Message from the Chair

Looking back, 2023 was a groundbreaking and exciting year for OBSI.

Consumer demand for OBSI services was exceptionally high, resulting in a record year for inquiries and cases. Nearly double the number of Canadians reached out to us for assistance and we opened almost triple the number of cases compared to the previous record highs of 2022.

OBSI's team responded by focusing on productivity and responsiveness and achieved impressive gains in efficiency and timeliness. You can read more about OBSI's response to this unprecedented increase in consumer demand in Sarah Bradley's message that follows.

The OBSI team should be commended for all it has accomplished this past year.

The year also saw OBSI reach two significant mandate milestones as Canada's banking and investment regulators continued to strengthen their support for OBSI, recognizing the critical role that ombuds services play in financial consumer protection.

OBSI DESIGNATED CANADA'S SOLE BANKING OMBUDSMAN

On October 17, 2023, Canada's Minister of Finance announced the designation of OBSI to be the sole external complaint body (ECB) for Canadian banks, effective November 1, 2024. The legislation required for this new model was passed in the Budget Implementation Act in June 2023.

The federal government's decision followed years of calls for establishing a single ombudsman for Canadian banks and many examinations of the issue, including in 2020 FCAC's (Financial Consumer Agency of Canada) review of ECBs and in 2021 the Federal Department of Finance's consultation on the ECB system.

In its 2021 consultation document Strengthening Canada's External Complaint Handling System, the government reflected on FCAC's earlier findings, noting particularly that FCAC's review had validated some of the broader concerns raised about the multiple-ECB model by consumers and consumer groups. They observed that the multiple-ECB model is not consistent with international standards, introduces inefficiencies and increases the complexity of the external dispute resolution system. FCAC had expressed concerns about how allowing banks to choose the dispute resolution provider negatively affects consumers' perceptions of the fairness and impartiality of the system, and questioned whether the one-sided competition between ECBs for member banks was in consumers' interests.

FCAC launched the selection process for the single ECB in May 2023, and the selection review took place throughout the summer and early fall. Our application highlighted:

- our organizational strengths
- our compliance with all ECB requirements – as well as international best practices

Maureen Jensen
Chair, Board of Directors

- the advantages of having one ombudsman for both banking and securities
- our commitment to fulfilling this role in the public interest and in the interest of the financial service industry as a whole

We are honoured to have been designated to serve in this critical role for all of Canada's banks and their customers. This designation validates our ongoing efforts to provide consumers and banks with an effective process for addressing their disputes and to offer a world-class dispute resolution service that everyone can have confidence in.

We are now in the process of working with FCAC, the returning and continuing banks, as well as the Canadian Bankers Association and other stakeholders to ensure a smooth transition.

PROPOSAL FOR BINDING AUTHORITY FOR INVESTMENT COMPLAINTS

Following many years of public discussion and the recommendations of numerous independent external reviews, the Canadian Securities Administrators (CSA) committed in 2022 to developing a proposal for providing OBSI with binding authority. The proposed framework was published for public comment in November 2023.

In its Notice, the CSA observed that while most retail clients' complaints are resolved by firms, concerns remain about patterns of refusal to pay complainants and settling disputes for less than OBSI recommends. These outcomes can have significant impacts on complainants and may discourage others from taking advantage of OBSI's services. The CSA commented that making OBSI recommendations binding could improve investor protection and promote increased fairness for retail investors.

Fundamentally, the CSA's proposed framework includes adding an additional review stage to OBSI's current recommendation process. The added stage provides for a fair, proportionate and impartial review of the recommendation made following the investigation if either or both parties object to the recommendation made at the investigation level. OBSI's final decisions would be binding.

This is similar to the process found in other ombuds services in comparable countries, such as the United Kingdom and Australia.

OBSI is supportive of this proposed framework and in our public comment we have made some recommendations building on the proposed framework strengths.

GOVERNANCE CHANGES AND ENHANCED STAKEHOLDER INPUT AND OUTREACH

In 2023, OBSI also undertook some important governance changes. Building on the recommendations from our 2022 independent external review, we completed a review and public consultation of our governance, which resulted in some key changes to our board framework and director selection process.

