Despite the Fact that the Estey Plant has been working full time all summer and that four Estey Grands have been made this year for every one produced in 1924, continued demand and shipments have made it impossible to accumulate any appreciable stock of Estey Grands in anticipation of the fall demand. Notwithstanding the greatly increased production schedule, in force for the balance of the year, there is every indication of a big shortage of Estey Grands this fall. It would work to tremendous mutual advantage if Estey distributors could arrange now to place definite orders for their minimum fall requirements so that their needs can best be served during the rush season.
