THE LORDES and Cōmons in this present parliament assembled moost [humble besechyng¹] the Kyng^e Highnes that for the declaracion of hys most pure and syncere conscience in the devorce and sepacōn lauffully had and don bytwene hys Majestie and the right excellent Princes the Lady Katheryne, and for due punyshment to be had of suche psones as maliciously malygnyng ayenst the same have traterously attempted many notable act^e intēdyng therbye the disturbaunce of the pease and tranquyllytie of this Realme; and for repression exāple and reformacion of the malices and malignities whiche hereafter may be falsely conspired and compased by suche evell doers to make dyvysion within this Realme, that it may be enacted in maner and forme folowyng that is to sey; Where our seyde Sovereigne Lorde, lyke a good and vertuous prynce, being afflicted and sore incombred in hys conscience with the mariage whiche was solempnysed bytwene hys Majestie and the seid right excellent Prynces the Lady Katheryne late wyf of the right excellent Prynce Arture naturall brother to our seid Sovereigne Lorde, to the which prynce Arthure the seid Lady Katharen was lawfully maryed and by hym carnally knowen, for the only discharge of his conscience ayenst Almyghtye God, by all true wayes and meanes inserched studyed devysed and consulted, aswell with sondrye Universities of Cristendome as with a great nomber of excellent Clerkes lerned in dyvynyte, of the valydytie and invalidite of the seid maryage solempnysed bytwene hys Highnes and seid Ladye Katheryne, being before the seid maryage hys seid brothers wyff and by hym carnally knowyn, and after the deſmyne and playne judgement^e of the seid sondry Universities and well lerned men, by reason of inserches in the holy scriptures of God, by a greate advyse and delibacion it was declared and signyfyed unto our seid Sovereigne Lorde that the seid maryage solempnyzed betwene hys Highnes and the seid Lady Katheryn was phybyted and detested by the lawes of Almyghty God, our seyde Sovereign Lord theruppon pursued for a just and lawfull sepacyon and devorce to be had betwene his Highnes and the said Lady Katheryn from the bondes of the seid unlawfull and detested maryage, as to a good Catholyke Prynce besemed to doo in that behalf, to the intent that hys Majestie under the [boundes²] of a lawfull mariage consonant and agreable unto the lawes of Almyghtie God myght have issue and pcreacion for the welthe pease reste tranquillytie and suretie of this hys Realme and subjectes of the same; which devorce and sepacion is now lawfully had, and our seid Sovereign Lorde justly and lawfully maryed to hys most dere and entyerly beloved wyf Quene Anne, and by her hath had issue and is lyke (God being pleased) to have moo to the greate comferte rejoyce and suertie of all hys subjectes of this Realme: And albeit that our seid Sovereigne Lorde, lyke a good catholyke kyng, for the only discharge of hys conscience and for the welthe and suertie of this hys Realme, most prudently most delibatly most gently most mekely and most charytably pceded in the inserchyng and knowing of the valydytie and invalidite of the seid detested and unlawfull mariage, and therin paynfully travayled by many yeres, not only to the great inquyetnes and troble of hys mynde but also to hys inestymable costes and expences: yet never the lesse dyverse and sondry wylfull and inobedient subjectes of this Realme, whos names and offenses shall appere and be declared hereafter, being maliciously fixed in a contrary opynyon ayenst the pure judgement of the kyng^e owne conscience, and also the Deſmynacions of the seid sondry Universities and well lerned men, well pceyving that they being but a fewe in nomber coude not, by their seid wylfull and pverse opynyons grounded of malice corrupcion and affeccion, hynder ne inſupte the seid devorce and sepacion by any lawfull meanes, dyd therfore, by false feyned hipocrise [dissymulate³] sanctitie and cloked holynes, not only sett fourth and put in the heddes of a greate nombre of the subjectes of this Realme aswell nobles as other Spirytuall and temporall psones, that they had knowlege by revelacion from Almyghty God and holy Sayntes that God shuld be [displeased⁴] with our seid Sovereigne Lorde, for