These changes included increasing the number of designated consumer interest director positions on our board from one to three, complementing our three industry directors and four community director roles. In addition, we expanded our stakeholder outreach efforts, established a more comprehensive director skills matrix, and changed our industry director selection process to one based on consultation rather than direct nomination by industry associations. In future, all consumer interest and industry directors will be selected following an open call for nominations and consultation with relevant stakeholder groups.

With these enhancements to consumer engagement on the board and increased stakeholder outreach, the board also decided not to reconvene the Consumer and Investor Advisory Council (CIAC). OBSI's CIAC was established over 12 years ago, to provide the input of consumers and investors to OBSI's board and management team. The advice from the CIAC was both valuable and insightful and led to the board's decision to further enhance consumer input in board decision-making by adding these skills to the board and increasing the number of consumer interest directors. Taken together, these changes ensure that the OBSI board will have effective consumer and investor advice to complement the advice from our industry directors.

BOARD RENEWAL

The past year also marked some important milestones for board renewal. We bid farewell to industry director Alexandra Williams, who resigned from the board to take on a new role with the Canadian Investment Regulatory Organization, and we launched a significant director search process to fill four expected board vacancies as three of our community directors reached the end of their terms in February 2024.

Looking ahead to 2024, the board is committed to ensuring that, as OBSI grows and takes on its new responsibilities, it will continue to focus on providing fair, effective and trusted services to all consumers and participating firms and continue to earn the trust and respect of all stakeholders.

Maureen Jensen
Chair, Board of Directors

Message from the Ombudsman and CEO

2023 was a pivotal and groundbreaking year for OBSI.

In addition to the major changes and potential changes to our mandate outlined in Maureen Jensen’s message, our organization also successfully met some very significant operational challenges this year as consumer demand for our services soared. During the year, the number of Canadians who reached out to us for information and assistance nearly doubled and we opened more than triple the number of investigations of any prior year.

These surging case and inquiry volumes have been led by banking, largely due to the new Consumer Protection Framework provisions of the Bank Act that came into force in mid-2022. These changes were intended to and in fact have reduced complainant attrition significantly and, as a result, we are seeing dramatically more cases escalating to us. At the same time, investment cases are also at record high levels, led by suitability and crypto asset fraud cases.

This unprecedented growth in complaints presented a significant challenge to our organization and I am proud to say that we have been able to meet this challenge well. The OBSI team responded with impressive improvements in productivity and efficiency. Recognizing the magnitude of the challenge, our team worked collaboratively to identify new opportunities for streamlining of our process and explored innovative new technological tools to support us in our work. We also recognized that growth of our team was necessary to meet this increased demand and we were pleased to be joined by many talented and committed new staff during the year.

EFFICIENCY IMPROVEMENTS

On the efficiency front, our total cases closed more than doubled from over 1,000 last year to over 2,100 this year, and our per investigator efficiency also increased by more than 70%.

OBSI TOTAL CASES CLOSED

2016–2023

Sarah P. Bradley
Ombudsman and CEO

CASES CLOSED PER INVESTIGATIVE

TEAM FTE 2016–2023

Our time to complete a case also reached all-time lows:

- 80% of banking cases were closed in under 60 days – with an average of 40 days
- 77% of investment cases were closed in under 90 days – with an average of 67 days

We were able to drive this increased productivity through a number of initiatives:

- We developed and deployed our new fast track case approach and created two dedicated fast track teams – ensuring that our investigations are proportionate to the complaints, removing any unnecessary processes and focusing on arriving at a fair outcome as efficiently as possible, while maintaining our investigative and communication quality and our data integrity.
- We streamlined our case management system to reduce administrative tasks for our investigators and managers and built IT tools to assist wherever possible.
- We boosted our case guidance and templates for common communications.

TEAM EXPANSION TO MEET COMPLAINT

DEMAND AND PREPARE FOR THE FUTURE

This significant growth in demand for our services also required us to add more staff to our case management and investigative teams. Our investigative team complement increased in 2023 by approximately 80%. While these increased staffing levels also mean overall higher budgets and increased fees, our economies of scale and scope and overall efficiency improvements allowed us to close over 100% more cases than 2022 with only a 27% increase in expenses.

