OVERVIEW

Access control for your business

Is your current access control system intensifying dangerous security gaps in your business?

If your access control solution is not helping you address the serious risks your organization is exposed to, then it is working against you.

At Security 101 we know that optimal commercial protection starts with the implementation of a state-of-the-art access control solution. Only the right access control technologies and their expert integration can offer your organization peace of mind, valuable data insights, unparalleled visibility, and enhanced security.

BENEFITS

Top benefits of access control

Our dynamic, custom-designed access control solutions offer organizations of any size these benefits:

- Improved employee access.
- User convenience.
- Protection against unauthorized access 24/7/365.
- Seamless integration with other security systems.
- Touchless, healthy access control alternatives.
- Optimization of traffic flows.

- Elimination of obsolete methods for managing access, like traditional keys.
- Remote, centralized control (creating, updating, deleting permissions).
- Less disruptions of workflows and productivity.
- Increased visibility with real-time monitoring.
- Peace of mind.

The problem with old, disparate access control systems:

- Increased likelihood of intruders entering your site.
- Inability to distinguish authorized from unauthorized individuals.
- Unknowingly assisting intrusion attempts by not delaying, frustrating, or preventing break-ins.
- Failure at triggering appropriate incident responses.

- Incapability to rapidly detect intrusions and monitor/record intruders.
- Incompetence in protecting the integrity of people and property.
- Poor, slow user experience.
- Reputational damage.

Mobile access

Mobile admission credentials offer unparalleled benefits:

- Biometric encrypted security as many smartphones use thumbprint or facial recognition to unlock the device.
- Uniqueness, as the device belongs to one individual.
- Secure and protected passwords.
- Admissions that can be differentiated by role, designated area, and time.

A touchless experience

A solid touchless access control system is required for safer, healthier spaces.

Facial recognition, biometric and Bluetooth readers, passive infrared (PIR) motion sensors and touch-free request-to-exit buttons are some possibilities that can eliminate physical contact and increase the security of your site.

Minimize the risk of exposure, improve occupant experience, and elevate the sense of security with touchless access control technologies.

Cloud-powered solutions

Avoid the expensive costs of on-premise data storage and take advantage of the extraordinary functionality, flexibility, and adjustability the cloud can offer.

The cloud is a sophisticated way to get a holistic view of building safety and performance; an efficacious approach to allow systems to "communicate" with each other, and an effective strategy to avoid disparate systems, unwarranted complexity and inefficiencies.

Biometric technologies

An inclusive access control solution that fosters equality and diversity at the workplace.

- Biometric solutions (iris recognition, fingerprint scanning, hand geometry recognition, or facial authentication) provide visitors and employees with a comfortable and fast admittance experience, while guaranteeing safety and security.
- Biometric access is a green technology that helps reduce plastic card production.
- An inclusive solution that is not affected by race or gender-based differences in appearance.