hys seid pcedynges in the seid devorce and sepacion of the seid detestate and unlawfull maryage, but also surmysed emonges other thynges that God had reveled to an holy woman, whos name here after shalbe mencioned in this acte, that in case hys Highnes pceded to thaccomplishment of the seid devorce and married another, that then hys Majestie shulde not be kyng of this Realme by the space of one moneth after, And in the reputacion of God shuld not be kyng one day nor one houre; with many other fals feyned and dissymulate fables tales and lyes by them unlawfully and traiterously practysed devysed ymagyned and conspired, aswell to the blasphemy of Almyghty God as ayenst our seid Sovereigne Lorde, as by the pīculers therof here after more at large in this present acte shalbe expressed: That is to sey, fyrst one Elizabeth [Barton⁵] nowe being Nonne pfessed in the House and Priory of Seynt Sepulcres of Canturbury, whiche longe afore she was pfessed Nonne dwellyd with one Thomas Cobbe in the pisse of Aldyngton in the Countie of Kent, hapned to be visited with sicknes and by occasion therof brought in suche debilitie and wekenes of her brayne, by cause she coulde not eate ne drynke by a longe space, that in the violence of her infirmitie she semed to be in traunses and spake and uttered many folysshe and idell wordes ; And one Richard Maister clerke being pson of the seid psshe of Aldyngton in the seid Countie of Kent, after that he had made to the late Archibisshop of Cantbury a farr larger report concnyng the hipocrisie traunces and speches of the seid Elizabeth than he colde justifie and abyde by, And after that he was cōmaundyd by the seid Archibisshop to geve good attendaunce upon her yf she shulde fortune to have any moo suche traunces and speches and to send hym knowlege therof, to the intent to maynteyne upholde and veryfie suche reporte as he had made, aswell to the Archebisshop as to other, of the wonderfull traunses and speches of the seid Nonne, falsely and [craftly¹] enformed the seid Elizabeth that the mervelous wordes which she spake in her traunses afore hys rydyng to tharchebysshop aforseid pceded of the inspiracion of the Holy Ghost, and that she was greatly to be blamed yf she wolde hyde or dissemble the wonderfull work^e of God shewed in her, for afore this hys seid informacion and instruccion she seid constantly that she colde not remember that she spake any such notable wordes in her traunses as were reported unto her by the seid Richard Maister ; which Elizabeth being in this maner of wyse often tymes psuaded pceded and informed by the seid pson of Aldyngton, toke boldnes and corage to forge feyn and counterfeyte suche maner of traunces and craftie speches as the seid pson of Aldyngton tolde her that she used in her sekenes afore he went to the seid Archebisshop ; And when the seid Elizabeth had used this maner of falce and feyned counfeyting for a season and was pfyte therin (so that the fame therof was greatly sprede abrode in those parties of Kent) then the seid pson, to thentent aforseid and to the entent the people shulde geve more faith and credence unto her, and by cause he wolde have increased the devocion of the people in cōmyng on pilgrimage to a chapell sett in Courte at Strete aforseid within hys seid pisshe dedicate in the honore of oure Lady for hys own lucre and advauntage, ymagyned devysed compassed and declared, with the [seid²] helpe and counsell of one Edwarde Bockyng monke professed in the monastie in Christis Church in Canterbury and doctour in Dyvynyte, that the seid Elizabeth being in the extasy and extremyte of her seckenes in a maner distracte in a traunce shuld sey amonge other wonderfull word^e, that she shuld never take helthe of her body tyll suche tyme as she had visyted the ymage of our Lady being in the seid Chapell at Courte at Strete aforseid, And that our Lady hade appered unto her and shewed her that yf she cam to the seid Chappell at the daye to her appoynted, she shulde be restored to her helthe by myracle, where in very dede she was restored to her pfyte helthe by dyete and phisyke and by the Course of nature whiche expelled the mater being cause of her seckenes, in the meane tyme whyles the seid person of Aldyngton was with the seid