THE CHURCH OF JESUS CHRIST OF LATTER–DAY SAINTS

Our Father in Heaven,

At the beginning of this 2001 Legislative Session of the Utah State House of Representatives, we come to Thee in gratitude for the privilege of self–government, for the constitution of this state and of this nation, and for the privilege of serving fellow citizens in this important exercise in self–government. Father, we pray that the members of this assembly will be ever mindful of the responsibilities they have to all of the people of this state. We pray that Thou wilt bless them in their deliberations that they may be open to hear the voices of all and that they may be guided to make the decisions that are appropriate under the constitution of this state and in responsibility to the citizens who have sent their representatives to participate in this legislative branch of government.

We pray for each representative, for their spouses, for their children, and for their activities of a professional and of an occupational nature which they have left to give service to the state. Wilt Thou bless them with good health and with judgement. Watch over them and bless them that this effort may be fruitful and unified, harmonious and wise for the benefit of all who await upon the actions of this assembly. We pray for these blessings and thank Thee for all that we have, as our creator. In the name of Jesus Christ. Amen

Former Speaker Karras administered the oath of office to Speaker Martin R. Stephens.

REMARKS BY SPEAKER MARTIN R. STEPHENS

Let me start out with a personal note if I might. Two years ago, when I was sworn in as Speaker for the first time my parents were unable to be here. They were in Kiev, Ukraine, serving as missionaries. My parents have been a great influence in my life, and I'm happy to have them here with us today.

Saturday, they invited me up to their home and presented me with this gavel. My father made this out of the limb of an old English Walnut tree that I used to play in as a child. My children have spent hours swinging in a home-made swing in that same tree and soon their children will too. I hope each of you will take the chance to come up as you have time and take a look at it. The imperfections, knots, and changes in coloration combine to make a beautiful tool. I will use this with pride.

Well, here we are, elected by our family, friends, neighbors, and fellow citizens to represent them in the Utah State Legislature. It is a sobering responsibility. We, by virtue of our office, become the stewards of the freedoms of the citizens of this state. We will decide, in this great chamber, whether bills of greater freedom and individual responsibility will be our legacy, or rather, whether bills of incremental encroachment into the Constitutionally guaranteed freedoms of our citizens will be the product of our deliberations.

What is our charge? What is our responsibility? We have a guide, that it seems we too often forget to use. On this holiday which celebrates the great struggles for civil rights which have taken place since our nations inception, we need to remember that the Constitution of the United States and the Utah State Constitution were established to be our guidebooks on government. It is these two great documents that we should look to for guidance in our responsibilities as legislators.

I have asked that we each be provided with a copy of the Utah State Constitution. You should find it on your desk. Please join me in opening this great document to the preamble, and follow along with me.

“Grateful to Almighty God for life and liberty, we, the people of Utah, in order to secure and perpetuate the principles of free government, do ordain and establish this CONSTITUTION.”

The purpose of our forefathers establishing this Constitution was to “secure and perpetuate the principles of free government.”

That is our charge today. As we consider legislation this session I hope we will apply this standard to every bill that comes before us: Does it help, “secure and perpetuate the principles of free government?” If the bill does not meet this standard, then the bill should be rejected. We are the guardians of freedom in this state, in the making of laws. We are, as the House motto above me says: “VOX POPULI” The Voice of the People.

How can we best carry out that charge? I would like to briefly mention three traits that I think every outstanding legislator that I have known has shared.

1. They trust the People.

It is very tempting with the power we have as lawmakers to try to make everything alright. As we are petitioned by individuals, or as we see inequities in our society, we, through our compassion, or because of continual petitions, have a natural desire to help. And help we should, but not generally by the use of governmental force. We have to have the self restraint and understanding to use our authority prudently, but in a very limited way.

Government cannot usually cure societies ills. In fact, many times government makes societal problems worse as it involves itself in the lives of its citizens. Sometimes the most difficult decisions the legislature makes is to do nothing, or, to encourage — instead of force.

As we attempt to expand upon the powers of government, by necessity we diminish the power of the people. No two groups can hold power concurrently. Thus, every expansion of the role of government for some perceived societal good, by definition actually reduces the power of the people. This is a trade which should seldom be considered. We need to weigh the long term affects of our actions as we debate “so called” minor pieces of legislation in this body.

President Andrew Jackson in his valedictory address put it this way: “It is well known that there have always been those amongst us who wish to enlarge the powers of the General Government; and experience would seem to indicate that there is a tendency on the part of this government to overstep the boundaries marked out for it by the Constitution. Every attempt to exercise power beyond these limits should be promptly and firmly opposed...”

