How to use this document

TIBCO® Platform—Integration accelerates the integration process by empowering more people in your business to connect your information assets together no matter where they are hosted. With hundreds of connectors to popular endpoints and technologies, TIBCO makes connecting everything in your business easier and faster.

TIBCO Platform—Integration supports a wide variety of connectors that allow your integrators to quickly and easily connect their integration apps to a large number of modern and legacy endpoints and technologies. This document helps you find the connectors to use for the endpoint(s) to which you need to connect. You can find technical documentation for all connectors at the URLs in the sidebar. Note that TIBCO also provides a variety of generic connectors which allows access where an endpoint-specific connector isn't available.

TIBCO provides a standard set of connectors in the TIBCO® Platform subscription. Premium connectors can be accessed with an additional cost.

In the table that follows, connectors for all TIBCO Platform—Integration capabilities are listed, helping you easily determine which connectors to use in your integration projects. Use the table as follows:

01 The "Endpoint/Technology" column identifies the endpoint or technology to which you need to connect, such as "Amazon S3."

02 The "Available connector" column lists one or more connectors that can be used to connect to the selected endpoint or technology. Each connector is used by its specified TIBCO Platform—Integration capability.

03 The "Connector distributor" column identifies the party from which the connector is purchased or obtained. Most connectors are available directly from TIBCO, but others are available from 3rd party vendors and developer communities.

04 The "TIBCO Platform subscription" column provides two pieces of information: 1) if the identified connector is supported (can be used) within the identified subscription and 2) how the connector is priced. Use the legend below to determine those details.

- "INCL" indicates that the connector is supported in the identified subscription and is included with the price of the subscription at no additional charge

- "$" indicates that the connector is supported in the identified subscription and is available for an additional charge

- "V" indicates that the connector is supported in the identified subscription and is available from the specified 3rd party vendor
