

SCHOOL YEAR 2024 - 2025

PRINCE GEORGE'S COUNTY PUBLIC SCHOOLS

EMPLOYEE CODE OF CONDUCT

www.pgcps.org

Message from Our Superintendent of Schools

Dear Colleagues,

With the start of the 2024-2025 school year, it is imperative that all Prince George's County Public Schools (PGCPS) employees work towards creating a safe and culturally responsive environment in which every student, in every grade, is respected and receives rigorous, engaging and relevant educational experiences, and that all employees engage in continuous learning and development and are committed to educational excellence and excellence in equity.

During times such as these, when conditions are ever-evolving, the primary strategy for school districts to endure and succeed is to ensure a clear vision, an aligned mission, and that all staff shares the responsibility of operating in a manner that builds upon our core values.

Our work must be guided by a deep commitment of making sure our students are a priority and that they can achieve at high academic levels and graduate prepared for college and careers. All staff share the responsibility for student success and for meeting high expectations that inspire outstanding performance.

In 2016, the Student Safety Task Force, in accordance with Education Article 6-113.1 of the Annotated Code of Maryland, worked with representatives from schools, central office and labor partners to develop an Employee Code of Conduct. Each year since the initial development of the Code revisions and updates have been made based on the development of new policies and administrative procedures and revisions to policies and administrative procedures.

Please take time to review this document. If you have questions, please do not hesitate to contact your labor partner (union) or the Chief Human Resources Officer at chro@pgcps.org. I am confident that clear expectations for behavior and conduct support our commitment to serve the students and families of Prince George's County Public Schools. Thank you for your commitment to PGCPS.

Sincerely,

Millard House II
Superintendent of Schools

VISION

Introduction

Prince George's County Public Schools (PGCPS) is committed to operating in a manner that builds upon our core values: students are our priority and all students can achieve at high academic levels; families, students and educators share the responsibility for student success; high expectations inspire high performance; all staff share the responsibility for a safe and supportive school environment contributing to excellence in education; the support of everyone in our community is essential to the success of our schools and students, and this success enriches our community; and continuous improvement in teaching, leadership and accountability is the key to our destiny.

The Employee Code of Conduct offers a summary of the expectations and standards of conduct that PGCPS expects of employees. In addition, this Code of Conduct provides the disciplinary steps that PGCPS utilizes to address employees' inappropriate behavior or failure to meet our expectations or standards of conduct.

The Employee Code of Conduct applies to all PGCPS employees, both certificated and non-certificated, full- and part-time, as well as substitutes and temporary employees. Many aspects of the Code of Conduct are based on pertinent Board policies, Administrative Procedures, and Negotiated Agreements, as well as state and Federal Laws and Regulations. The Employee Code of Conduct is not intended to replace these resources, but rather to provide a one document summary and reference point of employee expectations and standards of conduct that would be beneficial to all employees.

This Code of Conduct is not a contract, nor does it replace or supersede any Board policy or Administrative Procedure. The Board of Education and the Superintendent of Schools reserve the right to modify or amend any Board policy or administrative procedure at any time. If there is any inconsistency between the contents of the Employee Code of Conduct and any Board policy or Administrative Procedure, the Board policy or administrative procedure will govern.

The Employee Code of Conduct applies to all PGCPS employees ...

Administration of the Employee Code of Conduct

The Employee Code of Conduct provides the framework for the legal and system requirements that govern the expectations regarding PGCPS employee conduct. These requirements include but are not limited to the following:

1. Education Article of the Annotated Code of Maryland and the Code of Maryland Regulations (COMAR) and Other Federal and State Laws

The Education Article and COMAR establish the expectations for teachers, principals, assistant principals and other public school positions, which require a professional certificate from the Maryland Department of Education (MSDE) and provide standards for suspension and dismissal when those certificated employee fail to adhere to the expectations.

Section 6-202 of the Education Article of the Annotated Code of Maryland – certificated employees may be suspended or dismissed for one or more of five different reasons: immorality; misconduct in office including: a knowing failure to report suspected child abuse and neglect in violation of Section 5-704 of the Family Law Article of the Annotated Code of Maryland – insubordination; incompetence; and willful neglect of duty.