We see governments attempting to provide more and more services – even services which have been previously, or are currently, being provided by the private sector in the name of saving people money, or helping people. Governments providing services do not generally save anyone money. It takes more land and property out of the private sector, increases government’s controls over the lives of its citizens, takes more choices and decisions out of its citizen’s hands and generally reduces their freedoms.

Thomas Jefferson said; “If we can prevent the government from wasting the labors of the people, under the pretense of taking care of them, they must become happy.” Another leader said; “This trend to a welfare state in which people look to and worship government more than their God, is certain to sap the individual ambitions and moral fiber of our youth unless they are warned and re–warned of the consequences. History, of course, is replete with the downfall of nations who, instead of assuming their own responsibility for their religious and economic welfare, mistakenly attempted to shift their individual responsibility to government.” We must trust more in our people.

2. They display a minimal interest in partisanship.

It is important that every issue discussed during our tenure here in the House receive thorough and well reasoned consideration. But, partisanship simply to create issues, or to distort for political advantage, another's positions should have no place in this body. Let me quote from George Washington's farewell address on this subject:

"Let me now take a more comprehensive view, and warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of party generally. This spirit, unfortunately, is inseparable from our nature, having its root in the strongest passions of the human mind. It exists under different shapes in all governments, more or less stifled, controlled, or repressed; but in those of the popular form it is seen in its greatest rankness and is truly their worst enemy.

"It serves always to distract the public councils and enfeeble the public administration. It agitates the community with ill-founded jealousies and false alarms; kindles the animosity of one part against another...

"There is an opinion that parties in free countries are useful checks upon the administration of government, and serve to keep alive the spirit of liberty. This within certain limits is probably true... But... in governments purely elective, it is a spirit not to be encouraged. From their natural tendency it is certain there will always be enough of that spirit for every salutary purpose; and there being constant danger of excess, the effort ought to be by force of public opinion to mitigate and assuage it. A fire not to be quenched, it demands a uniform vigilance to prevent its bursting into a flame, lest, instead of warming, it should consume." [end quote]

Let us work together, across party divisions for the betterment of this great state. Let that be a legacy of this legislature.

3. They value integrity above all else.

Legislators who are remembered for good have been known for their integrity.

Although we do not think about it now, our days of service in the legislature are numbered. There will come a time when each of us will walk away from this body, and turn the powers of the office over to our successors. What will we take with us? What will be our legacy?

Whether our bills pass or fail, whether we are Democrats or Republicans, the one thing we can always take with us is our integrity. People cannot take our integrity from us. If it is to be lost, we must give it away. Many times we cannot control whether we win or lose, but we can always control our own actions.

In a biography of Mother Teresa she says on this point when asked by a United States Senator; "Mother Teresa, Don't you get discouraged when you can see the magnitude of the poverty and realize how little you can really do?" She replied; "God has not called me to be successful, God has called me to be faithful."

The citizens of this state have elected us to be faithful to the principles we espouse. Whether we win or lose in the minor skirmishes up here is not nearly as important as if we are faithful to our principles.

Samuel Adams said this; "We may look up to armies for our defense, but virtue is our best security. It is not possible that any state should long remain free, where virtue is not supremely honored."

May this be known as a House of integrity and honor.

These three traits are as important today as they have always been. It is my hope, that this legislature will consider these lasting traits of honorable legislators who have gone before to be our creed.

Let me close my remarks with one additional quote again from President Andrew Jackson's valedictory address which seems particularly appropriate today:

"You have the highest of human trusts committed to your care. Providence has showered on this favored land blessings without number and has chosen you as the guardians of freedom to preserve it for the benefit of the human race. May He... enable you, with pure hearts and pure hands and sleepless vigilance, to guard and defend to the end of time the great charge He has committed to your keeping..."

Let it be said of this legislature that they were men and women who trusted in the great people of this state, and worked together to protect their freedoms.

Let it be said of this legislature that order prevailed; that the great issues of our day were discussed and debated with fervor and candor, yet in kindness. That partisanship for its own sake was absent. That a new spirit of working together to solve the problems of this state was the legacy of this legislature.

And finally, let it be said of this legislature that they were men and women of integrity as they worked to "secure and perpetuate the principles of free government." for the citizens of this great state is my humble prayer.

Thank you.

(ii) the use or effect, in any other setting, of:

(A) an initial division finding or substantiation of child abuse or neglect at the completion of an investigation for any purpose other than for notification under Subsection (1)(b); or

(B) the term "substantiated" as used in any other provision of the code.

