representatives to fill the seat in House District 58. I am confident that as a State Representative you will serve our state and your district with diligence and integrity. I look forward to working with you.

Gary R. Herbert
Governor

Roll call showed all members present, except Representatives Keith Grover and Larry Wiley, excused.

REMARKS BY SPEAKER REBECCA LOCKHART

Good morning. Dear friends, trusted colleagues, treasured family and honored guests: Welcome.

Welcome to the Utah State Capitol and welcome to the people's house. We meet at the beginning of a year, in a time of great promise, in an era of unlimited possibility. We know that the heart of our state is strong and the will of our people is true.

With Washington in chaos and uncertainty in so many corners of our country, Utahns should be proud of what we have and what we have built. What we stand for and who we stand up to. What we believe in and what we dream of. Our today is intact. But what of tomorrow? We face no current crisis, but we are nonetheless at risk: The risk of not being ready for tomorrow. Our economy is growing, but not as robustly as it should. Our schools are educating, but not as effectively as they must. Our traffic is moving, but not as efficiently as we would like.

Our state is breathtakingly beautiful, but blanketed by dirty air and severe pollution that is here today and gone tomorrow, only to return again. Make no mistake: Utah is our home. This is still the place. But we should do far better than rest on our laurels, much better than pat ourselves on the back. Can we truly say we've kept our shoulder to the wheel? That we've pushed only forward, and blazed new trails? There's a sense we're settling. And settling for the stale status quo. And we know what status quo means. It's Latin for: The mess we're in right now.

Are we adrift in a sea of contentment? Are we coasting and thinking we're moving forward? We'd better not. Because there's only one way to coast: Downhill.

In many policy areas we've settled for good enough. We've been content with commonplace, and we've even settled for stagnation. Don't we deserve better? Our schools surely do. Education is a public trust we share with all our children and all of society. And Utah is blessed with the most involved parents and most committed teachers in the country. But while our commitment to education is as strong as ever, commitment is not enough. Reliance on the ways of the past will not meet the needs of our children today, or properly prepare the leaders of tomorrow. When we were students, schools were made up of a classroom, a book, and a blackboard. Now it could just as easily be a Kindle, a Skype call and Wi-Fi.

And yet: What's the most frequent education conversation in the Capitol? Money. How much? And why not more? When is it coming? And why not before? The wars over funding that have echoed through this Chamber have been unpleasant and unproductive, demands for higher spending, without the higher purpose to go with it.

To be sure, we should be proud of the investments we've made in our schools, especially in tough times. Instead of looking at budgets and thinking they're too small, let's look differently at schools and urge them to think big. We need nothing less than an education renaissance in Utah, a modernization that embraces the best of our traditional approach and expedites a break with the outdated ways of the past. We understand the necessity of professional development, and that is why it's time to reinvest in the most important boy or girl in any classroom: The teacher. But we must honestly come to terms with the governance challenges we face in education.

So let's re-connect the people of Utah with their State School Board. And let's encourage local leaders to take local control, engage local families and implement local solutions. But it is in the classroom, where we must encourage the most telling transformation of all. I am deeply concerned that we are not connecting with kids and to kids, as long as we deny that training and technology fit together like a lock and key. We can't simply demand that they put away their phones and their tablets and their laptops and believe we have created an optimal learning environment. Let's engage the tools of today and intersect with the technology that students are using to learn everything in the world right now.

Let's ensure that every K-12 student has access and the understanding of the technological devices to ensure their success in the economy of tomorrow. But these are not shortcuts to a lifetime of learning. A smartphone is really just a device, a tablet just a tool. Let's open up the possibilities of a new school infrastructure. The movement to embrace science, technology, engineering and math is a good step in the right direction. But STEM is only just taking root. And it is only a strategy, not a solution. Our schools are too important the stakes are simply too high for us not to come together and not deliver the very best. We must also take an honest look at our system of transportation infrastructure development. It has served us well and taken us far, but it needs a fresh approach and it needs new ideas.

A gas tax increase is neither fresh, nor new. Nor right. I'm not persuaded that a blanket tax increase in the gas tax is the long-term answer to our long-term needs. Not when so many Utahns are driving many miles to get where they need to go, on tighter and tighter budgets. Let's revisit historical suggestions and put them to the test of present transportation need and current economic reality.

And while we talk about getting from point A to point B, the reality of living in valleys means we must consider our air quality and do something about it. For those who demand that government impose stringent controls on where our citizens can go and what days they can go there, I ask this question: Is that the Utah way?

And I would issue a challenge: Let's get more creative. Voluntary measures with concrete impact.

1. Work with and not against our business community.
2. Allow employees to work from home and telecommute.
3. Support transit passes and encourage flex-time shifts.
4. Encourage travel in off-peak hours to reduce emissions during red air days.

There are many, many more sound ideas. And the House Clean Air Caucus is bringing forward many creative proposals and I applaud them for their sincere and bipartisan efforts. The reality is also that cutting-edge technology and innovative design allow us to drive faster and further, in cars and trucks that are bigger and heavier. Tomorrow promises even more: CNG vehicles, electric autos, extended battery power, cleaner-burning cars and the race to zero emissions.

Let's let creative people offer creative solutions, and let this session be a time that they are free and encouraged and rewarded for doing it. We may be part-time legislators, but we're all full-time public servants. We are looked to and asked of, and I know we wouldn't have it any other way. But with resolve must also come restraint.

Limited government is more than a preference, it is a principle. And it has served Utah well. The people don't measure us by the number of bills we pass. And we certainly don't get paid by the page. So let's make this session busy and brimming with big ideas, about schools, about our lands, about our way of living, about our quality of life. We will meet these challenges not because they're easy. They're not. And not because it will make us popular. It won't. We will do it because it's the right thing to do.

It is up to us because in the American Experiment, the states are the laboratories of democracy. Not the Congress. Not the Courts. The states. The cause of state sovereignty is not a new talking point in a permanent political conversation, it is the birthright of every single one of us.

Governor Herbert said once that we are not a colony. That's true. But words alone won't keep it that way. We need more. Much more. This may seem an old fight, but it has new urgency as Washington and the White House push states like Utah to bend to their will. The federal government doesn't ask. It dictates. It doesn't inquire. It instructs. And every time a state surrenders, or a governor gives in, that state grows weaker and poorer and less free. So let us encourage the Governor to lead and not just follow, be innovative and not just reactive. We need energy in the executive, not an inaction figure in the Governor's Office.

That is why I cannot support and do not understand why anyone would propose to saddle Utah with Obamacare, the most costly and catastrophic federal mandate of all. It won't help us bring compassionate service to those most in need. And it surely won't solve any of our serious health care challenges. Take it from a nurse: Band-Aid solutions never last. President Obama's scheme to swell the Medicaid rolls in exchange for a partial and temporary federal subsidy isn't just a trick. It's a trap. It's an out-in-the-open bait-and-switch guaranteed to leave us worse off, and sooner than we think.

So here's a suggestion: The next time the Obama White House offers more unfunded mandates or another box of federal decrees, and the Governor's Office tries to figure out how to pay for it. We as a House and we as a state should politely decline, drop a copy of the Constitution inside and stamp it Return to Sender!

One focus we must bring new attention to is one of the last I thought we'd have to take charge on: Honesty in government, trust in our institutions, belief in the system and faith in the process. Last year saw us compelled to handle one of the saddest chapters I've seen in my time here, and yet it has also brought about one of our finest hours. Some questioned the amount that we were forced to spend to find the truth about the former Attorney General. And they are right in one sense. It did not come cheap. But if nothing else, we should resolve that honest government doesn't come at a discount. And public integrity has no price.

