CENTERSTONE

centerstone.org

Centerstone is a nonprofit health system providing mental health and substance use disorder treatments. Services are available nationally through the operation of outpatient clinics, residential programs, the use of telehealth and an inpatient hospital.

Accomplishments

- Completed a $3 million renovation of Centerstone's Behavioral Health Hospital & Addiction Center in Bradenton, made possible through the generosity from the Bishop Parker Foundation and William G. & Marie Selby Foundation. The renovations resulted in expansion of the 24/7 Access Center, new patient rooms and nurses' station on the psychiatric unit of the hospital as well as the creation of private rooms and additional meeting space on the hospital's addiction unit.
- Secured $3 million in capital funding from the State of Florida to continue renovations and establish a Community Resource Center that will provide shelter for unhoused individuals and people who need mental health and substance use disorder treatment.
- Hosted Centerstone's 20th Annual Life;Story 5k/10k event with 776 onsite and remote participants, resulting in $122,560 of charitable funds raised to support suicide prevention efforts.
- Significantly expanded Centerstone's Trauma Recovery Center which now provides sexual assault and trauma therapy and case management services to individuals in DeSoto, Manatee, and Sarasota counties.
- Awarded a $6.5 million contract from the Lee County Board of Commissioners to establish the Wellness Intervention for Substance Abuse Harms Abatement (WISH) Program which bolsters local efforts to prevent overdoses and provide substance use disorder treatment.
- Awarded a second Certified Community Behavioral Health Clinics (CCBHC) grant by Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA), which will provide $1 million in annual funding to support coordinated comprehensive behavioral health care services for the next four years.
- Melissa Larkin-Skinner, Regional Chief Executive Officer, was appointed to serve on the Florida Commission on Mental Health and Substance Use. Larkin-Skinner was also invited to present at a U.S. Chamber of Commerce event in Washington DC, where she was part of a panel that discussed the ongoing efforts of Certified Community Behavioral Health Clinics (CCBHCs) and the impact this behavioral health model has had since its inception.

From Melissa Larkin-Skinner

Regional Chief Executive Officer, Florida

"Centerstone has continued to strengthen relationships with community partners and elevate our profile with legislators to increase awareness of the needs in our communities and facilitate improved mental health and substance use disorder services for our patients. We've expanded services and facilities to accommodate the growing number of people who need care and continued the conversation with fellow mental health providers about best practices. The coming year promises great opportunity for us to build upon our momentum and share the message of hope and healing."
