

The main lodge at Ariara

SWEET SOLITUDE

Ariara, a stunning private island in a hard-to-reach corner of the Philippines, has finessed into a pinnacle of rustic luxury. Edged with pristine, arresting beaches and surrounded by azure waters, it is the ideal low-key hideaway for the discerning traveller, playing host to vast, beachfront suites and villas that boast uninterrupted views of the ocean. Privacy is paramount here. It accommodates up to 17 guests on an exclusive basis and offers cutting-edge dining that can be personalised from moonlit barbecue banquets to beach-party feasts. Choose between Beach Cottages with secluded pocket gardens, Jungle Villas perched on stilts, The Lodge Suite with an enormous platform bed and the North Beach Villa that overlooks the north end of the beach. Guests are granted exclusive use of the island and are given the luxury of being able to set their own agenda. For some fast-paced action, forage the waters of Palawan archipelago in a kayak, soak in the wind on a speedboat or enjoy the raw adrenalin of high-powered jet skis. Whether you enjoy relaxing on its tranquil shoreline or exploring its waterscapes, Ariara brings your high-octane world to a standstill and embodies utter indulgence to a tee. Visit www.ariara.com