When I sought this post, I promised no ambition to be the most powerful Speaker in Utah history just the most empowering. And the past years have been some of the most proper and productive sessions in the history of our state. The credit goes first and foremost to you: 74 of the most decent and honorable people that I have ever known. And it is an honor to serve with every one of you. Thank You.

As you know, I'm especially fond of this magnificent Capitol for it stands as a symbol of the most we can expect of ourselves and the best we can offer to others. And yet, so many times over so many years, in the haste and hurry of this session or some meeting, or some committee, sometimes I would walk into this building, as if it were, well, just another building. We shouldn't do that. When we come to work tomorrow, let's pause and let's reflect and admire the privilege we all have to walk here, to work here, to serve here.

I want to make sure I mention four very special friends this morning. I don't think anyone works harder days or longer nights around here. I mean, of course, the Capitol's four lions. Two to the east and two to the west, protecting, literally, our front and back. But while they seem to stand guard, they really inspire us most of all. They are named fortitude, integrity, honor and patience. And for a very good reason. Four of our finest virtues, four of our most consequential qualities, four of our most important aspirations as a people. Fortitude, integrity, honor and patience will see us through no matter the difficulty and no matter the challenge.

Tomorrow is a sad day in our nation's history: 28 years since the Space Shuttle Challenger was lost only moments into its voyage. Many saw it happen live. Many more remember President Reagan's words to the nation later that evening: That the Challenger Seven had "slipped the surly bonds of Earth, to touch the face of God." But there's something else he said that day. When the accident occurred, the President was actually meeting with journalists discussing the State of the Union Address, which was to take place that very night. As the terrible news became known, the press started peppering the President with questions – about NASA, about Congress, about the Soviet space program. He mostly declined comment. Then one questioner asked: Because a schoolteacher was also lost on the Challenger, was it right for a civilian to have been on board? President Reagan answered right away: "They're all civilians."

We are all civilians. We may be Republicans or Democrats, Conservatives or Liberals, Rural or Suburban. But we are all Utahns first. We have been given a great responsibility, and a sacred trust. We are the guardians of something great, and the keepers of a tradition like no other. Let's be committed to the higher purpose of the common good. Let us never forget who sent us here or why we chose to serve. Let us represent what is best about this Chamber, the Capitol, and the State of Utah. Thank you all very much. And now, let's get to work.

MISCELLANEOUS BUSINESS

On motion of Representative Dee, the House voted to have the prayer given by former Representative David Litvack and the remarks given by Speaker Rebecca Lockhart printed upon the pages of the House Journal.

On motion of Representative Hughes, the House voted to authorize the Speaker to appoint a committee to meet with a like committee from the Senate to wait upon the Governor to inform him that the Legislature is organized and ready to receive any communication or message he may have to offer. Speaker Lockhart appointed Representatives LaVar Christensen, Craig Hall, and Mark Wheatley.

On motion of Representative Seelig, the House voted to authorize the Speaker to appoint a committee to notify the Senate to inform that Honorable Body that the House is organized and ready to do business. Speaker Lockhart appointed Representatives Rebecca Edwards, Kay Christofferson, and Joel Briscoe.

On motion of Representative Dean Sanpei, the House voted to adopt the same House Rules, Joint Rules, and Interim Rules as were adopted by the 2013 Second Special Session of the 60th Legislature, until such time as new rules may be adopted by the 2014 General Session of the 60th Legislature.

On motion of Representative Sanpei, and as allowed by the Utah Constitution and the Joint Rules of the Legislature, the House voted, by a two-thirds majority, to continue its practice of reading only the short title of bills and resolutions as they are introduced or considered on a House calendar and not read the long title of the bills and resolutions, unless a majority of the House directs the reading of the long title, short title, or both, of any House or Senate bill or resolution.

Senators Jenkins, Dayton, and Mayne formally notified the House that the Senate was organized and ready to do business.

Dean Sanpei, Chair

Report filed. On motion of Representative Sanpei, the bills were placed on the Third Reading Calendar.

MISCELLANEOUS BUSINESS

On motion of Representative Dee, the House voted to recess until 2:15 p.m.

AFTERNOON SESSION

The House was called to order by Speaker Lockhart at 2:35 p.m.

Representative Janice Fisher is excused for the afternoon.

COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE

On motion of Representative Dee, the House resolved itself into a Committee of the Whole, with the Speaker as Chairwoman, for the purpose of hearing from Chief Justice Matthew B. Durrant. Associate Justice Ronald E. Nehring, Justice Jill N. Parrish, and Justice Thomas R. Lee were in attendance.

REMARKS BY CHIEF JUSTICE MATTHEW B. DURRANT

Thank you! Speaker Lockhart for the invitation to join you today to report on the state of Utah's judiciary.

I have with me today Associate Chief Justice Ronald Nehring, Justice Jill Parrish, and Justice Tom Lee. Justice Christine Durham regrets that she cannot be here. I count it a great privilege to serve with such extraordinary jurists. We are joined by our superb court administrator, Dan Becker.

I'd like to begin with a personal story. It concerns the 1984 NBA draft, possibly the greatest draft in NBA history. It included future all-time NBA greats Hakeem Olajuwon, Charles Barkely, and none other than Michael Jordan. And my brother-Devin Durrant. At that time, Dave Checketts was the president and general manager of the Utah Jazz, who had the number 16 pick. As it happened, Dave was a friend of mine from my days in Cambridge, Massachusetts, and he told me that the Jazz were very interested in Devin. And as draft day approached, it looked more and more like the Jazz would pick Devin.

My family and I were of course thrilled at the prospect that Devin would be playing in Utah. But the day before the draft, Dave called and told me that he had some bad news. Very apologetically, he said the Jazz had decided to go another direction. I was devastated and asked him who the Jazz's pick would be. He replied, "A guard out of Gonzaga named John Stockton." I was shocked. This Stockton guy was a nobody. With great emotion, I made this solemn pronouncement: "Dave," I said, "You're making a huge mistake." I tell this story so that you might know that you can have complete confidence in my judgement as Chief Justice . . . or at least perhaps some confidence as to non-basketball matters, such as the ones I'll be discussing here today.

And the first matter I'd like to discuss is a number – 93. That's the percentage of people who reported that they agreed with the following statement:

I am satisfied with my experience at court today.

That question was one of 20 included in a survey conducted of litigants, lawyers, witnesses, and others as they concluded their business in courthouses across the state last summer. The survey is administered every other year in an effort to provide feedback to the courts on how we are perceived by those we serve. Keep in mind that a court decision often results in both a winner and a loser, so for 93% of those respondents to say they were satisfied with their experience is remarkable. The most likely explanation for this number is that they must have based their responses on something other than whether they won or lost.

Their responses to other questions might help explain this high level of satisfaction:

I understood what happened in my case - 93%

I know what I should do next in my case - 93%

The judge, commissioner, referee, or mediator listened to all sides - 92%

I finished my business in a reasonable time - 89%

The hearing was fair - 90%

Both sides at the hearing were treated the same - 89%

And one question that I think is particularly important:

I was treated with courtesy and respect - 96%

When people truly believe that they have been treated with respect, they in turn respect the process, regardless of the result. This correlation is one that has been studied closely in the past few years. The term used to describe it is procedural fairness.

The elements of procedural fairness are voice, neutrality, and respect. Voice means the ability of court participants to express their viewpoints. In others words, the judge asks for input and actively listens. Neutrality means just that - consistently applied legal principles, unbiased decision makers, and a “transparency” in how decisions are made. Lastly, respect, meaning individuals are treated with dignity and their rights are affirmatively protected. It means that judges not only protect the rights of litigants, but explain that is what they are doing. It makes a difference.