Archibisshop as is afore rehersed : And albeit the seid Elizabeth was thus naturally restored to her helthe, yet she being accustomed and acquaynted with the maner and facion of her distract traunses, by the counsayle conspiracy and confideracie of the seid Edwarde Bockyng and Richarde Maister, dyd falsely practyse use and shewe unto the people dyverse and mervaylous sodeyne alteracions of her sensible parties of her bodie, craftely utteryng in her seid feyned and falce traunses dyverse and many vertuous and holy wordes tendyng to the rebuke of synne, and in reprovyng of suche newe opynyons as then began to spryng in this Realme whiche she called heresies, as she was induced and taught by the seid Edwarde Bockyng and Richard Maister, usyng all the wayes of falce hipocrisie to thentent the people shulde geve beleve and credence unto her, wherby they myght be the sooner broughte into the detestable crymes of blasphemye and idolatrie ayenst Almyghty God ; and the seid Edwarde Bockyng being maliciously fyxed in hys opynyon ayenste the Kynges Highnes in the seid detested matrymony, and intendyng in hys mynde afterward^e for hys parte falselye and traytrouslye to use the seid Elizabeth as a dyabolyke instrument to [stere³] move and pvoke the people of this Realme aswell nobles as other to mourmour and grugge ayenst the majestie of our seyde Soveraygne Lorde and all hys juste and lawfull pcedyng^e in the seid devorse and sepacion, as after he dyd in verye dede, for thaccomplysshyng of hys seid false malicious and traytrous intentis falsely devysed and conspired with the seid Richard that the seid Elizabeth shulde shewe and manyfeste her self to the people to be an excellent vertuous and an holy woman, and that all her word^e and ded^e shulde appere to the worlde to procede of a mervaylous holynes rebukyng the cōmen synnes and vyses of the worlde, as though she were toughte and inspyred of the holy [sprete⁴] of God, and not only moved and counseyled the seid Elizabeth thus to use her self ; surmytting to her that she spake suche thynges in the extasie of her sekenes that came by the inspyracion of God, but also counseyled and pceded the seid Elizabeth to be brought and conveyd to the seid Chapell of our Lady, and she therin openly in the p^sence of the people (that there shulde be assembled by their p^curement^e) shulde use and experyment suche lyke traunses and alteracions of hir face and other the outwarde sensible partis of her body as she used in the extremyte and extacye of her seid sekenes, To whos counsaillies and advertisementes the seid Elyzabeth agreed ; [Wherapon⁵] at a day by them appoyntyd and agreed the seid Edwarde and Richarde labored solicited and pceded above the number of ij thousande psones to repayre to the seid Chapell, surmytting that the seid Elizabeth, which as they seid had mervaylous and many vysyons and revelacions of God, shuld be brought thether and theyre receyve her helthe by myracle of our Lady whose ymage was in the seid Chapell ; by reason of wyche falce feyned and detestable conspiracy and ypocracy at the day by them appoyntyd there assembled to the seid Chapell above the number of ij thousande people ; at which day also the seid Edwarde Bockyng and Richard Maister pceded and caused the seid Elizabeth to repare to the seid Chappell, where the seid Elizabeth, albeit she at that tyme and longe afore was restored to helth of her body and discharged of her torment^e and afflyccions whiche she hadd in the extasie of her secknes, yet nevertheles by the p^curement and crafty counsell of the seid Edwarde Bockyng and Richard Maister dyd falsely feyne and shewe unto the people in the same chapell many alteracions of her face and other outwarde sensible partes of her body, and falsely feyned and shewed her self in traunses utteryng wondrous wordes as she was afore subtelly and craftly induced and taught by the seid Richard and Edwarde to do : And amonges other thynges she uttered that it was the pleasure of God that the seid Edwarde Bockyng shuld be hir gostly father, and that she shulde be a religious woman, as she was taught by the seid Edwarde Bockyng and Ri^c Maister ; and within a whyle after demonstracion of suche falce feyned and dissimuled traunses she appered to the people