WELCOME

COME FOR THE MEETING-FRIENDLY VENUES, BUT STAY FOR THE CULTURAL EXPERIENCES, EXHILARATING ENTERTAINMENT AND RENOWNED GOURMET DINING.

The Richmond region's blend of big-city excitement and small-town charm is guaranteed to make a lasting impression on your attendees. Our world-class museums, exquisite art, elegant and modern architecture, distinctive boutiques, lush gardens, and thriving nightlife are all set against a uniquely historic backdrop. And with more than 700 locally owned restaurants in the area, you're sure to find plenty to please your palate. But you've got an event to plan, so here are a few quick facts about Richmond or as the locals say, RVA.

We're ready to get to work for you and make your next meeting or convention an exceptional success.

LET'S GET STARTED!

- 18,000-plus hotel rooms
- The Greater Richmond Convention Center is Virginia's largest at 700,000 square feet.
- Just 8 miles from downtown, Richmond International Airport offers more than 200 daily nonstop flights on domestic, international and low-cost air carriers.
- The population is 1.3 million.
- There are five four-year universities and two two-year institutions within the region.
- Richmond is located in the Central East Coast, within one day's drive of half the U.S. population.
- The Atlantic Ocean, Blue Ridge Mountains, and Washington, D.C. are all within a two-hour drive.
- Charlottesville, Williamsburg and Fredericksburg are within a one-hour drive.
- The local government consists of Chesterfield County, City of Richmond, Hanover County, Henrico County and New Kent County.

SPECIALIZED SERVICES

AT RICHMOND REGION TOURISM, WE MAKE IT OUR JOB TO BE OF SERVICE. As an extension of your team, we partner with you at every stage of the planning process. At the outset, our team works closely with you to understand the needs and objectives of your meeting and those of your attendees. Then we get to work determining the local service providers and hotel properties that best meet those needs. Once meeting sites have been selected, we put our resources to work for you, strategically leveraging our local network, intellectual capital, and using promotional resources to maximize attendance. Finally, through our on-site and post-event interactions, we engage your group by providing experience-rich visitor services.

WE DON'T BELIEVE IN COOKIE-CUTTER SERVICES because we don't believe any two meetings are the same.

OUR GOAL IS SIMPLE: We want to help you plan, execute and market your meeting and ensure your group has an unforgettable stay. From providing custom marketing materials and housing solutions, to helping generate media coverage and building microsites, to assisting in the site selection process and post-convention feedback, we are here to be of service to you. After all, it takes more than just the right location to make your event a memorable success.

Call or visit our website today for additional convention and meeting information or to submit a request for proposal. A destination expert will be happy to help you plan your Richmond region event!

NO-COST SERVICES

Because we are funded by a portion of the lodging tax, Richmond Region Tourism provides free services to anyone planning a meeting in the Richmond region who has included us in the booking process — and you receive the best value if you utilize our services from the beginning. Costs are not passed on to meeting attendees, either. Here is a sampling of services that includes just some of the ways we can help you plan.

PLAN

- Off-site venues and service provider coordination
- Experiential activities and special events
- Assistance with ground transportation and tour guides
- Community service projects
- Customized hotel search for rates, proposals and availability
- Personalized assistance with site inspections

HOST

- Attendee welcome programs
- Access to local elected officials, industry leaders and associations
- Pre- and post-convention meeting assistance
- On-site staffing and volunteers
- Dining reservation services

PROMOTE

- Attendance-building marketing programs, resources and tools
- Local media relations
- Custom maps and driving directions
- Discount and promotional offers
- Local awareness and preparedness
- Volunteer acquisition
- Social media support

HOUSE

- Room block setup and monitoring

VOLUNTOURISM

As you plan and schedule your trip to Richmond, consider booking a VolunTourism event. A rapidly expanding trend in the meetings industry, it allows meeting-goers the opportunity to give back by participating in a community service project — an ideal team-building experience. Whether you have a few hours or a full day, here's a small sampling of local nonprofit organizations with volunteer opportunities suitable for groups.

RICHMOND METROPOLITAN HABITAT FOR HUMANITY

From working on a build site to working in the ReStore (a retail outlet offering donated building and home improvement supplies), your attendees will help facilitate home ownership and break the cycle of poverty. richmondhabitat.org

FEEDMORE CENTRAL VIRGINIA FOOD BANK

From meal preparation and packing to food sorting and shelf stocking, attendees can volunteer their time to bring hunger relief to the area's most vulnerable populations. feedmore.org

CARITAS

No availability for an in-person volunteer project? The largest provider of services to the homeless in the Region, CARITAS aims to break the cycle of addiction and homelessness. Donations of gently used household items such as pillows, linens, towels and dishes will be distributed to the formerly homeless community now actively rebuilding their lives. caritasva.org

UNITED FOR UNOS

Help spread the word about the importance of organ donation and transplantation by partnering with United for UNOS. unitedforunos.org

Volunteer programs and the needs of these organizations are subject to change.