When there is procedural fairness, people believe they have an opportunity to speak and are listened to (their voice is heard), they feel they are treated with respect, and they understand what is happening, and why. The judge focuses on them individually, rather than on getting through the court calendar. With heavy dockets, this is no small accomplishment. But we have taken the research in this area to heart. We have educated our judges and helped them hone these skills.

93%. That is a number of which I am extremely proud. It’s a number that our judges and staff are proud of, and it’s one you should be proud of as well.

Of course, I’m not so naïve as to think that everyone who comes to court feels this way. Indeed, the numbers that I have just shared are state-wide figures. When you examine the results courthouse to courthouse, there are various issues in particular locations that we need to address. But that’s why we conduct this survey, to check-in with our court users to see what they see and to hear what they hear, so that we can identify the weak points we need to shore up.

My guess is that from time to time, you hear from constituents who have an unfavorable opinion of their court experience. 93% is not 100% and I would be surprised if you haven’t had some who have sought you out to complain about a decision, a procedure, or a rule. That’s the nature of the legislative process. But their perspectives are not representative of the experience of the vast majority of court participants.

To provide some context for the concerns you might hear, last year our courts, at all levels, handled just under 900,000 cases. Think about the types of issues you’ve directed our courts to handle, the issues our judges and staff are called upon to deal with in these 900,000 cases. They involve commerce, property, families, crime, juveniles, highway safety, drugs, mental health, homelessness; you name it. Our society’s most complex, emotional, and difficult problems and disputes make their way to our courts, and our job is to provide a just and fair resolution.

Among the most emotional cases are divorces, where years of emotional and financial entanglements have to be unraveled, and the expenses of one household have to be spread across two. If children are involved, judges have to decide how to keep them a part of both parents' lives for years to come. And parents are rarely on their best behavior during a divorce.

Child welfare matters are, unfortunately, brought to us far too often. Our judges are asked to find the truth when there are allegations of child abuse, and when abuse is found, we face the enormously difficult task of balancing the future safety of vulnerable children with their parents' fundamental right to continue to parent them. These decisions have to be made expeditiously, so that children don't languish in foster care, but also judiciously, because a wrong decision can result in harm to or even the death of a child.

Our most serious crimes require a careful judicial balance as well, where the constitutional rights of defendants, presumed innocent, come up against the rights of victims, and society's collective interest in safety. Sometimes these cases also require the most serious decision one human being can make about another, the decision to order that a person be put to death.

Civil cases don't reach us unless other ways of resolving disputes have failed. Property disputes fill our dockets. Decisions about our natural resources, energy, air quality, scams that target our elderly, and, yes, ethics and elections issues are all brought to us for fair resolution. We do not go looking for any of these issues. Each is brought to us, and our role is defined by our constitutions and laws.

This business of resolving disputes isn't easy work, but it's important work—important to the individuals involved, important to our community, and important to our society. I assure you, we take our work, our oaths, seriously, and I believe we do our work in a way in which the public should, and does, have confidence.

One measure of public opinion is reflected in the courthouse survey results I shared a few moments ago, and those results are consistent with the strong public confidence in our courts found by the broader independent public opinion poll I shared with you last year. In short, when we have asked our constituents how we are doing, they have said "very well, thank you." My view is that they have confidence in our branch of government because in recent years we have strived to be responsive and have adhered to certain core principles, three of which I would like to explain further: accessibility, efficiency, and transparency.

Accessibility

This is where our greatest challenges lie: increasing numbers of Utahns can't afford the cost of legal assistance; increasing numbers of litigants choose to represent themselves; increasing minority populations are coming to our courts, some of whom distrust our governmental institutions, others who don't speak English well enough to understand what is happening in a court proceeding; and, for all of our court users, the cost in time and travel to conduct business at a courthouse can be significant.

This is also where we are seeing tremendous progress, although the amount of work that remains is daunting. Last year I reported to you on the nascent success of our statewide implementation of the courts' Self-Help Center. This center is our phone, email, and text-based resource of procedural help for any who contact us. Our staff of specially trained lawyers helped 16,000 people last year. They helped with everything from directions to courthouses to information about how to obtain a domestic violence protective order.

The Self-Help Center staff also frequently direct callers to resources on our website. We have developed increasingly comprehensive and sophisticated forms, both static and interactive, that allow litigants to represent themselves more competently. As an example, our online guardianship and conservatorship resources are very specific. Our guardianship self-help resources include everything from a manual on the responsibilities of guardians to a true-false test for prospective guardians to take so that they may demonstrate their understanding of their statutory responsibilities.

Our Online Court Assistance Program, or OCAP, has been retooled to be even more user-friendly, and now is available to prepare fully fileable documents for divorces, parentage cases, enforcement of domestic orders, garnishment, landlord-tenant cases, guardianships and conservatorships, protective orders, and stalking orders. Last year over 60,000 documents were generated using this tool.

There are, of course, situations when self-help resources aren't enough, when only a lawyer will do, and the State Bar has stepped up with two important programs. The first is the Pro Bono program, in which lawyers accept cases without any compensation, and the second is the recently developed Modest Means program, in which litigants pay on a sliding fee schedule, based on their ability to pay. Both of these efforts require willing lawyers, as well as coordination to get the willing lawyers together with clients in need. The Bar is providing both, and they deserve our thanks for making legal representation more accessible.

Utah's increasing ethnic diversity also presents access challenges. All court users have a right to understand their court proceedings, and to that end we provided translators for 47 languages in our courts last year, and they provided almost 20,000 hours of translation. The logistics of this coordination of translators, litigants, facilities, judges, and lawyers is the responsibility of our court staff, and they too have done a remarkable job. We have even adopted technology that allows us to use interpreters in Salt Lake to interpret real-time court sessions in the Uintah Basin, for example, saving taxpayers money and litigants time.

The Judicial Council is also currently studying how best to reduce the time and cost associated with attending some types of proceedings in rural parts of our state. For example, it's now technologically possible for a judge located in Logan to conduct a hearing involving people who are in a courtroom in Kanab, providing convenience for the parties and their counsel, while making better use of the judge's time and substantially reducing travel cost for the litigants and their lawyers. Our committee is sorting out what types of cases lend themselves to these types of remote hearings and what rules or procedures need to be tweaked to facilitate this kind of accessibility. The challenge is to find opportunities for efficiency, without sacrificing the local character and autonomy of our rural communities. We should have more to report to you in this regard next year.

With each of these initiatives, our objective is to not only operate more efficiently, but to actually improve access by reducing costs and improving convenience for those in our state who need the service of their courts. In other words, accessibility.

Efficiency

Our courts are leading the way in efficiency. We've been informed by the National Center for State Courts, the sister organization to your National Conference of State Legislatures, that Utah's state courts have the most comprehensive and advanced electronic court record system in the country. No other state has the same statewide implementation of e-filing, e-payments, and e-warrants, combined with real-time, on-line access to not just dockets, but documents and data. The public is well served by the innovations we have promoted and you have supported.

The remarkable progress we have made in implementing the electronic record has also had its intended effect on the nature and quantity of work we ask our court clerks to do. Their jobs have become more about data quality than data entry. And because the data quality work is electronic, their efficiency is higher, and now fewer people can process more casework. This has allowed us to reduce our court clerk workforce by 8% over these last two years of electronic record implementation, which of course reduces our personnel costs. This is in large measure why our budget requests last year and this year have been so limited.

These efficiencies affect not only our staff and your budgeting, but the public as well. Case documents are available on-line, which allows for fewer trips to the courthouse for lawyers, the general public, and yes, the media. Anyone with access to a computer can, without venturing to a courthouse, check for scheduled hearings, make a payment, or review a document. The electronic record allows us to move work to where staff is available, or a court hearing to where a judge is available, and the benefits are substantial.