If school vehicle drivers and attendants do not adhere to the required expectations, state law disqualifies them from driving and/or employment.

COMAR 13A.06.07.07 – School Vehicle Drivers

COMAR 13A.06.07.08 – School Vehicle Attendants

Additionally, numerous federal and state laws set forth expectations for all public school employees in terms of the security of another's person, property, or reputation; financial and program accountability; reporting child abuse and neglect; confidentiality of student and personnel records; and civil rights and nondiscrimination.

Employees should meet the expected standards of behavior ...

2. Negotiated Collective Bargaining Agreements

PGCPS has negotiated agreements with the following associations:

- Prince George's County Educators' Association (PGCEA Unit I)
- Association of Supervisory and Administrative School Personnel (ASASP Unit II)
- Association of Supervisory and Administrative School Personnel (ASASP Unit III)
- Association of Classified Employees, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees (ACE-AFSCME), AFL-CIO Local 2250
- Service Employees International Union (SEIU) Local 400 PG, CTW-CLC

These negotiated agreements set forth expectations regarding employee conduct, employee due process rights and provisions that recognize that PGCPS may discipline employees for cause. This requirement demonstrates that employees should meet the expected standards of behavior, and failure to do so may constitute cause for employee discipline or dismissal.

3. Board Policies and Administrative Procedures

PGCPS policies and administrative procedures establish the standards and create expectations for employee behavior in a wide variety of areas, including but not limited to: interactions with students, reporting suspected child abuse and neglect, fiscal responsibility, ethical and moral standards, confidentiality, nondiscrimination, etc.

It is the responsibility of all employees to demonstrate behavior that meets the expectations of federal and state laws and regulations, negotiated collective bargaining agreements, and PGCPS policies and administrative procedures. Failure to meet these expectations may result in the use of employee discipline provisions under the collective bargaining agreements, or for certificated employees, the suspension and discharge procedures under Section 6-202 of the Education Article of the Annotated Code of Maryland as appropriate under the circumstances. In some situations, more than one system that governs employees' expectations may be appropriate. Such actions are initiated and determined on a case-by-case basis by PGCPS, subject to grievance and appeal procedures provided by the law, Board policies, administrative procedures, and the negotiated collective bargaining agreements.

INOVA Employee Assistance Program

Finding a balance between personal well-being and work environment responsibilities is important. If you are experiencing problems that may hinder your ability to meet these expectations, please advise your supervisor immediately. Please consider taking advantage of the Inova Employee Assistance Program.

The Inova Employee Assistance Program is a valuable tool to assist in addressing life issues that may adversely impact work. All employees can receive up to four free and confidential counseling sessions for personal and work-related concerns with the Inova Employee Assistance Program.

Expectations for Employee Conduct

PGCPS expects all employees to perform their work with the necessary skill and knowledge; maintain the highest standards of responsible and ethical conduct; and obey all applicable laws, regulations, policies and procedures. Under no circumstance may any employee engage in any of the following activities:

- Immorality
- Misconduct in office (which includes knowingly failing to report suspected child abuse or neglect)
- Insubordination
- Incompetence
- Willful neglect of duty

Whenever employees face a matter that requires a decision concerning their behavior, PGCPS expects them to consider whether it might violate law, regulation, policy or administrative procedure. Just as important, employees should not engage in any action or conduct that threatens the safety of students, fellow employees, or the broader community; undermines the employee's professional integrity; and/or makes them unfit to perform their assigned duties.

The following pages provide specific examples of the behavior that PGCPS expects from all of its employees, as well as inappropriate or disruptive behavior that warrants correction or discipline. An employee's failure to perform expected behaviors, as well as an employee's performance of inappropriate behaviors (including but not limited to the items listed on the following pages), may result in the employee receiving disciplinary action, up to and including suspension or termination.

Employees should not engage in any action or conduct that threatens the safety of students ...

Employees should understand that not all inappropriate or unethical conduct may be specifically referenced in this document. The examples on the following pages are illustrative yet non-exhaustive. Inappropriate conduct that is not listed, however, may warrant disciplinary action. Please note that the standards for employee conduct set forth in the Employee Code of Conduct also apply to e-mail, social media, text messages, message apps, and other electronic communications.

