Unauthorised entry prohibited

Entry to the eastern cliff top of Tukkee Wurroo, on K'gari is prohibited without a permit or written approval.

The boundary of the restricted access area, as shown on the map, is defined by a line of markers featuring the no access symbol.

Natural hazards including sheer cliffs, crumbling edges and loose rocks make this cliff top extremely dangerous. Falls from this area are likely to cause serious injury or death.

Contravention of a requirement of this notice is an offence against the Recreation Areas Management Act 2006.
Maximum penalty: 80 penalty units. On-the-spot fines apply.