Moving to an electronic record also means we have lower costs for postage, paper, file folders, and storage equipment. Five years ago we spent $150,000 on file folders alone. This year, $0. Also, our paper costs have been reduced by $210,000. And with no paper files, another substantial benefit is becoming increasingly apparent - freed up space, previously devoted to records storage.

A very concrete example of this is our experience just this winter in Summit County. Increases in caseloads in this county have required that we begin the process of adding a courtroom to our existing Summit County facility. Normally, we would have come to you for assistance in building and funding a new courtroom. But as we walked through the existing building, it became apparent that there was space that was becoming available - our file storage rooms. Moving to an electronic record has made available sufficient space to allow us to do a much simpler remodel and add a much needed courtroom within the walls of the existing courthouse.

The ability to recover space within other existing courthouses and put that space to new uses should prove to be a money saver in other parts of the state as well, adding to the list of efficiencies gained by our e-everything approach.

Transparency

I believe our court system is as transparent, if not more so, than any other part of government. When I say this it sounds boastful, and maybe it is, but let me explain: We have extensive, relevant performance measures, not just at the state level, but right down to the individual courthouse, and this data is available to the public on our website. Public opinion polls and court user surveys have become a part of our routine process of self-evaluation, and a part of what we report to you and to our communities. Published time standards provide guidance for our courts and delimit expectations for the public.

Further, the business of the court is done in open courtrooms, where the public is encouraged to attend. Since April 1st of last year, the media has been permitted to use video cameras in court to cover proceedings. Since that date, trials and hearings in over 100 cases in the district, juvenile, and justice courts have been videotaped by the media. And, in one instance, an entire two week trial was beamed across the world via a real-time broadcast. It is our hope that by allowing cameras into the courtroom we will bring the work of our courts closer to the public and that the trust and confidence of the public in the fairness and effectiveness of Utah's courts will continue to increase.

In one of the most visible ways in which our courts are transparent, each individual judge has his or her performance as a judge assessed by an independent body, the Judicial Performance Evaluation Commission. The extensive work of that commission is then published and promoted to the public for their use in individual retention elections. This, to my knowledge, is the most formal, involved, detailed, and transparent evaluation procedure of any public servant, at any level of government.

Now, if I may address one last issue. Our Judicial Council has repeatedly proven its ability to wrestle difficult issues to the ground and advance meaningful change and, on any number of occasions, has brought to this body well thought out recommendations for you to consider. If you have issues or ideas relating to our courts, bring them to the Judicial Council. Work with us on identifying what further improvements are possible.

We are proud of the success of our new business model and of our ability to use existing resources to provide increased access, efficiency, and transparency in everything we do. We are also proud that we have not asked and are not asking you to restore funding cuts of the past few years. But most of all, we are proud of our extraordinary judges and staff.

Are there things that we could further improve upon? Of course. What part of government couldn't be improved upon? But even John Stockton didn't shoot 93% from the free throw line. And that was with nobody guarding him. I'm confident my brother Devin would have done better. But it's probably time I get past that.

So the final numbers read:

John Stockton-83%

Utah Courts-93%

As always, thank you for your gracious attention, thank you for the work you do on behalf of all Utahns, and I wish you a productive session.

On motion of Representative Dee, the Committee of the Whole was dissolved.

MISCELLANEOUS BUSINESS

On motion of Representative Dee, and at 12:00 p.m., the House voted to adjourn until January 30, 2014, at 11:10 a.m.

JOINT CONVENTION

President Wayne Niederhauser called the Joint Convention to order at 6:15 p.m. in the Chamber of the Utah House of Representatives and recognized Rebecca Lockhart, Speaker of the House.

President Niederhauser announced that a quorum of the House of Representatives and the Senate was present.

President Niederhauser appointed a Joint Committee comprised of Senators Ralph Okerlund, Stuart Adams and Karen Mayne, and Representatives Brad Dee, Greg Hughes, and Jennifer Seelig to notify Governor Gary R. Herbert that the 2014 General Session of the Sixtieth Legislature is in Joint Convention and ready to hear his State-of-the-State address.

President Niederhauser acknowledged special guests and elected and appointed officials in attendance at the Joint Convention.

Senator Ralph Okerlund made a motion that the Legislature resolve into a Joint Convention and Committee of the Whole for the purpose of hearing Governor Herbert's State-of-the-State address.

The Joint Committee escorted Governor Herbert to the House rostrum.

STATE-OF-THE-STATE ADDRESS BY GOVERNOR GARY R. HERBERT

President Niederhauser, Speaker Lockhart, Legislators, Justices of the Utah Supreme Court, Utah's First Lady, my wife Jeanette, and my fellow Utahns.

We are joined this evening by our new Lieutenant Governor, Spencer Cox, and our new Attorney General, Sean Reyes. Let me take time to recognize the Lieutenant Governor's Office, as well as the Legislature, for their recent investigations of campaign and election law violations.

We must continue to require ongoing review of our election laws to ensure strict compliance. Upholding the public trust in elected office starts with demonstrating our election laws must be adhered to and when they are not, there will be serious consequences.

To everyone assembled here tonight, welcome to our State Capitol. This building symbolizes the pride we have in our past and the optimism we share for Utah's future.

In 1914, when Governor William Spry cemented the cornerstone in place, some wondered why the Capitol needed to be so large when Utah's population was so small. The answer is simple. They were not building for what they were. They were building for what Utah could become.

Just as they laid a solid foundation to make Utah what it is today, it is our responsibility to continue to build upon that foundation and make Utah even stronger.

We are already seeing significant success in that endeavor.

Two years ago, we set the goal to create 100,000 jobs in 1,000 days. I am pleased to report we are on track.

So far, nearly 70,000 jobs have been created in the private sector and our unemployment rate just dropped to 4.1 percent, the fourth-lowest in the nation.

Our economy is not only growing, it is growing the right way. Utah now has the fourth-most diverse economy in the nation. Our economic growth is remarkable and as someone who spends every day focused on growing Utah's economy, I assure you this did not happen by chance.

We measure our performance in statistics, but the true impact of those numbers is felt in homes across our state.

Utah's strong economy means if your son wants to work for Goldman Sachs, he doesn't have to go to New York City; he can stay here in Salt Lake City. If your daughter wants to work for Adobe or eBay, she doesn't have to go to Silicon Valley; she can go to the Silicon Slopes of Lehi and Draper. And if you want to work in cutting-edge manufacturing, you don't have to go to Washington State; you can go to Washington County.

Utah is the place to be and we have worked hard together to make it that way.

It is not only important to bring more dollars into the state, we also need to become more efficient with the dollars we have. So last year, I challenged state employees and agencies to improve their performance by 25 percent over the next four years. And the results are impressive.

Let me give you just one example of many.

The Utah Department of Commerce has implemented strategies to accelerate the speed of issuing business licenses. Over the past year, the department has issued more than 200,000 licenses all within three days of receiving applications. This means people wanting to do business in Utah can get to work without unnecessary delay.

Across state government we are determined to get more from every taxpayer dollar so we don't need more dollars from every taxpayer.

But we are not here tonight to just talk about our many successes. We have some challenges we must confront as we build upon our foundation for future generations. Tonight, I want to highlight three of them.

The first challenge we face is population growth. Utah is now the second-fastest growing state in the nation. We now number over 2.9 million people, and our population is projected to nearly double in the next 35 years. This population growth impacts everything we do.

Take education, for example.

We have a fast-growing student population, which creates a major funding demand. It costs us nearly $70 million per year in additional money just to pay for our new students. We have a unique challenge in Utah to fund education. For example, nearly 70 percent of Utah's land is controlled by the federal government, generating no property taxes to help us pay for that growth.