to be sodenly releved from her sekenes and [affleccions¹] by the intercession and meanes of the ymage of our Lady being in the same Chapell; by meanes of which falce feyned hypocrysie dissymuled and cloked sanctitie, so conspired and craftly ymagyned by the seid Edwarde Bockyng and Richarde Maister, the seid Elizabeth was brought into a mervelous fame credit and good opynyon of a great multitude of the people of this Realme: And to increce the fame of the seid falce feyned hypocricy the seid Elizabeth afterward^e by the counsell and pcurement of the seid Edwarde Bockyng entred into the relygyon and be came a Nonne pfessed in the seid priory of Seynt Sepulcurs, to whome the seid Edwarde Bockyng had cōmenly hys resorte, not without pbable vehement and vyolent suspicion of incontynencye, pretending to be hir gostly father by Godys appoyntment; & by conspiracye bytwene her and hym caused her styll to psist and abyde in the practysyng of her seid falce ypcrycie and [dissymylyng²] traunses and raptis; And that she shulde surmytt to the people that when she was in suche simuled alteracion of her sensible parties of her body, that she was then rapt by Almyghty God frome thaffeccions of this worlde and tolde by the holy spyryt of God many thynges that shulde folowe to the worlde for punyshment of the synnes of the prynces and the people; And that she shulde also sey that she was moche pvoked and tempted aswell to the synne of the flesshe as otherwyse by her gostly enemye the Devell, at dyverse and sondre tymes and in dyverse and sondre ways and facions, And yet nevertheles that she by the grace of God was preserved and stedfastly resisted suche temptacions; by occasion of which counsayle and pcurement of the seid Edwarde Bockyng the seid Elizabeth by contynuanse of tyme toke suche a courage upon her, that she falsely feyned and seyde that she had many revelacōns of Almyghty God and hys holy Sayntes with hevenly lyghtes hevenly voises hevenly melodyes and joyes, and specialy in a chapell of Seynt Gyles in the seid Nuñrie, to the whiche chapell she oftentimes resorted to receyve vysions and revelacions as cōmaunded by God as she falsely reported, and speciall by night saing that the dorture dore was made open unto hir (³) Godes power, utteryng the same aswell to the seid Edward Bockyng as to dyverse other psones; by the which her falce feyned revelacions and cloked hipocrisy she was reputed amongst many people of this Realme to be a very holy woman inspired with God, where in very dede she never had vysion or revelacion from God as she hath playnly and openly confessed her self, and therefore her stealing fourth of the dorture in the nyght (which was ones or twyse wekely) was not for spirituall busynes nor to receyve revelacions of God, but rather for bodyly cōicacion and pleasure with her fryndes, which coude not have so good leisure and oportunitie with her by day; and for ratificacion of her fals feyned revelacions the seid Edwarde by conspiracye bytwene hym and the seid Elizabeth reveled the same to the mooste Reverende father in God William late Archebisshoḡ of Canterbury, who by falce and untrue surmyses tales and lyes of the seid Edwarde and Elizabeth was allured brought and induced to a credyte therin, and made no diligent serches for tryall of theire seid falshodes and confederacions, but suffered and admytted the same, to the blasphemy of Almyghty God and to the great disceyte of the prynce and people of this Realme: And for a ppetuall memory of the seid feyned and [dissimulate⁴] hypocrycie and false revelacions of the seid Elizabeth, the seid Edwarde Bockyng Richarde Maister and one John Deryng a Monke in the seid Monastie of Christis Churche forseid, made wryte and caused to be wrytyn sondry bokes, bothe greate and small both prynted and wrytyn, concōnyng the particularities of the seid false and feyned hipocrisy and revelacions of the seid Elizabeth, or the defence or greate prayse of the same, Surmytting and puttyng fourthe the same false and feyned practyses and revelacions of the seid Elizabeth to be juste & true myracles shewed by Almyghtie God in the favour of the sanctite of the seid Elizabeth, where in dede they byn and were falsely devysed compased conspired wrytyn and maynteyned, by