But with this level of growth, and despite our efficiency and productivity gains, we are also experiencing some delays in our ability to assign cases to investigators within our standard time frames. By the end of 2023, some cases were waiting almost three months for assignment to an investigator. We are committed to reducing these wait times and returning to our standard case performance levels of assigning cases within two weeks in 2024 as we continue to build our team and case closing capacity.

PROGRESS TOWARD OUR

STRATEGIC PLAN

Notwithstanding the challenge we faced related to the growth in consumer demand for our services, we also continued to make progress in meeting the objectives set out in our strategic plan for 2022–2026. Our plan contains three interconnected and mutually supporting success pillars and related objectives. Together, these provide a foundation for OBSI to thrive as a resilient, successful organization. Each year, our annual operating plans and key initiatives align to these pillars, with any necessary adjustments to address new issues. Our achievements this past year are outlined in the Progress Toward Our Goals section of this report.

2024 OUTLOOK

In 2024, we expect consumer demand for our services to remain very high, likely at or near 2023 levels, and our focus will be on continuing to meet all our service standards by year end. A key focus for the year will be on work related to welcoming all banks and their customers to our service starting November 1, 2024. We look forward to working with stakeholders to ensure a smooth transition to the single external complaint body (ECB) system and to meeting the needs of Canadian banks and their customers.

An important part of this preparation will be significant growth of our team in 2024. New team members will help us to address current wait times and to ensure we are ready to serve as Canada's sole ECB. This growth will, of course, impact our expenses, but will also showcase the impressive improvements in efficiency and economies of scale and scope that a single ECB system can offer. By 2025, when all banks have returned to OBSI, we anticipate that we will be closing approximately 400% more cases than 2022, with only 100% higher expenses.

In 2024, we will also be taking action on some of the recommendations of our 2022 external reviews, including undertaking a consultation with stakeholders on our loss calculation approaches. In addition, we look forward to the discussion on the Canadian Securities Administrators' proposed framework for binding authority and finding a solution to address the limitations of the 'name and shame' process and the challenge of low offers to consumers following an OBSI recommendation.

In closing, I want to thank the OBSI team for their tremendous efforts this past year. As I mentioned at the outset of this message, demand for our services has soared and the OBSI staff have shown outstanding dedication and commitment to meeting the needs of consumers and firms. As we go forward, I am confident that we will continue to successfully achieve our goals and meet our public service mandate.

PUBLIC INQUIRIES IN 2023

A record number of Canadians reached out to OBSI for help

OBSI provides assistance to thousands of people who reach out to us each year with complaints and inquiries about a wide range of banking and investment matters such as mortgages, mutual funds, bonds and GICs, debit and credit cards, loans and credit, unauthorized trading, transaction errors, fraud, and investment advice. Our Case Assessment Officers (CAOs) provide information and assistance and document each of these unique interactions with the public as an inquiry. OBSI's services are free and available in both English and French.

How and why Canadians contact us

We often hear from consumers who are confused.

Where do they turn to resolve their financial services issue? Which regulator oversees their dispute? Which regulations apply to their financial services complaint? Which financial services dispute resolution provider is mandated to handle their complaint? And what steps do they need to take to resolve their issues? Our case assessment officers (CAOs) are here to help.

In addition to helping them file a complaint with OBSI, our CAOs are trained to guide consumers to the most appropriate avenue if their issue is outside of our mandate. As an integral part of Canada's financial services consumer protection framework, we help consumers navigate a complex and often confusing financial system.

Consumers contact OBSI when they wish to submit a complaint about their bank, investment firm, or financial institution. In these cases, a CAO will collect basic information, such as the individual's contact information and details about their complaint. The CAO will review the consumer's complaint and determine if it is within our mandate. If more information is needed, the CAO may request supporting documents.

When the CAO has determined the case is within our mandate, the next step is to ask the consumer to sign and return a Consent Letter, which allows us to begin our investigation. If a complaint falls outside of our mandate, we will communicate our reasons to the consumer.

HOW CANADIANS CONTACT US

We offer several ways for consumers to contact us. The most common ways are by phone and through email. Our service is available in English and French, the official languages of Canada. We can also answer questions about our dispute resolution process in over 170 languages using a translation service.

This past year, we saw very little change to how Canadians chose to contact us, with similar proportions of email, phone and online inquiries as prior years.