Because our ability to get all the dollars we need is limited, we need to be more innovative with the dollars we have to achieve our educational goals.

This session, Senator Stuart Adams will champion legislation to create a "report card" that will help parents, teachers and administrators understand what our schools are doing right and how they can improve. Along with enhancing accountability in our education system, we must continue to align classroom instruction with changing workforce needs, so our high school graduates are ready for college and the workplace.

Science, technology, engineering and math are essential to prepare our students for high-tech, high-quality and high-paying jobs. Last year we provided $10 million to the STEM Action Center, and my budget this year calls for another $4.5 million. I have also asked Senator Steve Urquhart and Representative Brian King to find ways to encourage more high school students to complete computer science and information technology classes. The private sector is also stepping up. Tomorrow, we will announce a major new campaign, funded by the business community, to promote STEM education in our schools.

As we all know, today's students have access to a world of information at their fingertips; we need to ensure they also have access to the information that will put them on the path to success. That is why I have proposed another $2 million in my budget to improve high school career counseling.

Of course, teachers have the critical role of educating our children in the classroom. While we cannot thank them enough, we can and should pay them more. Because of our success in growing the economy in challenging times, my budget contains an additional $61.6 million to increase teacher compensation, the largest increase since 2008.

All these efforts drive us toward our goal that 66 percent of adult Utahns will have a degree or post-secondary certificate by 2020, thus securing the foundation for enduring prosperity.

Often, asking the right question is as important as having the right information. A case in point is Angie Blomquist and her fourth-grade class from Monroe Elementary in Sevier County, some of whom are with us tonight.

A few months ago, these fourth-graders asked a question many of us have wondered about for years: "Why is our Utah state tree the Colorado Blue Spruce?" Their persuasive argument has convinced me that with regard to the state tree, it is time to branch out and turn over a new leaf. They have also persuaded Senator Ralph Okerlund and Representative Brad Wilson to introduce legislation to make Utah's new state tree the Aspen. These fourth-graders exemplify the importance of participation in the political process and the ability we all have in this state to effect change.

Dealing with population growth will certainly require our best efforts.

We must think strategically, look forward, but act now. The "Your Utah, Your Future" initiative I launched in October is the most comprehensive planning effort ever undertaken in our state's history. This effort, among other things, is aimed at ensuring there is sufficient water and clean air for future generations.

When our pioneer ancestors made the desert blossom as a rose, they understood they could not do it without water. What was true then is also true for us today. To take care of this most precious resource, I have put together a Water Advisory Team to evaluate strategies to secure Utah's water future.

Another growth-related challenge that is fundamental to our quality of life is the quality of our air. It is a challenge we all share, and we all share in the responsibility to fix it.

We have already implemented a plan to rid our air of 100 tons of pollutants a day, and we now require industries to install new technology to eliminate an additional 4,600 tons of pollution per year. I have further required state agencies to reduce travel, to restructure our entire fleet, prohibit idling in state vehicles, and we have provided transit passes to state employees at no extra cost to taxpayers.

I recently organized the Clean Air Action Team, made up of stakeholders from across the spectrum, to act as a clearinghouse for the best public input and strongest science to make recommendations and help guide our policy decisions. Taking seriously the word "action" in their title, team members have already identified two significant steps that will make a big difference, and we will begin implementing those recommendations tonight.

First, we will accelerate the transition to cleaner Tier 3 gasoline and the next generation of lower-emission vehicles. Because nearly 60 percent of our pollution during inversions comes from tailpipes, and the technology already exists to do something about it, there is absolutely no reason to wait. By taking initiative, we ensure these cleaner gasolines and lower-emission vehicles, which burn 80 percent cleaner than current models, are made available in Utah as soon as possible.

Second, University of Utah research has shown wood smoke alone makes up approximately 5 percent of the particulates in our winter air and endangers public health. We have learned that burning one log for an hour is equivalent to driving an automobile from Salt Lake City to St. George and back again. So tonight, I call on the Air Quality Board to limit wood burning in non-attainment areas during our entire inversion season.

These two steps are among the most significant and effective we can take immediately to clean our air. But there is more we can do. During this session, let us start to replace older school buses and state vehicles with lower-emission models. These actions, and others, will have real costs and real impacts on all of us. But I'm convinced the benefits to our economy, to our communities and, most importantly, to our public health, will justify the costs.

Addressing population growth also involves improving our criminal justice system and providing structure for individuals to become productive members of society. There has been a great deal of discussion about relocating the state prison. This is a discussion worth having, but it must be done in the larger context of reforming our criminal justice system as a whole.

I have asked for a full review of our current system to develop a plan to reduce recidivism, maximize offenders' success in becoming law-abiding citizens, and provide judges with the tools they need to accomplish these goals. The prison gates through which people re-enter society must be a permanent exit, and not just a revolving door.

Our second challenge is asserting our rightful role as a sovereign state.

James Madison, the father of our Constitution, said: "The powers delegated by the proposed Constitution to the federal government are few and defined. Those which are to remain in the state governments are numerous and indefinite."

Unfortunately, our nation has strayed from what our founding fathers intended. Whether the issue is marriage, Medicaid or management of our public lands, our right to find Utah solutions to Utah issues is being hindered by federal overreach.

In Utah, we understand state sovereignty, and we will do everything in our power to represent the will of the people while respecting the democratic and judicial processes. Let me be clear that while I support traditional marriage and will continue to defend Amendment 3, there is no place in our society for hatred and bigotry.

Most importantly, let us all remember that although these issues may be controversial, they need not be contentious. As this important issue works its way through the courts, let Utah be a model of how to work through honest disagreements with civility and respect.

This challenge of self-determination also extends to how we address the health care needs of families and individuals in our state. Because of a flaw in the Affordable Care Act, we have about 60,000 Utahns living below the poverty line who receive less assistance through Medicaid than many who live above the poverty line.

This is not fair, and it is not right.

Assisting the poor in our state is a moral obligation that must be addressed. I look forward to working with you in the Legislature to create a Utah model for fixing this hole in the safety net one that is based on four principles: first, those who can work, do work; second, support private markets; third, maximize state flexibility in administering federal programs; and fourth, serve the best interest of the Utah taxpayer.

This debate should not be about federal dollars versus state dollars. They are all taxpayer dollars. Every dollar the government spends comes from the people, and whatever we do in Utah should be in the best interests of the people of Utah.

We did not create the problem, but we can and must find a Utah solution.

By the way, caring for those in need is not just a function of government. Everyone has a role. No one personifies this more than Jon Huntsman, Sr. The Huntsman Cancer Institute has saved lives and made Utah a center of excellence for cancer research. Let us work together this session and make expanding this facility a top priority.

More effective management of our public lands is also critical to our state. At no time was this more evident than during the federal government shutdown. Our national parks were closed, tourists were turned away and the livelihoods of Utah business owners were put in peril. Yet we were told by many in Washington there was nothing we could do to solve this problem.

We do a lot of things well in Utah, but “doing nothing” is not one of them. I was determined to open the parks, and I told Interior Secretary Sally Jewel we simply had to find a way and that’s exactly what we did. It took a little common sense and a lot of hard work. It took people of good will, including Representative Brad Dee, and legislators on both sides of the aisle working together to find the solution.

As our parks re–opened, cheers resounded throughout the state and frankly, from across the nation and around the globe. The Fasoli family of Massachusetts was able to fulfill their dream to visit Zion National Park. My chief of staff, Derek Miller, en route with his family to Natural Bridges, joined other Utahns in breathing a sigh of relief knowing they would not be denied access to our national parks and recreation areas. There were cheers at Ruby’s Inn, where the Syrett family has welcomed visitors to Bryce Canyon for five generations.