the seid Elizabeth Edwarde Bockyng Richarde Maister and John Deryng, to thonely intente to bryng the seid Elizabeth in the fame and credyte of the people of this Realme, wherby the people shulde the more be apte and disposed by her fals cloked hipocrysy and sanctitie to cōmytte the crymes of blasphemye and hydolatrie ayenst God, and also the soner induced by the fals revelacions of the seid Elizabeth to murmur gruge and be of evyll opynyon ayenst the majeste of our seid Sovereigne Lorde to the greate perell and daunger of hys most ryall pson: And one Edwarde Thwaites gentilman translated and wrott dyverse quayres and shetis of paper concōnyng the seid false feyned revelacions and myracles of the seid Elizabeth: And also one Thomas Laurence of Canturbury being regester to the Archidecon of Canturbury, at the instance and desyre of the seid Edwarde Bockyng wrott a greate boke of the seid falce and feyned myracles and revelacions of the seid Elizabeth in a fayre hande redy to be a cōpye to the prynter when the seid boke shulde be put to stampe; Amonges whiche false and feyned revelacions surmysed by the seid Elizabeth, and put in wrytyng^e in dyvse bokes by the false conspiracye meanes and pcurement of the seid Edwarde Bockyng Richard Maister John Deryng and other theire Complices, there is expressed, that the Devyll shuld appere to the seid Elizabeth in dyverse facions some tymes lyke a man wantonly aparelled, some tyme lyke a byrde deformed, and some tyme otherwyse, And that Mary Magdalene shuld often appere to the seid Elizabeth and revele to her many revelacions, and at one tyme shulde delyver to her a letter wrytyn in heven, parte wherof was lymned with golden letters, where indede the same tres were wrytyn with the hande of a Monke at Seynt Augustyns in Canterbury named [Haukherst ⁵] There was also wrytyn and conteyned amonges the seid false and feyned myracles and revelacions, that when the Kynges Highnes was at Caleis in the entreview betwene hys Majestie and the Frenche Kyng and heryng masse in the Church of our Lady at Caleis, that God was so displeased with the Kynges Highnes that hys grace sawe not that tyme at the masse the blessed Sacrament in forme of breade, for it was takyn away from the Prest [and ⁶] (being at masse) by an angell, and mynystred to the seid Elizabeth then being there present and invysible, and sodenly conveyed and rapte thens ageyn by the power of God in to the seid Nonnerie where she is pfessed; with many other fals feyned fables and tales devysed conspired and defended by the seid Elizabeth Edwarde Bockyng and John Deryng wrytyn as myracles in the seid bokes, for a memoriall to sett fourth the false and feyned hipocrysie and cloked sanctite of the seid Elizabeth to the people of this Realme; as by the seid sondry bokes and wrytyng^e therof made sene and examyned by the Kynges most honorable counsell more playnly appereth;

in which boke be wryten suche tymes and sentences of reproche and slauder ageynst the Kynges Highnes and the Quene which were to shamefull to be wrytyn ayenst the most vyle and ungracious persones lyyng, which to here it wolde abhorre evy true subjecte of this Realme: AND after the seid Elizabeth by suche her false and feyned hypocrysie and dissimuled sanctitie was brought in a greate brute and fame of the people in sondre parties of this Realme, then the seid Edwarde Bockyng by pcurment and secrete conspiracy of dyverse psones unknowen, which maligned ayenst the pcedyng^l of the Kynges Highnes for the separacion and devorce in the seid detestyd and unlawfull maryage, traytrously intenyng to put the Kynges Highnes in a murmur and evyll opnyon of hys people for the same, counseyled and [stered¹] the seid Elizabeth that she shuld aske a peticion of Almyghty God, to knowe whether God was displeased with the Kynges Highnes for procedyng in the seid devorce and sepacion of the maryage bytwene hys Highnes and the seid Lady Kathrayne, declaryng to her many tymes that he and dyverse other notable lerned men of this Realme, and many of the cōmen people of the same, were in firme opnyons that the Kynges procedyng in the seid devorce was ayenst the lawes of God; [wherapon²] the seid Elizabeth subtylly and craftily conceyvyng thopinyon and mynde of the