RICHMOND'S NEWEST MUST-SEES

Some of RVA's most recent additions have contributed to the cultural scene, the architectural beauty of the city, and created new spaces to just have a good time.

T. TYLER POTTERFIELD MEMORIAL BRIDGE

Known by locals as the "T-Pot Bridge," the pedestrian river crossing connects Brown's Island, a hub for the city's festivals and concerts, to Manchester, a revitalized industrial neighborhood. The 1,600-foot-long pathway sits just 20 feet above the James River and includes three overlooks, making it an ideal location to take in river life and nature, as well as the sights and sounds of the city. The bridge is handicapped accessible, bike friendly and well-lit into the evening. Access the north entrance of the bridge from Brown's Island, S. Seventh St.

RICHMOND VOLLEYBALL CLUB AT STONEBRIDGE

The Richmond Volleyball Club (RVC) is set to move into a brand new 50,000-square-foot facility in January 2018. Located in Chesterfield County's newest neighborhood, Stonebridge, the $7 million mixed-use development is being funded by the Chesterfield County Economic Development Authority and will feature Chesterfield County Parks and Recreation programs in addition to RVC's events and offerings. 200 Karl Linn Drive, RVC: 804-358-3000 or rvc.net; Chesterfield County Parks and Recreation: 804-748-1623 or chesterfield.gov

MAIN STREET STATION

More than a century old, this Amtrak station newly revamped its train shed creating 47,000 square feet of awe-inspiring event space, complete with graceful architectural touches like glass walls and a gabled ceiling. The state's tourist welcome center is scheduled to move into the site's renovated lower level in 2017. The station is located in Shockoe Bottom, home to a collection of Richmond's favorite restaurants, historical landmarks and the 17th Street Farmers' Market where food, music, and cultural events immerse festival-goers. 1500 E. Main St., 804-646-2041 or www.richmondgov.com/mainstreetstation

BLACK HISTORY MUSEUM & CULTURAL CENTER OF VIRGINIA

Preserving and exploring Virginia's African-American history and culture, the Black History Museum is located inside the former Leigh Street Armory building in the historic Jackson Ward neighborhood. The family-friendly museum features interactive touch screen exhibits, educational events, and traveling exhibitions. Grab a coffee and sandwich in the café and take a seat in one of the Woolworth's Luncheonette booths or counter seats, where sit-in protesters fought segregation in the 1960s. 122 W. Leigh St., 804-780-9093 or blackhistorymuseum.org

RIVER CITY SPORTSPLEX

This 115-acre, multi-sport, athletic complex hosts elite level regional and national soccer, lacrosse and field hockey events on 12 synthetic turf fields (one of the largest assemblages in the nation). Recently acquired by Chesterfield County's Department of Parks and Recreation, the programming is being expanded. 13030 Genito Road, 804-796-7045 or rivercitysportsplex.com

INSTITUTE FOR CONTEMPORARY ART AT VIRGINIA COMMONWEALTH UNIVERSITY

Anchored by the number one public university art program in the country, the Institute for Contemporary Art (ICA) is scheduled to open in spring 2018. The ICA is an incubator for new art with constantly changing exhibits, performances, films and interactive community projects. 818 W. Broad St., 804-828-2823 or ica.vcu.edu

GREENWOOD PARK

The first phase of this 200-acre site in Henrico County is scheduled for completion in early 2018. A tournament quality multi-sport complex, the campus includes sand volleyball courts, four lighted multi-purpose synthetic turf fields, two playgrounds, trail and more. 11217 Greenwood Road, 804-501-7275 or henrico.us

HARDYWOOD PARK CRAFT BREWERY: WEST CREEK

Hardywood opened in 2014 and since has won international acclaim for its brews. Their latest expansion, the West Creek location in Goochland County, is scheduled for completion in 2018. The 60,000-square-foot production facility will be accompanied by a taproom, beer garden, orchard, and amphitheater. hardywood.com

GET HERE WITH EASE

Amplify your attendance by hosting your meeting or convention in one of the central-most destinations on the East Coast.

BY AUTOMOBILE

Did you know the Richmond region is located within a day's drive of half of the U.S. population? Utilize Interstates 95 and 64, the major corridors traveling through the region. For ease of navigation, vehicle rentals, taxi service, GRTC bus transportation, charter bus trips and airport service from James River Transportation, and Uber and Lyft service are also available.

BY TRAIN

Hop on an Amtrak train and trek to Richmond with ease and comfort. The national rail operator stops at three stations locally. Rail service is located just minutes from I-95 and I-64 at 7519 Staples Mill Road. Passengers also arrive at downtown's Main Street Station at 1500 E. Main St., and Amtrak has a station in the heart of downtown Ashland, at 112 N. Railroad Ave. Stations are handicapped-accessible, and baggage service is available. For more information about Amtrak service, visit amtrak.com/virginia.