As the opening of our national parks proved, Utah is in the best position to optimize the use of our public lands. That is why I signed House Bill 148 and also why I am working with Congressman Rob Bishop on his Public Lands Initiative. This initiative presents us with a unique opportunity to resolve this issue by identifying public lands for multiple–use such as energy development, farming and ranching, and protecting our iconic vistas and venues. Again, we are finding Utah solutions to Utah challenges.

Our third major challenge is to continue to expand our economy.

Utah is doing very well, but the demand for more and higher-quality jobs continues. I have set the goal to increase our exports by an additional $9 billion by the end of 2015. We will accomplish this goal with continued outreach to big businesses as well as smaller start-ups businesses along the Wasatch Front as well as those in rural Utah.

Take, for example, Phillip and Holly Clingo. They needed employment if they were to fulfill their dream of raising their family in Wayne County. So they founded Signature Log Furniture and they are now selling custom-made products across North America from our soon-to-be state tree, the Utah Aspen.

You know, there is a reason why the Clingos and thousands of other small-business owners choose Utah. There is a reason why the most requested transfer destination for Oracle employees is Utah. And there is a reason why Boeing calls its Utah workers the “Can Do Team.”

The reason is not because we don’t have challenges; the reason is because we know how to overcome them.

So yes, we face the challenge of a growing student population. But we are solving it, and as we do, we will secure the youngest and best-educated workforce in the nation. And yes, we face the challenge of protecting our water supply and cleaning our air. But we are solving it, and as we do, Utah will continue to provide “Life Elevated” for our children and our grandchildren.

And yes, we face the challenge of federal overreach. But we will preserve our right to chart our own path forward to a better future. And yes, we face the challenge of accelerating our economic development efforts. But as we overcome that challenge, we will become the nexus for new ideas, and new businesses and new jobs.

I have no doubt we will overcome our challenges. We are blessed with a solid foundation. We have a proud heritage. We have a shared vision of where we are going and what we must do to get there. Tonight, I ask you to join with me in building upon the foundation laid by those who came before us a century ago.

As elected officials, we are entrusted by the people to manage the affairs of the state, and to provide vision and leadership. Let us set aside any personal agenda and work to benefit the Utahns we serve.

Let us renew our commitment to the principles of good governance, of fiscal prudence and of individual responsibility to continue to make Utah the best place to live, the best place to raise a family and the best place to do business.

The state of our state is strong.

And you and I remain committed to making it even stronger.

May God bless you, May God bless this great nation, and may God continue to bless the Great State of Utah.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS

On motion of Representative Dunnigan, the House voted to uncircle H.B. 10.

H.B. 10, INSURED WORKER REEMPLOYMENT AMENDMENTS, Representative Dunnigan, was before the House on its final passage.

Representative Dunnigan proposed Amendment 1:

1. Page 11, Line 311:

311 (b) “Initial written report” means a report {~~required~~
~~under~~} described in Subsection (5).

2. Page 12, Lines 338 through 339:

338 (2) (a) This section applies only to an industrial injury or occupational disease that occurs

339 on or after July 1, 1990.

(b) This section is intended to promote and monitor the state’s and the employer’s capacity to assist the injured worker in returning to the workforce by evaluating the effectiveness of the voluntary efforts of employers under this section.

3. Page 12, Lines 343 through 365:

343 (5) An employer or the employer’s workers’ compensation insurance carrier {~~shall~~} may voluntarily

344 prepare an initial written report assessing an injured worker's need or lack of need for 345 vocational assistance in reemployment if:

346 (a) it appears that the injured worker is or will be an injured worker with a disability; or

347 (b) the period of the injured worker's temporary total disability compensation period

348 exceeds 90 days.

349 (6) (a) Subject to Subsection (6)(b), an employer or the employer's workers'

350 compensation insurance carrier ~~{shall}~~ may serve the initial written report , if one has been prepared, on the injured worker.

351 (b) ~~{An}~~ If an employer or the employer's workers' compensation insurance carrier serves an initial written report on an injured worker, the employer or the employer's workers' compensation insurance carrier shall 352 comply with Subsection (6)(a) by no later than 30 days after the earlier of the day on which:

353 (i) it appears that the injured worker is or will be an injured worker with a disability; or

354 (ii) the 90-day period described in Subsection (5)(b) ends.

355 (7) With the initial written report, if one is prepared and used in the determination process, an employer or the employer's workers'

356 compensation insurance carrier shall provide an injured worker information regarding 357 reemployment.

358 (8) Subject to the other provisions of this section, if an injured worker is an injured

359 worker with a disability, the employer or the employer's workers' compensation insurance

360 carrier ~~{shall}~~ may , within 10 days after the day on which the employer or workers' compensation

361 insurance carrier serves the initial written report on the injured worker, refer the injured worker

362 with a disability to:

363 (a) the Utah State Office of Rehabilitation; or

364 (b) at the employer’s or workers’ compensation insurance carrier’s option, a private 365 rehabilitation or reemployment service.

PUBLIC UTILITIES AND TECHNOLOGY STANDING COMMITTEE REPORTS

Madam Speaker:

February 19, 2014

The Public Utilities and Technology Committee reports a favorable recommendation on H.B. 19, ELECTRIC VEHICLE BATTERY CHARGING SERVICE AMENDMENTS, by Representative P. Arent, with the following amendments:

1. Page 1, Lines 14 through 16:

14 This bill:

15 ► provides that the ~~{-definition-}~~ definitions of “electrical corporation” and “public utility” ~~{-does-}~~ do not include certain entities that 16 sell electric vehicle battery charging services.

2. Page 2, Line 54 through Page 3, Line 66:

54 (7) (a) “Electrical corporation” includes every 55 corporation, cooperative association, and 56 person, their lessees, trustees, and receivers, owning, controlling, 57 operating, or managing any
58 electric plant, or in any way furnishing electric power for public 59 service or to its consumers or 60 members for domestic, commercial, or industrial use, within this 61 state, except independent
62 energy producers, and except where electricity is generated on or 63 distributed by the producer
64 solely for the producer’s own use, or the use of the producer’s 65 tenants, or for the use of 66 members of an association of unit owners formed under Title 57,
Chapter 8, Condominium Ownership Act, and not for sale to the public generally, and except where the electricity generated is consumed by an owner, lessor, or interest holder, or by an affiliate of an owner, lessor, or interest holder, who has provided at least $25,000,000 in value, including credit support, relating to the electric plant furnishing the electricity and whose consumption does not exceed its long-term entitlement in the plant under a long-term arrangement other than a power purchase agreement, except a power purchase agreement with an electrical corporation.

(b) “Electrical corporation” does not include an entity that sells electric vehicle battery charging services, unless the entity conducts another activity in the state that subjects the entity to the jurisdiction and regulation of the commission as an electrical corporation. ; and

3. Page 2, Line 33 through Page 3, Line 84:

33 {~~Section 1. Section 53A-17a-105 is amended to read:~~

34 ~~53A-17a-105. Powers and duties of State Board of Education to adjust Minimum~~

35 ~~School Program allocations.~~

36 ~~(1) Except as provided in Subsection (2) or (4), if the number of weighted pupil units~~

37 ~~in a program is underestimated, the State Board of Education shall reduce the value of the~~

38 ~~weighted pupil unit in that program so that the total amount paid for the program does not~~

39 ~~exceed the amount appropriated for the program.~~

40 ~~(2) If the number of weighted pupil units in a program is overestimated, the State~~

41 ~~Board of Education shall spend excess money appropriated for the following purposes giving~~

42 ~~priority to the purpose described in Subsection (2)(a):~~

43 ~~(a) to support the value of the weighted pupil unit in a program within the basic~~

44 ~~state-supported school program in which the number of weighted pupil units is underestimated;~~

45 ~~(b) to support the state guarantee per weighted pupil unit provided under the voted~~

board local levy program~~

47 ~~established in Section 53A-17a-164, if:~~

48 ~~(i) local contributions to the voted local levy program or board local levy program are~~

49 ~~overestimated; or~~

50 (ii) the number of weighted pupil units within school districts qualifying for a

51 guarantee is underestimated;

52 (c) to support the state supplement to local property taxes allocated to charter schools,

53 if the state supplement is less than the amount prescribed by Subsection 53A-1a-513(4); or

54 (d) to support a school district with a loss in student enrollment as provided in Section

55 53A-17a-139.