WHAT CANADIANS INQUIRE ABOUT

We receive questions and complaints about our participating firms and the products and services they offer. Our CAO team monitors public inquiries and consumer complaints for potential trends in financial services products and issues. Early identification of potential product, sector or systemic issues is an important public service we provide.

Approximately 11% of our inquiries related to investments in 2023 and 71% to deposit-taking firms. We also redirected 3,272 inquiries about firms that do not use our service.

71% of our inquiries related to deposit-taking firms

12,000+ inquiries related to banks

11% of our inquiries related to investments

1,800+ inquiries related to investment firms

In 2023, we saw a 22% increase in investment-related inquiries and a 56% increase in bank-related inquiries.

The significant increase in bank-related inquiries was in large part due to changes to the Bank Act Consumer Protection Framework that came into effect on June 30, 2022, which changed how federally regulated banks must deal with consumer complaints.

Banking cases increased significantly to 2,388 in 2023 up from 686 in 2022, a 248% year-over-year increase.

- The total number of banking cases closed was 1,571 in 2023 compared to 562 in 2022, an increase of 180%.

Financial highlights

In 2023, we took an average of 40 days to complete banking-related investigations, down from 52 days in 2022.

We also completed 100% of banking cases in less than 120 days, consistent with the timeliness requirements under federal Bank Act regulations.

Our measures of timeliness begin when we assign a case to an investigator and end when we send a final written conclusion to the consumer and the firm.

Most cases closed in under 60 days and almost all in under 90 days in 2023

Our service standard is that we will complete most banking cases in less than 60 days and almost all banking cases in less than 90 days, though some cases may take longer if they are complex or there are delays relating to availability or participation by the firm or consumer.

of days	% of cases closed
under 30	45%
under 60	80%
under 90	97%
under 120	100%

Straightforward cases closed in an average of 32 days

Generally, we can reach a conclusion in less complex, straightforward cases more quickly than we can in more complex cases. In 2023, we completed our investigation in straightforward banking cases in an average of 32 days, up from 30 days in 2022.

HISTORICAL BANKING CASE TIMELINESS

2019-2023

Average number of days

Opened cases by firm

OBSI opened 2,388 banking cases this year from 45 firms providing banking services.

When reviewing case numbers for each firm, it is important to note that a higher number of cases opened for a firm may not be a negative indication. Higher case volumes are generally unrelated to case outcomes and may simply be a result of the firm effectively informing consumers about OBSI's services.

We recommended monetary compensation in 371 cases and non-monetary compensation, such as an apology or restoration of a credit rating, in 38 cases. The results of our consumer satisfaction surveys can be found on page 55.

WHY ARE THESE FIGURES REPORTED?

The Financial Consumer Agency of Canada (FCAC) sets out conditions that an external complaint body (ECB) must meet to maintain FCAC approval. As an approved ECB, OBSI is required to publish an annual report that includes:

- complaints that it received
- complaints that it determined were within its Terms of Reference
- final recommendations that it made
- complaints that, in its opinion, were resolved to the satisfaction of the persons who made them

WHAT DOES "RESOLVED TO THE SATISFACTION OF THE COMPLAINANT" MEAN?

Resolved to the satisfaction of the complainant reflects the different case outcomes OBSI considers resolved to the satisfaction of the person making the complaint. These include:

- Monetary settlements where OBSI has found that the complaint merited some compensation, including monetary settlements where OBSI deemed a firm's original offer to be fair
- Non-monetary resolutions, such as a letter of apology, correcting a credit bureau record, or sending explanatory letters to a consumer's creditors
- Settlements before an investigation where the firm and complainant came to a resolution before an investigation formally began

Case outcomes

OBSI works with consumers and participating firms to arrive at fair and reasonable outcomes.

If an investigation finds that a participating firm acted unfairly, made a mistake, or gave bad advice, OBSI will recommend the firm compensate the consumer or investor for any loss, damage, or harm up to $350,000. OBSI may also recommend non-monetary compensation when appropriate, such as correcting a mistake made to a credit history.

If OBSI concludes that the consumer or investor was treated fairly, or the compensation previously offered by the firm is fair, a clear explanation of the findings will be provided to the consumer or investor. In accordance with OBSI's Terms of Reference, the name of any firm that refuses a recommendation will be made public.