BY PLANE

Richmond International Airport is minutes from downtown Richmond and 8 miles from the city's central business district. Six air carriers provide service to RIC: Allegiant, American, Delta, JetBlue, Southwest and United. Each offers nonstop flights to major national destinations and connecting flights to cities around the world. In 2017, OneJet began offering nonstop service between Richmond and Pittsburgh. Enjoy a modern, two-level terminal and the airport's Chamber RVA Business Center, which features meeting space, conference rooms and communications services. Taxi service at RIC is available. James River Transportation provides executive sedan and limousine service. Additional transportation options include nine rental agencies and transit service (visit ridegrtc.com for bus route and schedule). For more information, visit flyrichmond.com. ■

CHOOSE YOUR ADVENTURE

Come for your business meeting, but stay for the fine dining, outdoor excursions, nightlife, performances and more. Whether you love a good nature walk or get a thrill from the hunt for unique merchandise, here are some sample itineraries to satisfy your recreational pursuits.

Riverside Outfitters

THE OUTDOORS LOVER

The pulse of RVA's outdoor culture can best be felt by visiting the James River. Visit one of the most popular swimming spots, Belle Isle (jamesriverpark.org) via a scenic suspended footbridge that can be accessed from Tredegar Street on the north shore or hike one of the park system's trails along the river. Riverside Outfitters (riversideoutfitters.net) can guide you on rafting, kayaking, and paddleboard tours and also offer rentals to use at your own pace. Search for bald eagles or catch some fish on a Discover the James tour (discoverthejames.com). If you'd rather keep your feet on the ground, take in the kaleidoscope of colorful blooms at Lewis Ginter Botanical Garden (lewisginter.org) in the city's North Side or explore the sprawling 100-acre estate of Maymont (maymont.org) complete with ornate Italian and Japanese gardens.

Lewis Ginter Botanical Garden

THE CULTURAL AFICIONADO

Richmond's Museum and Arts districts are home to several galleries and museums, anchored by the Virginia Museum of Fine Arts (vmfa.museum), one of the top art museums in the country. Nearby galleries include 1708 Gallery (1708gallery.org), Page Bond Gallery (pagebondgallery.com), and the Visual Arts Center of Richmond (visarts.org). Head to Shockoe Bottom and acquire some literary inspiration at the Edgar Allan Poe Museum (poemuseum.org), which houses the largest museum collection of Poe artifacts and items in the world. There are multiple places across the region to catch a live show, including Swift Creek Mill Theatre (swiftcreekmill.com), Hanover Tavern (hanovertavern.org), Virginia Repertory Theatre (va-rep.org) and Cultural Arts Center at Glen Allen (artsglenallen.com). For a more classical performance, visit the Richmond Ballet (richmondballet.com) and Richmond Symphony (richmondsymphony.com).

THE STYLE SEEKER

Unique shopping corridors chock full of one-of-a-kind finds and local makers handcrafting décor and apparel, continually place Richmond on the nation's shopping and fashion radar. Along Libbie and Grove Avenues, stop by the Shops at 5807 (shop5807.com), where you'll find several independent vendors under one roof, each with eclectic gifts and modern fashion. Carytown (known as the "Mile of Style") features formal dresses from Lex's of Carytown (lexsofcarytown.com), high-end consignment from Clementine (sweetclementine.com) and Roan (roanshop.com), and minimalist and fashion-forward apparel from Need Supply Co. (needsupply.com).

For designer men's clothing, a stop in Ledbury (ledbury.com) in the Arts District is a must. Three blocks away, Rider Boot Co. (riderboot.com) offers high-quality Italian-made footwear. For well-crafted jeans that are hand sewn in-house, stop by Shockoe Atelier (shockoeatelier.com) in Shockoe Bottom.

GREATER RICHMOND CONVENTION CENTER

403 N. Third St., Richmond, VA 23219
804-783-7334
richmondcenter.com

The sheer size and central location of the Greater Richmond Convention Center make it one of the most desirable meeting venues in the mid-Atlantic region. The Center is situated in the heart of downtown Richmond, just minutes from Richmond International Airport. The 700,000-square-foot facility spans 5.5 city blocks and is the ideal location for conventions, business meetings, trade shows, sporting events, banquets and galas.

Boasting 178,159 square feet of contiguous exhibit space, the exhibit hall can be divided into four sections and transformed from expo to elegant with lighting and décor. Exquisitely appointed, the Grand Ballroom features 30,550 square feet of space, divisible into three unique sections. Additional features include a Lecture Hall, green room and dressing rooms, a built-in sound system, and dimmable lighting capabilities. Enjoy an additional 50,000 square feet of flexible meeting and breakout rooms to suit your meeting's needs.

Also located in the building is the Richmond Region Tourism Visitor Center. Should your attendees need additional information about the Richmond region, travel counselors are happy to oblige with maps, directions and brochures on all that the area has to offer.
