Join the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) Privacy Service for “Supply Chain Risk Management: Data Protection,” a VA Privacy in Action Speaker Series event. Discussion topics will include how to identify, track, and mitigate supply chain risks and third party access to sensitive data and information systems. This educational event will feature experts from VA and its partners at the National Institute of Standards and Technology (NIST) and the National Telecommunications and Information Administration (NTIA) who will share their experiences and leading practices in the field. We look forward to your attendance.