Non-monetary compensation

In 2023, we recommended non-monetary compensation in 38 banking cases and one investment case.

Non-monetary compensation can be a letter of apology, restoring a product or service, correcting a credit bureau record, or sending explanatory letters to a consumer's creditors.

Cases and outcomes

In 2023, we investigated and closed 2,157 cases and recommended what we determined to be a fair outcome for each case based on its unique circumstances.

During the year, we helped to facilitate settlements between consumers and firms in 644 cases where we found compensation to be appropriate, and we did not recommend compensation in 1,513 cases. In 2023, no participating firms refused an OBSI recommendation. This visual representation shows the outcome of each case we closed.

Sharing information to build a better financial services system

A financial services ombudsman is uniquely positioned to identify issues affecting multiple consumers in the Canadian financial services sector.

When OBSI investigations or data identify issues that may affect those who have not complained to us (known as “systemic issues”) we do not have the mandate to investigate the broader systemic issue. However, when such issues are identified, we are required to report them to our regulators:

- Financial Consumer Agency of Canada
– any banking issue that may impact multiple customers or have market-wide implications; and
- Canadian Securities Administrators
– any issues that appear likely to have significant regulatory implications, including those that may affect multiple clients of one or more registered firms.

In addition to these specific, case-related reports, we provide ongoing detailed trend data on case issues, products and outcomes to regulators to facilitate discussions with them on the trends we are observing.

We also engage in an open dialogue with regulators and industry participants on emerging issues we identify in our case-handling process.

These channels are an important forum for information exchange between OBSI and financial sector policy makers. In addition, broader systemic issues that we observe frequently inform our public communications such as our consumer and firm bulletins, approaches and case studies.

SYSTEM-WIDE TOPICS DISCUSSED

WITH REGULATORS AT REGULAR

MEETINGS IN 2023

- Detailed aggregate data including:
 - Products, issues and outcomes details and trends
 - Specific (anonymized) case outcomes and summaries
 - Additional information relating to cases involving low settlements
- Cryptocurrency fraud cases
- OBSI’s completed and planned responses to the 2021 external reviews
- Information relevant to the effective transition to the single ECB framework for Canadian banks

OBSI also discussed with the CSA considerations related to binding authority to help the proposed framework meet the needs of Canadian investors.

WE REPORTED ONE CASE-SPECIFIC

SYSTEMIC ISSUE TO REGULATORS IN 2023

Investments

- We identified inconsistencies in the risk rating approaches adopted by different fund groups when applying the CSA risk classification methodology to their funds and instances of misapplication of the CSA risk classification methodology to investment funds not subject to NI 81-102.

Our consumer surveys consistently show that consumers' level of satisfaction with our services is strongly dependent on whether they were satisfied with the outcome of their case.

There is a strong correlation between receiving compensation and higher reported satisfaction.

OBSI received 696 responses to the consumer survey, representing about 32% of cases closed during the year. Of these respondents, 19% were either very satisfied or somewhat satisfied with the outcome of their case, and 81% reported being very dissatisfied, somewhat dissatisfied, or neither satisfied nor dissatisfied with their case outcome. Survey results are reviewed by our management teams to identify areas for improvement and better understand the concerns of OBSI's consumers.

This year, many consumers commented positively on the clear delivery of our communications regarding the final conclusion or recommendation for their complaint.

Survey results and comments are reviewed by our management team to identify areas for improvement and better understand the concerns of OBSI's consumers.

Participating firm feedback

Each year, OBSI solicits feedback from participating firms using a standardized electronic survey.

In 2023, we received a 37% response rate from the 222 firms that received the survey. We survey all firms that had a complaint handled by us during the year and all federally regulated banks that participate in our service.

This year, many firms commented favourably on the professionalism of our staff and the clear delivery of our communications or recommendations.

Aggregate survey results are reviewed by our management team to identify areas for improvement and better understand the concerns of OBSI's participating firms.

Preliminary assessment of the results indicates the need for additional improvements to our firm portal, and meeting with firms to help them understand our mandate and approach to loss calculations. We also continue to invest in resources to manage our case timeliness.

Governance

Financial highlights

OBSI's 10-member Board of Directors plays a vital role in providing organizational oversight.