(2) The notice shall state:

(a) that the division conducted an investigation;

(b) that the division found, at the conclusion of the investigation, that there was, in the opinion of the division, a reasonable basis to conclude that abuse or neglect occurred;

(c) the facts that support the finding;

(d) that the person may be disqualified from adopting a child or working for or being licensed by:

(i) the department;

(ii) a human services licensee;

(iii) a child care provider or program; and

(iv) a covered health care facility;

(e) that the person has the right to request:

(i) a copy of the report; and

(ii) an opportunity to challenge the finding and its inclusion on the licensing part of the management information system described in Subsection 62A-4a-116(5), except as provided in Subsection (5)(b);

and

(f) that failure to request an opportunity to challenge the finding within 30 days of the notice being received will result in an unappealable finding of substantiation of child abuse or neglect, unless the person can show good cause for why compliance within the 30-day requirement was virtually impossible or unreasonably burdensome.

(3) (a) A person may make a request to challenge a finding within 30 days of:

(i) a notice being received under Subsection (2);

(ii) a finding by a court of competent jurisdiction based on the same underlying facts that:

(A) child abuse or neglect, as described in Subsection 62A-4a-116(5)(b), did not occur; or

(B) the person was not responsible for the child abuse or neglect that did occur; or

(iii) the dismissal of criminal charges or a verdict of not guilty based on the same underlying facts.

(b) The 30-day requirement of Subsection (3)(a) shall be extended for good cause shown that compliance was virtually impossible or unreasonably burdensome.

(c) The division may approve or deny a request made under Subsection (3)(a).

(d) If the division denies the request or fails to act within 30 days after receiving a request submitted under Subsection (3)(a), the Office of Administrative Hearings shall hold an adjudicative proceeding pursuant to Title 63, Chapter 46b, Administrative Procedures Act.

(4) (a) In an adjudicative proceeding held pursuant to Subsection (3)(d), the division shall prove by a preponderance of the evidence that there is a reasonable basis to conclude that:

(i) child abuse or neglect, as described in Subsection 62A-4a-116(5)(b), occurred; and

(ii) the person was substantially responsible for the abuse or neglect that occurred.

(b) The administrative hearing officer may make a determination of substantiation based solely on the out-of-court statement of the child that the officer finds to be reliable under the standards set forth in:

(i) Section 76-5-411;

(ii) Utah Rules of Criminal Procedure, Rule 15.5;

(iii) Section 78-3a-116(5);

(iv) the Utah Rules of Evidence; or

(v) Utah case law.

(5) (a) [A] Except as provided in Subsection (5)(b), a person may not make a request to challenge a finding under Subsection (3)(a), if, at anytime, a court of competent jurisdiction has made a determination based on the same underlying facts that:

(i) child abuse or neglect, as described in Subsection 62A-4a-116(5)(b), occurred;

(ii) the person was substantially responsible for the abuse or neglect that occurred; and

(iii) the person:

(A) was a party to the proceeding; or

(B) (I) had notice of the proceeding; and

(II) was provided a meaningful opportunity to challenge the facts underlying the court's determination.

(b) The division shall remove a persons name from the database unless the division provides new notice under Subsection (1)(a) and an opportunity to be heard under Subsection (3)(a) when the court of competent jurisdiction:

(i) enters a finding of not guilty;

(ii) dismisses the information or indictment after compliance with the requirements of a diversion agreement under Section 77-2-6; or

(iii) dismisses the case or withdraws a plea under Section 77-2a-3 after the completion of a plea in abeyance agreement for a plea of no contest.

[~~(b)~~] (c) An adjudicative proceeding held pursuant to Subsection (4) may be stayed during the time a judicial action is pending.

(6) Nothing in this section may affect the inclusion or exclusion of a report or finding of child abuse or neglect from or access by the division, its caseworkers, and child protective services workers to that part of the management information system used for purposes of child welfare cases and child protective services as described in Subsections 62A-4a-116(2) and (3).

(7) By December 31, 1998, the division shall provide notice to each person with a finding of abuse or neglect since January 1, 1994.

(8) A person who, after receiving notice, fails to challenge a finding of child abuse or neglect may request the opportunity to challenge the finding under this section:

(a) if since the time that the person received notice, state law has been amended to permit a broader use of or access to information on the licensing part of the management information system; and

(b) before the finding may be used against the person in connection with the broader use or access.”

SPEECH BY GEORGE WASHINGTON
(PORTRAYED BY RUEL HAYMOND)

Good morning, Mr. Speaker. Representatives and fellow Americans. I'm going to share an excerpt from my farewell address given in 1796.

“Of all the dispositions and habits which lead to political prosperity, religion and morality are indispensable supports. In vain would that man claim the tribute of patriotism who should labor to subvert these great pillars of human happiness these finest props of the duties of men and citizens. The mere politician, equally with the pious man, ought to respect and cherish them. A volume could not trace all their connections with private and public felicity. Let it simply be asked, “where is the security for property, for reputation, for life, if the sense of religious obligation desert the oaths which are the instruments of investigation in courts of justice?” And let us with caution indulge the supposition that morality can be maintained without religious principle. Whatever may be conceded to the influence of refined education on the minds of peculiar structure, reason and experience forbid us to expect that national morality can prevail in exclusion of religious principle.

