Introduction

Under the Communications Act 2003 ("the Act"), Ofcom has a duty to set standards for broadcast content to secure the standards objectives<sup>1</sup>. Ofcom also has a duty to ensure that On Demand Programme Services ("ODPS") comply with certain standards requirements set out in the Act<sup>2</sup>.

Ofcom reflects these requirements in its codes and rules. The Broadcast and On Demand Bulletin reports on the outcome of Ofcom's investigations into alleged breaches of its codes and rules, as well as conditions with which broadcasters licensed by Ofcom are required to comply. The codes and rules include:

- a) Ofcom's Broadcasting Code ("the Code") for content broadcast on television and radio services licensed by Ofcom, and for content on the BBC's licence fee funded television, radio and on demand services.
- b) the Code on the Scheduling of Television Advertising ("COSTA"), containing rules on how much advertising and teleshopping may be scheduled on commercial television, how many breaks are allowed and when they may be taken.
- c) certain sections of the BCAP Code: the UK Code of Broadcast Advertising, for which Ofcom retains regulatory responsibility for television and radio services. These include:
  - the prohibition on 'political' advertising;
  - 'participation TV' advertising, e.g. long-form advertising predicated on premium rate telephone services notably chat (including 'adult' chat), 'psychic' readings and dedicated quiz TV (Call TV quiz services); and
  - gambling, dating and 'message board' material where these are broadcast as advertising<sup>3</sup>.
- d) other conditions with which Ofcom licensed services must comply, such as requirements to pay fees and submit information required for Ofcom to carry out its statutory duties.
  Further information can be found on Ofcom's website for television and radio licences.
- e) Ofcom's Statutory Rules and Non-Binding Guidance for Providers of On-Demand Programme Services for editorial content on ODPS (apart from BBC ODPS). Ofcom considers sanctions for advertising content on ODPS referred to it by the Advertising Standards Authority ("ASA"), the co-regulator of ODPS for advertising, or may do so as a concurrent regulator.

Other codes and requirements may also apply to broadcasters, depending on their circumstances. These include the requirements in the BBC Agreement, the Code on Television Access Services (which sets out how much subtitling, signing and audio description relevant licensees must provide), the Code on Electronic Programme Guides, the Code on Listed Events, and the Cross Promotion Code.

It is Ofcom's policy to describe fully television, radio and on demand content. Some of the language and descriptions used in Ofcom's Broadcast and On Demand Bulletin may therefore cause offence.

Broadcast Licence Conditions cases

In Breach/Resolved

Provision of information: Diversity in Broadcasting Various licensees

Introduction

Ofcom has a statutory duty under the Communications Act 2003 to take all such steps, as we consider appropriate, for promoting equality of opportunity in relation to employment and training by broadcasters, in terms of three of the 'protected characteristics' in the Equality Act 2010: gender, racial group and disability.

In March 2019, Ofcom wrote to TV licensees who were either new licensees, or who had informed Ofcom in 2018 that they had 50 or fewer employees, requiring them to submit:

- information relating to the number of people employed in connection with the provision of their broadcast service; and
- the number of days per year for which they are licensed to broadcast.

This information was to determine if the licensees met the threshold<sup>1</sup> requiring them to complete a more detailed questionnaire on their employees and equal opportunities arrangements.

We requested this information in accordance with Licence Condition 12(1) "General provision of information to Ofcom" of the Television Licensable Content Service ("TLCS") licence and the Digital Television Programme Service ("DTPS") licence, which states:

"The Licensee shall furnish to Ofcom in such manner and at such times as Ofcom may reasonably require such documents, accounts, returns, estimates, reports, notices or other information as Ofcom may require for the purpose of exercising the functions assigned to it by or under the 1990 Act, the 1996 Act, or the Communications Act...".

Failure by a licensee to submit this information when required represents a breach of a broadcast licence, as it means that Ofcom may be unable properly to carry out its regulatory duties.

In Breach

The following licensees failed to submit the required information. These licensees have therefore been found in breach of Licence Condition 12(1) of their TLCS or DTPS licence(s).

&lt;sup>1</sup> Licensees employing more than 20 people in connection with the provision of their licensed services and authorised to broadcast for more than 31 days a year.

| Licensee                       | Service Name | Licence    |
|--------------------------------|--------------|------------|
|                                |              | Number     |

| Limited                        |              |            |
| Pure Media Corporation Limited | TV Okazje    | TLCS102085 |

Ofcom considers the failure to provide this information to be a significant matter as it means that Ofcom is unable to properly carry out its regulatory duties.

In the case of A&A Inform Limited ("A&A Inform"), this is the fourth consecutive breach Ofcom has recorded for failure to provide diversity information. In 2017, 2018 and April 2019, we recorded breach findings against the Licensee published in Issue 339, Issue 356 and Issue 376 of Ofcom's Broadcast and On Demand Bulletin respectively. In the April 2019 Decision, Ofcom made clear that it considered the Licensee's failure to provide its diversity information on request to be serious and repeated and that we would consider the breach for the imposition of a statutory sanction. We are therefore very concerned that A&A Inform has once again failed to provide its diversity information upon request in July 2019.

Ofcom is putting this licensee on notice that it will consider this breach for the imposition of a statutory sanction.

Resolved

The following licensees failed to submit the required information in accordance with the deadline, but subsequently submitted a late return. For these licensees, we therefore consider the matter resolved, under licence condition 12(1) of the TLCS licence.

How Ofcom assesses complaints about broadcast licences

Complaints outside of remit

Here are alphabetical lists of complaints received by Ofcom that fell outside of our remit. This is because Ofcom is not responsible for regulating the issue complained about. For example, the complaints were about the content of television, radio or on demand adverts or an on demand service that does not fall within the scope of regulation.

More information about what Ofcom's rules cover

BBC First

The BBC Royal Charter and Agreement was published in December 2016, which made Ofcom the independent regulator of the BBC.

Under the BBC Agreement, Ofcom can normally only consider complaints about BBC programmes where the complainant has already complained to the BBC and the BBC has reached its final decision (the 'BBC First' approach).

The complaints in this table had been made to Ofcom before completing the BBC's complaints process.

Investigations List

If Ofcom considers that a broadcaster or service provider may have breached its codes, rules, licence condition or other regulatory requirements, it will start an investigation.

It is important to note that an investigation by Ofcom does not necessarily mean the broadcaster or service provider has done anything wrong. Not all investigations result in breaches of the codes, rules, licence conditions or other regulatory requirements being recorded.

Here are alphabetical lists of new investigations launched between 19 August and 1 September 2019.