Throughout 2023, our governance model required the majority of the directors (seven), including the chair, to be from the community, meaning they are independent as they have not been part of industry or government for at least two years. At least one of the community directors is designated the Consumer Interest Director with a particular interest in, access to, and experience representing the interests of the types of consumers that OBSI serves. A minority of the directors (three) were appointed from shortlists of nominees provided by industry bodies.

Governance changes announced in 2023

In 2021, OBSI's independent evaluation recommended a strategic review of the organization's governance structure be undertaken to determine how best to ensure that key stakeholder interests are effectively incorporated into board membership and decision-making.

Following a public governance consultation during the first quarter of 2023 and careful consideration of the comments received by stakeholders, the board announced important governance changes to allow the board to better reflect the diversity of industry sectors that participate in OBSI's service and to balance consumer and industry expertise on the board. The changes announced included:

- The majority of directors continue to be community directors.
- The number of community directors designated as consumer interest directors increased from one to three. Consumer interest directors are selected for their experience in engaging in consumer advocacy in the banking, financial services or other sectors. Consumer stakeholders will be consulted when OBSI is seeking nominations for consumer interest director positions.

- OBSI's board continues to include three designated industry director positions. Industry directors will be selected for their experience and knowledge in one or more of the financial industry sectors that OBSI members operate in and must be directly affiliated with a participating firm at the time of their appointment or within the two preceding years.
- The board will endeavour to ensure that at all times at least one industry director will have current or recent expertise in the banking industry and one industry director will have current or recent expertise with an Investment Dealer or Mutual Fund Dealer, as the majority of cases considered by OBSI relate to these sectors. Banking and financial services stakeholders will be consulted when OBSI is seeking nominations for industry director positions, however, they will no longer be selected solely from nominees put forward by the Canadian Bankers Association, the Investment Industry Regulatory Organization of Canada and the Mutual Fund Dealers Association of Canada (now merged into the Canadian Investment Regulatory Organization).
- Increased direct consumer and industry engagement with OBSI and its board through implementation of regular, semi-annual industry and consumer stakeholder meetings.
- Given the increase in direct consumer engagement with and on the board, the decision was made not to reconvene the Consumer and Investor Advisory Council.

The board also renewed its skills matrix to comprehensively reflect criteria related to business and professional experience, geographic representation, regulatory experience, areas of specialized expertise and diversity. All board members will be evaluated and selected based on their strengths relative to the renewed matrix, to ensure the board collectively has all the required skills to effectively govern the organization, deliver on its public interest mandate and understand the business of its members.

Independence

Independence is fundamental to OBSI's governance. Beyond the composition of the board, further important safeguards of OBSI's independence are in place.

Votes on key independence questions are not only decided by a majority of votes cast by all directors present at the meeting, but also require a majority of community directors present. These key independence questions include such matters as the hiring and evaluation of the Ombudsman, the budget, and changes to OBSI's Terms of Reference.

Formal board evaluations are conducted on a regular basis. Strict rules prohibit the board and individual directors from becoming involved with individual complaints. The final decision concerning complaints rests with the Ombudsman. There is no appeal to the board, nor can the board influence the decisions of the Ombudsman.

Director compensation

OBSI directors are eligible to receive compensation of $30,000 per year for service on OBSI's board, with the board chair receiving $65,000 annually and committee chairs receiving an additional $5,000 annually.

All meeting, travel and preparation time are included in the above amounts and are not subject to additional compensation.

Board committees

FINANCE AND AUDIT COMMITTEE

The Finance and Audit Committee provides oversight of financial reporting and control activities for the board. The committee also oversees OBSI's defined contribution pension plan, receives the report of the external auditor and ensures OBSI's compliance with its legal, regulatory and contractual obligations.

2023 ACTIVITIES INCLUDED:

Review of financial statements

Every quarter, the committee reviews the unaudited quarterly statements of revenue, expenses and balance sheet prepared by senior management. The committee members discuss the financial statements and any variances from budget with senior management at the quarterly committee meetings. When the audited financial statements are prepared after year-end, the committee meets with senior management and auditors to review the financial statements and makes recommendations to the board. At the September meeting each year, the committee meets with the auditor to review the audit plan approach, ask questions and approve the auditor and audit fees for the upcoming fiscal year.

