

Event Direct

A self-booking tool that makes event travel easy

Virgin Australia Event Direct is the perfect travel booking tool when organising your next conference, business event or seminar.

Event Direct removes the administration behind booking travel for a large group of attendees and provides a simple booking tool solution integrated into your event or corporate website for attendees to book their own flights.

The booking tool can also provide discount fares for eligible groups and offers a cost effective solution that supports event managers attracting more attendees from destinations across our domestic and international network.

Provides a cost effective solution to attract more attendees

Discounts on fares for eligible events

Seamless integration into your event or corporate website

Have your next conference without the complexities of managing air travel. For more information, please email us at eventdirect@virginaustralia.com