Clarksville's talented and caring staff is committed to the achievement and well-being of all students. The school's focus on equity, relationships, and belonging supports students' learning as they meet the challenges of a rigorous curriculum. Student voice is encouraged and empowered at Clarksville Middle School. Students take an active role in many schoolwide activities including celebrating inclusion, planning student and family nights, and participating in academic contests and team building activities.

The middle school years are a period of enormous growth and development. We understand that the middle school child requires a supportive environment for self-exploration and healthy socioemotional development. Our school is committed to providing students with an environment where they are intellectually challenged, provided with guidance and support and enjoy a meaningful school experience. The staff at Clarksville Middle School is dedicated to serving the academic, physical and socioemotional needs of all students.

Clarksville Middle School's stellar reputation as a National and Maryland Blue Ribbon School of Excellence is due to the contributions of intellectually curious students, knowledgeable staff, and supportive parents. The school provides students with multiple learning opportunities, both in and outside of the classroom. Clarksville Middle is proud of the success our students have in countywide academic opportunities such as the National History Day competition, with many entries advancing to the county and state levels. Annually, students compete in the Scripps National Spelling Bee, where several students have advanced to the national level. Additionally, Clarksville has a robust performing arts program, in which students consistently receive superior ratings at county-level music assessments.

Clarksville's staff collaborates closely with their dedicated PTA and community. The partnership with parents cements a strong foundation for students as they navigate through a meaningful middle school experience.
