DIGEST OF LEGISLATION

2013 GENERAL SESSION

of the 60th Legislature

2012 Fourth Special Session

of the 59th Legislature

INTRODUCTION

This Digest of Legislation provides long titles of bills and resolutions enacted by the 60th Legislature in the 2013 General Session and the 2012 Fourth Special Session. The digest lists the sponsor, sections of the Utah Code affected, effective date, session law chapter number for each bill enacted, and whether the bill was studied and approved by an interim committee (in italics). Bills and resolutions not passed are indexed by subject. Statistical summary data are also included.

An electronic version of this year's publication, the complete bill text and a subject, numerical, and sponsor index for all bills introduced each session can be found online at <http://le.utah.gov>.

If more detailed information is needed, please contact the Office of Legislative Research and General Counsel at (801) 538-1032.

Governor's Veto Message

Dear Speaker Lockhart and President Niederhauser:

March 22, 2013

I am returning House Bill 76S1, Concealed Weapon Carry Amendments, to the House of Representatives and, as required by Utah Constitution Article VII, Section 8, providing you with my reasons for disapproving the bill.

The right to bear arms, found in both the Second Amendment of the United States Constitution and Article 1 Section 6 of the Utah Constitution, is a fundamental right which must be jealously protected. As Justice Scalia stated in District of Columbia v. Heller, “[L]ike most rights, the right secured by the Second Amendment is not unlimited.” The Utah Constitution underscores this point by specifically providing that “nothing herein shall prevent the Legislature from defining the lawful use of arms.” Nevertheless, I believe that even narrow restrictions on the rights secured by the Second Amendment and the Utah Constitution need to be examined carefully to ensure they do not impermissibly interfere with or burden our rights. HB 76S1 does not, however, impose a restriction on the right to bear arms. Rather, it removes an existing provision of Utah law that those who carry a concealed weapon obtain a permit. Utah’s permitting system has been in place for decades, and in its current form for more than 15 years. In that time, it has become a national model.

As a gun owner and concealed firearm permit holder, I understand the value of the permit, both to firearm owners and to the public at large. I remember the class I was required to take prior to receiving my permit. In that class, we reviewed Utah’s firearm laws. The training explained under what circumstances a weapon may be drawn in self-defense under Utah law. The instructor also discussed where a concealed firearm can and cannot be carried and we reviewed best practices for loading, transporting, and storing firearms. Both gun owners and the people of Utah benefit by having concealed firearm carriers receive and understand this information prior to receiving a permit. As a State, we must exercise extreme care that we not impose undue burdens on the right to bear arms, but I have yet to receive any credible evidence that Utah’s current permit process constitutes a hardship. Indeed, there are currently more than 430,000 holders of a Utah concealed firearm permit both inside and outside the State.

In addition to ensuring that concealed firearm permit holders receive a basic understanding of Utah firearm law, Utah’s permit system prevents people who have been convicted of certain crimes from lawfully carrying a concealed weapon, including those who have been convicted of a violent crime. A permit may also be denied or revoked if a person has demonstrated they are a danger to themselves or others through a pattern of behavior involving unlawful violence or threats of violence. Utah has been, and will continue to be, well served by the screen function of its concealed firearm permit system.

Since HB76S1's passage. I have received dozens of letters from law enforcement agencies opposing the bill. From Logan to St. George, and from Price to Clearfield City, Chiefs of Police have asked for a veto of HB76S1. They see it as "a dramatic change in Utah's concealed carry permitting process that has been fair for the public, public safety, and concealed carry permit holders." I agree with that assessment.

As I followed the debate on this bill, I heard that this legislation is needed because some fear they will be in violation of the law if, because of a sudden gust of wind, their coat temporarily covers their otherwise openly and legally carried firearm. I understand that concern, but am unwilling to discard an entire system that benefits the people of Utah and is supported by law enforcement when there could be a solution more narrowly tailored to address that issue.

For these reasons, I veto House Bill 76S1 and return it to the House of Representatives.

Gary R. Herbert, Governor