56 (3) If local contributions from the minimum basic tax rate
imposed under Section

57 53A-17a-135 are overestimated, the State Board of Education shall reduce the value of the 58 weighted pupil unit for all programs within the basic state-supported school program so the

59 total state contribution to the basic state-supported school program does not exceed the amount

60 of state funds appropriated.

61 (4) If local contributions from the minimum basic tax rate
imposed under Section

62 53A-17a-135 are underestimated, the State Board of Education shall:

63 (a) spend the excess local contributions for the purposes specified in Subsection (2), 64 giving priority to supporting the value of the weighted pupil unit in programs within the basic

65 state-supported school program in which the number of weighted pupil units is underestimated;

66 and

67 (b) reduce the state contribution to the basic state-supported school program so the

68 total cost of the basic state-supported school program does not exceed the total state and local

69 funds appropriated to the basic state-supported school program plus the local contributions

70 necessary to support the value of the weighted pupil unit in programs within the basic 71 state-supported school program in which the number of weighted pupil units is underestimated.

72 (5) Except as provided in Subsection (2) or (4), the State Board of Education shall

73 reduce the guarantee per weighted pupil unit provided under the voted local levy program

74 established in Section 53A-17a-133 or board local levy program established in Section

75 53A-17a-164, if:

76 (a) local contributions to the voted local levy program or board local levy program are

77 overestimated; or

78 (b) the number of weighted pupil units within school districts qualifying for a

79 guarantee is underestimated.

80 (6) ~~[Money] Except as provided in Subsection 53A-21-602(4), money appropriated to~~

Section 2. Coordinating H.B. 147 and H.B. 149 -- Substantive amendments.

If this H.B. 147 and H.B. 149, Amendments to Law Enforcement Limitations, both pass and become law, the Legislature intends that the Office of Legislative Research and General Counsel, in preparing the Utah Code database for publication, do the following:

(1) Amend Subsection 53-13-106(1)(d)(ii) to read:

“(ii) Federal agencies and federal employees may exercise law enforcement authority related to misdemeanor and felony offenses under Utah law only as established by an agreement as provided in Subsection (1)(d)(iii) and as provided in Section 53-13-106.9 or pursuant to Section 53-13-106.7 . This Subsection (1)~~(b)~~(d)(ii) takes precedence over Subsection (2).”

(2) Amend Subsection 53-13-106(1)(d)(iii) to read:

“(iii) {~~County~~} Consistent with Section 53-13-106.9, county sheriffs may enter into agreements with federal agencies that allow concurrent authority to enforce federal laws and state and local laws, provided that:

SPECIAL PRESENTATION FROM THE HOUSE SPECIAL INVESTIGATIVE COMMITTEE

Representative James A. Dunnigan and the House Special Investigative Committee members presented the committee's report from the investigation of former Utah Attorney General John Swallow to Speaker Lockhart and to the House of Representatives.

On motion of Representative Dee, the House voted to print Representative Dunnigan's remarks in the House Journal.

REMARKS OF REPRESENTATIVE JAMES A. DUNNIGAN

Thank you, Madame Speaker. With your consent, I'd like to ask the members of the Special Investigative Committee to come forward and stand in the well of the House: Representative Dee, Representative Seelig, Representative Perry, Representative Chavez-Houck, Representative Gibson, Representative Hemingway, Representative McKell, and Representative Duckworth.

Members of the House, on Wednesday July 3, 2013, this body passed a House Resolution creating and authorizing the Speaker to appoint members to a House Special Investigative Committee. In the resolution creating the Committee, you directed us to:

1. investigate allegations of misconduct against John Swallow, then Utah's attorney general;

2. investigate matters related to the then–attorney general that arose as part of the investigation; and

3. report to the House findings of fact about the matters investigated and the need, if any, for legislation.

After the Speaker appointed committee members, the Committee held its first meeting on August 6, 2013. After a nationwide search, the Committee contracted with the New York City based law firm of Akin Gump Strauss Hauer & Feld to provide legal assistance to the committee and with the Mintz Group of New York City and Lindquist and Associates of Salt Lake City to provide private investigator services to the committee.

The Committee’s work began in earnest in mid–August of 2013. During the course of the investigation, the Committee’s staff conducted 165 witness interviews and subpoenaed, obtained, reviewed, and analyzed tens of thousands of pages of documents.

Then–attorney general Swallow announced his resignation on November 21, 2013. After Mr. Swallow’s resignation, the committee largely ceased its active investigation, focusing instead on tying up loose ends and preparing the Committee’s final report.

The final report provides to the House a comprehensive record of the results of the House Special Investigative Committee’s investigation. The Report itself is over 200 pages long, including the executive summary. Attached to the Report are appendices containing 3700 pages of exhibits, shown behind me, which provide support for the Committee’s findings that are contained in the Report.

Besides the executive summary and a brief procedural history of the committee, the Report contains four sections. The first section describes a pattern of behavior by Mr. Swallow to benefit himself, his friends, and his political supporters. This section includes information about Mr. Swallow’s relationship with Jeremy Johnson; his involvement with the Payday Lending industry; his efforts to hide or launder campaign contributions received from that industry; and his efforts to assist, and then to hide his assistance to, Timothy and Jennifer Bell, who were challenging the foreclosure of their home by Bank of America.

The second section details Mr. Swallow’s efforts to fabricate and eliminate evidence relating to possible misdeeds and to impede any investigations into his conduct. The third section identifies other issues investigated by the Committee. The fourth section provides suggestions to the House and the Legislature for the study of possible changes to Utah law. Also, available electronically is a time line of events that helps to provide an overview.

Madame Speaker, at the time Mr. Swallow resigned, the Committee was in the middle of its investigation. Subpoenas were pending that would have obtained information from persons involved with the Payday Lending Industry and with persons involved in running, organizing, administering John Swallow's campaign and the entities directly and indirectly affiliated with it. We were seeking the opportunity to interview other witnesses who had relevant information and we had intended to subpoena additional persons and entities. Because of Mr. Swallow's resignation, and the substantial additional costs that the Committee would have incurred if had continued its investigation, the Committee chose to end its investigation and prepare and produce this final report.

As most of you know, other parties are investigating matters involving Mr. Swallow and his associates. During the course of the Committee's investigation, the Committee and its staff worked closely with those other investigations. Although the House Special Investigative Committee has completed its work, it has shared the information it gathered and the leads it generated with those other investigations.

The Committee's responsibility was a grave one. The allegations against then-Attorney General Swallow were serious. Throughout our investigation, we strove to be fair, to keep an open mind, and to follow the evidence where it led us. We believe that the Committee's work was a substantial contributing factor in Mr. Swallow's decision to resign his position as attorney general. It is also our hope that the information uncovered by our investigation will provide a foundation and guidance to other investigators. We thank our staff for their comprehensive and thorough work.