It is substantially true that virtue or morality is a necessary spring of popular government. The rule indeed extends with more or less force to every species of free government. Whoever is a sincere friend to it cannot with indifference look upon attempts to shake the foundation of the fabric?”

Representatives, in this day and age the foundation of the fabric is shaking. And as I have said, religion and morality, a volume could not trace all of their connections with private and public felicity. If we neglect these principles, then a volume could not trace this negligence to all the private and public misery that will exist.

May we embrace these principles. May we love these principles. And may we live these principles.

Thank you, and good day.”

SPEECH BY ABRAHAM LINCOLN
(PORTRAYED BY MARK BEZZANT)

I'm Abe Lincoln. I bring greetings to you this morning to you in the balcony. Young people, Mr. Speaker, Fellow Representatives, I feel comfortable here in the House.

You know a lot of people don't understand that when I came to Gettysburg I had come to the conclusion that God was punishing us as a nation for the institution of slavery. I came to believe that every drop of blood that was taken with the lash would be taken by the sword until we abolished that evil institution. And when I arrived in Gettysburg November 19, 1863, I remembered something that many of you don't know, and that was the night that I knelt in the Whitehouse.

The war was not going well, I thought it would have ended much earlier, and I knelt in prayer asking God to help us, and the cause of freedom. And while I knelt I remembered the peaceful feeling that came upon my bosom and I knew that it would go all right at Gettysburg. And so when I arrived at the train station the coffins were still stacked high, as they were re-burying the dead. And I remembered that day when I knelt asking for His help. As I stood to speak, the President of Harvard, President Everett, had spoken for two hours, I took from my pocket a piece of paper upon which I had made some notations and said the following:

“Four score and seven years ago our fathers brought forth upon this continent, a new nation, conceived in Liberty, and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal.

Now we are engaged in a great civil war, testing whether that nation, or any nation so conceived and so dedicated, can long endure. We are met on a great battle-field of that war. We have come to dedicate a portion of that field, as a final resting place for those who here gave their lives that this nation might live. It is altogether fitting and proper that we should do this.

But, in a larger sense, we can not dedicate — we can not consecrate — we can not hallow this ground. The brave men, living and dead, who struggled here, have consecrated it, far above our poor power to add or detract. The world will little note, nor long remember what is said here, but it can never forget what they did here. It is for us the living, rather, to be dedicated here to the unfinished work for which they who fought here and for which they so nobly advanced. It is rather for us to be dedicated to the great task remaining before us that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to that cause for which they gave their last full measure that this nation, of the people, by the people, and for the people, shall not perish from the earth.

Thank you, and God bless all of you.”

JOINT CONFERENCE COMMITTEE REPORT

Mr. Speaker: February 27, 2001

The Joint Conference Committee comprised of Senators Valentine, Hillyard, and Hale, and Representatives Alexander, Snow, and Goodfellow, recommends H.B. 1, APPROPRIATIONS ACT, by Representative J. Alexander, with the following amendments:

1. Include all the House amendments on Pages 57, 61, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 74, 76, 79, 81, and 84 of the Lilac Copy dated 2–26–2001.

2. Include the following amendment:

After Line 3077 insert “It is further the intent of the Legislature that the State Board of Regents may add a tuition surcharge not greater than 4 percent of the current year tuition at the University of Utah, Utah State University – Logan Campus only, Weber State University, and Southern Utah University for the 2001–02 academic year. It is further the intent of the Legislature that the State Board of Regents may add a tuition surcharge not greater than 7 percent of the current year tuition at Utah Valley State College for the 2001–02 academic year. These tuition surcharges at each of these institutions must be based on demonstrated critical institutional needs. It is the intent of the Legislature that any tuition surcharge increase not be across the board but be based on a differential system reflecting the cost of providing for the type of degree sought by the student. These tuition surcharges shall be ongoing, collected and retained by the institution as dedicated credits and used to fund critical institutional needs. If a surcharge is imposed, the amount collected and the use of the surcharge shall be reported to the Higher Education Appropriations Subcommittee during the 2001 interim.

As required by Utah Code Ann. Section 53B-7-101, the State Board of Regents shall 'recommend to each session of the Legislature the minimum tuitions, resident and nonresident, for each institution which it considers necessary to implement the budget recommendations.' It is the intent of the Legislature that tuition increases beyond those authorized by this intent, be brought to the Higher Education Appropriations Subcommittee as part of each annual general session before they are implemented."
