In 2019, the company achieved a turnover of 19.0 billion Euros¹ and employed 83,000 people in 68 countries. With more than 28,000 engineers and 3,000 researchers, Thales has the unique ability to design, develop and install products, systems and services that meet the most complex security requirements. Thales has an outstanding international presence and numerous subsidiaries worldwide that allow for cooperative partnerships with customers on site.

Thales Deutschland is headquartered in Ditzingen and is one of the largest national subsidiaries of the Thales group. The company employs 3,800* persons at 11 locations and carries out its own manufacturing and development. In 2019, Thales Deutschland generated sales of EUR 1.2 billion, predominantly German value added. Thales Deutschland has a technology tradition in Germany for over a century. The company, an integrated German electronics corporation and systems house, is a model of German engineering tradition. As a recognized member of Germany's high-tech industry, Thales Deutschland offers its customers at home and abroad state-of-the-art, highly secure and ultra-reliable communications, information and control systems, as well as services for secure ground, air and sea transportation, for both civilian and military security and protection needs.

Furthermore, Thales Deutschland has a comprehensive portfolio of cryptology solutions up to "VS-Geheim" under supervision of the Federal Department of Commerce, IT solutions for cyber security, and develops and produces chip card solutions, especially for electronic payment. At its Ulm side the company also develops and manufactures satellite components.

Thales Deutschland focuses on the lasting business success of its customers. Its business partnerships with customers worldwide, as well as with local and international engineering and research partners, are based on trust.

The people we all rely on to make the world go round, they rely on Thales. They come to us with big ambitions: To make life better, to keep us safer. From the bottom of the oceans to the depths of space and cyberspace, we help our customers navigate uncertainty with confidence and new frontiers with optimism. Thinking smarter and acting faster – mastering ever greater complexity and every decisive moment along the way. We collaborate to architect and deliver high technology solutions that are both imaginative and resilient, human-centered and sustainable. So that together we can harness the extraordinary power of technology to build a future we can all trust.