Review of reserve fund

Each year, senior management completes an operating reserve fund analysis outlining whether current targets remain appropriate. The committee reviews the analysis with senior management and plans for possible shortfalls or surpluses are discussed. The committee recommended, and the board subsequently approved, an increase in the operating reserve fund target to reflect organizational growth and budgetary requirements.

Review of 2024 budget

At the September committee meeting each year, the committee members review the budget proposed by senior management, ask questions and provide their input. OBSI's 2024 budget included contingent planning for OBSI's potential designation as the single ECB for all Canadian banks, as preparation for this transition involves significant anticipatory growth.

Pension governance

The committee also oversees OBSI's defined benefit pension plan, defined contribution pension plan, and post-retirement medical plan. The committee reviewed the pension plan's structure, staff participation, information on member communication and plan education.

GOVERNANCE AND HUMAN RESOURCES COMMITTEE

The Governance and Human Resources Committee assists the board on matters of corporate governance, policy development and oversight, annual performance review of the CEO, and senior management succession planning.

2023 ACTIVITIES INCLUDED:

New committee chair

Jill Hugessen was appointed the new Governance and Human Resources Committee chair at the Annual General Meeting in March, replacing Ronald Smith who remains on the committee.

Policy review

Every quarter, the committee reviews a range of policies and matters. Some examples this year included: Privacy Policy Certification and Report, Whistleblower Policy, the Employee Code of Conduct, and the Committee Mandate.

2023 external board evaluation

The committee retained an external expert to conduct a formal board evaluation, reviewed and assessed the results, and consulted with the full board to discuss strategies for strengthening board performance.

New board compensation model

Following a review and report by an external third party regarding OBSI's board compensation model, the committee recommended, and the board subsequently approved, a change to a flat fee model, with fees to be paid quarterly. The new fee model was applied during the year (see Director Compensation on page 62). It was agreed that all directors should be eligible for compensation, including industry directors. Starting January 1, 2024, all directors will have the option to accept compensation for their service on OBSI's board.

Nominations committee for new board members

The committee established a nominations sub-committee to lead the director recruitment process to fill four director vacancies expected in early 2024 as multiple directors reach their term limits.

Governance review

A working group was established to prepare for the governance consultation that started November 1, 2022. The consultation closed on January 31, 2023. The board announced its decisions and updates to its governance structure in June 2023 (see Message from the Chair on page 4 and Governance changes announced in 2023 on page 61).

Terms of Reference change

Amendments were made to OBSI's Terms of Reference to implement the governance changes outlined above.

Financial highlights

OBSI'S BUDGET

OBSI is a not-for-profit organization. We operate on a cost-recovery basis. Our board approves an annual operating plan and budget each September. Each quarter, management meets with the board and the Finance and Audit Committee to monitor the financial performance of the organization.

MANAGING OPERATIONS

OBSI's 2023 and 2024 budgets reflect substantial year-over-year increases, almost entirely related to increasing personnel costs which are necessary to appropriately respond to the record-high case volumes that the organization is experiencing as more Canadians than ever are reaching out to us for assistance. OBSI's 2024 budget also reflects the growth necessary to enable the organization to appropriately prepare for the transition to the single ECB system in November 2024.

REASONABLE AND EQUITABLE FEES

Our membership fees are based on the principle that no sector or registrant category should subsidize another. Fees for banks and deposit-taking firms are based on their self-declared banking assets relative to other banks in the most recent benchmark year. Within the investment sector, the fees of CIRO firms (formerly IIROC and MFDA firms) and other securities registrants are assessed based on firm size relative to other firms in the same sector. OBSI's total fees are divided proportionally across the sectors based on the number and complexity of cases from each sector in the prior year.

This chart shows OBSI’s budget and actual expenses as well as the growth in consumer demand for our services from 2019 to 2023, as well as a look forward to 2024.

The recent uptrend is due primarily to dramatically increasing case volumes and associated increases in personnel costs as we strive to provide quality services to consumers who reach out to us for assistance.

OBSI’s budget is set at a level required to recover the estimated cost of providing services in the coming year. A key factor that determines our needs is expected consumer demand (essentially the volume of case inquiries and case investigations), and the estimated resources required to meet that demand in the coming year.
