EDI BUSINESS SOLUTIONS

USC Race and Equity Center

USC Marshall School of Business

eLEARNING SERIES

We offer companies and firms live, high-quality virtual professional eLearning experiences on a range of topics pertaining to equity, diversity, and inclusion in business.

Virtual sessions are evidence-based and taught by dozens of expert faculty members from USC, Harvard, Wharton, Stanford, MIT, and other top-ranked business schools. Each is highly engaging and includes practical strategies; none are too abstract or uselessly academic.

Every 90-minute synchronous eLearning module can be facilitated for executives, managers, or employees across all levels.

TOPICS

Addressing Homophobia and Heterosexism

Advancing Women to Senior Leadership Roles

Communicating Commitment to EDI

Eliminating Sexual Harassment in the Workplace

Evolving with Client/Customer Demographics

Facilitating Difficult Conversations about EDI

Hiring and Strategically Diversifying the Workplace

Making Workplace Environments Trans Inclusive

Managing Intergenerational Tensions

Meeting the Needs of Employees with Disabilities

Navigating Partisanship Diversity and Political Polarization

Recognizing and Reducing Implicit Bias

Recovering from Diversity-Related Crises

Resolving Racial Tensions at Work

Retaining and Advancing Employees of Color

Supporting Employee Networks/Resource Groups

Companies and firms can choose from this list, or we can create sessions on other equity, diversity, and inclusion topics.

CONTACTS

Shaun R. Harper, Ph.D.
Professor, USC Marshall School of Business
Executive Director, USC Race and Equity Center sharper@usc.edu

Richard Nassar
Chief Strategy Officer
USC Race and Equity Center
rnassar@usc.edu

University of Southern California
Verna and Peter Dauterive Hall
645 Exposition Blvd., Suite 214
Los Angeles, CA 90089
(213) 740-0385

race.usc.edu