Expected Conduct in the Work Environment

All persons employed by PGCPS including members of the Board of Education are expected to behave honestly; diligently fulfill their job responsibilities; adhere to all federal and state laws and regulations, PGCPS policies and procedures, and ethical standards governing their work; and comply with laws and regulations and PGCPS policies and procedures outside of work, where failure to do so affects their fitness to perform their job.

Expected Conduct in the Virtual Environment with Students

As reflected in Board Policy 4400, employees, independent contractors, and volunteers in the PGCPs are expected to maintain courteous and professional relationships with students. They have a responsibility to provide an atmosphere conducive to learning through the maintenance of physical and emotional boundaries with students. Please note that these standards also apply to e-mail, social media, text messages, message apps, and other electronic communications, including the virtual learning environment.

Examples of Expected Conduct in the Virtual Environment with Students

1. Access Zoom through the Staff Portal to ensure that the PGCPs licensed Zoom account is utilized.
2. Always announce when an instructional session is being recorded.
3. Utilize student video response tools, such as Screencastify and Flipgrid, to allow students to share their response via individual short video recordings.
4. Always video conference from locations where the background is appropriate and the location is quiet.
5. Dress professionally when conducting a virtual instructional session.
6. Inform parents about the plan to utilize break-out rooms.
7. Supervise break-out rooms by popping in and out and observing students' online behavior every 5 minutes.
8. Request written permission for a student to participate in a live one-on-one video/virtual session with you.
9. Provide written notice to the parents/guardians of students receiving IEP or 504 services in a live one-on-one video/virtual session.
10. Document all one-on-one sessions in a log that includes staff name, student name, date, time and reason for the session.

Examples of Inappropriate Conduct in the Virtual Environment

1. Recording student faces and voices, unless when teaching a Performing Arts class or a Career Technology Education (CTE) class or as a record as part of NBCT program requirement and with the appropriate content supervisor/department's permission.
2. Conducting virtual instructional sessions in pajamas inappropriate clothing or non-professional attire or with background visual and auditory distractions or inappropriate backgrounds.
3. Recording break-out rooms.
4. Conducting a live one-on-one virtual/video session without parent/guardian written permission.
5. Conducting one-on-one virtual/video sessions with a student outside of school hours, unless the parent/guardian provide written consent for each session.
6. Posting a link to your instructional Zoom meeting on social media or other public locations.
7. Enabling AI companion features when students are included in a meeting.

Expected Conduct with Colleagues, Parents/Guardians, and the Community

Employees are expected to treat parents/guardians, other employees, and members of the community professionally and respectfully and comply with all nondiscrimination laws and policies in their relationships with other adults.

It is equally critical that all employees have an awareness, understanding, and tolerance of others' interests, viewpoints, cultures, and backgrounds.

Progressive Discipline

PGCPS is committed to fair, impartial and consistent treatment of employees in the disciplinary process.

Nondisciplinary Corrective Actions

In some circumstances, a supervisor may determine that a formal disciplinary action is not needed; however, the employee's behavior requires that the supervisor explain and clarify the expectations for future behavior. In these circumstances, the supervisor may first discuss with the employee the expectations followed up with written verbal counseling (written follow-up to a verbal conversation), both of which describe the expectations about the employee's future conduct. The focus is on ensuring that the employee understands the expectations.

Disciplinary Actions

Typical disciplinary actions include the following:

- Written reprimand
- Suspension
- Termination

PGCPS is not obligated to use any specific level of progressive discipline or to use the disciplinary actions in the order listed above. Progressive discipline is a flexible process. The particular facts of each situation determine which of the above actions will be appropriate. In determining the specific level of discipline for each case, the following considerations may be weighed:

- The number of different offenses involved
- The seriousness of the offense and the evidence available
- Time between prior disciplinary actions, if applicable
- Prior work history of the employee
- Performance evaluations
- Mitigating factors

Lack of knowledge of the Employee Code of Conduct or applicable policies and procedures is not a defense to a charge of misconduct. Except for serious violations, generally the lowest appropriate level of disciplinary action should be utilized and then progress to a more severe level after a less severe disciplinary action has been applied and proven to be ineffective.