seid Edwarde, wyllyng to please hym, reveled and shewed unto the seid Edward that she had knowlege by revelacion from God, that God was highly displeased with our seid Sovereigne Lorde for the same mater, and in case he [decided³] not from hys pcedyng^l in the seid devorse and sepacion but pursued the same and maryed agayn, that then within one moneth after suche mariage he shuld no lenger be Kyng of this Realme, and in the reputacion of Almyghtie God shuld not be a Kyng one day nor one houre, and that he shuld [dey⁴] a villaynes dethe; Saing farther that there was a roote with three branches and tyll they were plucked up it shuld never be merye in Englund, interpretyng the roote to be the late Lorde Cardynall, and the first branche to be the Kyng our Sovereigne Lorde, the seconde the Duke of Norfolk and the [the⁵] thirde [to be⁶] the Duke of Suffolke; which falce feyned revelacions, by the myschevous and malicious counsaile and conspiracye of the seid Edwarde Bockyng with the seid Elizabeth, were wrytyn and expressed in the seid boke and volumes conteynyng the false and feyned revelacions and myracles of the seid Elizabeth for a ppetuall memorye therof; to the utter reproche and perell of distruccion of the Kynges pson his honour fame and name, and prevely and secretly sett fourth by the seid Elizabeth Edwarde Bockyng John Deryng and Richard Master generally to dyverse and many of the Kynges Subjectes, and specially as to electe psons to the Reverende father John Busshop^p of Rochester, John Adeson Clerke Chapleyne to the same Bysshopp^p, and to one Henry Golde preste bacheler of Dyvynyte, to Hugh Ryche fryer observaunt and late Warden of the fryers obfvaunt^l of Canturbury, which bere malice and malignytie to all the Kynges pcedyng^l in the seid devorce and sepacion, by cause it was cont^ry to their perverse and frowarde opnyons, intenyng by colere of the seid false and feyned hypocricye and revelacions of the seid Elizabeth not only to lett the seid devorce and sepacion, but also to brynge [ant⁷] sett forth secretly in the hed^l of the people of this Realme aswell nobles as other, that all the Kynges actes and pcedyng^l in the same were ayenst holy scriptures and the pleasure of Almyghty God, wherby the Kynges Highnes shulde be brought in a grudge and evyll opnyon of hys people: And the seid John Bysshoppe of Rochester Henry Golde Hugh Ryche Richard Rysby Richarde Master John Deryng, at sondrye and sev^lall tymes and places spake with the seid Elizabeth and toke [revelacion⁸] of her of the seid false and feyned revelacions which she feyned that she had of Almighty God, aswell concⁿyng the Kynges Highnes as other after the forme and tymes above specified; and havyng knowlege therof the seid Hugh Ryche Richarde Rysby and Henry Golde clerke gave suche fyrme and constant credit therunto that they trayterously conceyled hit frome the Kynges Highnes, and traytrously beleved in their hartys that the Kyng our Sovereigne Lorde after hys late maryage solempnyzed betwene hys Hyghnes and hys seid moost dere and entyerly beloved wyf Quene Anne, was no lenger rightfully Kyng of this Realme in the reputacion of Almyghty God; wherby in their hertes and wylles they trayterously withdrew from his Highnes their naturall dueties of obedience, and secretly taught and moved other persons, to whome they reveled the sayde false and feyned revelacions, that they ought and myght lawfully doo in the same wyse; and practysed the seid matters ayenst the Kynges Majestie falsely maliciously and traytrously at sondry places and tymes with the fathers and nonnes of Syon and dyverse monkes of the Charter House of London and Shene, and with dyverse freers obfvaunt^l of the places of Rychemond Grenewich and Caunturbury, and to dyv^lse others both spirituall and temporall psones in greate nombre; to thyntent to sow a secrete murmur and gruge in the hartys of the Kynges subjectis ayenst the Majestie of our seid Sovereigne Lorde and all hys pcedyng^l in theseid devorse and sepacion; intenyng therby to make suche a dyvysyon and rebellyng in this Realme amonges the Kynges subjectis wherby the Kynges Highnes shulde not only have byn put to perell of hys lyff but also in joperdie to be depryved from hys Crowne and Dignytie royall.

