Cookies

Our website uses cookies to distinguish you from other users of our website. This helps us to provide you with a good experience when you browse our website and also allows us to improve our site. For detailed information on the cookies, we use and the purposes for which we use them see our Cookie Policy.

How We Collect Data

Personal data is collected directly from Data Subjects in instances when you submit an online form on our website either for an employment application, request to be provided with information regarding possible investment opportunities, as well as information provided by visitors to our websites and users of any digital services we provide. In instances where you interact with our website, we may collect and store technical data such as IP address for purposes like general user statistics and security.

Our use of your information:

We will use your personal information for reasonable and legitimate business purposes (the “Legitimate Interests”) including and without limitation to:

- notify you about information and availability of certain investment opportunities in your region;
- process and reply to your employment application form;
- meet our legal and regulatory obligations;
- perform any contractual obligations; and
- administer and protect our Company and this website e.g., IT maintenance and troubleshooting

Our processing of your personal information as described in this data privacy policy is allowed under applicable data protection law because we reasonably need to carry out the processing for these Legitimate Interests and we have taken the necessary steps (including strict security measures) to ensure that we do not prejudice your privacy rights. Some processing may also be necessary so that we can perform a contract with you or because it is required by law.

This does not apply to processing in order to send you information about our products and services, however, we will only use your information in this way with your consent. You are free to withdraw your consent at any time, by emailing Us at: privacy@weareinfinitypower.com

Disclosures of your information:

We will keep your personal information provided by means of the online form confidential and secure and will not disclose it, except:

- to any member of our group, which means our affiliates, our ultimate holding company and its subsidiaries;
- to other persons, only when we are legally obliged to disclose your information; and
- business partners, suppliers, and sub-contractors for the performance of any contract we enter into with them or you.

International Data Transfers

IPH Group may disclose your personal data to its affiliates, or third parties outside the UK and the European Union (EU) and in some instances, transferred to non- EU countries. These transfers are governed by data transfer agreements in the form of Standard Contractual Clauses or international data transfer agreements by the Information Commissioner’s Office (ICO).

Where We store your personal data

We will store your personal data on our electronic servers and as part of our corporate records where such data forms part of hard copy documentation.

Retaining and deleting your information:

We will retain the personal information that we hold about you for as long as it is reasonably required to fulfil the purpose for collection including satisfying any legal, regulatory, tax, accounting or reporting obligations. We may also retain your personal data for a longer period in the event that a concern is raised or where there is some anticipation of a litigation in respect of our relationship with you. Subject to these requirements, we would keep your data for no longer than is necessary in accordance with the purposes for which we collect the information. Where you require us to delete your data, you can reach out to us.

Your rights in relation to Our processing of your information:

Under data protection laws, you have the right to:

- i. access your personal data- we can provide you with a copy of your personal data;
- ii. rectify your personal data where the information is inaccurate or incomplete;
- iii. request erasure of your personal data in situations provided under applicable personal data regulations;
- iv. request restriction in relation to processing your data;
- v. request that your data is transferred to a third party where this is technically feasible;
- vi. object to your data being processed, where the request is justified in the situation;
- vii. withdraw consent

Where any of the rights above is exercised, we may request specific information to confirm your identity and ensure your right to access your personal data. This is to make sure that your personal data is only disclosed to any person who has the right to receive it. Where required, we would aim to complete the confirmation of your identity within 5 working days and may contact you for further information in relation to your request to speed up our response.

Our aim is to further respond to all legitimate requests within one month. In some instances, it could take us longer than a month if your request is complex or contains a series of requests. As such, we will notify you and provide updates.