Madame Speaker, the House Special Investigative Committee has completed its work. We are honored by the trust that you and the House placed in us, and the support that you provided to us throughout our investigation. On behalf of all of the Committee members, we present you with the Committee's unanimous final report.

Following Representative Dunnigan's remarks, Speaker Lockhart made comments.

INTENT LANGUAGE TO 9TH SUB. H.B. 105

On motion of Representative Froerer, the House voted to adopt the following intent language and print it in the House Journal:

“It is the intent of the Legislature that H.B. 105, Plant Extract Amendments, will be known as “Charlee’s Law,” in honor of Charlee Nelson, a six-year-old girl from Utah who suffers from Batten Disease, a rare neurological disorder that leads to seizures, mental impairment, blindness, loss of bodily control, and, tragically, death. The hemp extract that Charlee’s Law allows Utah parents to administer to their children might have helped improve Charlee’s quality of life and prolong her time with her parents, Jeff and Catrina Nelson. The Legislature dedicates Charlee’s law to Charlee, her family, and all of the sick Utah children searching for a cure.”

307 {—Section 10. Section 53B–2a–106 is amended to read:

308 53B–2a–106. College campuses — Duties.

309 (1) Each Utah College of Applied Technology college campus shall, within the 310 geographic area served by the college campus:

311 (a) offer a non-credit post-secondary and secondary career and technical education

312 curriculum;

313 (b) offer that curriculum at:

314 (i) low-cost to adult students, as approved by the board of trustees; and

315 (ii) no tuition to secondary students;

316 (c) provide career and technical education that will result in:

317 (i) appropriate licensing, certification, or other evidence of completion of training; and

318 (ii) qualification for specific employment, with an emphasis on high-demand, high

319 wage, and high skill jobs in business and industry;

320 (d) develop cooperative agreements with school districts, charter schools, other higher

321 education institutions, businesses, industries, and community and private agencies to maximize

322 the availability of instructional facilities within the geographic area served by the college

323 campus; and

324 (e) after consulting with school districts and charter schools within the geographic area

325 served by the college campus:

326 (i) ensure that secondary students in the public education system have access to career

327 and technical education at each college campus; and

328 (ii) prepare and submit an annual report to the Utah College of Applied Technology

329 detailing:

330 (A) how the career and technical education needs of secondary students within the

331 region are being met;

332 (B) what access secondary students within the region have to programs offered at

333 college campuses;

334 (C) how the emphasis on high demand, high wage, high skill jobs in business and

335 industry described in Subsection (1)(c)(ii) is being provided; and 336 (D) student tuition and fees.

337 (2) A college campus may offer:

338 (a) a competency-based high school diploma approved by the State Board of Education

339 in accordance with Section 53A-1-402;

340 (b) non-credit, basic instruction in areas such as reading, language arts, and

341 mathematics that are necessary for student success in a chosen career and technical education

342 or job-related program; [and]

343 (c) non-credit courses of interest when similar offerings to the community are limited

344 and courses are financially self-supporting[.]; and

345 (d) secondary school level courses through the Statewide Online Education Program

346 created in Title 53A, Chapter 15, Part 12, Statewide Online Education Program Act.

347 (3) [A] Except as provided in Subsection (2)(d), a college campus may not:

348 (a) offer courses other than non-credit career and technical education or the non-credit,

349 basic instruction described in Subsections (2)(b) and (c);

350 (b) offer a degree;

351 (c) offer career and technical education or basic instruction outside the geographic area

352 served by the college campus without a cooperative agreement between an affected institution;

353 except as provided in Subsection (6);

354 (d) provide tenure or academic rank for its instructors; and 355 (e) participate in intercollegiate athletics.

356 (4) The mission of a college campus is limited to non-credit career and technical

357 education and may not expand to include credit-based academic programs typically offered by 358 community colleges or other institutions of higher education.

359 (5) A campus shall be recognized as a college campus of the Utah College of Applied

360 Technology, and regional affiliation shall be retained and recognized through local

361 designations such as "Bridgerland Applied Technology College: A
Utah College of Applied

362 Technology Campus."

363 (6) (a) A college campus may offer career and technical education or basic instruction

364 outside the geographic area served by the college campus without a cooperative agreement, as 365 required in Subsection (3)(c), if:

366 (i) the career and technical education or basic instruction is specifically requested by:

367 (A) an employer; or

368 (B) a craft, trade, or apprenticeship program;

369 (ii) the college campus notifies the affected institution about the request; and

370 (iii) the affected institution is given an opportunity to make a 371 proposal, prior to any
 372 contract being finalized or training being initiated by the college
 373 campus, to the employer,
 374 craft, trade, or apprenticeship program about offering the requested
 375 career and technical
 376 education or basic instruction, provided that the proposal shall be 377 presented no later than one
 378 business week from the delivery of the notice described under 379 Subsection (6)(b).
 380 (b) The requirements under Subsection (6)(a)(iii) do not apply if 381 there is a prior
 382 training relationship.
 383 Section 11. Section 53B-16-108 is enacted to read:
 384 53B-16-108. Courses offered through the Statewide Online
 385 Education Program.
 386 An institution of higher education listed in Section 53B-2-101
 387 may offer secondary 388 school level courses or concurrent enrollment courses through the 389 Statewide Online Education
 390 Program created in Title 53A, Chapter 15, Part 12, Statewide 391 Online Education Program Act. }

MISCELLANEOUS BUSINESS

On motion of Representative Dee, the House voted to strike the enacting clause on all Senate and House bills and resolutions remaining on the House and Senate calendars and with the House Rules Committee.

On motion of Representative Dee, the House authorized the Speaker to appoint a committee to wait upon the Governor and inform him that the House of Representatives has finished its business and is prepared to adjourn sine die. Speaker Lockhart appointed Representatives Nielson, Westwood, and Romero.

On motion of Representative Seelig, the House authorized the Speaker to appoint a committee to notify the Senate and inform that Honorable Body that the House of Representatives has completed its business and is prepared to adjourn sine die. Speaker Lockhart appointed Representatives Draxler, Grover, and Cosgrove.

Speaker Lockhart directed Sandy Tenney to read, revise and make minor corrections to the daily House Journals and be responsible for certifying the indexed and bound copy as the accurate record of the proceedings of the 2014 General Session of the Sixtieth Legislature.

Senators Van Tassell, Weiler, and Dabakis formally notified the House of Representatives that the Senate had completed its business and was prepared to adjourn sine die.

Representative Nielson informed the House of Representatives that his committee, with a like committee from the Senate, has notified the Governor that the Legislature has completed its business and is prepared to adjourn sine die.

Representative Draxler informed the House of Representatives that his committee has waited upon the Senate and informed them that the House of Representatives has completed its business and is prepared to adjourn sine die.

Governor Gary R. Herbert addressed the House of Representatives.

On motion of Representative Dee, and at 12:20 a.m., the 2014 General Session of the Sixtieth Legislature adjourned sine die.

RESIGNATION LETTER

Dear Speaker Lockhart:

March 16, 2014

It has been an absolute honor to represent and serve my friends in District 7 in the Utah House of Representatives. Ironically, two of the most difficult decisions of my life have been first, to run, and now, to leave. I have often joked that public service should be more like "Jury Duty." - That every qualified citizen should have the opportunity - even the obligation-to serve wherever they can; and then, to hand the reigns over. I respectfully resign my position as State Representative for District 7, effective Sunday, March 16, 2014. Thank you again, for your leadership and friendship. I will never forget the experiences and lessons of the past six years. More than any other factor, the opportunity to get to know and work with you, our amazing staff and colleagues, has been, and will continue to be one of the greatest blessings of my life.

Best Regards,
Representative Ryan D. Wilcox
Utah House of Representatives
District 7, Weber County