AND for a more playne and p^ticular declaracion of the malicious and traytrous intentis of the seid Elyzabeth Edwarde Bockyng John Deryng Hugh Ryche Richard Rysby and Henry Golde, they concluded, by a confideracie among^l theymselves eche with other, to set forth in sermones and prechynges the seid revelacions to the people of this Realme ayenst the Kynges Majestie, when soever it shulde please the seid Elizabeth to appoynt theym the tyme when they shulde so do, and agreed eche with other secretly and sett forth the sayd false and feyned revelacions to their acquyntaunce and frend^l in this Realme; intenyng to make a great multitude of people of this Realme by their secrete conspiracyes in an aptnes to receyve and take suche their sarmons and prechyng^l whiche they intenyd to make as is aforeseid concⁿyng the p^misses, traytrously intenyng therby to put our seid Sovereigne Lorde not only in the perell of hys lyff but also in the jeopardie of losse and depryvacion of hys crowne and dignytie royall of this Realme from hym and hys lawfull succession for ever: And in accomplishing their false traytrous and malycious intent^l ayenst our seid Sovereigne Lorde, they caused the seid Elizabeth at two tymes secretly to declare the seid false and feyned revelacions to two of the popes Oratours and Ambassatours at the Cities of Canturbury and London;

IN MOSTE HUMBLE wyse lamentablye [shewen¹] unto your Highnes your most humble lovyng and obedyent subjectes the cōmons of this your Realme; That where the Clergie of the same in the secoude yere of Kyng Henry the iiiijth one of your most noble pgenitours uppon their suggestyon, dyd impetrate & opteyne by auctoritie of parliament holden in the seid secoude yere, that it shulde be lefull for evy ordynarye to convent areste and imprison any person or persons whom they thought defamed or suspec^te of Heresie; and theym to kepe in their [persons²] tyll they were purged therof or abjured or cōmytted to [ley³] power; to be burned after the det^mynacion of the holy Churche and canonicall sanctiōns; as in an acte made at the parlyament holden in the seid secoude yere of Kyng Henry the iiiijth emonges other thynges more at large doth appere; For asmoche as the seid acte doth not in any parte therof declare any certeyne cases of Heresy contrary to the detemynacion of holye scripture or the canonicall sanctiōns therin expressed, wherby your most lovyng and obedyent subjeti^s mought be lerned to eschewe the daungers and paynes in the seid acte comprised, and to abhorre and deteste that foule and [destable⁴] cryme of heresie; And also by cause those wordes canonycall sanctiōns and suche other lyke conteyned in the seid acte are soo generall, that unneth the most expert and best lerned men of this your Realme diligently lying in wayte uppon hym self can eschewe and avoyd the penaltie and daunger of the same acte and canonycall sanctiōns yf he shulde be examyned upon suche capcious in^trogatoryes as is and hath byn accustomed to be mynstred by the Ordynaries of this Realme in cases where they wyll suspec^te any pson or psones of heresy: And over this for asmoche as it ston^deth not with the right order of justice nor good equitye that any pson shuld be convycte and put to the losse of hys lyfe good name or goodes onles it were by due accusacion and wytnes, or by presentment [verdyd⁵] confession or pces of outlarye; and also by the lawes of your Realme for treasons cōmyttid to the perell of your most Ryall Majestie, uppon whose suertie dependith the hole welth of this Realme, noo person can ne may be putto deth but by presentment verdict confession or proces of outlarye as is afore seid; wherfore it is not resonable that any Ordynarye by any suspec^tion conceyved of hys owne fantasie without due accusacion or presentment shuld put any subjecte of this Realme in the infamy^e and slaunder of heresie to the perell of lyf losse of name and goodes; And that also there be many heresy^es and paynes and punysshementes for heresy^es declared and ordyned in and by the seid canonycall sanctiōns and by the lawes and ordynaunces made by the Popes or Bisshops of Rome and by their auctorities, for holdyng doing preaching or spekyng of thynges cont^ry to the seid canonycall sanctiōns lawes and ordynances which be but humayne being mere repugnaunte and contrarious to the prerogatyve of your ymperyall Crowne regal jurisdiccioⁿ lawes statutes and ordyn^{nc}es of this your Realme; By reason wherof your people of the same for observyng mayntenyng defendyng and due executyng of your seid lawes statutes and prerogatyve royall by auctoritie of that acte made in theseid secoude yere of Kyng Henry the fourth may be brought into slaunder of heresy^e to their greate infamy^e and daunger and perell of their lyves: IN CONSIDERACION wherof it may please your Highnes by the assent of your Lordes Spirituall and temporall and the cōmys in this present parliament [assembled⁶] and by auctoritie of the same to adulle abrogate frustrate and make voyde the seid acte made in the seid secoude yere of Kyng Henry the iiiijth and evy thyng^e therin conteyned.