However, a more serious violation may warrant suspension or termination, even for a first-time offense, or repeated offenses, depending on the situation. This could also happen when the infraction violates a standard of conduct that is not expressly referenced in this publication but involves common-sense application of governing principles or criminal law.

Process for Cases Involving Suspected Child Abuse Other Criminal Activity and PGCPS Investigations

In any case in which an employee suspects a PGCPS employee of child abuse, child sexual abuse, or neglect of a child or vulnerable adult, an oral report must be made as soon as possible to Child Protective Services (CPS) at the Prince George's County Department of Social Services.

Within 48 hours after the individual developed a suspicion that a child or vulnerable adult had been subjected to child abuse, child sexual abuse or neglect, a written report must be filed with CPS and a copy of the report must be sent to the State's Attorney for Prince George's County. Additionally, employees should notify their supervisor or appropriate administrator.

The supervisor or administrator should enter a case into the Employee Incident Tracking System (EITS) and include the copy of the report sent to CPS, any written statements obtained, video footage if available, and any other information that could be pertinent for Security Services and the Office of Employee and Labor Relations (ELRO) to adequately review the incident.

In cases of child abuse, child sexual abuse and neglect allegations in which CPS is investigating, the Department of Security Services in consultation with ELRO also will conduct an investigation. An investigation by the Department of Security Services will be conducted for matters involving criminal investigations by a law enforcement agency.

Lack of knowledge of the Employee Code of Conduct or applicable policies and procedures is not a defense to a charge of misconduct.

In every case of alleged child abuse, child sexual abuse and neglect the Department of Security Services and the ELRO will conduct an internal investigation consistent with all applicable Board of Education policies and PGCPs administrative procedures and recommend appropriate discipline.

An investigation will be conducted even when CPS or the Prince George's County Police Department (PGCPD) screens out or closes the cases without taking action and/or the State's Attorney for Prince George's County declines to bring criminal charges because such cases may involve violations of Board policies, PGCPs administrative procedures, negotiated agreements, or other guidance.

While any investigations by CPS, PGCPD or another external agency is pending, PGCPs may not interview witnesses, alleged victims or alleged perpetrators. In addition, PGCPs must conduct all internal investigations in a manner that is fully cooperative with the external agencies that are investigating and that does not interfere with or jeopardize the external investigation.

Other critical incidents involving suspected criminal activity, such as drug distribution or use of weapons on PGCPs property, require reporting to law enforcement agencies. In cases of criminal activity, the Department of Security Services and ELRO may conduct an internal investigation in a manner that is fully cooperative with law enforcement agencies that are investigating and that does not interfere with or jeopardize the external investigation.

All PGCPs employees are expected to cooperate during the course of a PGCPs investigation. This includes, but is not limited to, investigation and/or fact finding conducted by the following offices: Employee and Labor Relations, Safety and Security, Equity Assurance, General Counsel and PGCPs External Counsel. Moreover, when identified as a witness in a legal proceeding, arbitration, appeal or similar, identified witnesses are expected to make themselves available and be cooperative. Failure to cooperate with an investigation may be grounds for corrective action.

Administrative Leave or Temporary Placement

Any suspicion of inappropriate behavior by an employee may be reason for placing the employee on administrative leave or temporary placement, pending the investigation into the allegations. Cases are reviewed on an individual basis, and generally a recommendation for administrative leave will be made when the allegation involves a physical altercation, similar incident of a serious nature, pending criminal charge, an allegation of a sexual or discriminatory nature, or incident that causes concern for the safety of students, coworkers, and/or other individuals.

When a request for administrative leave or temporary placement is approved, the ELRO will notify the affected employee via official correspondence. This correspondence will instruct the employee accordingly, including refraining from being on PGCPs property while on administrative leave, and detailing the administrative process followed by the ELRO.

While on administrative leave or temporary placement, instructional staff will be required to continue with lesson planning, entering grades into the student information system, or assisting in the alternative work location, as appropriate.
